FOURTH APRIL POOL PARTY

Last Saturday evening the Senior Form of the First Congregational Church held an April Fool Party. The very first trick of the evening occurred when the tickets were typed backwards. The party was a success from that point to the conclusion. The winners of prizes were Trevor Smith and Peter Koon. Poor Trevor was in a frenzy when his prize was dropped and broken by the presenter of prizes, April Fool, Trevor! Peter sneezed his face with charcoal without knowing it, for his prize, Buzzy Bird, Bob Burnham, and Mrs. Tarr did a fine job of organizing and refereeing the games. Two of the most popular games were "Cannibals and Missionaries" and "Where's My Chair?" Everyone enjoyed the table games planned and set up by Nancy Kroll, Christine McKay did a fine job as chairman of the whole program. Judy Lamprey, Priscilla Stone, and Alan Thomas were also on the planning committee. Scott Cunningham and Susan Melanson took the tickets. Paul Lovett and George Hotelling sold the cakes. Mr. and Mrs. Tarr were assisted

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

Plans are almost complete for our annual spring luncheon and bridge party to be held on Thursday, April 13th, at the Boat Hill Country Club with luncheon at 12:30 and bridge at 2 p. m. The following committee is in charge of arrangements: President, Mrs. Chester J. Powers; General Chairman, Mrs. Michael H. Hintham; Table Prizes, Mrs. Frank S. Evans and Mrs. Virginia Gaudin; Donations, Mrs. James C. Marchant; Tickets, Treasurer Mrs. Martin P. Higgins; Mrs. E. B. O'Keefe; Mrs. Robert H. Sharkey; and Mrs. Frank F. Hannon; Admissions; Mrs. Carl H. Thomas; Transportation; Mrs. Robert H. Stanley; and Mrs. Vincent L. Scanlon; Reservations; Mrs. John L. Donnan; Decorations, and Mrs. Theodore Dissel and Mrs. J. William Russell; Reception Committee. Have you made your reservation to luncheon yet? If not, why not call one of our reservation chairmen today and have it taken care of. Anyone needing transportation to and from the Country Club can have the same by contacting H. Thomas at Winchester 6-2130.

It will be a regular session Tuesday, April 11th, and the annual reports of the Standing Committees. The chairman must be submitted to the recording secretary at this meeting. Why not come along to the meeting on Tuesday and make your suggestions for bridge partners for Thursday. See you next week!

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING APRIL 15

The Winchester Historical Society will have its annual meeting and election of officers Saturday afternoon, April 15, at 2 o'clock in the art gallery of the Winchester Public Library. Mrs. George E. Connor will preside, and the speaker of the afternoon will be Dr. A. Warren Stearns, on "Little-known and interesting local New England History." Historical articles given to the Society will be on exhibit by the curator, Miss Clara Russell, and Mr. Kingman Cass, chairman of the Library Advisory Committee, will outline plans of the election to members.

Dr. Stearns, Professor of Sociology of Tufts College, is well known to audiences here, and many will wish to hear him speak on this new subject. His reputation during his career as Commissioner of Correction and during his term as Dean of Tufts Medical School has grown steadily in the past few years, and he is an interesting personality, as well as a good speaker. Members are permitted to bring guests to this meeting. Mrs. Nathaniel Nichols, nominating chairman, will present the slate of officers for 1950-51.

SWEDISH SMORGASBORD SUPPER

On Wednesday evening, April 12th, at 6:45, the Unitarian Men's Club is sponsoring a gala benefit night for Troop 6, Fellowship Council Boy Scouts in Metcalf Hall of the church. The specific purpose of this benefit by the Men's Club, the sponsoring organization of Troop 6, is to raise money to send a Boy Scout to the International Jamboree at Camp Valley Forge, Pa. this July. It is hoped that in addition to sending this boy to the Jamboree, the Men's Club will be able to contribute substantially to the building of the new winterized cabin in Amesbury, Mass., which is to be used by Troop 6.

The evening's festivities will start off with a sumptuous Swedish Smorgasbord supper now being prepared under the able direction of Mrs. Theodore vonKoningsberg, Jr. Following the authentic Swedish spread, the benefit night will be highlighted by the Mary Witham Singers presenting a variety of musical numbers. William, bringing together a talented choral group. Included in this group are such outstanding soloists as Paul Galivan, bass; Dorothy Perkins, soprano; and Muriel Thorne, alto; also there will be a male quartet; original songs by Barbara Barank, pianist, accompanied on the drums by Sandy Bunker Grace Norian with Mary Witham in a four-handed piano accompaniment; a short monologue in dialect by Constantine Elrod Murray; and the entire choir singing selections from Victor Herbert and Gilbert and Sullivan.

A real treat is in store with the appearance of Paul Galivan. He is a singer of great ability and it is a rare privilege to be able to hear him at this time. Mr. Galivan, an NBC and CBS artist, recently was highly acclaimed as the featured soloist at the Boston Skating Club's Ice Chorus. On Wednesday evening, in addition to his solo, he will share the spotlight with Gordon Bennett, 1st tenor; James Jackson, 2nd tenor; and Gardner Handy, baritone, in singing selections from Bizet.

Tickets for the supper and entertainment are on sale at the Fairbank Church of God and the Star office, through members of Troop 6, or by contacting Mr. Robert Wild, Treasurer of the Men's Club, WI 6-1258.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE ANNUAL MEETING ON APRIL 11TH

Mrs. Lora Weston will speak on "World Federation through the United Nations." Mrs. Weston, a Radcliffe graduate, is on the board of directors of the United World Federation, and a representative from Massachusetts of the National Executive Council of the United Federation. She will speak at two o'clock, directly after the Annual Meeting.

The Annual Meeting of the Alliance will start at one o'clock with a luncheon. This is a very important meeting. There will be an election of officers along with the regular business meeting.

KING'S COLLEGE CHOIR

The King's College Choir, now touring New England, will present a sacred concert at the Church of the Open Bible, Montvale Avenue at Greenwood Avenue in Woburn, Easter Sunday night, at 7:00 p. m.

Under the direction of Gordon A. Curtis, former member of the internationally famous Westminster Choir, the more than thirty singers will blend their voices in a program of notable variety. Opening with a superb example of early church music by Palestrina, the program sweeps onward to the more modern arrangements of Fred Waring, Ralph Marzetti and Peter Lutkin. Of special interest is a group of deeply moving Negro spirituals arranged by Nathan Dett, William Dawson and others. Interspersed in this versatile program are testimonies and special selections by vocal quartets and individual artists. The college is situated in New Castle, Delaware.

The Choir brings to its work the dash and enthusiasm of collegiates coupled with sound musicianship and spiritual sincerity. The result is a performance both spiritually uplifting and enjoyable.

Everyone is cordially invited to hear the concert. A free-will offering will be received to defray expenses.

FOURTEENTH LITERATURE GROUP

The final discussion in a series of Great Names in American Literature took place at The Winchester Library on Monday afternoon, April third.

Mrs. Blanche Barnard, was chairman of the afternoon on the absence of Miss Gertrude Hall who sailed last week for Italy.

Mrs. Evans discussed Eugene O'Neill, the Man and His Plays at length. She portrayed his early life and his various son voyages on which he gathered his knowledge of the sea and the types of men of the sea, many of which he used in his later sea plays.

Mrs. Evans selected the following plays for discussion: "Bound East for Cardiff" an early work, first produced at The Wharf Theatre at Provincetown, the summer that O'Neill was discovered by The Provincetown Players. "Lazarus Laughed," for its spiritual content. This play is one of O'Neill's favorites but has never been produced because of technical reasons.

Beyond the Horizon which established him as a dramatist and won for him The Pulitzer Prize, "Emperor Jones" which as pure theatre ranks high among his plays. The Great God Brown for its symbolism and mysticism.

In conclusion The Cycle which includes nine plays, a continuity of family lives over a space of one hundred and fifty years.

His most recent play - The Iceman Cometh - marked O'Neill's return after an interval of twelve years.

The meeting closed after plans were discussed for the topic for next year.

EASTER AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Special music by both the Junior and Senior Chorus will be presented as the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church observes Easter Sunday. Mrs. Adelaide Feldt, violinist, will assist with special Easter selections. The pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., will speak on the subject, "The Look Ahead."

WINCHESTER MAN'S PATENT
ASSIGNED TO GOVERNMENT

On March 14, 1950, the United States Patent Office granted patent number 2,500,492 on an "Apparatus for Handling Materials" to Frederick C. Henriques, Jr., of Rensselaer road.

This invention pertains to radioactivity measurements and, in particular, to a new and improved apparatus for handling samples of radioactive material.

As is well known, the extent of danger in handling radioactive substances is dependent not only upon the degree of radioactive intensity and the amount of a given material, but also upon the time of exposure thereto. Nevertheless, according to Mr. Henriques, some types of handling equipment, in order to provide accurate measurements, have been compelled to compromise with one or more of these considerations, or else have necessitated recourse to complex, expensive or relatively inefficient means.

It is the object of his invention to overcome these limitations and, for this purpose, he has devised an automatic mechanism for accurately handling samples of radioactive materials in a rapid and safe manner, and without touching them by hand. Basically, his apparatus comprises a series of containers holding samples of the stock, and a rotatable table for conveying such containers in predetermined sequence into an isolation chamber wherein the required measurements are to be made. It should be noted that the table is provided with shielding devices for the containers; and that on each of the latter is removed from the chamber, the next one is introduced therein.

As an additional feature, this arrangement of Mr. Henriques may be disassembled easily so that uncontaminated parts may be substituted quickly for those contaminated with radioactivity. Moreover, it has a special interlocking device that bars entry of an unmeasured sample until a measured one has been ejected; and of primary importance is the fact that, because it is capable of remote control, only a minimum of exposure to radioactivity is received by the operators thereof during its use. This patent has been assigned to the United States of America as represented by the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL CANDIDATES OUT

Coach Ted Bartlett has had his high school baseball candidates out on Manchester Field every good day this week and plans daily workouts from now until the start of the season. The team will use Manchester Field until Leonard Field is put in shape for play, but Leonard will be used by the high school this spring while the re-fac-ing job is completed at Manchester.

Winchester's prospects for a successful baseball season are not too bright. Last year's team, that had such a fine record, was pretty much a senior team, leaving Coach Bartlett with little of his 1949 personnel around which to build.

Returning letter players are Capt. George "Major" Daniels and Leo Williams, outfielders; and John Power, third baseman. Coach Bartlett's principal job will be to develop pitchers to replace Vern Slack, tall cannon-ball right-hander who was unbeaten a year ago, and Paul Roche, change pitcher. No experienced catching is available this year either, with Capt. "Sonny" Cogan and Freddie Patterson graduated last June.

Capt. Daniels is probably the number one pitching prospect, though he has had no high school experience on the mound. "The Major" has pitched some for the Winchester Junior Legion during the past two seasons and if he can develop confidence, he should do well enough. "Joe" Callahan, a big left hander with scant experience, is another candidate, whose pitching has been limited to the Play-ground League.

Sophomore Stowell Symmes, pitched some last summer for the Junior Legion and showed promise. He is a right hander with a delivery that reminds old timers of the great "Ward" Goddard. Charlie Murphy of last year's freshmen and Kevin Sullivan, second team Naval Strategy and Sea Power with Naval Action movies.

Capt. George H. Balin, U. S. Navy, will give a highly interesting and informative talk on today's navy and its rightful position in our national defense picture. With a background of the naval strategy employed in the last war, he will demonstrate that the navy is still a vital factor in our modern defense system.

Capt. Balin, a graduate of the Naval Academy, Class of 1921, was, during World War II, and since then:

- Member of the Joint War Plans Committee (1943-1944); attended Quebec and Cairo Conferences of the Combined Chiefs of Staff; made an inspection tour of the various theaters of operation around the world in connection with strategic war planning.
- Member of Rainbow Team of Joint War Planners, operating on the Pacific. This team planned the strategy for the reapture of the Philippines.
- Early in 1945, took command of the Cruiser San Juan which served with the 3rd Fleet (1943-1944) and 58.1 in the war against Japan. Entered Tokyo Bay August 1945. The San Juan was the flagship of a Task Group which evacuated over 9,000 prisoners of war.
- Commandant of Naval Operating Base at Leyte-Samar, Philippines, for one year.
- Acting General Inspector, Atlantic Fleet, 1948.
- Commanding Officer, Naval Ammunition Depot, Hingham, 1949-50.

There will be movies showing submarine action, Strait Nautic, and Sea Power for Peace.

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER DEATH?

In a few score years, all who read these lines will have vanished from the face of the earth.

Every day, almost a hundred thousand human beings finish their earthly span and pass off into the vast beyond. That our turn will come we all know, but when and where and how we cannot be sure.

No merely human being ever has been able to look into eternity and tell us what it is like. No scientific knowledge or scientific instruments can pierce the curtain that divides this world from that into which all of us must eventually journey.

All we know about God's eternal plans for us... all we know about what lies beyond the grave... comes from the God Who made us and to the extent He has seen fit to reveal it to us.

But we can face eternity without fear. For we do have a definite answer to the mystery of death. With the facts God has put at our disposal through the inspired books of the Old and the New Testaments, the Catholic Church always has given, and gives today, a definite answer to the tremendously important questions raised by the fact of death.

Man's life in this world, the Church tells us, is a preparation for the world to come... a testing-time which ends with our death. What happens after that depends on whether death finds us loyal to God, or opposed to Him and to the God He expects us to love. "...it is appointed unto men once to die and after this the judgment" (Heb. IX:27).

Christ gave us (Matt. XXV) a description of God's judgment which leaves no room for doubt that our worthiness of everlasting reward will be judged solely according to the way we have lived our lives on this earth.

Death does not bring merely a long, unconscious slumber, but rather a quick awakening to the irrevocable judgment of our Creator. Nor does it bring us a second chance to prove ourselves or to amend our erring ways. In our own hands rests the opportunity... and upon our own heads the responsibility... to determine if death shall be the threshold to everlasting life among the blessed, or among the lost.

Men blessed by youth and good health often feel that death for them is far away—something to be worried about only in the twilight years. Some scoff at the suggestion that an everlasting hell could be permitted by a merciful God. Others seem to think that God will treat them kindly if they live reasonably moral lives, even though they pay Him no special honor which is His due.

But whatever they think... however they avoid the question... all men must eventually face the fact of death. To think about it wisely... and in time... is the most important thing in our lives. If you would like more information on this subject... on Heaven, Hell, Purgatory, the end of the world and the resurrection and judgment of all men... we shall be happy to send you an interesting pamphlet free of charge. Write today for Pamphlet No. 14-KC.

PARISH PLAYERS TO GIVE "TWO BLIND MICE"

"Two Blind Mice," the timely comedy by Samuel Spevack which was released for amateur production this month after a long run on Broadway, will be presented by the Parish Players on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, April 20, 21 and 22 in the Little Theatre Beneath a Stone, First Congregational Church, Mr. Harlan F. Grant is directing, Mrs. George E. Connor is chairman of production, and Mrs. J. Waldo Bond is in charge of tickets.

The hilarious and delightful roles of the "two blind mice" are portrayed by Mrs. Janet Dalymphe and Mrs. Maudie T. Blake. Mrs. Dalymphe will be vividly remembered as the medium in "The Thirtieth Chair," and Mrs. Blake was the eccentric Elizabeth Barrett in "The Bachelors of Wimpole Street." These two little ladies run the "Office of Seeds and Standards," a "fast government office," around which centers the ridiculous and laugh-provoking plot of the play.

George E. Connor is Thurston, the newspaper reporter and neophyte who leads into their problem and manages to effect its strange solution; J. Waldo Bond is the "watchdog of the treasury," Senator Krueger.

The cast includes the following: Donald Dalymphe, Mrs. Jane Graham, who teaches the rhumba in a school way; Herbert Clark, John MacLellan, Mrs. Judy Brown, Gordon Chandler, Hall Gamage, J. Wilson Lorne, Robert P. Blake, Harlan Smith, Finn Rockmann of Belmont (who plays the smug and polished newspaper editor); Bill Cunningham, George Gowdy, and Malbury Smith.

Members of the backstage crew will assist the cast as "extras," forming the Negro choir and Senatorial visitors. In this group will be Ruth Albree, Virginia Yardley and Marshall Phil, Jr.

The stage is under the direction of George Gowdy, setting by Mrs. William Lunsford and Mrs. Otis Hammett, with Miss Ruth Albree in charge of hand properties, and Mrs. Daniel Root, Jr., chairman of the costume committee.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

Calling all Dads! For the last week-end, calling all Dads to meet at the Girl Scout Cabin at 10 o'clock Saturday the 5th of April. We need your help that day... after that we shall be on our own! Come on, come all for fun and for a whole lot of sandwiches and coffee will be served.

We should like to point out that the Cookie Sale is and this year we are selling three kinds of cookies... the filled variety, the plain Girl Scout Cookies, and the chocolate nuts... The price the same as before... three boxes for a dollar (or 35 cents a box). The Sale is for just one week.

Mrs. Nelson, Scout chairman, advises that all leaders must have all order books in to their school representatives by the fifteenth if they expect to have the cookies delivered to their homes! The school representatives are:

Mrs. Roderick Thomson, Washington School; Mrs. Webster, Lincoln School; Mrs. Robert Swisher, Mystic School; Mrs. Fred Walsh, Wyman School; Mrs. Fisher, Parkhurst School; Mrs. Guy Laird, St. Mary's School; Mrs. Phinney, Noonan School; Mrs. Carl Morse, Junior High School; Mrs. Dowling, High School.

Mrs. Sears wishes to remind all Scouts that there will be a prize of a $200 gift bond from Filene's Scent Shop which will be opening soon for the highest number of boxes sold in each school.

The girls going to England have received the signal honor of being invited to the final Campfire at the World Council Conference, being held at Oxford, July 29th. The girls are fortunate to have such an invitation exactly when they are in England!

Dates to remember this week and next: April 5th, the leaders at the Cabin; the 10th, Outdoor Activities Course at Cabin; April 12th, Council call meeting at the Library, 10 A. M.; Senior Planning Board, of- fice, 2:45; April 13th, Council Organization Committee call, at Cabin, 10 A. M.; April 14th, Senior Planning Board activity, 7:30 P. M.; then comes Vacation!

CUB SCOUT COUNTRY FAIR

The Cub Scouts of Pack 6 will conduct their first Country Fair on Saturday, April 15 at the Unitarian Church from 1:30 to 4:30. Admission will be by the purchase of paper money which will be used at the several booths. Den 1 will run a shooting gallery, Den 2 plans to have a turtle race and sell ice cream and pop corn. Den 3 will operate throwing balls at wood pins for prizes. Den 4 will conduct a fish pond with candy prizes and will also sell punch and cookies. Den 5 will have hit the clown and the sale of balloons and Den 6 the ring toss game with prizes. This will be a fine afternoon for all Cub Scouts and young children. Plan to join the fun and support the Cub.

BU'S WEEK-END FOR FIREMEN

Winchester's firemen put in a busy week-end, their activities being highlighted by assisting Saturday night at the big General Alarm fire in Wolboro in the old Caldwell block at Main and Park streets. Considerable damage was done Silverman's and the Royal Furniture Company located in that building.

Winchester was called at 9:50 for assistance at the fire, sending Engine 3, Ladder 1 and the Chief's car. Chief James E. Callahan was in personal charge of the local crews and not long after their arrival at the fire he sent in a call to the Central Station for air trucks, which were taken to Wolboro in the service car by Fireman Michael Connolly.

Engine 3 and its crew started fighting the fire at Silverman's, but seeing the fire gaining ground on the Royal Furniture roof, the local firemen shifted their efforts there, the aerial ladder being brought into play beside the Wolboro aerial on Main street. It was 2:30 before the local crews returned to quarters.

The week-end activity started with a fire Friday forenoon at the town dump. The fire worked down through the dump fill and the men pumped water on the underground flames for over five hours before returning to quarters. At 8:35 in the evening the men were called back to the dump, but this time their labor there was not so long. Friday afternoon at 4:20 Box 64 was sounded for what was believed to be a fire in the home of Mr. George W. Morgan, 34 Lebanon street. The men found upon arrival that some fat in the oven of the kitchen range was causing considerable smoke throughout the dwelling, but that there was fortunately no fire.

The firemen had the sort of call they like at 8:30 Friday evening when Mrs. Harry Y. Nutter of Mr. Vernon street came into headquarters with a smouldering chair cushion which she had been unable to get completely out. The men quickly finished the job, and undoubtedly wished that everyone would bring their fires to them at the Central Station.

Saturday's first run was at 10:28 for a grass fire on the old Ginn Estate off Bacon street, now owned by Mr. William C. Cusack. At 10:55 there was a grass fire on Wolgemore avenue and at 12:45 p. m. another grass fire near the Stone estate on Cambridge street. Still another grass fire took place on Wildwood street at 2:24, this one being started by an incinerator. Grass fires still continued through the evening, with one taking place on Clark street at 6:12. At 7:25 the Central Station received a call for a brush fire at Ridge and High streets.

The firemen could find no fire in that location, and after calling the Central Station and making an investigation, discovered that the fire was at some little distance along Ridge street toward the Wolboro end of the street. At 7:58 the men were recalled for another fire quite near the first one of Ridge street.

Sunday night at 11:05 the local department was called for the fire in the Club of this town.

The old boy's bath house at Sandy Beach. The house was going in good shape as the apparatus approached and was pretty well burned down, the firemen knocking down what remained of the small frame structure as a safety precaution.

Medford also answered this alarm, and there was plenty of apparatus on the scene to have taken care of quite a fire.

Elizabeth M. Lobingier, Marion Ladd Symmes, G. Russell Mann and Forest W. Orr are Winchester artists who have been exhibiting all week at the 20th Century Club on Joy street in Boston under the auspices of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Two of their pictures were awarded as prizes to women's clubs, Mrs. Symmes' picture, "A New Hampshire Village" going to the Belmont Women's Club, and Mrs. Lobingier's picture, "Backport" going to the Fortnight Club of this town.

M. S. P. C. A.

On Thursday, April 12th, at 2:30 p. m. a meeting of the M. S. P. C. A. Winchester Auxiliary, will be held at the home of Mrs. L. J. Raymond, 10 Hillcrest Parkway. Chief of Police, Charles Harrold, will tell of the work of the Winchester police with stray animals. It is hoped that a large group will be present to hear the Chief, who is so generously taking the time and trouble to give this interesting talk on the care the Winchester police are giving to the lost, sick, and stray animals.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

The Winchester Home and Garden Club will meet at the Library on Wednesday, April 12 at 2 p. m. Mrs. Norman Mitchell, Horticultural Chairman, will report on the State Federation Meeting on "Roses," and will quote from the lecture by Mr. Harold Bent of Framingham, an outstanding authority on roses. This should be of special interest.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Leroy F. March of Lexington and her subject will be "Shrubs and their care."

In order to carry on our work at the Veterans' Hospital, the endorsing project for the Home for Aged and other civic activities, the Club will conduct an all-day auction at the home of Mrs. Samuel B. Kikwood on Swan road on May 24. Every member will be contacted for articles, so please save your White Elephants when house-cleaning.

At the April 12th meeting there will be a display of posters on outdoor good manners, which have been done by Winchester school children.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL SEES "FASHIONS IN MINIATURE"

The George Washington Mathematics Association met on Tuesday, March 28th at 2:45 p. m. to see its Young Fry parade down at flower decked runway to soft music provided by Mrs. Bernard Cavanagh. They were showing the newest and smartest in everything the modern child is wearing. "From the high chair to high school," Mrs.
Robert Graham, Jr., introduced
Mrs. Piro, proprietress of the Young Fry Shop in Melrose, who spoke briefly of the origin of her shop, when clothes the child from the high chair to high school, all in one shop.
She then commented on the costumes in show.

It is not every show of this sort that can boast a three-year-old bathing beauty, but this show featured three Barbara Gail Morton, Gail Hendricks, and Becky Fitts. They were showing the newest and smartest in everything the modern child is wearing. "From the high chair to high school," Mrs.
Robert Graham, Jr., introduced
Mrs. Piro, proprietress of the Young Fry Shop in Melrose, who spoke briefly of the origin of her shop, when clothes the child from the high chair to high school, all in one shop.
She then commented on the costumes in show.

Before the show, a Silver Tea was served from a gaily decorated table by Mrs. Frank Carver, Chairman of the Social Committee, and her assistants.

Following is a resume of the show.

"Fashions in Miniature"

Before the show Mrs. Herbert Ross gave an interesting and informative talk on Winchester Sevenship Fund.

Flowers were tendered the Winchester Conservatory for lovely floral decorations. Mrs. Robert Graham, Jr., and her assistants.

Mrs. Ronald Hudson,
Mrs. Thomas Patton,
Mrs. Roger Thompson

At the conclusion of the show the children were given a special gift of a candy and a flower, dated 1949 to 1950.

PARKHURST SCHOOL DOINGS

The kindergarten children of Parkhurst School, under the supervision of Miss Mary Noyes, and Miss Mary Noyes, and Miss and its purpose. He demonstrated stoves, equipment, emergency measures, and escorted the group to all parts of the recently painted station.

Upon their return, thirty future firemen compiled an illustrated story of their trip. Delegates visited other primary grades and explained how Winchester's citizens, and property are kept safe from fire.
Mrs. Binney, Mrs. Hammel, Mrs.
Stevens, and Mrs. Trauer assisted Miss Carroll.

Officers of the Junior Red Cross conducted the monthly meeting on March 28 in the Parkhurst auditorium, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Geneva Ames. A brief chapel service was followed by reports to the school of Red Cross contributions and activities by Robert Mc-Lennett, president; Nancy Switzer, vice president; Quentin Roberts, secretary; and James Dinnell, treasurer.

The highlight of the meeting was the presence of eight children from the Perkins Institute for the Blind who participated with representative Parkhurst children in a Spelling Bee. Junior Red Cross members introduced their visually handicapped guests, offered the school a brief history of Perkins Institute, and managed completely the spelling contest.

Following the auditorium program, the visitors were escorted to the classrooms. With remarkable poise they showed and read from a mythology book in Braille. They explained and demonstrated their system of writing with the use of a stencil.

Parkhurst children were very much impressed with the happiness, independence, and achievement of these handicapped children. If there is an increase of effort on the part of Winchester children in this part of town it may well be that they are more consciously utilizing their talents.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL PARENT FACULTY ASSOCIATION

Tuesday evening, April 11th, promises to be a history-making occasion in Winchester when at eight o'clock in the High School auditorium, the High School Parent Faculty Association sponsors a lively discussion of topics very close to the hearts of high schoolers and, perhaps even closer, to the hearts of their parents.

Are you concerned about:
1. The time required for study by High School children?
2. The use of cars by our children?
3. Late parties after High School affairs?

4. Telephone, television and radio interruptions during evening study?
Mr. John Donovan will act as moderator when these questions are taken up by a panel including a specialist in each field considered as well as a few representative parents, all of whom either have children in high school now or have recently been through the experience. These are Chief Charles Harold, Mr. Wade Gindie, Mr. Carl Richmond, Mrs. Edward Stacey, Mr. Frederick Ives, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, Mr. Joseph Tansey and Mrs. George Cary. The Association believes many parents will welcome the opportunity of talking these problems over freely and frankly with other parents in the same, often bewildering situation, and expects the panel to be kept busy maintaining its share in the resulting discussion. If popular demand is sufficient, a summary of the conclusions reached, with the addition of any other pertinent findings, will be collected into a "Code of Recommendations for High School Parents" which will be available to anyone interested. Augmenting this feature it is planned to present a short film depicting some phases of teen-age driving, a matter of immediate concern to many of us.

For a purely recreational touch the Boys' Glee Club, trained and directed by Miss Eleanor Amfantis, will sing two or three numbers whose titles have not yet been announced. Anyone who has heard the boys will look forward eagerly to this opportunity of listening to them again as the careful choice of selections and the truly delightful rendering of them make them a joy to hear.

Though this evening is the annual meeting of the High School Parent Faculty Association its subject matter is such that many parents outside the Association will be vitally interested. All are most cordially urged to attend, particularly Junior High School parents who are very soon to face these same questions.

WINCHESTER CUB PACK 3.

The annual Skit Night of Winchester Cub Pack 3 is scheduled for April 28 at 7:30 p. m. at the First Congregational Church. The boys and the Den Mothers are hard at work preparing for the annual event. The seven dens have decided upon the following skits:

"Smart folks, these bus riders"

You don't have to be a college graduate to know that it's better to travel by bus.

For one thing, it's dependable. In all kinds of weather, the bus will get you there. For another thing, it's thrifty. It's low-cost transportation . . . without parking fees to pay, or police tickets to answer for. And . . . it's the safest form of transportation, by actual records.

On every count, it's smart to ride on Eastern Massachusetts buses.

ST. MARY'S H. N. S. HEARS
STATE POLICE SERGEANT

With Sgt. Wilfred Sirois of the State Police Bureau of Photography as invited speaker, St. Mary's Holy Name Society enjoyed breakfast Sunday morning in Lyceum hall after receiving communion at 8 o'clock mass.

Fr. William Walsh, Spiritual Leader of the Society, thanked the men for their prayers and the offering up of their communions for his benefit, it being Spiritual Leaders month as designated by Holy Name Headquarters in Boston. He wished all a most Happy and Blessed Easter, while Society President William J. Coughwell in turn thanked Fr. Walsh for the men of the Holy Name and expressed the hope that God would shower blessings upon him for his leadership this season.

Mr. Coughwell called upon Mr. Harry J. Bennett who is Chairman of the Holy Name participation in the Winchester Centennial parade for April who reported that the Society will have a float entered in the parade, thanks to the generosity of Mr. Vincent J. Murphy who will be aided by Mr. Michael J. Connolly and Mr. Sam Vangel in arranging the float details. Mr. Bennett said that the Society will march along with the Knights of Columbus and the Holy Name Society of the Immaculate Conception parish with designating arm bands.

Mr. Coughwell announced that next month officers for the 1950-51 season will be nominated by the Committee and that nominations could be made from the floor. Chairman of the nominating committee is Charles A. Farrar, assisted by Robert Burrows, John Erhardt, Warren Cox, William O'Leary and Charles Hargerty. President Coughwell also announced the Leaders for the Holy Thursday Nocturnal. Adoration periods throughout the night as follows: 10:00 p. m. - 11:00 p. m., Arthur W. Hall; 11:00 - 12:00, Vincent F. Erhardt; 12:00 - 1:00, William J. Cantwell; 1:00 - 2:00, John A. Volpe; 2:00 - 3:00, William J. Coughwell; 3:00 - 4:00, Frank Duhon; 4:00 - 5:00, Eric V. Johnson; 5:00 - 6:00, Henry F. Barry; 6:00 - 7:00, Frank P. Hurley; 7:00 - 8:00, Edward J. McDevitt. Volunteers signified their preference for a certain hour and others were appointed this week, so that there was a representative group of men at each hour, each uniting in prayer to the Savior.

Sgt. Sirois presented a very informative program of the "inner workings" of the State Police and thoroughly knew his subject by virtue of his being in Charge of the Bureau of Photography of the State Police. His subject was,

"Photography as an aid to Criminal Investigation" made doubly interesting by the projector and slides which he brought along with him.

The local Police departments are free at any time to call on the State Police for aid in crime detection and this unity and cooperation extends out even to other states. Sgt. Sirois said that the State Police departments are on call at all times and that even while at the Holy Name breakfast his presence was known to the Winchester Police so that he could be summoned immediately if the need should arise. His car which was parked outside was equipped for any emergency that might befall.

In his address many points were covered such as fingerprints, forgery, shooting, gambling, destruction of property, breaking and entering, hit and run drivers and others. How these points were covered and the culprit's record were unfolded in interesting fashion with emphasis placed on the superlative aid given by the Department of Photography of the State Police.

"GEMS AND GEMOLOGY"

For all women who like to wear and buy jewelry, the talk by Mr. Richard B. Chesley of the Thomas Long Company, on "Gems and Gemology" on Wednesday evening, April 12, will be a most interesting one. The occasion is the annual meeting, dessert and election of officers of the Business and Professional Women's Guild in the Ladies' Parlor, First Congregational Church, and all women are cordially invited. Miss Emily Greene will preside, and Miss Helen Monroe is in charge of the dessert. Dessert will be served at 8 P. M. The meeting at 8 P. M.

THE MISSION UNION GUILD

The Mission Union Guild of the First Congregational Church, Winchester will meet on Tuesday, April 11, 1950. There will be the usual morning sewing at 10 under the direction of Miss Margaret Sands and Miss Grace Pound with work on articles to be sent to the foreign missions. The Mission Union Board will meet at noon and luncheon will be served at 1 in the Parish Hall by Mrs. Earl Dickson, Mrs. Frank Hawkins and their committee.

The afternoon meeting which begins at 2 will be conducted by Fr. Frederic B. Withington, Director of Mission Union Guild. Mrs. B. H. R. Smith will lead the worship service, and there will be a special dedication service for the Second Mile envelopes which are to be brought in on this day. These offerings are given to three projects: to the American Board for use in Angola, Central Africa, mission work; to the Board of Home Missions for the Ryder Memorial Hospital in Porto Rico; and to the Baltimore Congregational Conference and Missionary Society for aid to negro churches and St. Mark's Social Center in Roxbury. The speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Albert Buckner Coe, wife of Dr. Albert Buckner Coe, President of the Massachusetts Congregational Conference and Missionary Society. Mrs. Coe is a graduate of Wellesley, has studied at the University of Chicago, School of Civics and Philanthropy, and for a time before her marriage was executive secretary for the Women's Civic League of Baltimore, Maryland. In 1945, Mrs. Coe accompanied her husband in a deputation of four to India, the group being sent by the American Board to study missionary work there. During this year and the next, she travelled ten thousand miles in India as well as extensively in the Near East, Egypt, and Western Europe. In 1948 she attended the first assembly of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam, Holland. That same summer she travelled in Scandinavia, and visited Poland, Czechoslovakia, and Germany in the interest of the Committee on War Victims and Reconstruction.

Drawing from her wide experiences and observations in India, Mrs. Coe's subject will be "India - Ancient and Modern."

Mrs. Ove E. Mortensen, formerly of Prince Avenue, Winchester, has been spending a week here, visiting family and friends. Many parties were given in her honor. Mrs. Mortensen returns to Harwichport, Mass. on Friday. She has been the guest of Mrs. Floyd S. Clement of Winchester and Harwichport.

ROTARY NEWS

Once again it was Rotary's privilege to entertain a group of high school young people together with their teachers and most enthusiastic friend Tom Morse. This time they came to tell the Rotary about the new project of setting up and operating here in town a new FM Radio Station. As outlined by this group and finally summed up by Mr. Morse this station will not only be invaluable as training for the high school students themselves, but will be available to clubs, organizations and officials of the town itself. Having a range of seven to thirteen miles on a frequency band assigned by the F. C. C., this station will broadcast with student announcements during the early evening hours or at any other time that an event is important enough to be aired. Football games, baseball and basketball games played by the high school will be sent over the air to local listeners. It is even possible, by remote control, to broadcast an entire town meeting over the air. There any number of possibilities that would open up if such a station were to be set up here.

Mr. Morse has gone into this question for some time now and has many facts and figures to back his enthusiasm. At present there are no high schools in New England that have such a station but there are some who are contemplating installing one. It would be a fine thing if Winchester were to show the way in this newest and yet undeveloped field of education. There are, however, several high schools in other parts of the country that have FM Stations and Boston University and Cornell have the only two of this type here in New England. Mr. Morse said that in talking to Colonel Armstrong who invented FM and to the high schools that the cost would not be prohibitive. Only $2500 would not only set up the station but would make over the room where it was to be set up. After that it would cost no more than an ordinary class room for maintenance. It would also be portable enough to be easily moved

WYMAN FIRST GRADE ASSEMBLY

Filling boxes for the current Junior Red Cross project at Wyman School became more meaningful for the children of the Kindergarten and grades one, two and three at last Monday morning's assembly.

Mrs. Janet Green and pupils of the first grade dramatized the filling of the boxes by having the tooth brush, the comb, the wash cloth, and the toys come to life as the symbolic Junior Red Cross elves prepared the huge box.

Guests from Grade six, Louise and Katharine Roth, formerly of Czechoslovakia, played the part of children receiving a Junior Red Cross Box in Czechoslovakia. Louise also sang for the assembly of children and parents. Music for the occasion was adapted from the J. R. C. magazine. All of Mrs. Green's first graders participated.

Wyman School children enjoyed seeing the 100 year old Bible presented to the school by Marshall Wyman, for whom the school was named.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY MAKES PARKHURST FUND PURCHASES

The following speech books have been added to the High School Library:

Brigrance - Speech Communication

Carille - 38 Basic Speech Experiences

Craig - Speech Arts

Colman - A Handbook of Public Speaking

Hanna - Public Speaking Without Fear and Trembling

Leaves - Word Power Made Easy

McLean - Good American Speech Weaver - Speech

West - Rehabilitation of Speech Winans - Speech Making

Wright - Art of Conversation

These books were purchased with the interest from the Wilder L. Parkhurst Fund, given by the late Lewis Parkhurst in memory of his son, who died while at Dartmouth College. It is a High School Library fund. Speech being a relatively new course in Winchester High School curriculum, an effort is being made to provide material that will be modern and useful.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The Winchester Fortnightly held its annual meeting and April luncheon on Monday the 10th in Masonic Hall.

Table bouquets of spring flowers in yellow and white gave a festive air to the occasion while palms, ferns and geraniums were used to suitably decorate the stage. Mrs. Kinnean P. Cass, luncheon chairman and Mrs. George Budd, chairman of the club's social committee share the deserved credit for handling the details of the affair so capably.

When the club members had gathered around the tables at 12:30 the president, Mrs. Harold Given read a beautiful invocation written by Mrs. William E. Priest, the Fortnightly's treasurer.

or was Mrs. regional vice president. Mrs. Given presented each member of the Executive Board, all of whom were seated at the long head table, also seven past presidents wearing yellow jonnies and finally the guest of honor, Mrs. Swain gave a short inspirational talk stressing the trend of the times toward a return to religion and a revival of things spiritual.

Following the luncheon the tentative plans for the coming conventions in May, first of the State Federation at Swampscott to be followed by that of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Boston with our state federation as hosts.

Mrs. Warren Whitman, State chairman of Legislation, took a few moments to inform the gathering about important bills pending in our legislature, urging that action be taken by each one individually in the form of a letter or card to register her attitude with her senator and representative.

Following the luncheon the annual business meeting was held. Annual reports of the secretary, Mrs. George W. Cary, the treasurer, Mrs. William E. Priest and the president were presented.

The officers and chairmen for the year 1950 - 51 were elected as follows:

President - Mrs. Kenneth B. Hiscue
1st Vice President - Mrs. Sidney A. Burr
2nd Vice President - Mrs. George W. Cary
Recording Secretary - Mrs. Forbes Norris
Corresponding Secretary - Mrs. George Budd
Treasurer - Mrs. William E. Priest

Chairmen of Committees

HOOKED RUG EXHIBIT

The Hooked Rug Exhibit to be presented by the Women's League of the First Baptist Church in the Social and Recreation Halls of the Church on Monday, April 17th, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., has aroused a great deal of interest in both the hookers and those who appreciate this fascinating and creative art.

Among the exhibitors of their rugs are the following Winchester people: Mrs. Edward Newhall, Mrs. Alan Howard, Mrs. Theodore Chilcott, Mrs. Franklin Lane, Mrs. Irving Jennings, Mrs. Richard Parkhurst, Mrs. Raymond Torune, Mrs. Harold Toomhly, Mrs. W. E. Underwood, Mrs. Reuben Kimball, Mrs. Fred Hermon, Mrs. Charlotte Hunt, Mrs. Robert Fagan, Mrs. J. Howard Wright, Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Mrs. Willard Hudson, Mrs. Walter Bailey, Mrs. Hazen Jonah, Mrs. Roland Carter, Mrs. Davenport Davis, Mrs. William Wood, Mrs. Herbert Preble, Mrs. Lester Leathers, Mrs. Richard Kirkpatrick, Mrs. J. W. Webster, Mrs. Chandler Symmes, Mrs. Lillian Palmer, Mrs. Elvett Hardy, Mrs. Lester Wright, Mrs. Fred Butler, Mrs. Mark Coonerty, Mrs. William Connell, Mrs. J. A. Harrington, Mrs. Lee Roberts, Mrs. Stanley Roberts, Mrs. Wilson Armstrong, Mrs. George Needham, Mrs. Milton Galucia, Mrs. William Seaton, Dr. Ruth Boule, Mrs. Norman Mice, Mrs. William Little, Mrs. G. Russell Mann, Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. Curtis Nash, Mrs. Frederick Emery, Mrs. Dana Cotton, Mrs. Gilbert H. Hood, Mrs. Stenham the following will have their rugs on display: Mrs. Stanley Kinsley, Mrs. Clarence Lent, Mrs. Leslie Tatten, Mrs. Harold Moffitt, Mrs. Leonard Fayat, Mrs. Roland Kuyon, Mrs. Charles Sanborn, Mrs. Albert Fava.

Mrs. Marjory S. Thompson, one of the outstanding teachers of rug hooking will be on hand to give fifteen minute demonstrations and answer questions hourly throughout the day. This will give those who have a problem in this field an opportunity to get advice from a competent authority on the subject.

Mrs. Thompson is also bringing with her a large selection of patterns and swatches, as well as a counterpane for the successful hooker.

The Snack Bar will be open from 11 to 3 and from 7 to 9 for the convenience of those who wish to come during those hours or those who may come from a distance. All roads lead to the First Baptist Church Monday, April 17th for an exceptional hooked rug display. Come and meet your fellow hookers and see the works their hands have wrought.

Children's cooperation requested.

Damage to Wynan school buildings and other property in the vicinity has prompted the announcement that further destruction of property by those using the paved play area will lead to prohibiting its use.

Commenting on the general situation, Dr. Forbes H. Norris, superintendent of schools, said, "We are glad to have children use the property, but the damage must stop or the privilege will be withdrawn. In the period of approximately three years since the play area was paved, there have been no untoward incidents until the last six weeks. We would like to avoid fencing off the paved area or prohibiting the use of the school grounds."

Mr. Leonard Sherman, formerly of Yale street, has returned from a European trip, making the trip both ways and flying over Europe in a stratosphere. He is now making his home at the Ambassadors in Cambridge.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB TO PRESENT 10TH ANNUAL SPRING CONCERT MAY 6TH

Under the direction of Keith Skerry, now in his second year as conductor, the Mystic Glee Club of Winchester will stage its 10th Anniversary Concert in the High School Auditorium on Saturday evening, May 6th. Mary Louise Middleton, the Club's talented accompanist for the past eight years, will be at the piano.

The Club is rehearsing what should certainly prove to be its most outstanding of all Spring Concerts. As usual, a varied program is scheduled with a bit lighter vein in evidence as contrasted with the annual Winter Concerts.

Guest artists, to be announced in subsequent issues of The Star, are bound to bring pleasure to the hosts of loyal friends and sponsoring members of the Club.

This Spring's repertoire has already been most enthusiastically received by a large audience in the Hingham High School Auditorium on March 24th.

Sponsoring Memberships may be obtained by mailing your check right away for $8.00 (tax incl.) to The Mystic Glee Club, Post Office Box One, Winchester. This entitles you to two tickets to each of the next two home formal concerts of the Club. Inasmuch as only a limited number of memberships are available, your prompt response is recommended.

FIREMEN BUSY MONDAY

The Fire Department had two calls Monday forenoon, the first to Wilcott road to get open a locked bathroom door and the second to get a housewife into her locked home on Lawson road.

Wires were discovered burning on the side of the house of Dr. Herbert T. Maynard, 80 Church street, at 11:50 a. m., and at 2:25 there was a bad grass fire on Jefferson road. Box 7-7-54 was sounded at 2:37 for another hot grass fire on Wildwood terrace.

SEVERAL GRASS FIRES OVER WEEK-END

Grass fires in several parts of the town kept the firemen on the jump over the past week-end, with the first call coming at 12:00 p. m. Friday afternoon.

This was for a grass fire on New Meadows road, and was followed at 1:07 by another near the old aqueduct to the west of Sandy Beach on the Parkway. At 1:45 there was another grass fire on Marshall road.

Saturday morning at 7:30 burning grass and fire to a fence at the home of Mr. G. A. Clark, 181 Highland avenue, and at 1:12 p. m. there was a grass fire at the rear of the home of Fireman Walter Skerry.

Sunday's activity commenced at 2:25 in the afternoon with a grass fire on Chesterford road near the home of Mr. Aram Mouradian. At 9:50 at night delayed ignition in an oil burner caused considerable smoke at the home of Mrs. T. T. Greenwood, 106 Forest street.

HOCKEY CLUB 3, WEYMOUTH CLUBS 2, IN CHAMPIONSHIP SEMI-FINAL

Winchester evidently had not counted on such stiff opposition as was dished out to them by the Weymouth Club in the semi-finals of the New England Amateur Hockey Association Senior B Tournament at the Lynn Arena Thursday night, April 6. The first period was scoreless.

Weymouth collected twice in the second, first on Reynolds' side of the net, and then Reynolds again on assists by Nelson and Salt. With only five seconds left to go in the period Winchester got one of these back on a fine play by Whip Saltmarsh, Scott Dool and Wimpy Salmarsch assisting. The locals kept right on in the third period and it was not long before Dool equalized on a beautiful solo dash. It was Billy Dingsvell's chance to score the winning goal halfway through this period and he made good, assists going to Salmarsch and Burnett.

Winchester's offense was stronger than the score indicates. It was the exceptional work of Gibson in the Weymouth net that kept the figures down.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

Our Cabin is fast becoming a large part of our Scouting life (as it was hoped and planned). Dot Glowacki reports. In charge of the date book for the Cabin, she says that over 30 meetings and overnights have already been signed for in April and May! Soon, we'll have put so much more "out" in Scouting that we shall look back and wonder how on earth we got along without the Cabin! Perhaps we all were just waiting and anticipating what we could do this year... dreaming...

leaders are required, by National Headquarters, to have a certain specific amount of training. The first class of this Outdoors Course was held on Monday at the Cabin. There was a chill wind that day, but the sun and the friendly atmosphere made up for that. Mrs. Metcalf went over nature games, standard Scout Camping procedure, basic do's and the latest don'ts, in First Aid and the use of the Kit at the Cabin.

The next class will be held on Tuesday, the 25th of April and we'd like to remind all leaders who are planning to take their troops up there that this course is required... for at least one adult in your troop. It would be a shame to sign up for a cook-out (even Brownies may have cook-outs) on an overnight and then have the troop denied the pleasure because you have failed to take this course! So, girls, do not miss the next two classes (the 25th and the overnight at the Cabin on April 28th) as Mrs. Metcalf's schedule will not allow a repeat of the Outdoors course this spring. If you miss it, your troop will have to wait until fall, when the classes may be repeated here, or at Cedar Hill!

On Wednesday, the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts met at the Cabin and all who have not been there before were thrilled with it. The pine trees around it, the rustic effect given the Cabin by staining it brown all contrive to make it seem as though it has always been there! Thanks to our many friends... Rotary and Scout families... it is a dream come true!

Another dream that is coming true is the opening of the new Girl Scout Shop at Filene's, on next Tuesday, the 18th of April. That National Equipment Service has deemed it expedient to have this shop in our town makes us very happy! The Executive Directors and the Commissioners of the Councils of neighboring towns are being invited to the Open House held Tuesday afternoon. All mothers, leaders and Scouts of Winchester are invited, of course, to the Open House from three o'clock to four. This Scout Shop will be of great service to us and the surrounding towns... especially Woburn, Medford and Arlington, as this will be the only Girl Scout Shop on the Medford-Woburn bus line. The past Commissioners of Winchester are being asked to assist in receiving at the Open House, and we are sure that they will see many old friends from the neighboring towns, as well as those from here in Winchester.

We should like to remind all leaders that the Cookie order blanks should be returned to your school representative by this Saturday, the fifteenth... otherwise you will have to pick up the troop's supply of cookies at the Girl Scout Office! We did that last year and boy, we aren't going to miss like that again! So hurry up, girls, and get 'em in this week!

ROTARY NEWS

The guest speaker at the regular Rotary Meeting last week was Mr. John Donovan, well known resident of Winchester and head of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway. Mr. Donovan is always a welcome speaker anywhere and it is a real privilege for the Rotary to hear what he has to say. Before talking on his subject which was the "Problems of Labor-Management" he humorously referred to his career as a teacher in Lawrence some years ago before he went into the field that he is so eminent in now. His remark that possibly and teaching on his part had indirectly been the cause of certain labor bill now before the general court was greeted with knowing smiles from Wade and Forbes.

The main point of his talk about labor and the difficulties that arise in the transportation field was that we are slowly but surely moving into a position where all transportation facilities must become a public property. It is the avowed purpose of labor to bring this about since they have, through many statements by their leaders, made this evident. The solution is possible only through better understanding by the labor leaders of the economic problems that arise in this field. Paradoxically enough when business is good then business income is much less — people have their own cars in which to ride. Also another new factor is the rising use of television in the home. Management field after dinner. Mr. Donovan as much as said that if they could take their buses off the streets at six at night they would do much better financially. It is a discouraging but not new condition that is coming about in all fields where labor seemingly has been willing to see socialism come into this country rather than try to compromise with management for their solution to both.

The Rotary needs real down to earth talks such as Mr. Donovan gave as often and we are very grateful that the resident of Winchester should have such an important part in trying to shape labor-management relations.

In the outfield Williams, batting leads last year, will play left field and Daniels, center, when he is not in the field, will play right field. Carroll are fighting it out for right field with Joyce's hitting balancing Carroll's better defensive play and greater speed.

The locals played a practice game against Stoneham last Saturday and looked bad against a team of veterans who are far ahead of most clubs in this district due to indoor practice at the Tufts cage.

WINCHESTER REPUBLICAN CLUB

The next meeting of the Republican Club will take place on Friday, April 14th, in the Wynant School auditorium at 8:00 P. M. Featured speakers will be the Honorable Harris S. Richardson, President of the Massachusetts Senate, and Mr. Charles Glibbons, Republican leader in the Massachusetts House of Representatives. Mr. Richardson will discuss our youth's participation in the party today. Both talks are certain to be very interesting and worthwhile. The public is invited, particularly those within the 18-28 year age group. Refreshments will be served. Be sure to come tonight and bring your friends.

HIGH SCHOOL OPENS TUESDAY

Wakefield Here in Middlesex Contest

Winchester High opens the defense of its Middlesex League baseball championship Tuesday afternoon when the Red and Black will meet Wakefield at 3 o'clock on Leonard Field.

Captain George "Major" Daniels will start on the mound against Wakefield with other big men Callahan or Stovell Symmes going against Reading in the second game of the budding season at Reading the following Friday.

Coch Bartlett does not have too good a line in his new material for Wakefield since cold weather has hampered his player's development. This is especially true of the pitchers, men whom much of the success of this year's club will depend.

Last year's championship nine was pretty much a senior unit, leaving only Captain Daniels and Leo Williams outfielders last season, and John Power, veteran third sacker, as a nucleus for this year. Several boys who played Junior Legion ball last summer are expected to fill the vacancies left by graduation in June.

Daniels' pitching experience has been limited to Junior Legion ball. He is a left hander with all he needs confidence, which he may develop this year. Behind him are Callahan, Symmes, and Charlie Murphy, none of whom has worked in high school ball.

Amey will start behind the plate against Wakefield. Dee caught some last summer for the Junior Legion and has looked a lot better at the plate than Amey. Ed Crowley and John Dilorio are battling for the first base spot and Leo Williams has had more experience in his Legion play last summer.

Tony Cirruso, regular second sacker for the Legion last season, will start at second base. George Tansey, an infielder with summer ball experience in New Hampshire, will open at short-stop. Power will again play third.

The locals played a practice game against Stoneham last Saturday and looked bad against a team of veterans who are far ahead of most clubs in this district due to indoor practice at the Tufts cage.

Any former members and all sons or close relatives of members of the old Black Horse Hose Company at Symmes Corner are urged to get in touch with Fire Chief James E. Callahan at the Central Fire Station as soon as possible.

NOTICE: SONS OF BLACK HORSE HOSE!

SENIOR FORUM TRIP TO WASHINGTON, D. C.

Monday morning at 5 o'clock, 37 members of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will begin their long-awaited trip to Washington. The party will travel by Gray Line Bus.

The first stop of the trip will be Philadelphia. The buildings to be inspected here are Independence Hall where the famous Liberty Bell is kept, Betsy Ross House where the first flag was made by the Philadelphia seamstress, Carpenter's Hall where the First Continental Congress met, Christ Church where Washington was a worshiper and where Benjamin Franklin was born, the Mint, and the Franklin Institute. The group is especially grateful to Franklin Institute which is normally closed on Mondays, but which is opening its doors specially to the Forum group, conducting them on a tour of its building, and running a special Planetary Show for them.

Friday afternoon will find the party in Washington. A sight-seeing tour, including Mount Vernon, Arlington Cemetery, the Tomb of Lincoln, the Supreme Court, and the Lincoln Memorial, will be made. In the evening, they will visit the Lincoln Memorial, the Congressional Library, and the National Archives.

Wednesday morning, the party will visit the law-making body of our country. There they will meet Tom Kevin, Legislative Secretary, Council of Social Action of the Congressional — Christian Church, who will explain the legislative procedure of Congress, and introduce three lobbyists. That afternoon, J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the F. B. I., will meet and talk to the sight-seers. He has arranged for a tour of the Justice Building. To complete the afternoon a visit to the National Art Gallery is planned.

Thursday the group will be honored to be the breakfast guests of Congresswoman Edith Norton Rogers in the House of Representatives. Before that, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing is to be inspected. That morning there will be meetings with such famous people as Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, Mr. Charles McNamara, Secretary of Agriculture, and others. Tickets to the Senate and House galleries have been secured through the courtesy of Senator Saltonstall. The afternoon will be spent at the Smithsonian Institute and the Washington Cathedral.

Friday is a day of travel to New York. Whatever time in the afternoon is left the individuals may spend as they wish. They will enjoy the evening at the Radio City Music Hall.

Saturday morning the last stop before setting out for Winchester will be made. This is to the Empire State Building. That evening at eight o'clock the trip will come to an end in Winchester.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Last Saturday morning Officer William E. Cassidy succeeded in locating five boys, two of whom admitted having broken a pane of glass in the storehouse at the rear of the Wynant School. Their parents agreed to pay for the glass.

The Police had to go to Pond street on Saturday afternoon to stop the activities of a boy who was stoning cars from a hill as they went along Pond street.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Healey announce the marriage of their daughter, Roberta, to Mr. Ralph S. Twitchell of Sarasota, Florida.

The Winchester Post American Legion Auxiliary will hold a dance on Saturday, April 15 at 8 p. m. in the Legion Hall.

DR. EDDY ASIRVATHAM TO ADDRESS THE SENIOR FORUM

For the next three Sundays, the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will have as its guest speaker Dr. Eddy Asirvatham of Madras, India, now Professor of Missions and Christian International Relations at Boston University. Until recently, Dr. Asirvatham was head of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration at the University of Madras. He is also Vice President of the Indian Political Science Association. He is a graduate of the University of Madras, Hartford Theological Seminary, Edinburgh University, and Harvard University Graduate Work in Social Ethics and Political Philosophy. He is the author of several books.

Dr. Asirvatham has recently returned from a trip to the Orient and brings to his audience a vivid picture of conditions there. He is a fascinating lecturer and is in constant demand. It was one of the Forum young people who heard him last year who enjoyed him so much that he strongly recommended to the Program Committee that Dr. Asirvatham be invited to speak to the Forum. He was a speaker in the morning church service of the First Congregational Church last fall also and was enthusiastically received.

The young people are looking forward to the service Sunday morning at 9:30 as the church will be dedicated at the Lenten sacrificial offering. The money they have saved by giving up something for Lent will be dedicated at this time and will go toward mission work in Japan and among migrants in our own country.

Bruce McGovern will be the chaplain assisted by Winthrop Smith. Carolyn Padelford will speak briefly on how our offering can help in places of need.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL
CONSTRUCTION NOTES

Considerable further progress has now been made on the new parking space at the corner of Highland avenue and Fairmount street. The retaining wall at the southern limit of this area will be sixteen feet in height at the point of deepest foundation. To give the wall strength in bearing the horizontal thrust against its inside face, it has a broad base footing, and the concrete has now been poured for this footing.

The exit point to Fairmount street from the parking space has presented a problem because of the ten percent grade of the street at this point. A nice bit of engineering planning of the slope from the parking area across the sidewalk to the street will make a smooth exit for cars.

The beginning of the tunnel between power house and the enlarged hospital now shows as a spectacular excavation sixteen feet deep, uncovering drains and pipes carrying steam, water and electric wiring laid twenty-five years ago, all telling the story of long service. Early in the construction of the new wing these installations will be replaced by entirely new pipes and conduits for all heating, lighting, power, and drainage. The tunnel will in future provide for easy routine inspection of all facilities and for repair if necessary arises.

Good fortune in the construction schedule continues: the basement level of the hospital addition has been reached without finding any rock ledge except at a point below the basement floor level at which foundation concrete can be poured directly. The possibility that blasting will be necessary is, therefore, almost negligible and will be entirely eliminated as soon as excavation for the foundation piers has been completed.

Progress on the site of the new wing has been less apparent for the past few days because economy underpinning is now being poured under the present hospital's western elevation.

NEW CARS ON DISPLAY

The line of new Nash automobiles is on display this week-end at the local Nash agency, 7 Shore road. All of the new models are displayed including the already famous "Nash Rambler", convertible landau and a very snappy conventional convertible. The prices of these fine cars will astonish you. Mr. Bolster will welcome your visit.

PARISH PLAYERS

The Parish Players close their 24th season on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, April 20, 21 and 22, with the brilliant comedy, "Two Blind Mice," in Parish Hall, the Little Theatre Beneath a Spire, First Congregational Church.

Mr. Harlan F. Grant is directing, and Mr. George Gowdy is chairman of the production crew which includes H. Knudsen, Archibald, Raymond Carter, F. Milne Blanchard, William Bolster, Seymour Russell, Paul Macdonald, Miss Suzanne, and Miss E. Thorne. The lighting effects are designed by Robert Laurie and Marshall R. Paul, Jr.

William Bruce Lunt and Miss O. Hammett have arranged the setting of the Georgian interior for the play, and Miss Paul has secured small non-participants with the assistance of Miss Virginia Vardlow, Mrs. John B. Will, and Miss Gleason. Costumes are under the direction of Mrs. Daniel M. Roon, Mrs. James B. Conn, Jr. and Miss Ruth Coulson.

Mrs. Harlan Grant will have charge of make-up for the large cast, and will be assisted by Miss Coulson.

Coffee will be served between the second and third acts of all three performances, and on Thursday the pourers will be Mrs. Wellington L. Caldwell, Mrs. Paul E. Nason, Mrs. James A. Newman, Mrs. Carl E. Thorne, Friday, Mrs. George S. Hobb, Mrs. Rodger M. Tolman, Mrs. H. A. Walker, Mrs. W. R. Walker, Saturday, Mrs. Lawrence M. Dueson, Mrs. Edward F. Harmon, Mrs. Robert Toman, Mrs. Howard H. P. Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Ashley Lewis are chairman of hostesses and ushers, and their assistants include the following hostesses and ushers for the three nights: Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Gustin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ormand M. Hessler, Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. PHILATHEA GROUP OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

At the annual meeting of the Philathea group of the First Baptist Church, held at the Church on Tuesday evening, April 11th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. William Muegler; Vice President, Mrs. Paul Ward; General Secretary, Mrs. Elmer Ripley; Publicity Secretary, Mrs. Ernest Clark; Treasurer, Miss Ruth Andrews; Devotions Chairman, Mrs. Leon Leavitt; Membership Chairman, Mrs. Whitney Gray; Missionary Chairman, Mrs. Walter Bailey; Nominating Chairman, Mrs. Ralph Carlisle; Social Chairman, Mrs. Lewis Foster; Sunshine Chairman, Mrs. Horlert Stoll.

The retiring president, Mrs. Lewis Foster, was presented with a Lilliput by her Board, and a necklace by the members of the Philathea group, as tokens of the appreciation of her contribution to the success of the past year.

Following the business meeting, the group was privileged to see a large part of Mrs. George Connor's fascinating doll collection and hear the interesting and unusual stories of the dolls which she exhibited told by Mrs. Connor in her delightful manner. The mothers had brought their daughters to enjoy this treat with them, and the program was thoroughly enjoyed by the older folks as well as those of doll-playing age.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses of the evening, Mrs. Ernest Dade, Mrs. Leslie Stewart, Mrs. Walter Bailey, Mrs. Ernest Clark, Miss Emily Johnston.

The Philathea will conclude their year's program with a dinner at the Hartsell Farm in Lincoln on May 8th.

CAPPED AS NURSES AIDES

Miss Angela Dattilo of 36 Chester street and Miss Mary J. DeFazio of 11 Olive street, who recently completed an eight week Red Cross Nurses Aides evening course at the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital, were capped on Tuesday evening April 11 at the Red Cross Chapter House, 17 Gloucester street, Boston. Both girls plan to remain at the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital where they trained.

HOLY NAME KEPT ALL NIGHT VIGIL

Holy Thursday night was the occasion for the 20th Holy Societies of the Boston Diocese, including St. Mary's in Winchester, sponsoring the annual custom of Nocturnal Vigils.

More than 2000 men entered out this religious observance which consisted of kneeling in prayer, and meditation on the Sacred Mysteries of the Holy Rosary, recitations of the Litany of the Holy Name of Jesus and the Sacred Heart Litany, readings from the Gospels of the passion and death of the Divine Savior and private meditation.

Based on the gospel story of the Ananias, Peter, James and John, who fell asleep on the first Holy Thursday night and who were severely reprimanded by the suffering Christ when he said: "Could ye then not watch one hour with me?" each Holy Name Society through these all night vigils, seeks to prove their love and devotion to the Divine Lord.

St. Mary's Holy Name Society conducted its services as mentioned above with the participation of a large group by Rev. William Walsh, spiritual director, and William J. Croughwell, president, under the following appointed leaders of each "Watch," comprising former presidents or former officers and present officers or committeemen: Arthur W. Hall, 10:00 - 11:00; Vincent F. Ehlard, 11:00 - 12:00; William J. Cantwell, 12:00 - 1:00; John A. Volpe, 1:00 - 2:00; William J. Croughwell, 2:00 - 3:00; Frank Dehan, 3:00 - 4:00; Eric J. Johnson, 4:00 - 5:00; Henry F. Barry, 5:00 - 6:00; Paul P. Hurley, 6:00 - 7:00; and Edward J. McDevitt, 7:00 - 8:00. The men recited a fine stational

NOTED GUEST PREACHER AT CHURCH OF THE EPIPHANY

The Reverend Walter Williams, Rector of St. Mark's Church, Denver, Colorado, who is in the East to attend several important National Church meetings, will be the guest preacher at the Church of the Epiphany, next Sunday, April 16th, at the eleven o'clock morning service. Mr. Williams, who is well known in Boston, as he was for several years a Trust Church, Cambridge, is one of the outstanding Episcopal clergymen of this country. He was one of the men selected to be on the Advisory White House Committee on Juvenile Delinquency. He is also a member of the National Committee of the Editorial Board of the Department of Christian Education in New York, which is writing all the new Church School material for the Episcopal Church, a member of the standing Liturgical Commission in Washington, and a member of the Joint Commission on Church Music for the whole church. Mr. Williams is noted also for his outstanding work with young people. He is the head of the Department of Youth of the Diocese of Colorado and is also Chairman of the Church Relations Committee of the Boy Scouts of the Denver Council. He has taught at countless Youth conferences all over the country and played a leading part in the young people's division of the General Convention of the Episcopal Church in San Francisco last September. This will be an unusual opportunity to hear this noted preacher.

No Finer List of Names

On Earth!

If you had in your hand a list of all the people in the world who own and ride in Cadillac cars, we think you'd agree that you could search in vain for another list of equal size—and greater distinction.

Cadillac is the great common meeting ground for the world's distinguished people. Wherever the car is available, it has become almost the automatic companion for outstanding personal achievement.

Naturally, only long-continued goodness could have placed Cadillac in such an enviable position. Its owners are too numerous, too varied and too intelligent to have been won and held by anything save quality alone.

And yet, such is the magic of Cadillac's manufacturing ingenuity, that this internationally distinguished car is available at a price which makes it a great practical value.

The lowest-priced Cadillac model—the lovely "Sixty-One"—actually costs less than certain models of numerous other makes of cars.

The great Cadillac engine is so economical to operate that gasoline mileage actually approaches that of the smallest, more economical cars. In a recent officially-supervised economy run, three Cadillac cars averaged better than twenty-two miles to the gallon for 751 mi!

And there is simply no practical limit to the car's endurance. It is merely a question of how long you wish to keep it and drive it. The full life-span of a Cadillac has never been accurately measured.

In view of all this, isn't it the part of wisdom to add your own name to the list of those who own this distinguished car?

This is a wonderful year for moving up to Cadillac. The car has never been so beautiful, so luxurious, so utterly thrilling to ride in and drive. It is an everlasting satisfaction to utilize and possess.

Better come in and talk it over. We'll be most happy to see you—any time. But please bear in mind that every day you delay will cost you its price in pleasure and satisfaction.

VISITED SCIENCE MUSEUM

The fifth grade of the Wyman School, Winchester, visited the Temporary Headquarters of the Museum of Science and Science Park on April 12th. The group was accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Helen Hatchell, and by Mrs. Robert Nichols, Mrs. Norman Gidding, and Mrs. James Fitzgerald.

Pupils saw man-made lightning, tested radio activity of minerals with a Geiger Counter, patted the heads of the pet porcupine, and inspected the many other fascinating exhibits from the engine which drives jet planes at over 600 miles an hour to record balsters.

These making the trip were: George Denton, Susan Joyner, David Maydesley, Gary Gamache, Anne Marie deJellison, Dorothy Ann Smith, Mary Jean Newton, Christine Powers, Susan Fletcher, Sybil Packett, Mary Alice Goding, Bradford Snow, Elizabeth Hottel, Sally Beal, Jerry Hall, James Fitzgerald, Vanessa Ahlforth, Danny Scott, Sara Jane Woodward, Jonathan Moulding, Marjorie Jean Wallace.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

First of all, we should like to remind all Scouts and Brownies and their leaders that their cookie orders must be in by Tuesday.

At this writing, Tuesday, we are looking forward to the Open House at Filene's here in Winchester when their new Girl Scout Shop will be formally open. It will be wonderful to shop here in town, instead of having to go all the way to Boston. Thanks to the National Equipment Service and Miss Casey and Filene's we have a shop nearer home.

Attention! All Leaders. In case you haven't read or heard about the plans for the Centennial Parade, we'd like to remind you that the Brownies are to have a special place near the reviewing stand, roped off and marked "Brownies" at the next meeting. Time for Brownies to congregate (in uniform) will be held next week.

Through the Scout Contacts of Miss Wright's Program Committee, all Intermediate leaders will be given permission slips for all girls to present, signed by a parent, on the day of the Parade. No girl without uniform (the green Intermediate, or the green skirt, white blouse and Scout belt; or Senior Scout uniform) or without permission slip may march.

Time of assembly for Scouts will be announced next week, as well as place of assembly. So watch this column!

This week is a busy one with following meetings: April 24th: Girl Training at Cabin from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. April 25th: Camp Staff. Outdoor Activities Course 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. April 27th: Girl Relations. . . . Office 10 a. m. Program Committee Office, at 1:30 p. m. April 28th: Outdoor Activities Course overnight. . . . (leaders) Cabin 4:30 p. m. to 10 a. m. on the 29th. April 29th: Sectional Senior Planning Committee. Cabin, 10 a. m. . . . Float Decoration. . . . 10 a. m. Centennial Parade. . . . Assembly after one-thirty o'clock. Watch the column on Parade dope.

CENTENNIAL WEEK AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Winchester Public Library will hold open house during Centennial Week beginning Monday, April 23 through Friday 10 A. M. to 9 P. M. and Saturday, April 29 in the morning from 10 A. M. to 1 P. M. In observance of Centennial parade day, the library will close at 1 P. M. Saturday, April 29.

Winchester residents and friends are cordially invited to visit the library during Centennial Week to see the historical exhibits prepared by the Winchester Historical Society and the Winchester Art Association as well as the library itself. Elsewhere in this paper will be found the special announcements by these two Associations about their exhibits. The Art Gallery and the Historical Room in the library will be well worth visiting during this special week. Members of both Associations will be on hand to explain the exhibits.

The Chief Librarian, Miss Mead and members of the staff of the library will be available during Centennial Week for personally conducted tours of the library building. They will explain the library's exhibit of old volumes of the period of 1850 and before. The two murals in the reading room and in the foyer are of special note as are the paintings by Winchester artists owned by the library. Among the latter are paintings by Herman Dudley Murphy, Foxcroft Cole, Edmund Garrett, Benjamin Clappney, Eva Coady and there are also pictures by Otis Philbrick, Francis Getty and William Bicknell.

The Tyler memorial windows in the art gallery were designed and made by Tiffany of New York. These were moved from the library room in the town hall when the new library was built in 1931. Winchester became a town 100 years ago. It has had a town public library for 90 years.

SHRINE BAND FOR CENTENNIAL

The Shriners Band of Aleppo Temple, Boston, together with their colorful foot and mounted band, in Arabic ceremonial costume, will come to Winchester for the Centennial Parade on Saturday afternoon, April 29, under the sponsorship of the Winchester Masons.

Aram Mouradian, Master of William Parkman Lodge, is Chairman of the local Masonic committee, comprising members of William Parkman and Mystic Lodges and Winchester Royal Arch Chapter. The Shriners will arrive at noon and will be entertained by the Masons at the Music Hall on Baron Street for luncheon. Joining the Parade at 2 p. m.

Aleppo Band is known throughout the United States and Canada as the largest band among all of the Shrine Temples, and is the oldest in point of service, founded in 1915. It has provided music for many parades, and hundreds of concerts which have benefited the sixteen hospitals which the Mystic Shrine operates in this country and Canada for crippled children whose parents are unable to send them to private hospitals. More than 1,000 crippled children have been treated in these Shrine hospitals, regardless of race, creed or color, and without cost to the child or its parents or guardians. Aleppo Band took part in Winchester's Parade in 1929, and staged a colorful drill on old Manchester Field afterward, including several concert numbers by the band featuring trumpet solos by the late Walter Smith, their director of the musicians.

REV. EARL W. DOUGLAS

Executive Secretary, Boston City Missionary Society, 100 Brook at First Congregational Church.

Rev. Earl W. Douglas will be the preacher at the morning worship Service of the First Congregational Church, next Sunday morning at 10:45. His subject will be "Again Pioneers." Mr. Douglas is an expert of the religious census of Boston, and the great changes that are now going on in the shifting population of the City.

In addition to being Executive Secretary of the City Missionary Society and the Farrington Memorial, Incorporated, Mr. Douglas is a member of the Massachusetts Civic League, the Massachusetts Citizens' Committee, the Boston City Club, the Big Brother Association, and the Family Society of the United Community Services. He is also Chairman of the Committee on Action Research, Massachusetts Council of Churches and Auxiliary of the trustees of the Chinese Christian Church of New England.

LEGION AUXILIARY TEA

On the 23rd of April 1950, the Legion Auxiliary Unit 97 are entertaining members and friends at a Tea to be held at the Legion Home, at 45 Vine street. The Tea is being held to introduce prospective new members to the Officers and Auxiliary of the Unit. The Tea will be at 4:00 p. m. This marks the beginning of our membership drive, and all members are urged to attend.

MRS. CONNOR HEADS HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Mrs. George E. Connor was re-elected President of the Winchester Historical Society at the annual meeting held Saturday in the Gallery of the Winchester Public Library. Mr. Frank Crawford was named vice-president; Miss Louise Bancroft, secretary; Miss Laura Tolman, treasurer; Miss Clara R. Russell, curator.

Directors for one year include Mr. Francis E. Smith, Miss Jean MacLellan, Mrs. John B. Wills, Mr. Marshall W. Symmes, Mrs. Arthur M. Belville, Mrs. T. T. Greenwood.

The speaker of the meeting was Dr. A. Warren Stearns of Billerica, who, in addition to his keen interest and participation in historical organizations, is also Medical Director of Bridgewater State Farm, former Associate Commissioner of Mental Diseases, former Commissioner of Correction, and professor of Sociology at Tufts College.

Dr. Stearns spoke entertainingly and interestingly on New England history of local interest, touching on the "ancestor worship" before 1850, and recent tendencies to tour these same ancestors from their pedestals. He spoke of the 17,000 men and women who came to New England from 1620 to 1641 — less than 5,000 families. For 150 years there was little or no immigration here as the political situation in England grew easier, under Cromwell. Indeed, some settlers even returned to England!

But families were large, and they spread out, forming new towns. Also small villages, such as early Winchester (South Woburn), grew up near a mill or canal. The settlers had exterminated the Indians and their dangers. Most men owned their farms and homes. A few shillings in taxes were the usual amount paid by even the most prosperous settler. A man in Winchester or Woburn in those days who had a thousand pounds could count himself well-off, and write "Gentleman" after his name.

After the Revolution, some 40 million people came to American shores. One of the places most settled was New England. And New England became one of the really great cultural developments. "No nation or people is murdered — it commits suicide," Dr. Stearns quoted. The future of New England can be saved if we have a touch of stoicism in our daily life — if we will be a civilization which respects the past, has strong group consciousness and dignity, coupled with self respect and a fine sense of proportion. On that high and hopeful note, the speaker concluded.

Miss Russell, the curator, exhibited many historical items which were given to the Society by Mrs. Alexander George (Dorothy Wellington) from the estates of her aunts and mother in Winchester. These items were on exhibit for the members. In addition to the splendid gifts, Mrs. George also presented the Society with a large walnut secretary in which to display its treasures.

JOHN E. MUEHLIGH
WINCHESTER BOY AWARD WINNER

John E. Muehligh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Muehligh, of 128 Highland avenue, Winchester, has won a Red Star award for high academic achievement at the Valley Forge Military Academy during the recent second term. A second classman (junior), Cadet Muehligh is now completing his first year at the academy.

The academy honors list is published three times yearly for the fall, winter and spring terms.

ON COMMITTEE AT BENNINGTON COLLEGE

Miss Ruth G. Miller, daughter of Mrs. Alice G. Miller of 336 Main street, one of our promising young violinists and a music major at Bennington College, has just been given an unusual recognition by the student-body.

She has been elected, one of five, to serve on the Executive Committee for the following year. This committee is a most important one on the campus and is rare indeed that a freshman is elected to it.

Miss Miller was graduated from Cambridge School in Weston, where she was active in music and in student government activities.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Wadsworth Hight have returned from a five week's trip to California and the west coast. After a stay at their Swan road home they will go to their summer home at Sandwich, N. H.

WINCHESTER AT READING

Fresh from an opening game victory over a power-laden Wakefield nine, Winchester High travels to Reading today in quest of their second victory of the season. As Reading defeated Lexington High in their initial contest last Tuesday, this promises to be another tough one for the Red and Black. As Lexington had battled Winchester for the Middlesex League title last year and were expected to be one of the top teams in the league this year, the Reading victory came as something of a surprise. Big Joe Callahan is expected to twirl this one for Winchester with Charlie Murphy or Stowell Symmes ready to relieve, if necessary.

Winchester has two Middlesex League contests scheduled for next week. On Tuesday afternoon the locals entertain their chief rival of a year ago for the league crown, Lexington High. Lexington has two of the best pitchers in the league in Bob Furdon and Jack Adams and either will be tough to beat. On Friday afternoon the Red and Black travels to Belmont to encounter a strong Belmont High nine. Belmont, perennially fields a powerful aggregation and this year's team will be no exception.

BALL GAMES WANTED

The "Theodore R. Rose Club of Medford" is seeking baseball games with any teams between the age of 9 to 12 years old at home or away. You can write or call Mr. Rose at 97 Monument street, West Medford or call ABlington 5-6708.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Knight of 15 Alden Lane will attend the convention of the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants in Atlantic City, April 21 and 22.

WINCHESTER WON OPENER

Carroll's Double Beat Wakefield.
8-7

A double to left field by Paul Carroll in the ninth inning enabled Winchester High to open its 1950 baseball season with a thrilling come-back victory over Wakefield High by a score of 8 to 7 at Leonard Field on Tuesday afternoon. Wakefield outthrew and outslugged the locals as they collected twelve hits good for a total of twenty-five bases while the Red and Black gathered nine hits for a total of eleven bases. The visitors batted no less than four home runs over the left field fence to account for six of their seven runs. Both teams evidenced their lack of practice by committing a total of nineteen errors, with the locals making seven misuses while Wakefield was charged with twelve errors.

Captain "Major" Daniels opened on the mound for Winchester, but did not have it on Tuesday as he gave up ten hits good for twenty-three bases in the six innings he worked. Daniels was having trouble with his control as he issued seven bases on balls and then would make the pitch too good and was tagged for the four home runs. Stowell Symmes took over in the seventh inning and turned in an excellent performance as he shut out the visitors over the final three innings. He was in trouble only in the ninth when the first two batters singled but he coolly pitched his way out of trouble.

Trailing 7 to 1 at the end of the fourth inning, the Red and Black refused to give up and kept picking away at the "Moose". Moran, the Wakefield pitcher, after leaving base runners stranded in four out of the first five innings, the locals rallied for four runs in the sixth inning. They added another tally in the eighth which left them trailing 7 to 6 as they came to bat in the last of the ninth.

Paul Amico opened the ninth by drawing a base on balls, stole second base as the next batter faked a bunt, and advanced to third on a wild pitch. Crowley grounded to second for the first out, Amico holding third. Coach Bartlett called on Prescott Keyes to bat for Curran and gave him instructions to work a squeeze play with Amico for the tying run. Keyes laid down a pretty bunt and both runners were safe as the play at the plate was too late to catch the flying Amico. Keyes stole second base two pitches later and Paul Carroll became the Winchester hero as he doubled to left to send home Keyes with the winning run.

MILITARY MANPOWER'S CONTRIBUTION TO ANNIVERSARY PARADE

Editor of the Star:
 Having been appointed by the Chairman of the Winchester Military Manpower Committee to act as liaison officer, between the 100th Anniversary Committee and units of the Armed Forces which will appear in the parade, the writer would like to report as follows:

The military section of the parade will be headed by the Fort Devens Band, followed by R. Battery, 10th Field Artillery, Capt. James W. Howell, commanding. The 10th was organized in 1916 from the 6th Field Artillery and in 1918 landed in France to begin a victorious career in the three major offensives. During World War II, the Battalion fought through the North African campaign, Sicily, and on Southern France, crossed the Cotentin in the attack that broke the Siegfried Line, crossed the Rhine and on into Austria and Hitler's "Eagle's Nest." Battles of the Marne and the second time celebrated a German surrender. The Battalion shares the honor of being in the forefront of the Cox and Greave and the Presidential Unit Citation. Embellished across its coat of arms, which is a rock proper resting on two cannons in Salford, is the Battalion motto "The Rocks Support Us."

Next in line will be the Navy Yard Band, Chief Musician Gustafson, conducting, followed by a detachment of sailors and Marines with the Marine Color Guard. Complete color is on the personnel of this unit and not at hand.

Following will be 100 men from the 224th Air Force Reserve Training Center, Hanscom Airport, commanded by Flight Commander Robert B. March, a Winchester resident. Then will come the military float entered by the Boston Air Armory Station. This float depicts the Marine Corps "April 19th" game in the uniforms of that day and behind them a member of each of the branches of our present day Armed Forces in a color guard. To make the picture complete, the men of the Army, Navy and Air Force who work in Winchester and serve as well in their capacity of lieutenants, will also be in line. Many of the women in Winchester are familiar with the story of Edward Haysen, Station Commander in Medford (who is in charge of the Winchester area) and many who sent him cards during his illness will be delighted to see him well again and back in his jeep. With him will be Sgt. Young and Sgt. Sullivan who also cover Winchester.

The Military Manpower Committee is happy to have been able to arrange the above section of the parade. To the Reverend, Grand Marshal, and the officers who have so wholeheartedly cooperated, namely: Lt. John R. Frost, USAF; Commander Samuel H. Read, USN; P10 1st Naval District; Commander N. J. Nicholas, USN Navy Recruiting; Major Donald Taylor USN CO Boston Main Recruiting Station; Captain Robert J. Green USAF; P10 Boston Main Recruiting Station; Captain Edmund Murphy P10, Fort Devens.

The Military Manpower Committee wishes to thank the American Legion Post 97, The VFW and the K of C who have so generously offered to entertain the troops after the parade.

Very truly yours,
 Edward A. Bartlett,
 Winchester Military Manpower Committee

W. H. S. 20 REUNION

Editor of the Star:
 The Winchester High School Class of 1929, when held 21-23th reunion in May, 1945, at the Winchester Country Club, on that occasion voted to have a 30th reunion. Tentative plans call for a 30th reunion. Tentative plans call for the 30th reunion to be held on Friday, May 29th, at a place to be determined. Members of the committee include Ed McDonald, Frank Holland and Mrs. Lillian Gray. Donaghy, 14 Glenwood avenue, the finest woman athlete of the Winchester schools. The President of the Class of 1929, Mr. Stuart Eldridge resides at 10 Concord avenue, Cambridge. Johnny Pascoe is a class member. With all members of the class of 1929, the committee hopes their intention to attend this reunion. It will never come again! The local committee is anxious to have the address of these members residing in remote localities.

GOOD SHOOTING

Editor of the Star:
 In the early years, as you know, Winchester was a net-work of ponds, many of which have since been filled in.

These ponds abounded in muskrats. My father, when a boy shot enough of them to make my grandmother a set of furs, a muff and "tippet" as they were called then. She said they were very beautiful.

When you consider it took three hundred skins in the making, as only the backs were used, it shows how plentiful these animals were. Pretty good shooting also!

Marion L. Brodeur

HERE IN SPIRIT!

Editor of the Star:
 May I express through your columns my congratulations and sincere best wishes to the citizens of Winchester on their Centennial celebration, April 29. Since I am unable to be with my many friends during this joyous celebration, I will be there in spirit, and I will be wishing you the best of luck, always.

Sincerely yours,
 Jason W. Dade,

DON O. RIONE REST HOME CHARITY DRIVE

The people of our ancestry have a duty to fulfill which is beyond expression. This is the accumulation of funds for the construction of a home for aged Italians. The greatness and importance of the drive has the whole-hearted endorsement of our beloved Archbishop of Boston, Richard J. Cushing. Solicitors will call at your home for donations for this great objective. Be generous, be willing, be charitable. This is the only charity at its best. Let us all live up to the charitable traits which are synonymous with Italians, and give, and give, and give. Do not fail in this important undertaking, and God willing we will not fail.

Many organizations throughout the State have organized as a unit for this important drive. Therefore, in the name of God and of Charity, collect your dollars to make a building a Home for the Aged of Italian ancestry.

If collectors fail to contact you, donations may be forwarded to:
 1. Philomena Corby, 41 Irving street, Winchester.
 2. Miss C. Vozella, 131 Highland avenue, Winchester.
 3. A. J. Guarante, M. D., 34 Water street, Winchester.
 4. Carmine Frongillo, 16 Harvard street, Winchester.

NEW BOARD MEMBER

Gilman Wallace of 117 Church street, has been elected to the Board of Appeal to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Walter A. Redding of Leydard road.

A PLEA FROM RED CROSS

Throughout the whole of ARC calls for help come constantly. To type, to cook, to knit and sew, to add up figures in a row. To paint and teach, to make a speech, to take war veterans to the beach. For nurse's aides, recruit for food. To help out with fire and flood.

So you and I must search the town inside out and upside down. Coaxing friends and foes and scholars. To give to ARC their dollars. Until at last the goal we seek. Has reached the top. has hit the peak.

WINCHESTER LODGE NO. 150 NEWS

On Saturday, April 22, a Cabaret Dance will be held at Waterfield Hall, the proceeds of which will help to defray the expenses of the Lodge's participation in the Centennial celebration of the Town of Winchester.

Chairman Richard Penta and his committee have promised everyone who attends a wonderful time. It is then hoped that every member of the lodge buys a ticket so that this affair will be a success.

The Winchester Men's and Ladies' Lodges are going to take part in the Centennial Parade, July 4. They are going to have a large float, its theme being based on the principles of our Order, Liberty, Equality and Fraternity. The building of the float will be under the supervision of the Venerable James Violante. He requests that as many members as possible notify him of their intention to take part. The float will probably be built around the latter part of next week, about Thursday and Friday.

The men will march in a body in the parade. Overseas caps of blue with yellow trimmings, which are the lodge colors, are being made. Again, notify the lodge that you will march so the committee will have an idea on how many caps to make.

The Social Night Committee plans to have steamed clams (not on the house) on their Social Night, Friday, April 28. The proceeds from the clams will go into the Welfare Fund. Again, this is an opportunity for the members to have a good time and at the same time to help a good cause.

The Lodge team in the Grand Lodge Bowling League ended up in second place losing to East Boston by only 4 points. Considering the caliber of some of the teams that is a mighty fine showing for our "old men." Jimmy, Chief Vespene, Mucky Tofori, Tony Jacobellis and Tony Saraco.

A Tofuri ended the season with an average of 99.58 which was fourth in the league standing. A Vespene was in fifth with 99.39. A Saraco, A. Jacobellis and C. Frongillo followed in that order. All in all the boys did well.

GOING! GOING! GONE! WHERE?

To the Parish House of the Church of the Epiphany at 800 p. m., Saturday evening, May 6, when the Tuesday Group will sponsor an auction of fascinating objects, dainties as well as a large assortment of articles you can't afford to miss but can't afford to take home.

A meeting of the committee in charge of arrangements for this vast undertaking will be held at 7:15 p. m., Wednesday, April 26, at the home of Mrs. Fred Smith, 21 Jefferson road. The following will attend: Mesdames Paul Kocay, Alexander, Allen, William, Holbrook, Richard, Barlow, Albert, Buffum, Alvin, March, E. Phillip, Walker, Donald, McLean, Maxwell, McCreary, J. Warren, Shone, Baker, E. G. Chase, R. Alan, Pace, Henry, Pitts, John, Colony and Thompson. Also, Mesdames Daniel E. Barnard, Richard, Bauman, Alan, Smith, Hollis, Dyer, Warren, Haley and James E. St. Clair.

FATHERS' NIGHT AT LINCOLN SCHOOL

Fathers' Night was held by the Lincoln Chapter of the Winchester Central Mothers' Association on Wednesday evening, April 12th, in the Lincoln School Auditorium.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Alexander M. Clark, president of the Lincoln Chapter, who graciously welcomed the parents present. The Buck School Orchestra, under the direction of Miss Amfantis, sang several selections and the Junior High School Quartet under the leadership of Mr. Fred Felner who also substituted for one of the absent members won the praise of all. Stephen Dunn's concert solo and the piano selection rendered by John Willis were most enthusiastically received. Dr. Forbes Norris discussed the many problems of the fathers which of course is of deep interest to all parents.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles Fish and her committee.

SMITH CLUB PLANT SALE

The ninth annual Plant Sale of the Winchester Smith Club will be held on Saturday, May 13, at Central Green. First held during the war years, when its slogan was "Vegetables for Victory, Flowers for Morale," the Plant Sale has proved its value both as a means of raising funds for scholarships for Winchester girls, and as an opportunity for the public to buy tested products at regular retail prices.

This year the Plant Sale is offering 39 varieties of annuals—everything from Ageratum to Zinnia—16 kinds of perennials and 3 varieties of tomatoes. Potted plants include geraniums, fuchsias, heliotropes and tuberosa begonias. A new feature will be potted Regal and Madonna lilies which will bloom this summer. The committee that will handle all this material—about 1500 flats of annuals and over a thousand other items—has been serving in all four of the Central Green houses, and this delightful system is being continued this year. A large committee is headed by Mrs. Nell H. Borden, Mrs. Clark W. Collins, Mrs. Richard Parkhurst and Mrs. Clarence P. Whorf.

Plant sale order blanks and luncheon reservation slips will be mailed this week. If you are not on our mailing list you may procure blanks at the Knit Shop, 33 Thompson street.

LIVE ANIMAL SHOW

The children of Winchester, and their parents too, will be delighted to hear of the Live Animal Show to be held in the afternoon of May 6, from two to five, at the Town Hall.

The proceeds from this show will go to the Children's Museum in Jamaica Plain. The committee, busy already with their plans, include Mrs. Walter M. Ennis, Jr., as chairman; Mrs. Ralph P. Webster, Jr., as ticket chairman; Mrs. Donald Warren as program chairman and Mrs. W. K. Vorplanck in charge of Children's Exhibits.

The committee has been fortunate in securing the help of Mr. Warren Prince of Tufts College, who will supply the animals and the talks that will be given in displaying them. Mr. Prince is in charge of the Open House at the Tufts Biological Lab, giving two lectures, one in the afternoon and one in the evening of April 28.

Children in this town are invited to exhibit any animal or rare animals they might have, and if you think you have such an exhibit, you may please call Mrs. W. K. Vorplanck at Winchester 6-2557 for further information.

WINCHESTER CANCER FUND PUSHING FOR QUOTA

With half the month gone, the Cancer Crusade has reached 52.5% of the quota set for Winchester. $2,675.00 of the goal of $5,000 has been received by the Treasurer, Haverford Davis, of the Winchester Trust Company.

The campaign has reached the critical stage. Everybody who contemplates giving to the Cancer Fund, and who has not sent in their checks, will help the Committee in their work if they will mail their contribution over the next week-end. Checks should be made out to American Cancer Society. One and two dollar contributions are just as welcome as large subscriptions. Let's help to put Winchester over the top in this campaign to conquer the dread killer, Cancer!

9 REASONS WHY YOU'LL WANT TO SEE THE Great New KitchenAid HOME DISHWASHER

A PRODUCT OF

1. FRONT-OPENING compact, counter-height, with top free work surface.

2. CAPACITY, complete set for 6 to 8 persons.

3. COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC in all cycles—wash, 2 power-rinses, circulated hot-air drying. Auxiliary manual control to advance cycle.

4. WASH. Centrifugal pump circulates water through revolving wash arm. Six openings in arm provide most thorough, most powerful coverage.

5. RINSE. Two separate power rinses through revolving arm (not water-line pressure).

6. DRYING. Separately-powered power fan blows electricity heated air through entire chamber.

7. QUICK, EASY LOADING. 2 independent racks (on separate roller tracks) give easiest, unobstructed dish-handling.

8. TIME CYCLE. Complete washing, double rinsing and drying cycle, 35 minutes. Cycle may be shortened with manual control. Opening door shuts off unit, suspends operation without interrupting time cycle.

9. MOTOR. Self-lubricating, 1/2 hp. Guaranteed with entire unit.

HIGH SCHOOL VAUDEVILLE

Well done and most unusual from a Vaudeville standpoint was the modern dance number with eight girls garbed as black cats, Tommies and Tabbies, we suppose, and doing a rather clever and finished routine that probably was as difficult to do as anything on the bill. The dancing of the Ponies just before intermission was a mighty finished piece of work, with its group of twelve attractive girls colorfully costumed in long skirts. Highlighting the second half of the bill were the Hill Billies, an act cleverly synchronized to a phonograph record by Ted O'Rourke and featuring some mighty funny antics by "Phyl" O'Neil and long John Power.

Betty Hooper contributed a finished ballet number and George Johnson's soft shoe and aerobic dancing was also very well done. "Illusions" featured five pretty girls in fluffy abbreviated skirts who swung milk in a circle without spilling it, shook flowers from cornucopias and finally produced live rabbits from paper horns.

Running the Hill Billies a close race for the most popular act was the "Alfalfa Quartet," a faculty group who did three neat "barbershop" numbers that featured a clever modern version of the ancient and melodic "How Can I Leave Thee." It's only fair to say that the square-bearded sweet first tenor wasn't a teacher at all, but was Mr. Ragnar T. Brandt, father of a couple of members of the vaudeville cast, who filled in most acceptably for the ailing G. Hartley Curtis, originally billed to appear in this number.

Those who expected, or shall we say hoped, the teachers would go sour in their harmonies were doomed to disappointment. They never faltered for a moment and their grave alternate bowing after each number was dignifiedly pedagogue. Whoever wrote the lyrics for their final number rates a big hand. They were clever.

Most spectacular of all vaudeville finales was this year's Tap Chorus routine, strobe lights being used to bring out the girls' fluorescently painted costumes in sharp relief on the darkened stage. The lowering of the girls big hats from top stage added to the act's effectiveness together with some finished "hoofing" by the well trained tappers.

There were other good things. The tumbling of both the boys and girls and the singing of the Orgettas sisters and Patricia Carroll. The lower voice of the Orgettas sisters was especially promising. Others at the show may have liked other things better than those acts we mention. Space forbids individual mention of them all. We do hope another year the Jazz Band, if we have to have a Jazz Band, will play something instead of "Darktown Strutters," played at the Vaudeville for long enough now, and we also hope the entire cast won't have to sit on the stage as long again waiting to sing their final number.

With the entire cast on the stage at the finale John Power took over and called the show director, Ray V. Hayward to the stage, where Phyllis O'Neil presented him with a token of the cast's appreciation. Mr. Hayward's gliding shuffle out of the wings in his slippers and shirt-sleeves, with his hair awry, is always a highlight of the show!

Others called to the platform to take bows were Athletic Director Henry Knowlton, Girls' Coach Helen Carroll and her assistants Marianne Patterson and Margaret Howe, Marguerite Derro and Ted O'Rourke, alumni assistants; Faculty Member Tom Morse, Custodian O'Donnell and Music Supervisor Eleanor Anfinits.

These with Miss Elizabeth Livingstone, and Miss Charlotte LeClair assisted in production of the show. The attractive cover design for the program was done by Phyllis O'Neil and the programs were typed by Margaret DiMambro. Accompanists were "Rickey" Ives, Margaret Reid, June Ryan, Dan McFeeley, Eleanor Anfinits, Mrs. John Ghirardelli and Marianne Patterson.

Following is the program and show committees.

CENTENNIAL RELIGIOUS SERVICE

Winchester opened its Centennial Week, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the town's incorporation, with a religious service arranged by the Protestant Ministers' Association and held at the First Baptist Church. Members of all the Protestant denominations were in the large congregation who listened to an address by Rev. J. Burdett Parry, D. D., pastor of the First Congregational Church in Wellesley, and heard an appropriate and moving Centennial Prayer by Dr. Charles E. Park of the Unitarian Church.

Rev. John Snook, Jr., minister of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, made the invocation and led the congregation in the "Lord's Prayer." Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, read the scripture lesson from the Book of Joshua, chapter 1, 1-9.

Rev. John W. Cook, pastor of the Second Congregational Church, announced the offering and made the offertory prayer. Rev. Virgil H. Hill, pastor of the New Hope Baptist Church, pronounced the benediction.

Musical for the service was by the choir of the church with Raymond Sheppard, Pugh at the organ. In addition to leading the choir, sang an anthem "Psalm 150" by Francis. Besides his prelude and postlude Mr. Pugh played the Adagio from the "Sixth Symphony" by Widor at the offertory.

The musical program added to the pleasure of the service and the choir's performance of the difficult "Frank" score was very creditable.

The host pastor, Rev. Walter Lee Bailey of the First Baptist Church, welcomed the congregation to the service and introduced the "Dean of Winchester," Dr. Howard J. Chidley, whose ministry at the First Congregational Church extends over 35 years.

Dr. Chidley spoke briefly of the town's religious past, interjecting a humorous note when he said that all those who were exposed to the ancient Sabbath program, with its four hour sermons, hour-long prayers, followed by Sunday School and afternoon and evening services, either "died or became great men."

Of the present, Dr. Chidley found it fitting that the town's Centennial Week should open with a religious service, for "where the church faints the community deteriorates." "The town's churches," he said "have never been better manned than now, nor has there ever been a better spirit of cooperation between them."

Dr. Chidley introduced Dr. Parry as one who, like himself, had come to America and become a United States citizen from abroad. Dr. Chidley referred to the guest preacher, who is a native of Wales, as a pious man, whom one feels hear they follow across the fields to hear him again at his church in Wellesley.

Dr. Parry paid tribute to our Puritan forefathers, who he characterized as no paragons, but rather, staunch middle class people of flesh and blood with the courage to protest bad conditions in their own country and to leave that country in search of the principles for which they stood.

The Puritans, Dr. Parry said, believed in the eternal value of truth, that truth crushed would rise again. The present day practice which makes lying a virtue our Puritan fathers denied. They knew what we have forgotten that "only the truth will give us freedom." To day as never before we need truth everywhere, in the state, the nation, in business and in the home.

If You've Earned It—Don't Hesitate!

Among the most things available for men and women to enjoy as they pass through life is, undoubtedly, a Cadillac car. People who own Cadillacs are almost unanimous in their testimony that their cars give them constant pleasure and enjoyment—enriching their lives to an almost unbelievable degree.

Yet—there are countless people who have every right to be enjoying a Cadillac—but who, for one reason or another, are denying themselves the pleasure.

If this is happening to you—there must be a reason—and we think the following paragraphs may prove to be convincing. If you are hesitating to purchase a Cadillac because of cost—please remember that the lowest priced Cadillac actually costs less than certain models of numerous other makes of cars.

If you are concerned about operating expense—remember that three 1950 Cadillacs recently averaged better than twenty-two miles to the gallon in an official test run of 751 miles!

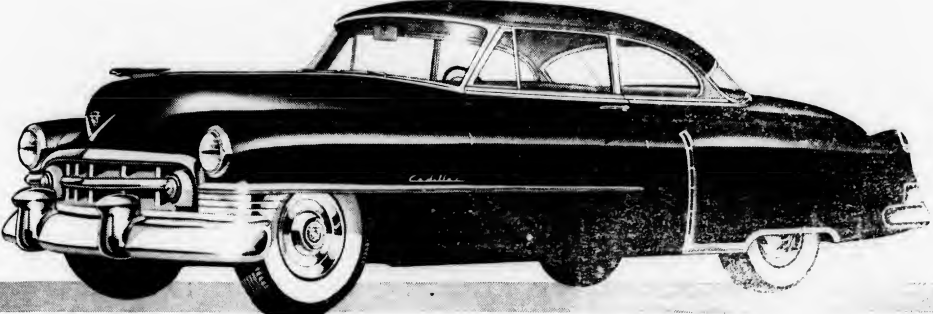

If you are wondering about the cost of upkeep—draw your own conclusions from the fact that the lifespan of a Cadillac has proved to be almost unlimited. If you are afraid you cannot afford to buy a Cadillac—please remember that owners have not found this to be true.

Yes, if you have earned it, there is every practical reason why you ought to be driving a Cadillac.

This would be a wonderful year to make the move for never before were Cadillac cars so beautiful or luxurious.

Better come in and see us. We think you'd be surprised and delighted at how easy and simple it is to enjoy a Cadillac.

WINCHESTER MSPCA

The Winchester Auxiliary of the M.S.P.C.A. met at the charming home of Mrs. L. J. Raymond, 16 Hillcrest Parkway, on April 18th, at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Alfred Hildreth, President

conducted the business, and a few items were discussed. Then the meeting was thrown open to Chief of Police Charles Harrold who told of many interesting incidents which he and other officers on the Force had experienced in their work with stray animals in Winchester. He said the police take in more dogs than other animals. He suggested that anyone losing a dog, call the police who will assist in any way possible to find and return it to the owner.

The Chief showed his great kindness with animals, at the same time expressing his appreciation of the fine work Mr. Beyer had previously done, and emphasizing his unusual understanding and love of animals.

Mr. Harrold spoke of the real need of an Animal Shelter in Winchester even though the Angel Memorial Hospital ambulance will come out at any time during the day to pick up ill and stray animals.

The Chief hopes that the Community will be ready to support such a Shelter before long with an able man in charge. The group was very grateful to Mr. Harrold for giving his time to them, in this helpful way.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Raymond served "Ten," which was a delight to the eye as well as to the taste, her very beautiful sandwiches making a decided "hit." Spring flowers in lovely arrangements, gave an added touch of real charm and hospitality to this very delightful and interesting meeting.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS SERVICE CLUB

The April meeting of the Past Noble Grand's Service Club of Victoria Rebekah Lodge was held at the home of Miss Olive Stevenson, Hemingway street, Winchester on Friday evening, April 21, 1950.

The business meeting was presided over by the newly elected President, Miss Olive Stevenson.

The covered dish supper has been postponed until the fall. The "My-Gee" was won by Mrs. Elmer Kipley.

After the meeting delicious refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed by all.

The May meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Alfred Dunley, Maxwell road, Winchester.

CENTENNIAL ART EXHIBIT

The Winchester Art Association has been sponsoring this week in the Library Art Gallery an exhibition of old Winchester paintings, prints, etchings and photographs, in connection with the town's Centennial Celebration.

This exhibition can only be described generally. You could browse around the gallery for an afternoon and still not see all there is to see. By all means do so in the short time that is left. See what the town used to look like. See some of the old time citizens, houses, businesses, establishments and schools. See old Excelsior Hose of Stanton street and its crew who held the running record of hand-pumped apparatus getting to a fire and included such stalwarts as Jim Fitzgerald, "Butcher" O'Connell, Dan Kelley, the Gallahans and "Pat" Craughwell, the latter the only member of the company now alive.

Through the courtesy of Chief James E. Callahan of the Fire Department there are some interesting fire exhibits in the show, including a Black Horse Hose Company helmet, an assistant chief's helmet of 1870, an old fire trumpet of Waldmeyer Hose and a belt and leather fire bucket.

Photos in the show are legion and of absorbing interest. There are topographical and illustrated maps of the town, an interesting photo along Main street between 1857 and 1891, a photo of George Pratt's horse lying dead in the center after being struck by light truck, the town's plumbing crew when he was known as the "Bride" beside the stream, and his shop was located on part of the present postoffice site.

There are many more, including a picture of the late Louis Gaddis, who invented much of the machinery that propelled the United States Navy to prosper, also pictures of old landmarks in Cutler Village and the North End.

Reliques by the late and widely known V. D. W. B. include portraits of Hon. Lewis Parkhurst, early principal of the high school and until his death the town's leading citizen; and of Mrs. Dr. Henry L. Houghton, first leader of the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association.

There are portraits of Charles Pressy, Winchester artist, by Edward A. Buckett; of Col. William P. Winchester for whom the town was named and of Governor John Brooks, the latter in Colonial uniform and loaned by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts through the courtesy of Winchester's Hon. Harris S. Richardson, president of the State Senate.

Among the paintings are "Bridge Over the Abington at Mystic Lake" by J. Foxcroft Cole, "Bacon Meadows and Middlesex Canal" by Charles Pressy, also "Middlesex Canal Toward Waltham" by Mr. Pressy, "Abington River" and "Zachariah Richardson's House" by Gustave Belcham, and "Abington River" and "John Bacon House" by H. A. Pressy.

There are two fine small oils by the late Herman Dudley Murphy, one a night view of fireworks on Manchester Field, seen across Mystic Lake. Another interesting small oil by Pressy shows the old David N. Scillings House.

All the exhibits are not artistic. There is an interesting old hot water bottle and foot-warmer, there is an Indian tomahawk head and fish-spear head dug up from the old Symmes Farm, and there are the glasses worn by Mrs. Asa Locke when she was teacher of the old school in the west side hill district, located at the junction of High and Ridge streets.

This nicely scratches the surface of the show, one of the most comprehensive of its kind seen in Winchester in recent years.

School Show A unique education presentation aimed at furthering pedestrian safety among elementary school children will be shown in the Winchester schools by Miss. Clio Colivas, above, of Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. The show, entitled "Peter and the "Whistlehound," incorporates sound, color cartoons and the illuminated demonstration box pictured above. Showings are scheduled on May 8 at Lincoln and Mystic schools, May 9 at Noonan and Washington schools, May 10 at Parkhurst school and May 12 at Wyman school.

STORE WINDOWS GOOD

When you visit the center, don't forget to look at all of the store windows. Most of them have been attractively decorated for the celebration, and few do not have some old memento of 1850 as applied to Winchester.

Undoubtedly the ladies will be interested in the window of Miss A. S. Egan the milliner. She has a window full of 1850 feminine headgear, some of which must have been top notch in its day. B. F. Tilley company features a window of 1850 lingerie, the opposite window filled with the shoe modern fashions so fashionable today.

Mary Spaulding's Book Shop has most interesting windows with rare old books, pamphlets of the town and many old photographs. Filene's Inc. every window decorated. Large pictures of old Winchester, gone-by styles of the 1850's and other ancient decorations make this store the leader in the Centennial decorations.

The Converse Fruit Market features a large sketch of the old Converse House which occupied the same site in 1830, and Hevey's Drug Store shows old prescriptions dating from the original pharmacy as conducted by Dr. George Brown in 1850.

The Star Office features an ancient bob sled hauled by six oxen, loaned by Elmer D. Fletcher and a flag with thirteen stars over 100 years old and which has been featured in every Winchester parade since 1880. Old pamphlets and the Pictorial History of Winchester are also shown.

The general opinions expressed over the decorations of Winchester stores and public buildings is that never before has the town been so beautifully decorated.

COLLEGE CLUB ANNUAL MEETING

The Winchester College Club is fortunate to have as guest speakers at its Annual Meeting three students from foreign countries who will discuss the subject, "Bridges of Understanding." Time and place for the meeting are Thursday afternoon, May 4, 2:30 P. M. at the home of Mrs. William Davis on Central Green.

The background of the students is interesting and varied. Miss Ingeborg von Richtofen is one of a group of about seventy students sent for a year from Germany to this country as a part of the Re-orientation Program instituted by the American Military Government and now carried on by the State Department. Miss von Richtofen is working in Political Science at Radcliffe. Mr. Walter Beveraggi from Argentina is majoring in Economics at Harvard. Mr. Edward Rosek is also at Harvard studying in the field of Government. He is from Poland and his life since Hitler's invasion in 1939 has been an exciting record of thrilling escapes and splendid military service.

There will be a regular business meeting of the College Club and election of officers.

Mrs. G. K. MacKechnie, Hospitality chairman, and Mrs. Richard Johnson are making arrangements for the Tea after the meeting. A group of Simmons College alumnae will assist. Mrs. Lyle K. Bush, Mrs. Frank Enman, Mrs. George Goody, Mrs. Don S. Greer, Mrs. Waldo Lyon, and Mrs. Murray S. Moore. Mrs. Laughlin Keyes, and Mrs. J. L. Longier, former Presidents of the College Club will join.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

Memorial Window

The window was designed by Tiffany and Company of N. Y. and is composed of three lights. The central one depicts the memorable scene when John Gutenberg, the inventor of movable type, draws from his press a printed sheet, thereby demonstrating to Faust and Schaeffer, who stand beside him, the practicability of his invention. The idea of the artists has evidently been to make this window an epitome of book-making. With this end in view they have commemorated the period before Gutenberg in the panels which form the lower portion of the three lights. They contain representations of three of the earliest forms of books. One is the wax tablet of the Romans, bearing an extract from Cicero's Pro Archias, in praise of literature. The second is the scroll of the Greeks, containing a quotation from Plato's Phaedrus which relates the story of the origin of written characters, while the third is the illuminated missal of the mediaeval scribes, which bears the memorable inscription: "In memory of Joseph Howe

Tyler, born February 11th, 1825, died July 11th, 1892. Happy is the man that findeth wisdom and the man that getteth understanding. — Prov. 1:11, 12. The side lights contain the tree of knowledge and wisdom, from whose branches hang escutcheons bearing the printers' marks of early followers of Gutenberg. On the upper escutcheon in the right hand light is the mark of the celebrated Parisian printer of illuminated missals, Simon Vostre, while the ribbon above carries the well-known quotation from Victor Hugo: "Les Livres sont des amis sûrs et fideles." A ribbon on the lower branches of the tree bears the date, 1457, the year in which the first book was printed which bears both the date of publication and the name of the printer. In the left-hand side light there is shown in a similar manner the device of Christopher Plantin, the founder of the famous Antwerp printing house which continued in business down to our own times. This printer's mark represents a hand issuing from a cloud and holding compasses and with them describing a circle within which are the words: "Labore et Constantia." The meaning of these words Plantin explained in the preface of his Polyglot Bible: the moving point of the compasses signifies labor and the stationary point constancy. This mark was first used in 1557. In the lower part of the same light appears the well-known anchor and dolphin of the celebrated Venetian printer, Aldus Mauntius. Although the printer was in business as early as 1494 it was not till 1502 that he adopted the mark shown in the window, and he used it for the first time upon the title page of "Le Torz Rime di Dante."

The sentences on the ribbon connected with Plantin's mark is taken from Lessing, and may be translated: "Who would call that written which remains unprinted?" With the Aldine mark is a line from Dante's "Paradise," the translation of which is: "For it is not knowledge to have understood a thing without remembering it." The short ribbon on the lower part of this tree bears the date 1894, the year of the erection of the memorial.

Through the upper portion of the participating in Winchester's Centennial Parade on Saturday are being entertained after the parade by the Sons of Italy at their clubhouse on Swanton street, and not by the Knights of Columbus as announced in last week's Star.

Robert K. Hucksins, 264 Highland avenue, has been named to the Third Ivan's List at the University of Massachusetts for the fall term ending in February. This means that Hucksins has maintained a scholastic average of eighty to eighty-five for this period.

Centennial Prayer

Made by Dr. Charles E. Park of the Unitarian Church at Winchester Centennial Religious Service, April 23, 1950, at the First Baptist Church.

Lord, thou knowest neither beginning nor end, and in thee there is no variableness nor shadow of turning. We lift up our hearts unto thee now, because we know that without thee there can be nothing strong and nothing holy. Be mindful of the purpose of this hour, and bless the occasion unto us. A thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

Have patience with us as we indulge our satisfaction in that which is of such importance to us; that one hundred years ago thou didst move our ancestors to build here in this quiet valley their place of earthly habitation; and that thou didst fill them with the resolve to make and maintain their home as beautiful in its order and peace as thine own faultless handiwork of hills and forests and meadows and lakes.

Accept our offering of gratitude and pride for their achievement. Accept our praise and thanksgiving for the record of this century; for happy homes of love and hope; for silent fathers with hearts full of unvoiced prayer; for contented mothers singing at their work; for little children laughing and playing in the security of love; for civic pride and uprightness; for the enjoyment of life and justice and opportunity for sons that have grown up like the trees of righteousness; for daughters that have been as counteresses, polished after the similitude of a palace; and for the valiant spirits that have gone forth to their daily labor, clothed in peace or war, fortified with thy greatest gift, thy Holy Spirit, and consecration to thy holy purpose. Lord, for all these things we heartily praise thee, who hast been both guide and sustainer throughout.

And now, looking forward into the days to come, we implore thy favor, still continued unto us. We seek that thy goodness and thy control which enlighteneth our fathers may guide us safely through the unknown hazards of the future. Remind us, as our best preparation for another century, that except the Lord keep us, we labor in vain that build it; except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

Fill our hearts with the sense of beginning afresh; and give us again all the lofty enthusiasm, all the purity of purpose and motive, all the values of determination, and all the glorious beauty of hope that attend our human beginnings.

And let this beloved town be the habitation of thy Spirit; and may we ever thine home dwellers. We ask it through Christ our Lord. Amen.

INSIDE PAGES BETTER THAN PAGE 1, EDITOR TELLS READERS

Prizes on the inside pages of a weekly are often better than front page stories, in the opinion of J. B. Toft, editor of the Times-Design (N. Y.) Sentinel. In a recent editorial Mr. Toft wrote: "Every week we get a request from some individual or organization to please put this story on the front page where people will see it." This strikes us as being very funny. You see, the average weekly reader covers the whole paper. As a matter of fact, he usually glances casually at the front page, turns to the locals and reads them, and then slowly makes his way through the paper back to the front page.

"You can't bury an item in a weekly, because the reader will search it out wherever it may be. Frankly we have always felt that every sheet in the paper is the front page. It's difficult in a daily where the world news is generally carried on page one. There the reader interest is focused on the front page."

In a county weekly, though, every page carries an array of community articles. Paducahians and Cottle Countians read the Dunlap News, Hickory News, locals, want ads, etc. The front page on a weekly is used for articles and stories of general, but not of local, interest.

Therefore in placing a story, announcement, or article designed to catch the attention of local readers, the inside pages are better than page one.

"It consistently amazes us, how an item on the front page is often missed by the majority of readers, while some little snail sandwiched in on one of the inner pages will always be read. It is better therefore to say, 'Give this story a good spot' rather than 'put it on the front page.'"

Continuing, Dr. Parry said that our forefathers were self-made men who believed in work. By the sweat of their brows they enriched their lands. The founders of our Town of Winchester brought here the philosophy of work or you carved upon a recentivist, a native England the speaker said he saw this slogan everywhere, put up now in a land where the government has promised its people security from the cradle to the grave.

The present-day philosophy of letting the State House and Washington do it will never get us anywhere, said Dr. Parry, who paid tribute to hard work as "strength to the body and peace to the mind," while decrying the currently popular governmental conception of letting those who do work pay for those who won't. The Puritans did not believe in a shortened work week, or day. "Measure not the work until the day is done" was their workday gospel.

Our forefathers, said Dr. Parry, believed in thrift and in humble dependence upon God, knowing full well that the two friends upon whom they could always depend were their Heavenly Father and their own pocketbooks. God, said the preacher, tests men, not by clothing them with security but by throwing them upon their own resources.

One Puritan ancestor had the courage to do without what they did not need. They never spent money until they earned it and they did not expect to reap without first sowing the seed. Today's slogan of "Spend, Spend" found no counter-part in their times. It is not a heritage we have received from the founders of this country.

Finally, Dr. Parry said the Puritans believed in the eternal value of the moral law. That was the steel structure upon which their lives rested. When they left their old-world home they knelt in prayer. When they landed in this country they knelt in prayer again. They feared to do wrong because sin brought punishment from that Great Judge above, whose law is love, but also just.

Today, Dr. Parry found, we are overlooking crime with the excuse that "times are different." This he deplored, stating that neither time nor anything else can make a wrong act right, that Presidential pardons cannot wipe out a wrong act nor should kindness be pleaded as an excuse for overlooking "hollywood infidelity."

In closing Dr. Parry thanked God that there still are descendants of the Puritans who love Truth, Work, Thrift and God. He admonished his audience to shoulder the burden that their forefathers took up when they settled this country and town, taking their "hats off to the past and their coats off to the future."

CENTENNIAL GREETINGS FROM WINCHESTER, ENGLAND

CITY OF WINCHESTER, ENGLAND
The Mayor's Parlour Guildhall, Winchester

6th April, 1950

Dear Mr. Cass,

Thank you very much for your letter dated 27th March.

I was most interested to read of your forthcoming "Centennial Week" and congratulate you all upon this happy celebration in the life of your town, and upon having arranged so full and interesting a program.

We well remember the visit of the then Mayor and Mayoress of this ancient City to Winchester, Mass., as the town's guests upon the occasion of your Tercentenary celebration in October, 1930, and the glowing accounts they brought back of the kindness and hospitality of your townspeople and the beauty of your town. Both they and the Citizens of Winchester, Eng., much appreciated the part they were privileged to play in this historic event.

On behalf of this City I now send your 100th Anniversary Committee and all our friends in Winchester, Mass., warmest greetings and good wishes for the success of your Centennial Week. May I ask you, in turn, to convey these greetings to Mr. Vincent Farnsworth, Chairman, and your Honorable Board of Selectmen. Please tell them how gratified we are that the many happy contacts which have been made between us have extended over so long a period, to our mutual benefit.

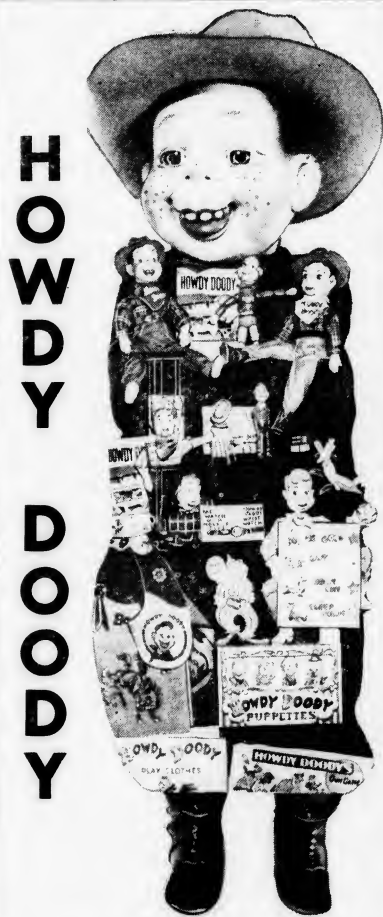

May our two Winchester, and indeed both our freedom loving Countries ever draw closer together in strengthening those bonds of friendship, thus maintaining that heritage of civilization which we hold in common, and giving to the peoples of the World a new chance to live out their lives in peace and happiness.

With renewed greetings from my townspeople to yours, and long live the town of Winchester, Mass., which we think of with affection and pride as our daughter City.

Yours very sincerely,

Cyril A. Taylor, Mayor

DEACON EDWARD CONVERSE — HIS HOUSE AND MILL

EDWARD CONVERSE HOUSE, ERECTED 1640

CLD records of the Converse family place Deacon Edward Converse, who might be called the father of Winchester, as Edward Converse of Wakerly, England, who was born in 1590. He came of a line of the De Coigneries family, prominent in France before the Norman Conquest of England in 1066, one branch fleeing to England at the time of the Huguenots' persecution and another going to England with William the Conqueror and participating in the Battle of Hastings.

Edward Converse, with his wife, Sarah, and their three children, Josiah, James and Mary, came to this country with Governor Winthrop in 1630, settling in Charlestown. In 1631 a grant was made to him for the first ferry from Boston to Charlestown at the site of the present Charles River Bridge, and from 1631 to 1640 he was a Selectman of Charlestown.

He was early admitted to the First Church in Boston, gathered in Charlestown, and from this church he and others were dismissed in October, 1632, to be embodied in the First Church of Charlestown, November 2, 1632.

Edward Converse's name stood first among seven commissioners appointed by the Church in Charlestown to effect the settlement of Woburn. In 1640 he built the first house in what was then known as the South Village (Winchester), and after assisting in the founding of the new Township of Woburn, became Selectman in 1644 and continued in this office until his death, August 10, 1663. He was one of the founders of the church in Woburn and one of the first two deacons, continuing in this capacity also until his death.

Deacon Converse's house was "at the mill, called by his name in the South Village". Roughly it was located on land between the present Hexey Block and the Mill Pond, well back from what is now Main street. The present Converse Place was a drive winding around to the stable at the rear of the dwelling.

The Converse Mill was the first "corrine mill" in Winchester and the town's first business. It was located across the street and to the south of Deacon Converse's house on a site later occupied by the Whitney Machine Shop which stood for many years at the corner of what is now Waterfield road, the Parkway and Main street.

Deacon Converse was from his arrival in Massachusetts an influential man and a leader in the extension of good government. Besides being Selectman and Deacon of the Church in Woburn, he represented the town in the General Court and was for many years one of the three commissioners "for ending small causes", in other words a trial justice. In 1662 he was arrested for refusing to promulgate the King's letter, asserting the sovereign's supreme authority over the colonies and curtailing the liberties which the early settlers had enjoyed unmolested.

Deacon Converse denounced the letter and was summonsed before the General Court in 1663, at which time he was acquitted by delegates fully sympathizing with his views, but lacking the courage to express them.

The Deacon's descendants dwelled for many years in the vicinity of his house and mill, among them Abijah Thompson, a descendant of Mary, daughter of Edward and Sarah Converse, who married Simon Thompson in 1643 and who later was in possession of the original land where Edward's house stood, near the old mill site, where the first bridge was built and near where the famous Converse Elm stood until 1866.

The highway from Woburn to Mistick Bridge (Medford) passed through the present center of the Town of Winchester between Deacon Converse's house and mill and over the old bridge substantially in the site of the present cement Converse Bridge. When built this first bridge was known as "Could Bridge", probably because it was built in the winter. Below the bridge was a spot known as "The King's Ford".

There is a report of the layout of this street from Woburn to Medford in 1660, but it is believed to have existed from the erecting of the first house upon it in 1640, when it was known in part as the highway from "Woburn meeting-house to Edward Converse's Mill". This way, then practically a forest path with bounds of marked trees at either side or in the middle, is our present Main street.

PARADE POSTPONEMENT

No Definite Statement Made By Committee

As the Star went to press the Centennial Committee had arrived at no definite decision about postponing the big Centennial Parade tomorrow afternoon in the event of bad weather.

Unofficially the Star has heard that if it rains, the parade will be held on Sunday, but hasten to make clear that this is not an official statement from the committee. If the weather is unsuitable, automobile couriers will go about town Saturday announcing the new parade time and every one will have to watch for them!

PARADE ROUTE

Church street at Wedgemere avenue, to Main street, North to Swanton street, to Washington street, thence through Main street and Bacon street to Ginn Field.

PLANES FOR THE PARADE

Weather permitting a squadron of Navy planes will fly over the Centennial Parade Saturday afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock, led by a Winchester boy, Lt. Conrad Larson of Fells road.

CLOSING

SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Many of the town's stores and places of business are closing Saturday, either all day, or during the afternoon when the Centennial Parade takes place, commencing at 2 o'clock.

The following markets and food shops have indicated that they will close at 2 p. m. Saturday: First National Market, Economy Market, Colonial Market, Richardson's Market, Ames Store, Converse Market, Winchester Fruit Market, Ward's Market, Seller's Market, Winchester Food Mart, First National Market, Washington street, Lynch's Market, Randy's Food Store, Charles W. Meek's Market, Rendon's Creamery and Klein's Market.

MUSICAL INTERLUDE

Repeated requests for a repeat performance has prompted the Sherman M. Dodge Men's Club of the Crawford Memorial Church to feature the Craftsmen Quartet at the Musical Interlude. It is sponsored Wednesday evening, May 3, at the Wyman School Hall to benefit the privileged Winchester children to summer camp. Ann Reid, comedienne, will also appear.

NATIONAL BANK WINS TOWN BONDS BID

The Winchester National Bank was low bidder for the $300,000 worth of town notes issued in anticipation of revenue from taxes. Bids were opened April 27 at the office of the Town Treasurer.

In announcing that the notes had been awarded to the National Bank with a bid of .55, plus $2.00, Town Treasurer E. Abbott Bradlee expressed himself as pleased that the business is to go to a town bank, in accordance with his avowed policy of doing all town business possible with local institutions.

Leslie J. Scott, President of the Winchester National, was also gratified that his firm is to have the opportunity to serve the town in this capacity.

Besides the low bid there were bids from other banks as follows: Winchester Trust Company, .61, plus $1.00.

Merchant's National Bank of Boston, .68.

Rockland - Atlas National Bank of Boston, .695.

National Shawmut Bank of Boston, .699.

Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, .707.

Second National Bank of Boston, .729.

TOWN OF WINCHESTER 1850 — 1950

It is an equal pleasure for us to celebrate Winchester's 100th Anniversary.

There have been many changes and improvements in our fine town during the past 100 years but it has always maintained its friendly atmosphere.

It is a great town in which to live and bring up a family. It is a great town in which to do business.

"May Winchester grow, prosper and continue to be the fine residential community it has always been."

★ We hope to merit your continued business ★

We are grateful for your patronage during these years which have allowed us to steadily increase and improve our facilities until today we have complete modern equipment and ample floor space to properly service your car.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

It was gratifying to see the large attendance at our nineteenth annual meeting held on Tuesday, April 25th. President Mrs. Chester J. Powers welcomed the members and introduced our guests for the day, Reverend Thomas H. Kennedy, Spiritual Director of the Guild of the Infant Saviour and Mrs. John R. Povich, President of the Boston Guild. The annual report was then read by Recording Secretary, Mrs. William J. Murray, followed by the reading of the Nominating Committee, Mrs. Martin P. Higgins and the slate of new officers by the chairman of the Nominating Committee, Mrs. Michael H. Hinton. In her annual report Mrs. Murray included some very nice remarks about the work of each individual chairman and, as she so modestly omitted mention of her own work, we know we speak for every member of the Guild when we say she is to be especially commended for the excellent manner in which she has handled her own difficult job for the past two years.

Following the business meeting Father Kennedy gave a brief and informative talk on the wonderful work the Guild has accomplished in the past forty-four years. He traced the growth of the Guild from its founding on October 5th, 1906, when a group of thirty-five women organized to supply social service to needy mothers and infants. From that humble beginning, the Guild spread so rapidly that it's first objective of active social service by individual members had to be abandoned in favor of group work to aid a central social agency, the Catholic Charitable Bureau, in the care of these destitute women and children.

Father Kennedy thanked the members on behalf of himself and Archbishop Richard J. Cushing for their cooperation and help through the years and urged each one to redouble her efforts for this worthwhile charity in the face of present day needs.

Mrs. Powers then introduced the members of the new Executive Board, each of whom was presented with a lovely corsage, and ending her official duties turned the gavel over to our new president, Mrs. John Lennon, who spoke briefly on her aims and hopes for the Guild in the year to come. Mrs. Chester J. Powers and Mrs. John R. Povich pointed for afternoon tea and members of the Board served as hostesses for the day. And now, here they are, the new

TO EXHIBIT STAMP ART

Thursday and Friday, May 4 and 5th, M. E. Emma L. Boardman will be at Penn the Post-its, Boston, to give a public demonstration of her original stamp art. Miss Boardman is a student of the Studio Guild, and has been a member of the club since 1947. Her water colors painting with stamps cut to represent all kinds of flowers, and figures, some floral wreaths are 11 inches and 10 inches in size.

These stamps are not only used to make interesting designs for stationery cards, but also for book covers, etc. Miss Boardman has demonstrated her art at the local Library Stores and Mount Main exchange at Boston City Hall.

DONAHUE — BALME

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at the National Shrine of St. Jean de Baptiste at West 76th and Lexington avenues in New York City on Saturday morning, April 22, when Miss Joan Marie Balme, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Balme of 1822 Anthony avenue, Bronx, N. Y., and Neponset, L. I., became the bride of George Francis Donahue of Montclair, N. J., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Donahue of 15 Mystic avenue, Rev. Fr. Charles A. Donahue of St. Theresa's Church in West Roxbury, uncle of the bridegroom, officiated at the 11 o'clock marriage and was also co-officiant of the nuptial mass which followed. Forty-two bouquets of gladioli and white lilies decorated the huge altar which was flanked at either side with palms.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Balme wore a period gown of 1920's in fashion with a fitted bodice and scalloped hemline with an illusion neckline and Ponte de Venise lace showing under the drapes. The long tight sleeves were pointed at the wrists and trimmed with matching lace, and the bouffant skirt had scalloped paniers and extended into a long scalloped train. Complete hair-do came in the 1920's was a full length veil, also of Ponte de Venise lace, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Donahue, Paul Balme of New York City was her sister's honor attendant, wearing white embroidered organically over pale blue, with a large long sach and wide brimmed hat of pale blue horsehair. The bouquet combined pink roses and blue delphinium, and the bridesmaids, who were dressed like the honor attendant, carried the same flowers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Pauline T. Donahue of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Joan Sullivan of Chestnut Hill, Miss Lorraine Schindler of Erie, Pa., Mrs. John F. McHern of Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., and Miss Therese Sudrian of New York City.

Frederick J. Donahue, Jr., of San Francisco, Cal., was best man for his brother, and two more brothers of the bridegroom, Robert C. Donahue and Richard A. Donahue, both of Winchester, ushered with Robert Elwell of Newton, Hugh Denzler of New York City, Homer Balbridge, Jr., of New Haven, Conn., Richard Valentine of East Orange, N. J., John Smith of Cambarie, N. Y., and John Calhoun of Mill Rock, N. Y. Messrs. Elwell, Denzler, Balbridge, Smith and Calhoun were caddesses of the bridegroom at Yale.

A reception was held after the service at the roof garden of the St. Regis Hotel in New York. The receiving line with the bride and bridegroom were their parents, Father Donahue and members of the bridal party. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Balme wore rose-hedge lace under a mink wrap with pale yellow orchids. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Donahue, was seated in a red sapphire lace and chiffon and carried a mink cape. She designed her own hat of fuchsia straw and she wore a matching corsage.

After a wedding journey by plane for a honeymoon at the Coral Beach Club in Bermuda Mr. Donahue and his bride will live at 8 Old Pine Street, Montclair, Long Island, N. Y., where they will be at home after May 8.

The bride is a graduate of Marymount College, Tarrytown, N. Y., in the class of 1947.

Mr. Donahue, who is divisional chief engineer for the American Agricultural Chemical Company of New York, attended Harvard and graduated from the Sheffield School of Engineering at Yale University in the class of 1946. He was a member of Setai and Key, St. Elmo and the Towel Knitting Society at Yale and was co-captain of the varsity hockey team in the season of 1945-46, also playing on the tennis team. In 1948 he was a member of the United States Olympic Hockey Team and subsequently played amateur hockey with the New York Hawks.

BIG INNING GAVE READING 9-4 WIN

One big inning in which they scored six runs enabled Reading to defeat Winchester High 9 to 4 at Reading last Saturday afternoon. The cold, blustery weather reduced hitting to a minimum and each team collected only five hits, with none of the singles going for extra bases. The weather also adversely affected the pitching as the local twirlers gave up eleven bases on balls while the Reading twirlers granted seven to the Red and Black.

Winchester had a 2 to 1 lead going into the last half of the fourth inning and Symmes had allowed only one hit over the first three innings. Symmes pulled a muscle in his thigh in the fourth, however, which caused him to lose his control as he passed the first three batters. Charlie Murphy had to enter the game without sufficient warm-ups and gave up a base on balls and three hits for six runs. Murphy turned in a very creditable performance over the last four innings as he allowed only one hit, issued two bases on balls, and struck out five over that stretch.

The damage had been done, however, as the Red and Black could not fathom the southpaw slants of Marchant who had relieved Gardner in the fourth inning for Reading. Marchant came in with the bases full, one out, two Winchester runs already across, and effectively stopped the rally by striking out the next two batters. The locals filled the bases again in the fifth inning with nobody out but could manufacture only one run from that promising situation.

WINCHESTER WARRIORS START SUNDAY

Winchester Warriors' baseball team, finalists last year in the playoff for the Paul Revere League Championship, are holding a pre-season practice session Sunday afternoon at Leonard Field commencing at 2 o'clock. All candidates for the team are invited to attend this session.

Manager Lew Warky has announced that the Warriors will again play in the Paul Revere League, the roster of which includes the Sudbury A. C., Arlington Holmes, Lincoln Melvins, last year's champions, Weymouth, Arlington and Lexington Town Teams and the Winchester Warriors.

From last year's team there are available to start this season Moabon and Freddie Patterson, catchers; Shack, Lancelotta, Bobby Farrell and Tompkins, pitchers; Donaghey, Murphy, and Plummer, infielders; and Sam Bellino, Tim Connors and Sam Prosserman, outfielders. Add to this Steve Sals, Tibaldo, infielder, and after school players June Jimmy Olivier, infielder, and Leo Williams, outfielder, and a good nucleus is available for a successful season. In early practice sessions Jake Chisholm, a pitcher, has shown to advantage.

Two ring horse leaf notebooks, with Winchester High School printed on each, are available at the Stationery, Star Office Building, 3 Church street.

MORE ABOUT THE ANIMAL SHOW

The Love Animal Show, being held for the benefit of The Children's Museum in Jackson Plain, will be something that the children (and the adults) won't want to miss. This unusual Show will be held in the Town Hall on the afternoon of Saturday, May 6, from two until five o'clock.

A very educational note is struck for the audience will be given the opportunity of handling and petting the various harmless animals—a rare and exciting experience for most. The animals will be exhibited as short explanatory talks are given, and then will be taken out for handling under expert supervision.

The list of animals includes, among many others, lizards, rattlesnakes, copperheads, an opossum with young in her pouch, a muskrat, Australian parakeet, a racoon, and skunks.

In charge of this remarkable exhibition will be Mr. Warren Prince of Medford. Mr. Prince lived in Costa Rica, Central America, until 1937. At present he is in his second year of study at Tufts College. During the summer of 1949 he served as director of one of the Hayden Camp Tours, sponsored by the Boston Museum of Science.

Mr. Prince will be in the afternoon and evening, April 28, at the Open House in the Tufts Biological Laboratory, to which the public is invited. The children of Winchester, as he is able to display an unusual animal they might have. A complete exhibit with Mr. A. K. Vorpanian, WI 6-2557.

WINCHESTER BOY STAGED CONSERVATORY OPERA

Herbert Clement of Park avenue, well known Winchester boy studying at the New England Conservatory of Music, was stage director for a most commendable performance by a group of Conservatory music students under the title of the "Little Opera" at the Peabody House in Boston last Friday evening.

A capacity house thoroughly enjoyed the program, for which the opening and closing numbers were scenes from the "Marriage of Figaro" and the "Masked Ball." In addition to his stage direction Mr. Clement appeared before the curtain in costume and very deftly handled the scene to be enacted on the stage. The attractive oil painting which was a prop for one of the sets was also his work.

It is surprising to find how many people believe that Winchester is observing this week the 100th anniversary of the settling of the town, and that previous to 1850 Winchester was uninhabited except by Indians and wild beasts. Such is of course not the case, the town having observed the 300th anniversary of its settling in 1650. At the time the town was set apart from Woburn and incorporated as Winchester in 1850 it was a well established village. Originally Winchester was a part of the territory granted to Charles-town by the General Court in 1633. In 1638 what is now Winchester was a wild tract of land situated along the Abenaki River to the north of Mystic Pond, named Waterfield because of the abundance of water in the wet places at that time it was surveyed and granted to Charles-town inhabitants as a village, hence the name in 1640 of "Charles-town Village," the third name by which Winchester was known. There were houses in what is now Winchester prior to 1640, and in that year Deacon Edward Greville built his home and mill near the present Converse Place. He and others worked to establish the place apart from Charles-town and in 1642 the General Court authorized naming Charles-town Village Woburn. Winchester at that time was known as South Woburn or South Village. The community continued to grow and prosper. With the running of the Boston and Lowell Railroad through the town in 1825 the town grew rapidly with the result that the inhabitants of South Woburn successfully petitioned the General Court in 1840 to be set aside from the parent town and be incorporated as the Town of Winchester. It is this 100th anniversary of the town's incorporation that Winchester is observing this week, not the settling of the town. There were settlers in Winchester as early as 1638, perhaps before that time, but we do not know for certain.

And when your doctor writes a prescription for the young one, bring it to us for the very best of prescription medicine. We have a full assortment of baby's needs and we have the knowledge and experience to help you as well as the equipment and skill to prepare a medicine that is exactly what your baby needs.

television arranged all sorts of visits, etc., and last but not least the Girl Scouts who were here. Those contacts were all a very real part of our trip and really made it possible.
 We certainly did find it indeed an honor to be the first to use the wonderful camp you have so recently acquired and we certainly wish you all every possible success in your new venture which will certainly be a great help to future "Scouting".

I hope that the fact that the Winchester Senior Scouts have now visited us in Montreal and we returned the visit will not be the end of our contact but instead a beginning of more exchanges as the years go by.

From all of us to all of you may we humbly say a big "Thank you and good scouting to you all!"

FRANK H. MERRILL

Frank H. Merrill, president and director of the Andrews Paper Company of Boston and a former resident of Winchester, died Friday night, April 21, at his summer home at Strawberry Hill Lane, Craigville, Hyannis.

Mr. Merrill was born in Melrose 24 years ago, the son of Calvin and Mary (Spencer) Merrill. He joined the Andrews firm 52 years ago and was a leader in the New England wrapping paper distributors' field.

Mr. Merrill lived for some years in Winchester, first on Eaton street and later at 10 Oxford street. He had been living since leaving Winchester on Gloucester street in Boston. Active in Masonic circles and Alerpo Temple, in Boston, Mr. Merrill was a past officer and director of the New England Paper Manufacturers Association and the Boston Paper Trade Association.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Waterman Chapel in Boston.

LEAVES DAUGHTER HERE

The late William H. Linn, who passed away suddenly last Thursday at his home in Chelsea, was the father of Mrs. James F. Gaffney of New Bedford.

He was born in Cambridge, and for more than sixty years was employed as an artist-lithographer by the Linn Paper Company. He survived by his widow, the former Mary J. Phelan, who holds the Distinguished Service Medal, for her heroic work during World War I, two sons, William, Jr., and George, and three daughters, Mrs. Lillian Sinclair of Mr. Vernon, N. Y., Mrs. Marion Gaffney of Winchester and Mrs. Clement Deasy of Wintrop and 6 grandchildren and 1 great grandchild.

McLELLAN — CONNOLLY

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Jeannette Marie Connolly, daughter of Mr. Michael Connolly of 526 Third street, Boston, to Charles William McLellan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. McLellan of 41 Water street, at the Gate of Heaven Church in South Boston on Sunday afternoon, April 23.

The three o'clock ceremony was followed by a reception at the Gate of Heaven Hall, and at its conclusion Mr. McLellan and his bride left to spend their honeymoon in New York.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Browning, 7 Appalarach road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Jean, to Mr. Richard King, son of Mr. and Mrs. William King of River-side, Illinois.

Miss Browning will graduate from Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, in June.

Mr. King served with the Air Corps during the war. He graduated from Cornell College and has a Masters Degree from Iowa University.

ALFRED E. WELLINGTON

Alfred E. Wellington, former president of the Columbia Trust Co., who died at his home in East Boston last Friday was the brother of Mrs. Harrison F. Lyman.

In addition to his business interests Mr. Wellington was active in a large number of civic and social organizations, including the Masonic Fraternity, Boston Chamber of Commerce and numerous charities and clubs. He was one of the charter members of the Boston City Club.

Funeral services were held at the Story Chapel, Mr. A. Damon Monday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. Henry B. Brown, dean emeritus of the Episcopal Theological School, assisted by Rev. Philip Ambrose, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church in East Boston.

SURGICAL DRESSING WORKERS NEEDED

Down through the years loyal and generous groups of workers have come to the Red Cross rooms weekly and week out to make the surgical needs of Bedford Hospital. The various chapters that help Bedford hospital have been asked to continue to supply the hospital with these dressings.

The first meeting on Tuesdays in the Home Nursing room is the Red Cross, located on the lower floor of the Town Hall, in the afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. If you have some time at home or work, we would be more than grateful for your service to this branch of Red Cross help to veterans' hospitals.

MISS MURDOCK, MR. ABBOTT ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Murdock of Joliet, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marion H. Murdock, to David Abbott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Abbott of Everett road.

Mr. Abbott was graduated from the Herman School, and from Northampton University in the class of 1948.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

On Wednesday, April 12, the Winchester Home and Garden Club met at the Library with Mrs. Leroy F. Marek speaking on "Shrubs and their care." She stressed the advantage of shrubs and trees that are attractive at all seasons, such as the dogwood with symmetrical branches, beautiful blossoms and leaves, and lovely berries, which attract the birds. She said the importance of having the plantings suitable in size and outline for the location was another factor; as well as selecting shrubs hardy in this climate.

The President, Mrs. Frank J. Robinson, announced that Garden Week Pilgrimages in Massachusetts begin May 21 and that special rates will be available, if tickets are bought early.

The next meeting will be May 17, and will be a pilgrimage to the "Garden in the Woods."

On May 21 the White Elephant Auction for philanthropies will be held at the home of Mrs. Kirkwood, with a snack bar at noon.

Tuesday, April 18, the Garden Federation held their Spring Meeting in the Auditorium at the Walden Field Station, and about 100 members of the Winchester Home and Garden Club (including Mrs. Austin H. Bunker, the Federation Treasurer) attended. Prof. Albert Brasch of Smith College led a most interesting and witty talk on "Hybridization" with many exhibits and pictures. After a long lunch, the members toured the greenhouses and saw the rock garden, and then returned to see many beautiful colored slides of "Homes and Gardens of Virginia" by Harris Reynolds, who taken them last year during Garden Week.

VISITOR FROM ENGLAND

Mrs. Madeline Mellon Oldham, Lancashire, England, arrived in New York City on Friday, April 21, 1950 on the Queen Mary for a visit to her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. Norman Noonan of 4 Woodside road. Mrs. Mellon is on her first visit to the United States and was fortunate enough to be on the Queen Mary when she made the first post-war record crossing last week.

Mr. Noonan is a member of the staff of P. T. Foley and Company, real estate and insurance brokers, at 2 Mt. Vernon street, and is chairman of the Social Night Committee of Winchester Post, No. 97, the American Legion. He is also secretary to the Board of Retirement for the Town of Winchester.

Mrs. Noonan is employed in the office of the Winchester Nash Agency on Shore road, and is also a veteran of World War II, having served in the women's Auxiliary Air Force of the Royal Air Force for five years. Only last week Mrs. Noonan received two medals from the English Government for her services during the war.

COMPLETES HELICOPTER TRAINING

Lt. Conrad S. Larson of 22 Fells road, veteran of World War II and currently operations officer at the Squantum Naval Air Station, has recently completed the helicopter training to which he was assigned by the Naval authorities.

For 11 weeks he underwent training at the Air Force School in Waco, Texas, afterward completing a month's training at the Navy Helicopter School in Lakehurst, N. J. He has recently been promoted to a senior grade lieutenant in the Navy Air Corps.

WINCHESTER - TO - WINCHESTER TRANS OCEANIC BROADCAST

Through the medium of the World Wide Broadcasting Foundation the Winchester Rotary is sponsoring a Centennial program of greetings from Winchester in Massachusetts to Winchester, England. The whole thing came about this way.

Not long ago the Winchester Rotary enjoyed a talk by Wyman Holmes, Boston manager of the World Wide Broadcasting Foundation, which is the only non-profit, non-Government short wave broadcasting organization in America. "World Wide" broadcasts to 58 countries on two regular transmissions daily, at the present time broadcasting from 3 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon to Europe, and from 6 to 7 o'clock in the evening, to South America, the Caribbean area and to ships.

The broadcast in which the Winchester Rotary is participating is one of the Foundation's series of town-to-town greetings from communities in the United States to their counterparts in Europe, William S. Mitchell, Jr., of Melrose, who is in charge of South American transmission for the Foundation, is director of the series, and as soon as it was learned that Winchester is observing its Centennial this year, the Foundation suggested the possibility of a program of greetings from Winchester, Massachusetts, to Winchester, England.

Mr. Mitchell discussed the possibility with James F. Dwinell, Jr., then chairman of the Board of Selection, and the latter suggested that the local Rotary take over the broadcast, a precedent having been set in this direction by a Worcester, Massachusetts, broadcast to Worcester, England, on Christmas Day under Worcester Rotary auspices.

The Winchester Rotary, with its usual civic spirit, was pleased to cooperate and appointed a committee, comprising Donald Heath, as chairman; Nicholas Fitzgerald and Ernest Dade to handle arrangements for the local club.

Parts of the Centennial week celebration will be recorded and at a date to be announced will be broadcast over short wave to Winchester, England, together with interesting and up-to-date civic information about the town.

World Wide Foundation has for its purpose the promotion of better relations between the peoples of this country and those abroad by presenting factual information about the American communities from which the broadcasts originate.

DAN'L WEBSTER WAS COMING TO TOWN

(The following items are put together from a Boston newspaper of April 23-30, 1850—the Daily Evening Transcript, "published by Dutton & Wentworth Proprietors, Boston, Printers to the State," viewed in the Old Newspaper room of the Boston Public Library)

Millard Fillmore was President. The Secretary of State was Dan'l Webster and he was coming to Boston "in the day train from New York." Transcript said on the front page that "notwithstanding the quantity of abuse poured out on Mr. Webster, we suspect he can render good reasoning for his constitutional opinions in respect to the agitating questions before the country."

The Transcript was four pages, daily except Sunday. It carried no pictures; no display ads. In style, the news and editorials were identical except that the editorials attacked the enemies of the editor with more viciousness and with more Latin phrases interspersed.

The front page of 100 years ago today carried the doings of the Massachusetts Legislature; a list of the salaries of city and county officials (Mayor, $2500; City Solicitor, same) and the "melancholy information" that five officers and 11 of the crew of the Steamer Ohio had died of yellow fever on her voyage from Rio to Boston.

A Life of Jenny Lind was the best-seller then... Meeting of the Handel & Haydn Society announced... an elephant's tusk was reported dug up at the depth of 14 feet in Cincinnati... a petition was reported being circulated in the East to ask Congress to permit import of Canadian planks to build plank-roads... a Mrs. Elizabeth Woerz died in Philadelphia, aged 111; youngest child, 66... "the junior class of Bowdoin College have got into trouble with the faculty and ten have been suspended"... Maiden reported as growing fast and "in every way a pleasant and healthful place"... following item reproduced in entirety: "No tidings whatsoever have been heard in respect to Mr. Moore, and as he now has been missing two weeks, the probabilities are that he never will be heard from again..."

Advertisements all were similar in form to today's Classifieds... Among the offerings were nail nippers, French stationery, dry preserved ginger, gentlemen's costumes, elegant toilet requisites, long cashmere shawls, rich embroideries, laces, ladies' gaiter boots, patented rack-and-pinion dining tables, upright and ventilated refrigerators, Buffalo combs, fine Geneva watches, parasols, compound fluid extract of sarsaparilla and dandelion, oak tooth wash invented by a leading surgeon dentist, and Little's Boston Steam Candy Syrups and Sugar Plums... a respectable lady sought situation in home of gentleman with two or three small children...

Editorially, the Transcript was blasting the U. S. Senate for the conduct of one Senator who pulled a gun on another... "we are a cruel people," it was commented, with observations about robbery, murder and how the human system reacts to being hung from the neck until dead...

Some folks seem to prefer "every century but this and every country but their own"
... We like it Here — and Now!

And We Salute Winchester on its One Hundredth Anniversary

SENIOR FORUM WASHINGTON TRIP A SUCCESS

During the school vacation a group of 31 members of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church and Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Tarr, had a highly successful and memorable trip to Philadelphia, Washington and New York.

Franklin Institute in Philadelphia is normally closed on Mondays, but opened its doors as a special favor to the Forum group which had come so far. The group was especially grateful to the Institute for the special Planetarium demonstration and lecture which was intensely interesting. A representative of the Chamber of Commerce greeted the group and gave each member an envelope of literature and postcards of Philadelphia. In the evening the Forumites visited the Academy of Music to see and hear Spike Jones and his orchestra.

On Tuesday the group made a sightseeing trip around Washington. They saw President Truman going by on his way to the opening bases ball game), then to Arlington National Cemetery, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon. The evening was spent in the Congressional Library.

The group was pleased with the interview they had with Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine in her private office. Congressman Christian Herter was very kind to receive and speak to the young people in his office. Other highlights on Wednesday was the visit to see the Supreme Court in action and a tour of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. In the evening twenty-five of the young people went to see the theatricals given between Philadelphia and Washington, and the others went swimming and to the movies.

The travelers spent Thursday at the Capitol. Here Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers served the group a "Calvin Coolidge breakfast" in the private dining room of the House Speaker, Samuel Rayburn of Texas, after which she conducted the group through Speaker Rayburn's office, on to the floor of the House, and allowed each young person to sit in the Speaker's chair. The Capitol was then inspected until noon. At that time both houses of Congress were visited while in session. Most of Thursday afternoon was spent at the Smithsonian Institute.

Late Thursday the group was invited into the private Executive Conference Room of the Secretary of Agriculture, the first time any visitors group had been allowed there. Mr. Charles F. Brannan addressed the group, explaining the work of the Department of Agriculture.

Immediately following this meeting the visitors visited the State Department where they were addressed by Mr. Donald C. Blaisdell, Deputy of the State Department on our relationship with the United Nations. After a very informative statement of the work of the department, Mr. Blaisdell answered many questions about our foreign policy.

The group also met several lobbyists, visited a Congressional Committee Hearing investigating lobbying, met in the office of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, sitting in the seats of the Committee members at their Conference table, and listened to Dr. Theodor V. Kilham, Staff Associate of the Committee, Lincoln Memorial, Washington Cathedral and many other places of interest were visited.

In New York, on Friday night, a very entertaining time was enjoyed at the Radio City Music Hall with its annual Easter Show and the precision dancing of the Rockettes.

On Saturday the Empire State Building was visited, followed by the long trip to Winchester, including the highly successful trip.

Those making the trip are united in expressing their appreciation to Dr. Norman Pudeford and Captain Richard Rush for their helpful suggestions as the trip was planned, and particularly to Mr. Chester Smith, who was most helpful on the trip in arranging the meetings with the important people the group was privileged to meet. Mr. Smith had the dates made ahead of time and helped arrange the schedule and taxi service so that appointments could be kept on time.

The members of Forum were highly commended by officials of the Y. M. C. A. of Philadelphia and Washington and also by Mr. Johnson, driver of the Gray Line bus, as being the friendliest and best behaved group they have served. Mr. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Tarr also commended the group for being very cooperative.

It is hoped that the trip will never be forgotten, and the total cost for each individual was only $58.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB TO SING ANNIVERSARY CONCERT SATURDAY, MAY 6TH IN HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

The Mystic Glee Club congratulates the Town of Winchester on the 100th Anniversary of its founding. It is quite fitting that, in this year of anniversaries, a civic musical group within the town should celebrate its 10th Anniversary. Supporters and friends of the Mystic Glee Club will enjoy the culminating concert in the High School Auditorium at 8:15 P. M.

Following the concert, active and past singing members and their guests will hold a reception and dance at the Winchester Boat Club.

The popularity of these annual spring concerts is evidenced by the fact that the hall is already completely sold out.

The group will be under the direction of the talented Keith Snyder, of Reading, Professor of Music and Conducting at Boston University College of Music. Mr. Snyder is in his second full year as the Club's Conductor.

Mary Louise Middleton will be appearing as the Club's accompanist for her eighth consecutive year.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

One hundred years ago, the Girl Scouts of America had not been founded. . . though it was an ideal in many a woman's mind.

Eventually, through meeting and knowing Sir Baden-Powell, our own Juliette Low returned to the United States to plan for such an organization. Her friend and early supporter was none other than Mrs. James Storrow of Boston, so Massachusetts was one of the first states to follow the lead of that first little group in Savannah, Georgia.

Now, we nearly 700 strong, in Winchester, are helping to celebrate the town's Centennial Anniversary. The Winchester Council of Girl Scouts wishes many more anniversaries to the town. We hope too that the Girl Scouts may continue to be of service in all ways - including developing good citizens, and useful - and that we may continue to grow as does the town!

Attention All Scouts and Brownies and Leaders

All Brownies will meet (in complete uniform) on the hill of the Skiffing estate across from the Town Hall, between 1:30 and 2:00 p. m., before the Square is closed to traffic. Leaders and or adults are expected to be with each Brownie troop. Parents may claim children after the Parade.

All Intermediate Scouts, as well as Senior Scouts, are to meet in front of Wyman School by 1:30 p. m. All who expect to march must be in complete uniform and have their permission slips to hand to Mrs. Metcalf or Mrs. McElroy. No slip, no march! The Scouts of the town will review the Parade at Wyman until their turn to fall in line, thus insuring them of the chance to see all that goes before them, thanks to the Centennial Committee.

The following girls who are to be on the float will report at Central street by one o'clock. . . Brownies: Susan Goodwin of Park Lane School, Irene Wain of Lincoln School. Intermediates: Suzanne Goodwin of Mystic School, and Mary Ann Gidding of Wyman School. These girls were at the time of going to press the top salesmen in the recent Cookie Sale! (Not all the schools were named in writing in the "Star".) You one: Wang, Scott, Martine, Tina, Blazer and one Hospital Aide should report to the Girl Scout float on Central street at one o'clock. See you at the Parade, girls!

There were 80 representatives from surrounding towns at the Sectional meeting held at the Girl Scout Cabin Monday.

The Day Camp Staff will meet at the Cabin May 2nd at 10:00. Any leaders interested in helping out will be welcome.

On Wednesday, May 3rd, the Leaders Club will hold its monthly meeting. . . Will you be there?

WINCHESTER LODGE NO. 1580 NEWS

The Cabaret Dance which was held on Saturday, April 22 in Waterfield Hall was a success according to its Chairman Richard Penna. Plans are being formed to have another one in a very short time.

The plans for the Lodge's participation in the Centennial parade are now completed. The members are requested to be at the clubhouse not later than 1:00 p. m. where they will be given instructions etc. in regards to their position in the parade. The clubhouse will be open house from the time the parade ends until 8:00 p. m. Every member of the lodge is expected to be in the marching unit of the lodge.

There will be a joint installation of the Ladies' and Men's Lodges on May 21st. The ceremony will be on the same pattern as in the past. Cosimo Simonetta was elected Chairman of this committee and Hilda Violante, Secretary. More about the plans of this committee later.

The Building program of the Lodge has been activated again, so it looks like things are going to look up in regards to our new building. Making pledges to the Building Fund will give it impetus. So - let's go boys.

Charlie "Sarto" Walsh, football and baseball star at Winchester high back in 1944, played right field for Harvard and got himself a hit as the Crimson edged Holy Cross at Cambridge last Saturday, 5-4. Walsh caught for the freshman a year ago at Cambridge, but was edged for varsity backstop by the veteran, Jerry Crosby.

PRICE SEVEN CENTS

DINICOLA — TILAUO

Gowned in white lace and ice blue satin with a bridal veil and carrying calla lilies, Miss Josephine Frances Tilauo, daughter of Mrs. Lena Tilauo of 52 Swanton street, was married at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, April 30, at St. Mary's Church to Michael Paul DiNicola, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert DiNicola of 7 Foster place, Cambridge. St. Mary's pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Medford Women's Club. Albert Gentle played the bridal music.

Miss Tilauo was given in marriage by her brother, Albert Tilauo of Winchester, and attended by her sister, Mrs. Mary Moriandi of Woburn, as matron of honor. Miss Grace Jacobellis of Winchester and two sisters of the bridegroom, Miss Mary and Miss Theresa DiNicola of Cambridge, were bridesmaids.

The matron of honor was gowned in pale green lace with matching hat and carried lavender gardenias. The bridesmaids wore lavender lace dresses with matching hats and carried yellow roses.

John DiNicola of Cambridge was his brother's best man and the ushers were Samuel Tilauo of Winchester, brother of the bride, Donald Miller and Jack Curro, both of Cambridge.

Mr. and Mrs. DiNicola went to Florida for their wedding journey. The bride attended Winchester High School. Mr. DiNicola is associated with Sage's Market in Cambridge.

DAMON — COLUCCI

At St. Mary's Church on Sunday afternoon, April 30, Miss Mildred Camille Colucci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Colucci of 107 Swanton street, became the bride of Chester Russell Damon, son of Mr. Chester F. Damon of 102 Parkmer road, Waltham. Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony and a reception followed at Chickland. Miss Mary Callahan played the bridal music.

Miss Colucci was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white lace and ivory satin with a full length train of lace and a matching bridal veil. Instead of the conventional bouquet she carried a basket of white daisies, stephanotis and delphinium.

Miss Henrietta Colucci, who was her sister's only attendant, was gowned in pink, her dress being fashioned with an eyelet being and full skirt of marquisette. A matching hat and muffs completed her costume and she also carried a basket of garden flowers with daisies and delphinium predominating.

Kenneth Damon of Wellesley was best man for his brother and the ushers were Louis DeMarco of Somerville, brother-in-law of the bride, and Robert Walker of Framingham, nephew of the bridegroom.

Mr. Damon and his bride went to Canada on their honeymoon.

The bride is a graduate of the Winchester schools. Mr. Damon is associated with the Eastern Auto Company.

TOWN CENTENNIAL PARADE COMMEMORATED

Big Crowd Viewed Long Line of March Despite Rain

With weather much more appropriate to the anniversary of the biblical flood than the observance of an incorporation of a township, Winchester on last Saturday afternoon, April 29, held the big parade which was the feature of its one hundredth anniversary as a town. It was in 1850 that Winchester by act of the General Court was separated from Woburn, of which till then it had been a part, and incorporated an independent town.

In view of particularly bad weather, the day was cold and very wet, the parade was a credit to the town and a tribute to those who planned it, those who participated in it and, finally, those who braved the elements to watch it. Those who stood outdoors during the hour-and-a-half it took the parade to pass a given point surely deserve a pat on their rain-soaked backs.

Early in the morning it commenced to rain, but as late as noon time there seemed good reason to believe it might clear, and by mid-forenoon the decision had been made to go through with the parade, it having been necessary at that time to give the armed forces who were to participate definite assurance, one way or the other.

General Ralph Palladino of North Gateway, commanding officer of the 104th Infantry Regiment, was elected commander of the 104th Infantry Regiment Veterans' Association at the 31st annual reunion in Greenfield last Saturday.

STEWART — MACKINTOSH

At St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Cambridge on Friday evening, April 21, Miss Margaret Mackintosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Ellis of 291 Hiron avenue, Cambridge, was married to Arthur Pearl Stewart, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Stewart of 67 Dunston lane. Rev. Ernest D. Thompson, rector of the church, read the double ring candle light service at 8 o'clock in a setting of calla lilies and white snapdragons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin with a lace yoke and a finger-length veil caught to a head-dress of orange blossoms. Her bouquet combined white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ellis House of Norfolk, Va., sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing Nile green chiffon with the wide picture hat to match and carrying an old fashioned bouquet of yellow roses and green carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss Mada Ellis of Somerville, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Marilyn Brittinger of North Chelmsford, cousin of the bridegroom, were gowned like the honor attendant in orchid and wore matching picture hats. Their bouquets were of yellow jonquils and purple heather.

Alfred R. Ellis of Somerville, brother of the bride, was best man for Mr. Stewart and the ushers were James M. Ellis of Cambridge, brother of the bride, and Hugh F. Trimmer, Jr.

After the service a Scottish piper in full regalia piped the bridal party and three hundred guests to the church parish house where the reception was held. Upon their return from a wedding journey through the south Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will make their home at 26 Cappon street, in Medford.

The bride is a graduate of Cambridge High and Latin School in class of 1943, and of the Alice Darling Secretarial School of Boston. Mr. Stewart, who is a refrigeration engineer, is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Franklin Institute in Boston.

LADD — ROCKWELL ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newcomb Ladd of 325 Highland avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lois Ladd, to Mr. George Barcus Rockwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sherman Rockwell of Wabash, Indiana. Miss Ladd is a graduate of Brimley-May School and Wellesley College. Mr. Rockwell served as a first lieutenant with the Army in Japan during the war. He is a graduate of Harvard College where he was a member of Phi Eta Club and the Hasty Trading Institute of 1940.

MAYTIME MUSICALS

"Maytime Musicals," an evening of familiar music, will be presented by the Winchester Unitarian Choir on Thursday evening, May 25 at 8:30 p.m. at the Music Hall. This will be the third annual evening of gay music and refreshments given by the choir as a benefit performance for the Unitarian Church. The choir, under its director, May Barton Witham, is planning a program full of variety and spirit and it is expected that the Music Hall will wear a very gala atmosphere for the evening.

Members of the Unitarian Music Committee assisting Mrs. Witham in plans for the evening are: Mrs. Reginald Bradlee, Mrs. Bouldin G. Burbank, Lady H. Caldwell, Mrs. William L. Davis, Alfred Denley, Mrs. R. Darrell Harvey, James M. Joslin, Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, Miss Grace Norman, Miss Mary Norman, Mrs. Manning E. Morrill, Sherman Russell, Mrs. Jonathan L. Smith, Jr., Mrs. Lewis Wadsworth, Jr., Mrs. Sears Walker, Mrs. Paul W. Walton and Robert Wild.

ANNUAL SPRING BANQUET

On May 8, 1950 at 6:15 p.m. the Sherman M. Dodge Men's Club will have their Annual Spring Banquet at Sun Banquet at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. Movies featuring sports will follow the banquet. All men of the club, and friends, are invited to attend and bring a Son.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

It was a great pleasure to welcome so many visitors to the Historical room at the Library during Centennial week. This large room on the lower floor of the building contains many objects of historical interest given to the society by Winchester residents.

About 100 persons availed themselves of this opportunity to see remnants of early Winchester, and many expressed themselves as surprised to learn that the society contained such a large collection.

The hostesses were Miss Clara R. Russell, the Curator, Miss Laura Tolman, Mrs. Arthur Belville, Miss Alice Crawford, Mrs. Ethel Glendon and Miss Louise Baneroff.

Miss Russell would be glad to show this room to visitors by appointment.

MRS. IRVING M. CLARK

Word has been received of the death on April 21 in Saltzburg, Penn. of Mrs. Irving M. Clark, a former resident of this town.

The Clark family made their home in Winchester from 1900 until 1912 when they moved to Boston. During that time Mrs. Clark was very active at the Church of the Epiphany, serving among other capacities as choir mother.

Mrs. Clark was a widow. She leaves two sons, Lloyd M. Clark, president of Kiskimettus Springs School at Saltzburg, Penn., with whom she made her home, and Reginald Clark.

OUR CENTENNIAL EDITION

This issue of the Star contains written and pictorial reports of the Centennial Parade and 4th of July Festival which concluded the program honoring the 100th Anniversary of the incorporation of the town.

Covering the parade was a tremendous task and we realize that despite our sincere desire to have things right, inaccuracies and omissions have occurred.

We ask the indulgence of those slighted or reported incorrectly. Our errors have been inadvertent and not by design. We will gladly make any desired corrections or additions in our next issue.

Finally we are grateful for the assistance of our photographer, Ken Lord, for the fine shots he secured, and to Jim Connolly of the Camera Shop for additional shots and much assistance. To Gladys Toye, also, we extend our sincere thanks for helping us keep the military record straight.

THANK YOU, EVERYONE!

We are profoundly grateful to all who in countless ways brought Winchester's 100th Anniversary Week to its final accomplishment. The Union Religious Service, school observances, poster contest, historical exhibits, store decorations, receptions and dances were all highly successful. In all these activities, and the Centennial Parade and Choral Festival which climaxed the Week, everyone worked with the utmost enthusiasm. Not even Saturday's rain prevented a determination to make the Anniversary outstanding and memorable.

To Chief Marshal Robert F. Murphy, who worked unceasingly on the tremendous task of organizing the Parade, to Chairman Thomas Worthen, who arranged the unusual and excellent Choral Festival, and to all who helped in the various events which celebrated Winchester's One Hundredth Birthday, our hearty and sincere thanks.

WINCHESTER IN TEN-INSING
THE WITH LEVINGTON

Winchester High and Lexington High battled to a ten-inning tie at the end of the tenth inning. The game was called at the end of the tenth inning because of the rain and approaching darkness. Good and hard hitting featured the long contest as the home team looked good in rallying off two snappy double plays and looked bad in taking a called third strike on home runs. Lexington put the lead ahead on the first inning. Lexington went off to a 2-0 lead in the second inning on two singles and two bases on balls. Danvers and a base on balls and two bases on balls. Lexington made a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning on two bases on balls, two foul errors, and a single. Winchester got one run in the bottom of the fifth on a base on balls, an error, and a run.

Trailing 3-0 in the seventh the Red and Black tied it up when Ames opened with a single, Powers went to left, and Williams tripled to right center to score home run. Danvers Joyce came through the game-winning run on a single through the middle. Northern team scored over the final three innings, although Winchester almost won it in the ninth when John Power was thrown out at the plate by the powerful whacker.

Leo Williams batted out a triple and a home run in three official trips to the plate to drive in four of the six Winchester runs. John Power hit two clean singles to left field. Danny Joyce hit safely in both of his trips to the plate, and Paul Ames reached first base four times on two hits and two walks while scoring three runs. A large share of the credit for the very satisfactory tie must go to Charlie Murphy who relieved Spence in the sixth and pitched five scoreless innings while striking out five batters and giving up only one base on balls. It was very pleasing to Coach Bartlett to have his charges field from behind again and to rally against Dick Fardon who is considered one of the best pitchers in the League.

ST. MARY'S WINS 7-6

The midweek division of St. Mary's C. Y. O. opened its season last Saturday morning on beaten-up Manchester Field against the Rose Club of Medford, winning 7-6.

"Mitey" Mawn started for the locals, allowing only 1 hit and winning his own game with a smashing drive over third base scoring T. Sullivan with the winning tally. Paul M. Mawn was a standard, both in the field and at bat, with seven assists, 2 hits and a run.

John Fardon made some great plays at first base. He reached did a fine job of the plate and Tom Johnson was a standard at third base. Winchester's Paul M. Mawn was a standard at first base. Winchester's Paul M. Mawn was a standard at first base.

KIRWAN WON RELAY STAR

Tom Kirwan of Pennsylvania and Winchester former schoolboy State half-mile champion, gave a brilliant performance last Saturday afternoon at the 55th annual Penn Relays at Franklin Field, leading Penn to victory in the distance medley relay event and again in the featured four mile relay, running anchor in both races.

Kirwan had to come from behind in the four mile event. Starting the final leg with a five yard advantage the Winchester boy saw his lead wiped out by Cavannah of Manhattan who passed him and stayed out in front until the last turn into the straightaway.

There Kirwan really cut loose. A kick that took him past the fading Cavannah and home in 1:10.4, a comfortable margin, to Ashenfelter of Penn State also helped Cavannah to finish third.

Kirwan also ran in the invitation mile, won by Fred Wilt, but his relay running had taken too big a toll and he could do better than fourth in this race.

BANE SETS TUFTS HAMMER MARK

Big Tom Bane of Glengarry set a new hammer mark for Tufts last Saturday as the Jumbos beat the Polar Bears in a track meet at Tufts Oval, 8:12 to 30.2.

Bane, tall junior, who has been doing well in the weight events all winter, slung the 16 pound hammer 162 ft. 11 in. despite the fact that he was standing in three inches of water. He also placed second in the shotput, won by Nicholson of Bowdoin with a heave of 46 ft. 3 in.

Another Winchester boy and former Winchester high track star, Red Briggs, placed third in the two mile run.

TRUMP AWARDED THREE PATENTS

John G. Trump of Winchester was the recipient on May 28, 1950 and April 1, 1950 of three United States Patents. The first of these patents is entitled "Apparatus For Reducing Destructive Transients In Electrostatic Belt Generators." An electrostatic belt generator is a contrivance for the generation of high voltage direct current; and it generally comprises a properly mounted and insulated terminal to which electrical charges are conveyed by a suitable endless belt. The use of this equipment, which produces charges in the order of several million volts and of increasing importance as the voltage source in X-ray generators for cancer therapy, for nuclear research and other purposes. At present, the apparatus is housed in tanks filled with nitrogen under pressure, and the voltage attained thereby is limited by a sparking condition that may take place between the terminal and the tank, along the rapidly traveling belt, or with respect to other parts. This "sparking" is destructive, for it may rend the material of the belt and cause its mechanical failure, produce a harmful ionizing effect on the terminal, and even destroy the supports of the equipment; and therefore, in his first invention, Mr. Trump describes several methods of reducing its effects.

The second of his patents, which incidentally was issued to him in conjunction with Robert W. Cloud, Lexington, Mass., is for a "High Voltage High Vacuum Acceleration Tube." High-voltage acceleration tubes are employed for the production of high energy X-rays and for nuclear research; and this invention provides a method of building one with an operating voltage of two million volts and only two feet in length, which is a much more compact structure than has hitherto been available.

Finally, the third patent, of which Mr. Cloud is also co-inventor, is entitled "Charge Transferring Means For High Voltage Electrostatic Apparatus." It deals with an improved arrangement for applying the electrical charge to, and removing it from, the belt conveyor of the aforementioned electrostatic generator.

All of these patents have been assigned to Research Corporation, New York, N. Y.

W. Landon Power, of 20 Bangleway Edge was made a partner in the Boston law firm of Silberman, Powers & Needham on May first. Mr. Powers is also on the faculty of Boston University School of Law. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College and Harvard Law School. He has resided in Winchester for four years.

EPHANY MEN TO HEAR OUTSTANDING SPEAKER

The members of the Epiphany Men's Club have a rare treat in store for them at their next meeting on Wednesday evening, May 15th, when the speaker will be Rev. Henry Mattocks, who is the vicar of St. Andrew's Church serving Groton, Ayer, Forge Village and surrounding towns. He was born in England and educated there and in the United States. After his graduation from Berkeley Divinity School in New Haven, Conn., in June, 1929, Mr. Mattocks went to the Philippines for mission work among the Chinese of that country, where he was a trip to the Holy Amoy in South China to assist the language spoken by the Philippine Chinese. He took charge of the vicarious work among the Chinese in Manila in the fall of 1930. There is a large parish there which includes a school for Chinese girls which now has a student community of over twelve hundred young Chinese.

When this work became self-supporting with its own Chinese clergyman and was organized into a fully independent parish in 1940, Mr. Mattocks was transferred to Zamboanga in the island of Mindanao in the southern Philippines to organize Chinese work among the people in that area and to supervise Episcopal work among the many islands of the Sulu Sea. In the town of Zamboanga there is an old established parish church for the American, Native and Foreign community, together with a hospital and, also, the schools of St. Alban's and St. John's. The first school was for Filipinos, Moros and Moslems and the second was established for the Chinese.

In the meantime, Mr. Mattocks married in Hong Kong to a young woman who is a native of Waltham, and who was one of the earliest U. S. O. workers sent to the Orient. There are three children, all born in Manila.

At the outbreak of hostilities with the Japanese, Rev. Mr. Mattocks, his wife and their three children were forced to flee to the mountains behind Zamboanga and for fourteen months existed among the primitive Suluano tribes. They were later captured by the Japanese and were interned in several camps and practically starved to death prior to their liberation. Mr. Mattocks returned to the Philippines in 1946 and took charge of St. Andrew's Church which is the only Episcopal church left standing in Manila. Mr. Mattocks and his family returned to the United States in 1948. He has gained an enviable reputation as a speaker, especially to men's groups and the members of the Men's Club should be sure to hear him.

The meeting will be preceded by a supper at 6:30 o'clock.

Dr. Flora Alice Lilienfeld, geneticist and plant breeder, started out today on the first leg of her journey to Japan. Dr. Lilienfeld will carry out breeding experiments with the tobacco plant at the new Institute of Genetics in Misima. The purpose of these experiments will be the creation or introduction of disease resistant varieties of tobacco to Japan, a program strongly favored by our government.

Dr. Lilienfeld was living at 9 Calumet road, with her aunt, Mrs. Antonio Lilienfeld.

TUESDAY GROUP CHURCH OF THE EPIPHANY

Members and Guests of the Tuesday Group of the Church of the Epiphany will attend a dessert party and musicale for their final meeting of the year. This affair will be held at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, May 9, at the Music Hall. Mrs. Theodore Halgren of St. Woodside road is in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Donald Bates, Mrs. Charles Blanchard, Mrs. Albert Bodman and Mrs. Herman Slane.

WHO ARE THESE 700,000 MEN THEY CALL "KNIGHTS"?

Whether you are a Catholic or not, you should know the truth about the Knights of Columbus.

Is it, as sometimes rumored, a secret society with designs against our government? Do its members really take an oath to destroy non-Catholic institutions and to promote Catholic political power?

If such rumors were true, the Knights of Columbus would not deserve the friendship and trust of non-Catholic citizens, which it invites and merits. Actually there is no more thoroughly American organization than this fraternal order of Catholic men.

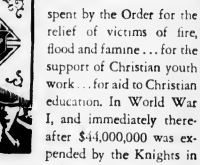

It is composed of plumbers and lawyers, farmers and doctors, business men and scientists of Catholic men at every level of the social and economic scale. Some are rabidly partisan Democrats, others equally so, but Republicans. On political and public questions, they "close up sides" with all the freedom and enthusiasm of any other citizens.

The Knights of Columbus was formed in 1882 by a small group of the men of St. Mary's Church, New Haven, Connecticut. They had met at the invitation of Father Michael J. McGivney, not to form a national fraternal society, but to "render mutual aid to the members of the parish and their families."

In the years that since have ensued, the Knights of Columbus has grown into a fraternal order of 700,000 members, spread over the United States, Canada and other countries of the Western World. But its purpose of "mutual aid" and its principles of charity, unity, fraternity and patriotism... have remained unchanged through those 67 years.

Millions of dollars contributed by the American people have been spent on the relief of victims of fire, flood and famine... for the support of Christian youth work... for aid to Christian education. In World War I, and immediately thereafter $44,000,000 was expended by the Knights in support of our troops and in the rehabilitation of veterans. Even after all these years, veterans of the first great conflict still remember the Knights of Columbus hits in France with their friendly invitation: "Everybody Welcome—Everything Free"

Nearly one out of every six Knights served his country in World War II, and many laid down their lives.

Despite these and many other signal demonstrations of its principles of charity, unity, fraternity and patriotism, some people have the most absurd beliefs and suspicions about the Knights of Columbus, just as they do about the Catholic Church. Even today, misinformed people give publicity at times to a false alleged Knights of Columbus oath which has been proved to be fraudulent, and which scores of others have been forced publicly to admit is untrue.

This message... and others explaining Catholic beliefs and practices... are published by the Knights of Columbus so that our non-Catholic neighbors may judge us as we really are—not as we are often misrepresented to be. We believe that truth, as Lincoln said, "is generally the best vindication against slander."

If you would like to know more about the Knights of Columbus... about the ideals, history, achievements and aims of this international society of Catholic men... we shall gladly send you free an interesting pamphlet on the subject. Write today for Pamphlet No. 9—KC.

ROTARY FEATURED HOME AND HIGHWAY SAFETY

A unique home and highway safety presentation in which club members had an opportunity to participate, featured the luncheon meeting of the Winchester Rotary Club No. 2562 at Masonic Temple last Thursday.

Based on the "Forum For Living" home and highway safety quiz series currently heard. Sanctions, the presentation offered club members a chance to match wits and knowledge of safety in a simulated radio broadcast. The show was presented by the Casualty Insurance Companies Serving Massachusetts as a part of their current public service campaign aimed at a better way of life through safety in the home, at work and on the highway.

Charles A. Murphy, Rotary President, served as moderator for the show in which six of the 70 club members and guests. Present were Marial S. Barnes of the companies acted as announcer for the "make-believe" safety broadcast. Miss Cleo Colivas of the insurance companies acted as mistress of ceremonies, and Wade L. Grindle, Rotary Vice President, was scorekeeper. Glen H. Browning won first place honors over Vincent Ambrose, Nicholas Fitzgerald, Ralph Bonelli, Aram Mouradian and Abot Bradlee.

The Star offers its apologies to the firm of Peck and Peck for the omission to mention their Centennial window in last week's list. This was one of the outstanding window displays about town, displaying some priceless old dresses and costumes, the display being arranged through the planning of Mrs. Esther Clark.

ENTERTAINED AT HARTWELL FARM

Mrs. Earle E. Andrews, of Highland avenue, returning Regent, Committee of Safety Chapter, daughters of the American Revolution, entertained her Executive Board and Committee Chairmen for luncheon at Hartwell Farm on Thursday, April 20. Those attending were Mrs. William Goodhue, Mrs. Raymond Sawbridge, Mrs. Edward Nowell, Mrs. Francis P. Carlson, Miss Grace Pound, Mrs. Clifford Weber, Mrs. Fred Seales, Mrs. Malcolm Bennett, Mrs. Frank Elens, Mrs. Harold Twombly, and Mrs. Edward Sargent of the Executive Board. Committee Chairmen attending were Mrs. Charles Vanner, Chairman, Mrs. John B. Wills, Chairman Correct Use of the Flag; Mrs. George Byrne, Chairman, Courtesy Committee; and Mrs. Paul Stoneham, Chairman, Candy Selling Project.

At the board meeting following luncheon, Mrs. William Goodhue, Vice Regent, presented Mrs. Andrews with the Official Insignia of the Daughters of the American Revolution, a gift from the Executive Board and Committee Chairmen, and expressed sincere appreciation of her faithful conscientious work as Regent of the Committee of Safety Chapter 1947-1950.

FORM SPONSORS OPEN HOUSE

Freshmen and Sophomores who cannot attend the Junior-Senior Prom can be assured of a good time at the Forum Open House at the First Congregational Church Saturday night at 7:30. The program will include table games, juke box dancing in charge of Joan Moore, cakes for sale in charge of Bob Gaffney, and at 10:30 dancing to the music of a new orchestra, The Novices. Neil Munster is in charge of tickets at the door. George DeCamp and Scott Cunningham will set up amps for the orchestra. Paul Leverette is responsible for the microphone and "Norman" Makelivich for other details of the program. There will be some special dances, girls' choice and Paul Jones, and two sets of square dances. With some new music being carried by the committee, they can help demonstrate, promises to be a real evening.

EN KA STREET FAIR MAY 20

The third Saturday in May always means a gala day for the people of Winchester and surrounding towns—children and grown-ups alike. It is the day when all roads lead to the Town Hall grounds and the En Ka Street Fair.

This year's Fair promises to be gay and colorful with plenty of fun and interest for everybody. It is called En Ka Cavalcade which is a review of all past Street Fairs. The costumes of the different years will be worn by the workers at the various booths.

Mrs. Donald F. Connors, the chairman, and her committee have been working for months and all is ready for the great day.

Don't forget that the Midway Merry-Go-Round and Ferris Wheel will be open on Friday, May 19 from 6 P. M. to 10 P. M. Also hot dogs, hot coffee and tonics will be for sale. The Midway provides fun and good sport for everyone. You can practice Friday night so your skill will be at its peak on Saturday.

There will be plenty of good food all day Saturday with the snack bar, luncheon, hot-dogs, popcorn, tonics and refreshments. Don't forget the delicious pioneer supper to be served at the near by Baptist Church from 5:30 to 7:30.

On Saturday night the lucky numbers will be drawn for the 5000th trip. Television will also be Matched forage.

Improvement is reported in the condition of Mrs. J. A. (Alice) Hays, 147 Highland avenue, who was stricken ten days ago with pneumonia and myocardial infarction. She has been quite ill.

CALLING THE CLASS OF '25. WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL

Yes it was twenty-five years ago this June so we are planning a "do," a "shindie," or in other words a reunion.

In fact we have even gone so far as to do a little committee work on our own, look up addresses, secure the High School for the meeting place, and begin to spread the good news around.

Here is the story. On June 17th, a Saturday night, we of the actual graduating class, plus those who started out with us and went on to other schools, plus husbands or wives, plus the teachers who knew us "when" are all going to have supper together and have some fun afterward.

It is also in the wind that the class of 1924 will join us and make it a real party. Sunday they let last year slip by, but a 25th reunion is just as good as a 25th and even a 10th!

The group who met at Max Davidson Boyd's house last month consisted of Helen McNulty, Belisle, Ruth Perkins, Monish, down from New Hampshire; Estelle Simonds, Danes, from Watford; Dorothy Nutt, Cole, and Elizabeth Jacobs, Churchhill. This was just a start, a self-elected group and we need, and welcome, some more and more support.

EVERYBODY'S DOING IT!

And we mean making plans to attend the reunion which the Tuesday Group of Epiphany Church are holding Saturday night, May 6, at the Parish Hall, Judy Schofield, lady auctioneer from Wethersfield, will preside and the evening promises to be a most exhilarating experience. Doors open at 7:30 p. m., bidding begins promptly at 8:00 p. m. Mesdames Hollis Dyer and Alan Smith are co-chairmen for the event, and heads of other special committees include: Mesdames Henry Fette, Fred Smith, Maxwell McCrorey, A. C. Buffum, Kenneth Colony and Albert Manich.

During together before the affair will be the following couples: Thomas Haver, Herbert Ross, Ed. Dyer, Donald Wright, Lawrence P. Scudap, Korn Follers, Stephen Nichols, John MacCallum and Barton Miller. Mesdames Richard Barlow and A. C. Buffum are co-hosting a pre-reunion dinner which will include Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Coombs, Mr. and Mrs. Walton, Dr. and Mrs. Donald McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kuyper, Mr. and Mrs. London Burr, Mrs. A. C. Buffum, Mrs. Maxwell McCrorey, Mrs. Van Pelt, Mrs. J. McCrorey and J. K. Colony.

PICTURE SCHOOL REGISTRATION DATES

Parents who wish to enter children in the Weymouth Picture School in September are urged to register their children at the places specified on the following dates:

May 8, 9
Weymouth School 10:00-11:30 a. m.
May 10, 11
Lincoln School 10:00-11:30 a. m.
May 12
Parkhurst School 10:00-11:30 a. m.
May 13, 14
Mystic School 10:00-11:30 a. m.
May 15, 16
Washington School 10:00-11:30 a. m.
May 17
Neuman School 10:00-11:30 a. m.
A child to be eligible for Kindergarten must be five years old on or before December 31, 1950. A copy of the child's Birth Certificate and vaccination certificate should be available on registration day.

WINCHESTER TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

Mrs. Helen Pietz, of Medford, Junior Past President of the Winchester Toastmistress Club, will be interviewed by Christine Evans, of Station WHDH, on Friday, May 5. (See Radio program in your newspaper for the time).

The topic for the interview is Toastmistress Clubs in the East. Since several new Clubs have been recently organized, it is expected that an area council will be established in this area at an early date.

Women who may be interested in joining or forming a Toastmistress Club, are invited to contact the Winchester Toastmistress Club for further information, at Box No. 44, Winchester, Mass.

Purpose of Toastmistress training is to develop proficiency in speaking and presenting the woman's viewpoint, thru their club, church and social affairs.

APPOINTED AT NORTHEASTERN

Antonio L. Mozzanappa, 100 Wildwood street, a member of the Northeastern University Faculty for 10 years, has been appointed chairman of the department of modern languages, Pres. Carl S. Ell of Northeastern announced yesterday. The appointments will take effect July 1.

Prof. Mozzanappa who holds degrees of bachelor of arts in 1924, master of arts in 1929, and doctor of philosophy in 1935, all from Harvard, succeeds the late Prof. Charles H. Barnson of Hingham who died in December. He had taught at Westbrook Seminary, Maine, Robert, Harvard, and Boston College before coming to Northeastern in 1940 as assistant professor of romance languages.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Formerly called the Scouting Exposition, the 18th Annual Boy Scout Cavalcade finds this year's affair scheduled for Woburn at the Woburn High School on Saturday, May 20th from 1:30 p. m. until 9:00 p. m. Unfortunately this is the only date that Woburn could have the High School facilities, therefore the affair is on the same day that the Winchester ENKA Society presents their annual Street Fair. One of the best friends of Scouting, the ENKA, who last season donated several aluminum canoes to the Scouts and this year a sizable sum of money to help defray the cost of the new winterized cabin for Camp Fellsland, need the support of every Winchester citizen if they are to continue their fine work.

The scouts on the other hand need the same support also because the revenue from the Cavalcade each year helps maintain Camp Fellsland also and makes possible the low rate which is charged to scouts attending the camp during the summer. Therefore these two groups, the ENKA and the Cavalcade Committee have held a joint meeting and it is proposed that since Medford, Burlington, Stoneham and Woburn have no conflicting schedule that Winchester support both programs. Woburn is practically next door so to speak and the Cub scout program takes place during the afternoon with Scout events on the whole set for the evening. It will be easy to attend the ENKA during the morning for some units and in the afternoon for others. It will be feasible for still other groups to attend the ENKA later in the evening since the latter goes on until midnight. Therefore Fellow Townspeople and Scouts Let Us Support Both The Scout Cavalcade and The ENKA.

Memo to All Units!

What are you planning for the Cavalcade or Exposition? Will your unit have a booth? Are your Cub Scouts lined up for some competitive event? There is nothing like a bit of rivalry between units of our neighboring communities to stimulate scout interest. Why not persuade the other units to know just what the various units are undertaking. Last year Winchester was a successful host for this affair. This year we hope to show Woburn people what fine sports Winchester scouts are and we hope to collect many of those fine prizes and bring them back to Winchester. Advance reports say that there will be a parade in Woburn just before the Cavalcade and this on the same day just before the starting time of the affair.

More details later. Troop 12 News (St. Mary's Church) We learn that Troop 12 had several scouts camping at camp Rankin in Medford for several days this past vacation period under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmaster Robert Fiore and Cubmaster Coleman Foley who is the popular leader of Pack 12. Mr. Albert T. McDougall, Chairman of the Committee looked in on the scouts at eveningtime each day and the boys really had a whale of a time. As far as details go we have received no data as this goes to press.

Troop 7 News

(First Baptist Church) Here is another active unit with meager publicity. Doc Millican, Scoutmaster with an overabundance of boys certainly cannot be expected to add to his many duties and be reported too but surely one of your committeemen can help. We learn that the troop camped at Camp Lane over the Holiday.

MAGAZINES FOR CHARLESTOWN STATE PRISON

On Sunday morning at 9:30 the members of the Senior Forum were asked to bring books and magazines for the men of Charlestown State Prison. The boys who visited the prison during the vacation found that the men are locked in their cells 19 hours out of every 24. They have no central dining room and so even have to eat their meals alone. The need for good reading material is acute.

Dr. Eddy A. Arvinkham gave the third and last of his addresses on "Christianity in a Changing World" at the 9:30 service Sunday. Herbert Skerry was the chaplain, assisted by Richard Singer. Ushers were John Atkinson and John Richmond.

THE WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

The Winchester Garden Club held its April meeting in the home of Mrs. Thomas I. Freeburn. Mrs. Freeburn's home was effectively decorated with forsythia and yellow daffodils. Mrs. Herbert T. West presided.

After the short business meeting the program for the afternoon was "Corsages to Fit Personalities." These corsages were made by Mrs. Elise Carter Smith. Mrs. Smith's deft fingers made exquisite corsages, from a great variety of spring flowers, to fit the personality and costume of ten or twelve of the ladies. One unusual corsage could be worn as a brooch at the neck. Then there was a gladiolus corsage and a dainty bracelet of flowers. Every one was different and lovely.

It was certainly fascinating watching Mrs. Smith work, and listening to her. There were guests from The Belmont Garden Club and from the Melrose Garden Club.

WYMAN ASSEMBLY

In connection with the celebration of Winchester's Centennial Wyman School children of grades four, five, and six presented the following program this morning at 10:30.

Each grade will enact one scene. Scene 1 — The Naming and Founding of Winchester. Scene 2 — A Town Meeting. Scene 3 — A School of Long Ago. Scene 4 — Fun and Frolic Long Ago. Songs and dances of the 1850 period. Parents and friends were cordially invited to attend. The children and teachers wrote the script for the plays, using Chapman's History of Winchester as the source of material. Through the courtesy of Mr. Robert Metcalf information was given on the manner of dress of 1850 and about the songs of that time.

CUBS

The Cub Group from the Parkhurst School which is sponsored by the American Legion met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William L. Wilson, 8 Oneida road for their monthly Pack Meeting on Tuesday evening, April 25th.

The Salute to the flag was led by Den Chief John Cotton. The Birthday song was sung to Dick Scott. Plans for the Centennial Parade were discussed with the Cubs by Den Master Larry Burke and Assistant Den Master Tom Downes. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Mother Mrs. Wilson and a most interesting show about trains was put on by Den 2 in a room decked with colorful train travel posters.

4TH DONOR LUNCHEON

The Wakefield, Stoneham, Woburn Chapter of Hadassah held their fourth annual donor luncheon on Wednesday afternoon, April 26, 1950 at the Hotel Sheraton's roof garden.

Despite the inclement weather, more than a hundred members and their guests attended the affair. Following the singing of the Star Spangled Banner and the Hebrew National Anthem, "Hati Kohav" led by Mrs. Herbert Land, the invocation was delivered by Vice-President Sylvia Gould.

A delicious luncheon was served. After Mrs. Morris Snyder introduced the officers and various chairmen, Mrs. Joseph M. Purcell as President of Hadassah gave a short address emphasizing the second anniversary of the new state of Israel.

The afternoon was climaxed by an inspiring talk by the guest speaker Mrs. Julian F. Arnsfeldt, Vice-President of the New England Regional Chapter of Hadassah. She urged each chapter to continue its good work if 100,000 children now being brought to Israel were to be rehabilitated and cared for. Thousands of children have been saved and Hadassah is responsible for the Hospitals and Medical Schools that have at last become a reality.

The luncheon guests enjoyed the songs of "Richard Martin" Romantic Baritone and joined in a community song fest.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Robert Victor Abrahamson has been engaged as caretaker of Manchester Field. He will begin his duties on May 1.

Recent visitors at the Parkhurst school were the Superintendent of Schools in Berry, New Hampshire, and the Derry School Committee and School Building Committee.

During the recent holidays Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds Thomas Drapman had a new ceiling installed in room 24 of the High School. Youngsters and teachers are unanimous in their praise of the new sound proof ceiling which replaces the damaged plaster.

The committee studying extra-curricular work plans to complete its study this week and submit a report at the next regular School Committee meeting on Monday evening.

At a meeting of school principals, supervisors, and teachers of English called by Dr. Norris for last Wednesday afternoon, reports of visits to other schools were heard. This group of teachers and administrators are studying the program of English instruction as it applies to all twelve grades.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jones of Bedford road are on a trip to California.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

One of the most things about the Centennial Parade was the spirit of all who took part. When the parade came, we were wondering just who and how many would be "among these present." The helpers who turned out to decorate the float in the rain, made us feel that all our efforts were worth while. Many thanks are due to Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Bingham, Mrs. Francis Parsons, Ginny Deery, Mary Cullen, Joan and Edward McElroy for their cheerful assistance. We'd like also to thank Capt. MacCarthy and his M. D. C. cutting crew, and Jim Cullen, too, for the wonderful supply of pine boughs for the float. We had so many we couldn't use them all. (and only the day before we were afraid we wouldn't have half enough!). We wish to thank the girls on the float. And a special thanks to those girls and leaders who marched, for we thought they looked very well in numbers as well as formation in spite of the downpour. "A Girl Scout is loyal" is a motto we hope everyone noticed that the Boy Scouts were most gracious, and truly practiced the courtesy mothers try to instill in their sons. — permitting "ladies first." We were quite impressed and pleased. Many thanks, Scouters! Leaders and Scouts — remember these dates: Leaders' Club at the Cabin, May 2nd; Out Door Workshop at Cedar Hill (all day each day), next week, May 8th, 9th, and 10th; Council meeting at the Cabin, May 10th; Mother-Daughter Tea and Fashion Show, at Cabin, May 18th. — put it on your calendar, please; and Party for the 8th grade Scouts, given by the Senior Scouts at the Cabin on May 19th at 7:30 p. m.

As Commissioner of the Girl Scouts may I add a postscript to Mrs. McElroy's scroll of thanks. Thanks again to devoted Scout Workers — both girl and adult. I feel also that while we deplored the weather we shall never forget the wonderful spirit of loyalty and camaraderie that was characteristic of Saturday last. And Mrs. McElroy competent and tireless, parade chairman for the Girl Scouts, was a shining example of these qualities. Many thanks to you and your committee.

"THERE'S RHYTHM IN MY BONES" AT LEWIS PARKHURST SCHOOL

The Lewis Parkhurst School Mothers' Association will have its annual meeting at 1:15 p. m. in the auditorium of the school on Wednesday, May 10th. Dessert and coffee will be served first, followed by a short business meeting and election of officers for the ensuing year. Baby-sitters at a nominal fee will be in the Kindergarten room.

The school orchestra will render a few numbers under the direction of Mr. Fred M. Felmet, Jr. The children have been working all year and are looking forward to their participation in this program.

Mrs. A. Allen Kimball will give a report from the Secondary Schools Building Committee. This subject being one of the most important in the town to-day should be the most talked of subject. This pertains to every parent and resident of Winchester, as "our town is only as good as our schools."

Mr. Russell D. Curry, Instructor to the various public school dancing classes will talk and demonstrate "Rhythm in My Bones." Previous reports on this prove it will be highly entertaining.

RED FEATHER

On Thursday evening, April 27, the Winchester Community Chest, Inc., held its annual meeting in the General Committee Room of the Town Hall.

After reports from the Clerk, Richard H. Frazier, and the Treasurer, Miss Helen M. Monroe, the President, Mrs. William A. Kugler, called for the reports of the Standing Committees.

Clinton W. Bennett as Budget Committee Chairman enumerated the funds allotted to each of the member agencies, duplicating the amounts of the preceding year.

The reports of Donald Heath of the Planning Committee, and Davenport Davis as Campaign Chairman were read. The annual Red Feather Drive touched 92.4% of its goal last November. Mr. Davis pointed out that cuts in larger income brackets, the capital funds drives of the Winchester Hospital, Girl Scouts, and other organizations outside Winchester, as well as the smaller earnings of industry and the multiplicity of drives had made a serious inroad on funds previously available for the Red Feather activities.

Mr. Davis was highly commended for the success he had attained. The report of the Nominating Committee submitted by Henry A. Belkner, R. H. B. Smith, and Martin S. Swanson was unanimously accepted. The slate was as follows:

Treasurer — Miss Helen M. Monroe
Clerk — Richard H. Frazier
Directors —

Mrs. William A. Kugler
Walter B. Thompson
Nicholas H. Fitzgerald
James Nowell
Harlow Russell
Earl G. Carrier
Ralph T. Jope
Davenport F. Davis

Nominating Committee — Roland V. Patrick.

The annual reports of the participating agencies were next on the agenda. Ralph W. Hatch briefly reviewed the financial status and Harlan Paine the operation of the Winchester Hospital. The first stages of building the addition are underway. The forming of the "Women's Volunteer Service" organization was announced with plans for an Open House on Hospital Day, May 12th. An invitation was extended to Winchester women to become members of this auxiliary.

Robert Stone expressed the gratitude of the Winchester Home for the Aged for the assistance from the Red Feather funds, but explained the necessity for supplementing this with invested funds and other gifts to meet operating expenses. Of necessity, plans for enlarging the facilities have been postponed in spite of the need for more space to accommodate applicants.

For the Winchester District Nursing Association, the President, Mrs. Henry Moffette, reviewed a busy year with an increase in the nursing staff to three full time nurses, a reduction of 22 cents in the cost per call, and the resignation of the Executive Director, Mrs. Jane Lord, R. N.

Mrs. James B. Willing, Commissioner of Girl Scouts, told of the completion of the Girl Scout cabin, an excellent example of community participation and cooperation for which the Scouts are deeply grateful. Two cookie sales and an auction sale authorized by the Chest have increased the funds available for such projects as assisting with the expenses of the Winchester group which will tour England on bicycle this summer under the leadership of the Scout Executive, Mrs. Barbara Metcalf. With the new cabin, the outdoor program, and well organized activities of the older Scouts as special incentives the number of enrolled Winchester Girl Scouts has jumped to 657 and the troops to 47, which represents 40% of all eligible girls locally as compared with 24% enrolled as a national average. Although there are 150 potential Brownies waiting to come in, the enrolling of this group may have to be postponed because of the limitation of funds. The report of the Fellsland Council of Boy Scouts given by Charles Butler indicated a large and active group of Scouts and Scouters. Part of the appropriation for Camp Lane is being set aside to pay for an artesian well to provide the needed water supply.

For Joseph T. Callahan of the Immaculate Conception Conference of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Mrs. Kugler reported the providing of food, clothing, fuel, and medicine for a number of families.

After the announcement of the annual meeting of the United Community Services on Tuesday, May 9 at the Mason Memorial Building, Boston, and the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Winchester Community Chest, Inc., at 7:45 p. m. on Wednesday, May 10 in the General Committee Room, Town Hall, the meeting was adjourned.

PARENT — TEACHER FRIENDLY FROLIC

The date — May 24th.

The time — 7:30 p. m.

The place — to be determined after reservations are in.

What's this? Why, it's the social gathering of all the parents and all the teachers in Winchester.

Well — what's it about? It's about that long talked of gathering of the teachers and parents, strictly on an informal social basis. No one may mention Johnny — and no one may mention Susie — this is to be a gala evening of just fun!

Dr. Norris has charge of the entertainment — which is a secret, and which he promises to be hilariously funny. Dinner is to be catered, so there's no work for anyone. Pre-dinner parties are being planned all over town for teachers and parents together, to start the evening off.

Minographed notices have been sent to each parent, with space for making reservations and returning said notices to schools. An approximate charge for the dinner has been stipulated. If Johnny or Susie has mislaid the notice, please call Mrs. John D. McLean, Winchester 6-0084 for reservations before Wednesday, May 10th, as final arrangements will then have to be made.

Remember the date; remember the time; and you'll be reminded of the place.

WINCHESTER BOYS RECEIVE AWARDS

Two Winchester boys were among those who received winter sports insignia at the recent rally at Williams College. John A. Fiske of 30 Arlington street was awarded his freshman hockey numerals, and Paul F. Avery, Jr., of 19 Sheffield road received his varsity skiing insignia.

BOSTON ANTIQUES EXPOSITION

BOSTON - Praty Yvonne Avon of Boston is fascinated by a 250-year-old chest made in Austria for Earl of Camerlown in 1813. She shows it at Boston Antiques Exposition in Mechanics Building from May 8 to 10-20 noon daily under the auspices of New England Antique Assn. The chest has 25 drawers arranged in three rows over four feet and a handsome turnpiece. Mr. Milton Babcock is director of the Exposition.

BAPTIST BROTHERHOOD BREAKFAST

The final breakfast of the Men's Brotherhood Bible Class of the First Baptist Church on Sunday morning, April 30th, found a large group of members and guests gathered around the table. Among the number were representatives of the various Protestant churches in Winchester, as well as friends from the Jewish Community Center in Melford. All enjoyed the fine meal and the delightful talk by Rev. John W. Cook of the Second Congregational Church on his experiences in Kentucky as a social worker.

This last breakfast of the men was such a long success that the men are looking forward with considerable anticipation to the good fellowship of getting together

fast table again, and Mr. Donald R.

MacArthur, President of the Brotherhood, thanks all who contributed in any way to the enjoyment of these breakfasts.

The Boys' Glee Club, well fortified with freshman boys, sang enthusiastically "I Love a Parade,"

"Corn Song," and "Your Land and My Land."

The mixed chorus sang "The Lord's Prayer" arranged by Hay-

Malotte, "Meadowland" by L.

Knipper, "Sailor's Dance" by

Giere, and "Polly Wally Doodle," committing themselves well.

To conclude the vocal program directed by Miss Amfants, the Girls' Glee Club, perhaps the best of the glee clubs, sang "Annie,

Miller's Daughter," "For My Mother," "Mighty Lak a Rose," and

"The Happy Postman Girl."

Following an intermission to-day the High School Band, enthusiastically applauded, opened with

March "Grant T. To Do With

Zeal" and followed with "The Honor," a march by Ellington.

"Gracie Day" by De Lannette featured, cornets, David Shy-er, Elliott Hoovey, and Todd Watts.

The remainder of the program by the band, which included the has the depth the Director has sought so earnestly, consisted of "The Student Prince Overture" by

Leos Janacek, a Bizet's "Waltz de la Vieillesse," a modern dance number by Ross, "Trump, Trump, Trump" by DeLannette, and Ter-turing Phil Nelson's saxophone solo, Shingora, E. A. A. music festival favorite by Toyoda, "The Footlight March" by Ellington, and an encore "Moon Bay" a favorite with the band and the audience.

And insistent demand for further encores Director Folmet begged that the audience excuse the band in view of their antici-ipated participation in Winchester

Centennial Parade.

Mr. Henry F. Pease of Marshall road was taken to Winchester Hospital from his home recently after becoming seriously ill.

SENIOR FORUM OPEN HOUSE

Last Saturday evening, April 29, at 7:30, about 120 Freshmen and Sophomores gathered in the Social

Hall of the First Congregational Church for a wonderful Open House sponsored by the Senior Forum. Besides dancing to the jive box, there were two sets of square dancing which really started things rolling.

Near the latter part of the evening the group danced to the music of the "Nocturnes," a new and up-and-coming band led by Ed Tarr. Bob Gaffney handled the cokes and Neil Minerster took the tickets at the door.

An enthusiastic audience crowded the high school auditorium for the first Choral Festival to be held in town for many years.
It was a rewarding event, both musically and in a community sense. For gathered on the stage, joining their voices in song, were folks from both sides of the tracks, of all degrees, races and creeds. Music, that ennobling art, made them all one, all part of the big musical celebration of the town's Centennial.
This Choral Festival last Sunday was an event to be repeated. It has limitless possibilities. Surely none who attended was not impressed by the fine vocal talent in the town and the musical divergence of the groups represented. The deportment and appearance of the singers was exceptional and their performance exceptionally good in view of the little time afforded for rehearsal. The smoothness with which the various groups got on and off the stage enabled them to present the entire program in less than an hour-and-a-half.

Miss Norma Farrar, blind president of girls' student government at University of New Hampshire, opened the program impressively with a recent rendition of Malotte's arrangement of the Lord's Prayer, sympathetically accompanied by Lucy Wilcox Cushman.
From her appearance to the final organ notes, the program was done and very pleasing, the Staff and Key Society with its Gilbert and Sullivan music and the Girls Octette with their sprightly music, accompanied "Peter Piper", providing the right light note. Joseph Hancock and Phyllis Barrow were the soloists in the Mikado finale, and the three Little Maids were Cushman de Lance, Genevieve Croco and Pauline Kniffans. Hessler Enzick conducted this group and Mrs. Cushman played.
Mary Ranton Witham directed the numbers by the combined choir and her own group of women singers, whose presentation of the Brahms numbers was very finished. Grace Norton and Shiram Hovannian were the accompanists for the singers, and Mr. Brannen played for the choirs. Also well done were the numbers by the Mystic Glee Club, directed by Karli Snyder. Richard Jackson sang the baritone solo in the Battle Hymn of the Republic, and the accompanists were Mr. Brannen and the club accompanist, Mrs. Noel Middleton, whose percussion in the opening number was beautifully done.
Eleanor Anfantis directed the Junior High Boys Glee Club, the Winchester High Girls Glee Club and the Octette. David Bartlett played for the boys and Margaret Reid for the girls.
St. Mary's School Choir of boys and girls, first choral group to sing, were helpfully accompanied by the organ by Margaret A. Callahan.
Of much interest was the appearance of the New Hope Baptist Church Mixed Choir and the direction of Fred Wright and with Dorothy Rainey as accompanist. This group's singing of the spiritual, "Go Down Moses", was a real tone solo by Mr. Wright was full of appeal. Incidental solos in the Handel number were by Clement Barak and Lucy King.
Chairman Vincent Farnsworth of the Board of Selectmen told something of the town's early history in his introductory remarks, and at the conclusion of the program presented the parade float prizes and the Centennial poster prizes. First float prize went to George Washington School Mothers Association for its Washington Crossing the Delaware. Second Prize went to the American Legion for its float depicting Winchester's grade crossing. Third prize went to the Christopher Columbus Society for its float, The Santa Maria.
Poster Prizes went to Jan McMahon (D), Leon Fernandez (C), Susan Ordway (C) and Dean Neely (A). School prize went as follows: High School, Jan McMahon; Junior High, Betty Martensen; George Washington, Mary Jane Delorty; Mystic, Kathleen Delorty; St. Mary's, Peter Martey; Westman, David Levelette; Lincoln, Alice Fitzgerald; Noonan, Nancy Anderson; and Lewis Parkhurst, Lawrence Stone.
The auditorium was wired for a public address system and the concert could be heard outside by those who could not get in the hall.

Mr. Goodwin should be given to Miss Stinson through the operation the town's archives were made available and to Principal Raymond J. Dickman who worked untiringly with the board of selectmen in producing the finished program; George Snyder, chairman; Marie Dugan, Everett Holster, Paul Goodwin, and Ruth Berman.

TEA FOR TWO - OR MORE
EN KA STREET FAVOR, MAY 20

MR. MRS. GUILD

At the annual meeting and supper held in the Primary room on April 18, members and friends of the Mrs. Guild of the First Congregational Church had a wonderful time tasting everyone else's favorite recipe for a casserole, salad, or dessert. Mrs. Charles Whitton, Mrs. Frank R. Key, Jr., Mrs. Charles E. Clarke, Mrs. Harvey Haug, and Mrs. George Whitton all helped to make the supper and the evening most inviting and successful.

After supper, Director Mrs. David F. Choate, Jr. conducted the business meeting. Nominating chairman Mrs. F. Meredith Casper presented the following slate of officers who were duly elected for 1950:

Director - Mrs. Charles W. Tuzier
Assistant Director - Mrs. George D. Whitten
Recording Secretary - Mrs. Robert D. Lowry

Corresponding Secretary - Mrs. Lawrence E. Beckley
Deviations - Mrs. David F. Choate, Jr.
Finance - Mrs. Harrison B. Simpson

Membership - Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald and Mrs. Seymour W. Russell Program - Mrs. Otis Jason
Social - Mrs. Otis Jason
Nominating - Mrs. Donald Palmer

Publicity - Mrs. Colman Wallace
Project - Mrs. Robert M. Mayford

Fair Table - Mrs. Clifford M. Hammel and Mrs. William M. Barlowe

It was anticipated that summer meetings will be held in the homes this year at which time sewing and knitting will be done in preparation for the Fair to be held in November. These meetings are always much looked forward to as they provide a grand opportunity for friendly sociability as well as accomplishment.

WELLESLEY CLUB

SMITH COLLEGE CLUB

PLANT SALE AND LUNCHEON

Tickets will soon go on sale for the Winchester Wellesley Club's third Winchester Mornings season, for which the committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. B. Gardner Bradlee, has chosen a group of three very interesting speakers for its program next fall.

On the first "Morning", to take place October 6, 1950, John Cowdrey, Director of the Harvard University Art Museums, will speak. As a writer, professor, and lecturer Dr. Cowdrey has gained wide fame in the artistic and architectural world. After his graduation from Harvard in 1915, he studied at Columbia University, New York University, and Princeton University. Before coming to Harvard as Assistant Professor of Fine Arts in 1917, he taught Art at Vassar College and at the University of Pennsylvania. He has lectured at many American universities and art museums, as well as in Liverpool and London, England. He has written articles on the modern house, box set housing, and on many other subjects of great interest to today's homeowner.

Winchester Mornings ticketholders will have the good fortune on October 27th of hearing Rudolph F. Elice, Jr., Music Critic and Commentator on the Boston Herald-Traveler, give what he terms a "light talk".

Mr. Elice's travelogue readers are no doubt familiar with Mr. Elice's succinct yet comprehensive reviews of musical events in Boston, and with his amusing column entitled "The Evening Eye" which appears on the Herald's editorial page. In this column Mr. Elice covers a wide variety of subjects, ranging from the town's habits peculiar to the much advertised little annual known as the hamster, to the program of an opera produced by the Takemura Girls' Opera in Japan.

Mr. Elice has a reputation of speaking with as much humor and finesse as he with intellect. His talk will surely be an entertaining one.

The Committee has been fortunate in being able to obtain St. Louis once again as its third and final speaker. Mr. Duane American, New Editor of the Christian Science Monitor, will speak on November 17th, and his subject will be "The World on War and Peace". 1949 Monitor's bookholders will remember with enthusiasm the interesting discussion of the United States-Russia relationship he gave in his talk last fall. His ability to cover such a large territory in a short space of time is truly remarkable. His 1950 talk will be an up-to-date picture of the latest developments in world news which no one should miss.

The Winchester Mornings, sponsored by the Winchester Wellesley Club, will be held at the Music Hall on Bacon Street, each of the three programs taking place on a Friday. Coffee will be served at 10:00 o'clock, with the lecture beginning at 10:15. Mrs. Lombard H. Caldwell is in charge of tickets. Also on the Committee for the series, under Mrs. Bradlee's chairmanship, are Mrs. F. M. Blanchard, Mrs. Austin B. Bunker, Mrs. Wayne E. Davis, Mrs. Thomas M. Downes, Mrs. Ralph T. Jones, Mrs. Lawrence W. Lunt, Jr., Mrs. Charles T. Ma, H., and Mrs. Albert D. Swazey.

The S. H. Guilds of Winchester are expecting Dr. and Mrs. William C. Cooke of San Diego, California, the week beginning May seventh. Dr. Cooke is with the Rees-Steady Unit and will take a medical case at Harvard. Mrs. Cooke is Mrs. Girden's sister, and the Guilds are looking forward to their visit very much.

Inspired by the wonderful Century of Progress parade last Saturday, Winchester gardeners are now determined to make Winchester's second Hundred Years Anniversary of Beauty, judging from the interest being shown in the Smith College Club's ninth annual Plant Sale and Luncheon scheduled for Saturday, May 13th, at Central Green. All the old favorites, the annual and perennial Phlox, the double and single Asters, the mixed Yuccas, etc., are being tendered, and as well as the new Fire Chief Potunia and in the two new varieties of lilacs which will bloom this year. Working hard on the Plant Committee are: Mrs. Henry Spencer, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. Gilbert Hood, Jr., Mrs. Arthur Bertrig, Mrs. Stanley Neill, Mrs. Robert Albert, Mrs. Gilbert Tapley, Mrs. Albert Haskell, Mrs. J. Waldo Bond, Mrs. Robert Drake, Mrs. Clinton Farnham, Mrs. Maxwell Fish, Mrs. James Doty and Mrs. Frederick Walsh.

The large Luncheon Committee, headed by Mrs. Neil H. Bodden, Mrs. Clarence P. Whitford, Mrs. Boven Tufts and Mrs. Clark Collins asking for reservations to be made by May 10th with Mrs. Raymond Wilkins, Ticket Chairman, (Winchester 6-0317) so that they can plan on plenty of those famous home made hot rolls to go with the delicious chicken salad. There will be more of that spicy tomato aspic, and plenty of tiny home made cakes with the dessert of ice cream and fresh strawberry sauce.

The poppin' Hot Dog Stand in the center of the Green will be open all day, from 10 o'clock on, for those between-time snacks, and for those who prefer to eat the very best of the hot dogs, Mr. Thorntons, and Mr. Gilbert Hood, with their assistants Mr. Thornton Stearns and Mr. Sanborn Vincent, will be the hot dog stand.

FROM CENTENNIAL

COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

Editor of the Star:

Thomas A. Kempis is quoted as having said that "occasions do not make a man either strong or weak; they show what he is." The occasion of Winchester's Centennial celebration, coming as it does, has proved his point by demonstrating the strength in heart, mind, and body of our many citizens who brought this historic important affair to such a happy conclusion.To the music committee members vested with the responsibility of wishing the people of Winchester a happy 100th birthday through the medium of a choral festival, I extend my sincere thanks for a job exceptionally well done.In three short weeks Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham accomplished the impossible. While employing only one to most ably released and set the combined efforts of Winchester in music of her own selection, she used the other to lead the accomplished Mary Witham Singers in Brahms Four Love Songs — and to fold programs!To Francis E. Smith, the guiding light of our committee, Miss Eleanor Anfantis who charmed us with her Junior and Senior High School Glee Clubs and Oratorio, to Mrs. Virgil J. Gilmard, who, with her special committee so smoothly staged the entire program of choral talent, to George Hebb, Jr., who brought to us the choicest selection from "The Mikado" by the Staff and Key with Hassler Einzig directing, to Norma Farrar and her brilliant rendition of "The Lord Prayer", to Dorothy Rainey who brightened the program with her New Hope Baptist Church Choir, to Keith Snyder and the very fine Mystic Glee Club, and to our extended chairman of the board of selection, Mr. Vincent Farnsworth, Jr., to all of the able and abundantly special commendation is due.I wish that I could mention by name every contributor, whether composer, church organization, and individual who either participated in or contributed to making this program such a success, but the Winchester Star is so small generously allowed me the space to collectively express my appreciation to all of you who added a page of community good to the history of Winchester.

BREAKDOWN ON A BREAKDOWN

I have compiled the following balance sheet to illustrate the status of the working population of this country as it must sometimes seem to most of us. The figures are certified for the year ending December 31, 1949:

Population of the United States 135,000,000

People 65 years or older 37,000,000

Balance left to do the work 98,000,000 the Armed Forces representation. A lot of work went into the producing of this section not only on the part of the participating officers and men, but on the part of countless others who never appear at all and never receive any credit. The writer felt sorry for the men who must make the trip back to Devens and then clean the guns; for the danger of exposing the musical instruments to the rain; and for all parade participants civilian and military.The writer would like to pay public thanks to Mr. Edward A.

Bartlett and Mr. Norton Demsey, Jr., who were marshals of the 1st and 2nd Divisions. To Mr. Bartlett fell the job of straightening out all the kinks arising at the last minute because of the weather and he did a grand job. That weather situation was the climax to many hours of meetings and planning.Our thanks, also, to Mr. and Mrs.
Philip Woodard who so graciously opened their home to the above Committee for a reception given the visiting officers and press; to the

NOTES AND COMMENT

Editor of the Star:

I note with interest the remark of Huntington Clarks, U. S. Consul since 1934, and former book reviewer for the Baltimore Sun, who seems a bit bothered as he says, saying, "I could write of our business praising a book to the skies, and it wouldn't affect the book's sales the slightest bit. But when I ban a book, it becomes a best seller overnight. Everybody rushes out to buy a copy."We detect in this incident a sort of weird commentary on the various degrees of censorship, and on human nature in general. And it is a bit appalling to contemplate! In human affairs, there must be some degree of the negative. If so, how small must be the effect of the thousands of sermons in our churches each Sunday, and the earnest exhortations of our business evangelists, telling us what we should do!How small the influence of a single word, particularly of the type telling us how to live, love, and be happy, with which our bookstores are currently overflowing! Human nature, however, has small regard for admonitions, but how it does react to a prohibition! (We found this out through bitter experience in the case of the "Mikado," the musical which is still out of the fruit of the one forbidden tree in all the gardens. Vasey Young gave

WASHINGTON SCHOOL NEWS

In observance of the 100th birthday of our town, the pupils of Grades 4 and 5 presented a Centennial Program on Friday, April 14 at 10:45 o'clock.

The scene was painted by the grade six.

One hundred hunters were following the tracks of a deer. These deer tracks led them to a hill, which overlooked the present town of Winchester.

Hunters: James Barlow, John O'Donnell, Richard Huff, John Fitzgerald, and Allen Melachy.

One of the hunters was also a scientist, Lawrence. Barksdale played that part. The date was about 1635.

Sung by: Carol Eaton, Sandra Burr, Norma Crockett, Carolyn Parks, James Kennedy, Edward Morse, Albert Ducharme, Danny Chane.

In Scene Two the characters were: Squaw Suchem — Phyllis Schiraga.

Webbeow, who was the medicine man of the tribe and was Squaw Suchem's husband — Teddy Seaver.

Squaw Suchem's Sons — Jackie Coakley, Bill Morton, Dickie Low, Little Indian Friends of Squaw Suchem's Sons — James Kennedy, Doug Gowdy, Joseph Donovan.

The hunters were in the scene also.

Scene Three
Place — The Place where Squaw Suchem's wigwam stood many years ago. The Winchester Country Club stands there today.

Time — Friday, April 24th, 1950 after school.

The children at the club were: Carolyn Parks, Norma Crockett, Sally MacArthur, Lincoln Morison, Ann Tofani, Kenzie Erb, Jan Chaffee, Albert Ducharme, Lee Wright.

Time — Friday, April 24th, 1950 Place — George Washington School.

Teacher — Miss Carol Eaton, a former Winchester School Student.

Pupils — Paul Haggerty, Arthur Graham, Ernest Cantella, Kim Harris, Connie Ewell played the piano during the program.

Indian Dance by Jackie Coakley, James Kennedy, Billy Morton, Doug Gowdy, Dickie Low, Joseph Donovan.

MISS NUTTER ELECTED

Nancy H. Nutter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winslow A. Nutter of 3 Black Horse Tavern, Winchester, has been elected to membership in the Winchester Country Club.

CONGREGATIONAL POP CONCERT

Miss Patricia Rodgers, young soprano, will be the featured soloist with the orchestra of the First Congregational Church at the Pop Concert to be given Friday evening, May 12, in the Parish Hall of the church at 8:15 o'clock. It will be the first full concert appearance of the orchestra.

Miss Rodgers, a student at the New England Conservatory of Music, has had extensive experience in solo work. She has sung on numerous radio broadcasts and has been a member of the Cincinnati Summer Zoo Opera and May Festival. She is soloist with the First Church in Boston and is preparing to return to Tanglewood for her third year as a member of the opera theatre under Boris Goldovsky. She has performed Handel's Messiah in both Cincinnati and Boston.

Conductor of the Congregational orchestra is Herbert Clement, a resident of Winchester and also a member of the New England Conservatory of Music. He has studied conducting both at the conservatory and in Munich, under the Armenian conductor Krikor Agop.

He is the stage director of the newly-formed Little Opera Company in Boston.

Musical works of many styles and periods have been arranged for the forthcoming concert, ranging from serious compositions to current popular selections. The orchestra personnel is as follows: First violins, Mrs. Robert A. Drake, Helen E. Goodwin, Mrs. Winifred S. Hanson and Mrs. C. P. Thomas; second violins, Rex T. Crandall and Mrs. George E. Niles; viola, Alan Johnson; cellos, George S. Hehl, Jr., and Leonore Rich; flute, Mrs. Bruce W. Cunningham; clarinets, James S. Allen and Mrs. William M. Burrows; trumpet, Harry W. Wood; trombone, Clifford M. Moore; piano, Mrs. Elford M. Hammel.

THE MISSION UNION GUILD

The Mission Union Guild will hold its final meeting of the season at the First Congregational church on Tuesday, May 9, 1950, in the morning, starting at 10:00 o'clock. Miss Grace Pound and Miss Margaret Sands will supervise the usual sewing period devoted to the social service projects of the Guild.

The Mission Union Guild will meet at noon, and lunch will be served. The Guild is a social club by co-chairmen, Mrs. Roger M. Tolman and Mrs. Everett W. Goss and their committee, Mrs. Frederic B. Wadsworth, District Mission Union, will conduct the brief business meeting after lunch and the social service project.

The Guild is a social club by co-chairmen, Mrs. Roger M. Tolman and Mrs. Everett W. Goss and their committee, Mrs. Frederic B. Wadsworth, District Mission Union, will conduct the brief business meeting after lunch and the social service project.

Born into an Ohio Reformed name, Miss Blenker is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Blenker. At present, her father is the pastor of the Union Evangelical and Reformed Church of Bascom, Ohio.

During her teaching years in Turkey, Syria, Palestine, and Egypt, she has a well-rounded picture of the American flag, the flag of Israel, and the flag of the United States.

She will draw from her extensive knowledge of this area in her address before the Mission Union Guild on Tuesday afternoon.

VALUABLE PREHISTORIC RELICS TO BE SHOWN AT MID-CENTURY SHOW

A valuable collection of prehistoric stone age relics will be featured at the "Mid-Century Show" which will be held in the Mechanics Building which opens Monday, May 8, and continues through Saturday, May 13, from 10:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The Exposition, sponsored by members of New England Antiques Association, will include rare articles excavated from caves and cliff ruins in this country and Europe.

Included in this collection of museum antiques are paleolithic tools, spears, stone implements, notched stone bones, flint knives, old shell objects, stone spades, pottery, stone dishes, bone and stone weapons, and primitive tools. Artifacts and skulls unearthed in America and Scandinavia will also be included.

A historic article to be exhibited will be a cushion made from a piece of General Burgoyne's quilt, taken at the time of his capture in the early days of our nation's history.

Also among the 4,000,000 articles will be rare clocks, silver, all kinds of carved and painted, old colonial house articles, fine hand-made furniture, china, pewter, old prints, handcrafted jewelry, firearms, odd buttons, toys, and countless other items.

Willis Haviland Carrier, II, of 325 Highland avenue, is named by the Bureau of Naval Personnel as one of the 450 alternate candidates for the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps.

WINCHESTER TOASTMASTRESS CLUB

A Joint Meeting of The Winchester Toastmistress Clubs will be celebrated on Tuesday evening, May 9, at the Winchester Public Library, 8:00 P. M. This will be the first time these three Clubs have joined together in such an event, and all are looking forward to the occasion with keen anticipation.

Friends of Club members are extended a cordial invitation to attend this Joint Club Meeting, and will have an opportunity to observe Toastmistresses at work.

Miss Hilda Fio, President of the Winchester Toastmistress Club will preside at the meeting. The program will be conducted in the usual Toastmistress form, and has been arranged by the three Presidents of the Clubs participating.

Representing The Winchester Club: Mrs. Helen Pietz, Junior Past President, has chosen for her 5 minute speech the topic, "The Window." Miss Mac MacDonough of Dorchester will be the evaluator, and Mrs. Ruth Kelley of Winchester will act as the judge.

Representing The Quincy Club: The 5 minute speaker will be Mrs. Mary Emmannuelle, of Weymouth, whose subject is "Schools and Mrs. Jeanette Sabel will be the evaluator. Mrs. Earl Baker, president of the club, will be the Toastmistress for the evening.

Representing The Wellesley Club: Mrs. Leonard Edel, president of the club, will be the Topic Mistress for the evening, the subject of Mrs. Margaret Time's 5 minute speech will be "Dreamers of Dreams," and Mrs. Ann Chaffee, evaluator.

The members of each club will give a one or two minute extemporaneous speech on topics assigned by the Toastmistress, her respective club. Every member of a Toastmistress Club has an opportunity to participate in all meetings, which is part of the training program of the club.

Toastmistress International is in complete accord with these active groups, and is most anxious to establish an Area Council here in the East at an early date.

Respectful submitted, Mrs. Alice H. Caldwell, Publicity Chairman, Winchester Toastmistress Club, 65 St. Mary's street, Brookline, Mass., H-509 247-0.

COLLEGE CLUB ACT STUDY GROUP

The most interesting course, "Museum Treasures," given this past season for the College Club Act Study Group had its final meeting on Thursday afternoon, April 27, this was a trip to the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum in the Fenway, which approximately fifty members of the group and guests enjoyed.

The tour of the museum was broken by a musical given in the great treasury room. Mr. Andrew Heath, Jr. pianist, and Miss Virginia — Gene Shankel, violinist, were the artists.

At four o'clock, everyone was invited to have coffee and delectable sandwiches, made by the committee members, with Mrs. John Dalzell in charge of the tea. Mrs. John E. Longfellow and Mrs. Richard Wyman poured, and were assisted by Mrs. Adin Bailey, Mrs. Robinson Abbott, Mrs. Joshua Whitman, Mrs. Frank Ennis, Mrs. James Allen and Mrs. Waldo Lyon.

The flowers in the courtyard were, as always, a joy to see. Fine musical notes floated in the air, and the strong, vivid colors made a gorgeous picture, softened as they were and there by pots of charming white lilies and sprays of white and pink orchids. The beauty of the carpeted staircases as they cascaded down the walls of the courtyard, their high balconies was breathtaking.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

Centennial Float

The Fortnightly is greatly indebted to George McEldred of Ardley road, Winchester, who designed and built the Centennial float representing The Fortnightly in the beautiful Govean Temple arrangement.

Mr. McEldred spent much thought and many hours of work on the design. We are grateful indeed. And to Mr. Stafford Rogers of Winchester we also extend our gratitude for the beautiful signs, it was good to see such public-spirited cooperation.

The float depicted several of the smaller Winchester groups which were established through The Fortnightly. The Glee Club was first introduced into Winchester by The Fortnightly. The Shakespeare Club was organized by The Fortnightly in 1881. The District Nurses Association was one of the outstanding accomplishments of Club work.

Scholarships was also one of the club's achievements having been established in 1893. The Studio Guild is an outgrowth of The Fortnightly Act Committee and the other branch represented on the float was The Mary Wintham Singers, formerly known as The Fortnightly Glee Club, having represented the club in many outstanding programs.

Mary Ranton Wintham, manager and director of the Wintham Singers was also director of The Fortnightly Glee Club for several years.

The Fortnightly is also indebted to the Aquatic Grain Company of Woburn who loaned their handsome new truck, with many happy driver, Mr. Harry Staples of Burlington, and to the following young women represented on the float.

Elizabeth Hall — Scholarship
Miss Marilyn Hisee — District Nurse
Miss Dorothy Brandt — Mary Wintham Singers
Miss Ruth Allen as Juliet — Shakespeare Club
Miss Barbara Bigelow — Studio Guild
Mrs. Hazel Cary — Girl Scout
Fortnightly members all along the route cheered heartily as they passed. A big hand was given to the two cars directly behind carrying two past Presidents and the new President who took office in April. They were as follows:

Mrs. Nathaniel Nichols 1911-1913
Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth 1921-1923
Mrs. Walter M. Winship 1931-1933
Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor 1935-1937
Mrs. Robert Arnold Reynolds 1937-1939
Mrs. Paul H. Howard 1939-1941
Mrs. Clifton S. Hall 1941-1944
Mrs. Warren C. Whitman 1944-1946
Mrs. Marshall Symmes 1946-1948
Mrs. Harold H. Given 1948-1950
Mrs. Kenneth B. Hisee 1950-

Much gratitude is expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Green who so graciously opened their home at 27 Sheffield road for a meeting place for The Fortnightly contingent.

And many thanks to The Fortnightly Executive Committee, to Mrs. Paul Howard as Chairman, to Mrs. Clifton S. Hall as Sub-Chairman (in charge of personnel and costumes) and to the following faithful and hard working members: Ruth Priest, Caroline Fitts, Hannah Abbe, Marion Symmes, Aggie Given, Elizabeth Hisee and Anna Grosvenor.

And, Oh Yes, just to keep the record straight, it rained!

Committee Notes
Mrs. Kenneth Hisee, new President of The Fortnightly called her first Board meeting on April 17, 10 A. M. a breakfast snack, delightfully served prefaced the call to order. There were 24 chairman present all eager to serve their new President, Mrs. Hisee, a native of New Bedford, Mass., and a concert pianist of note, has lived in Winchester several years. She is well known and well loved in The Fortnightly group and we hail her as our 24th President.

Quite characteristic of our new chairman of the Club House Fund Committee — Mrs. Lora Rhodes — was her first Board meeting, which Mrs. Rhodes entertained her committee and other officials of The Fortnightly by serving a delicious luncheon followed by a pep talk on the subject of raising club house funds. A guest speaker from Waban, Mass., Mrs. John W. Fournier gave some first hand information on fund raising projects. A profitable afternoon was enjoyed.

HONORABLE MENTION FOR PARADE FLOATS

Due to the general excellence of all the Centennial Parade Floats, Winchester's One Hundredth Anniversary Committee has announced honorable mention to the float in addition to the three prize winners: Veterans of Foreign Wars, The Fortnightly, American Red Cross, Winchester Home and Garden Club, Knights of Columbus, Winchester Historical Society and Sons of Italy. The League of Women Voters and the Chamber of Commerce are also standing as special units, and the Harem Float of Koko Bodakian and Sons was ranked with the merchants floats, and ranked with the six best of the entire parade.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes are now occupying their new home at 39 Canterbury road. Their former home on Ravenscroft road has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Green of Lexington.

UNITARIAN MEN'S CLUB

Dr. A. Warren Stearns, Head of the Department of Sociology at Tufts College and former Commissioner of Correction for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, will be the speaker for the final meeting of the Unitarian Men's Club on Monday evening, May 15th. The meeting will begin with a supper at 6:15 p. m. A short business meeting including the Election of Officers and Treasurers Report will precede Dr. Stearns' talk. His subject, "Modern Concepts of Crime," is one of most vital interest and importance to our present-day social structure.

Dr. Stearns has had a lifelong interest and a vast experience in bringing the advances in medical and social sciences into the field of penology. He was graduated from Tufts College Medical School where he served as Professor and Dean for many years. He was psychiatrist to the Massachusetts State Prison and is at present Medical Director of the State Farm at Bridgewater. He served in the Navy during both World Wars.

The Men's club is fortunate in having a man of such ability and background as its speaker. It is hoped that all members and their friends will be on hand at this final meeting to make it a successful close to the 1949-50 Men's Club activities.

TO RECEIVE DEGREES AT SMITH

Two Winchester girls will be among the candidates for the A. B. degree at Smith College this June. Commencement exercises, which will be out of doors for the first time in the history of the college, will be held in June 1st.

The girls from Winchester are Miss Margaret Parkhurst and Miss Sara Ray.

Miss Parkhurst, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parkhurst of Oak Knoll, majored in Government at Smith. She was prepared at Winchester High School and has been on the Dean's List, an honor accorded students maintaining an average of "B" or better.

Miss Ray, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Binchard of Calumet, was a class song leader during her junior and senior years and a member of the Smiththereas, a college orchestra, for last two years. She was a member of the Dance group her junior year, and a co-author of this year's senior song, as well as many other college and class songs. She will be head of music for the Ivy Day procession.

Susan Hight of 21 Lehigh road, a student at the New England Conservatory of Music in the Popular Music Dept., will appear in a concert of popular music May 15 in Jordan Hall. She will sing, "A rainy day on Beacon Hill." This concert, with additions, will be repeated the following night, May 16, in the Hatch Memorial Shell as part of the Boston Music Festival.

PARENT — TEACHER FRIENDLY FROLIC

The date Wednesday, May 24th.
The time 7 p. m.
The place Town Hall.

What's this? Why, yes — the reservations for the Parent-Teacher Friendly Frolic have been coming in so fast that there isn't another place in town large enough to serve the gathering.

This informal social evening of the parents and teachers in Winchester will start off with pre-dinner parties in private homes. Dinner will be served at 7 p. m. in the Town Hall by a caterer. And from there on the evening is being planned by Dr. Norris. This entertainment is still a secret, and as we all know, anything planned by him would alone be worth the price of an admission.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB

Snipe Racing Starts Saturday,
May 20th

The racing schedule for the 1950 Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet has just been released by Parker Blanchard and reveals that the first point-to-point race of the season will be sailed at 8:00 P. M. Saturday, May 20th. The cold, soggy April weather delayed work on many of the Fleet's boats, but the recent warm week-end put the racing fever into most of the skippers and by race time there should be a dozen or more sleek Snipes ready to answer the starting gun.

The pre-season favorite to win the fleet championship is Ken Cook who is expected to repeat his fine '49 victory. His chief opposition should come from Mal Moller, Pete Redding, Jim Newman, Ted Burleigh and the Seamon Brothers if they get a boat. The Fleet Flounders shape up as a pretty formidable race, too, headed by Rodney Long, Al Litchfield, Gus West, Parker Blanchard, Ned Morse, Bart Sullivan, Jim Snow, Al Adams and Earl Diener. The fleet has one question mark — Wendell Irving, who has just launched a swift looking Snipe — but has yet to test it in a race. And to round out the gang there's Daw Blumire and Carl Freyer who puzzle no one.

All in all it looks like another season packed with thrills and excitement and if you're not one of the actual contestants, we can't think of a better way to spend a Saturday afternoon or Sunday morning, than to come down to the Merry Mystic and cheer your favorite to victory.

Club Chatter

Here's real good news. Starting Sunday (May 21st) Steward Maxwell will serve a luscious Buffet Supper at the Club for only 95¢ per person. Here's a swell way to spend Sunday evening with some of the gang. Just to ship Mr. Maxwell plan ahead, why not let him know you're coming and how many of you there'll be. Supper will be served at 6:30 P. M. but why not stick around and play cards or shuffle board or dance. Last week-end's warmth brought out some of the Club's champions sunbathing in shorts. We'll keep you posted as to when the first Bikini bathing suit brightens up the scenery. And speaking of the scenery, the Club has just been re-roofed, it's due to get a coat of paint shortly, has a rainbow assortment of new chairs on the grounds, plus some gay and very useful beach umbrellas. Last week we casually mentioned that there were a few membership openings at the Club and last week-end most of them were filled. The membership chairman has just informed me that we're almost at capacity, so if you've been planning to join, better get an application blank right away.

Miss Elizabeth Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Collins, is home from State University Hospital, Iowa, where she is employed. She will remain here for a fortnight before returning to Iowa.

ROCKPORT CELEBRATION

"Annual Motif One Day," is to be held at the Wharf, Bearskin Neck, Rockport this coming Sunday, May 14. This is the first annual Motif One Day to be held, it being sponsored by the Board of Selectmen and Board of Trade, fishermen and artists. A short program will be presented including the unveiling of the plaque of the "most painted building in the world." An exhibition of painting and photographic studies will be shown and square dancing will take place on town wharf with Motif One in the background.

FRED W. HEANEY

NEW FUEL OIL TO BE DISTRIBUTED BY CUMMINGS AND CHUTE, INC.

Considered to be the most important fuel oil development in 15 years, the new Shell FOA-5X fuel oil will be distributed in this territory by Cummings and Chute, Inc., of Woburn.

Fred W. Heaney, president of Cummings and Chute, announces that deliveries of the new oil will start immediately.

"In recent years," said Mr.

Heaney, "there has been little to choose between the better brands of fuel oil. Now, suddenly, the picture has changed. The Shell Oil Company, who are acknowledged leaders in fuel oil research work, have been quietly testing a new burner fuel for the past three years in several thousand selected homes. — The results have been sensational. Not a single case of oil burner failure due to clogged oil filters or screens was reported."

"That is an amazing record when it is realized that clogged oil lines account for the major part of our service troubles."

"This," Mr. Heaney stated, "is what we have been needing and asking for — a fuel oil which would not foul up and clog our oil burners. Ever since I read the report of an independent laboratory on this new oil I have been anxious to obtain it for our customers."

"Based on the use of this oil we have already made a drastic cut in the price of our oil burner service contracts. Thanks to the thorough field testing it has undergone we know what we can expect of it."

When asked why this new Shell fuel was called FOA-5X, Mr. Heaney explained: "That happened to be the laboratory designation of the ingredient which finally gave the results they were after, when added to No. 2 fuel oil. The letters FOA mean 'fuel oil additive' and the 5X was the laboratory number of the experiment which was successful. Instead of coming an artificial name they decided simply to continue calling it FOA-5X."

"I think one of the most remarkable demonstrations of this new fuel's effectiveness," continued Mr. Heaney, "is the way it will clean out an old tank, or even clean an old oil filter that is already partially filled up with sludge and oil residue."

Moreover, as an added feature, it also retards the formation of rust and scale — greatly prolonging the life of the oil tank.

In fact, Mr. Heaney went on, "this year, for the first time, we are able to offer our oil customers a service contract which specifies free replacement of ALL burner parts, including filters, nozzles and even the oil tank itself — something that has never been done before in this business."

"I know that our customers are going to be as enthusiastic as we are about this new product — particularly when they learn that Shell FOA-5X costs no more than regular oil."

NAVY HONORS TO LATE CONGRESSMAN

The late Congressman George J. Bates, of Salem, Massachusetts, who was killed in a tragic airplane accident in Washington, D. C. in November 1949, will be honored by a memorial to be erected at the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center in Salem, and dedicated on Armed Forces Day, Saturday, May 20th, 1950.

The memorial will be in the form of a plaque mounted on a large stone surrounded with appropriate landscaping, and will be erected on land specially leased to the Navy by the National Park Service. The plans were approved in Washington last week by the Navy, the House Armed Services Committee and the Department of the Interior (National Park Service).

Principal speaker at the May 20 dedication ceremonies will be Congressman Dewey Short of Missouri, ranking Republican member of the House Armed Services Committee and close associate of the late Congressman Bates.

The memorial, authorized by a resolution of the House Armed Services Committee, will bear the following inscription: "George J. Bates, 1886 - 1949. Distinguished Citizen. Served General Court 1918 - 1924; Mayor of Salem 1924 - 1927; Member of Congress 1937 - 1949. The U. S. Navy, in recognition of his outstanding efforts in Naval Affairs, has erected this memorial. It was placed here as he, when Mayor, was instrumental in having this area reserved as the Salem Shortline National Historic Site."

TROOP 12

On Tuesday, May second, in the Legion Home a Fashion Show and Tea was given by the 7th and 8th grade Girl Scouts for their mothers. Excitement ruled, as girls buzzed around doing things and then finding them. Everything that was modeled was worn by the girls themselves. The girls chose clothes were shown were: Janice Allen, Marie Ferri, Elizabeth Baggett, Peggy McNally, Jeanne Valpey, Caroline Curry, Margaret Finn, Lorraine Mangano, and Peggy Weaver.

After the fashion show, Mrs. Valpey, the hostess, announced tea, which was poured by Mrs. McGreggs, one of our leaders. Punch which was very good was served to the girls. The refreshments were delicious and a good time was had by all.

Winchester ladies in the list of patronesses for the benefit to be held May 15 to 27 at Bonwit Teller's, when three miniature stores will be open for the benefit of the Boston Lying-in Hospital include Mrs. Gilbert Hood, Jr., and Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood.

FOA-5X

NEW DISCOVERY ELIMINATES MAJOR CAUSE OF OIL BURNER SERVICE CALLS

● Here's good news for both old and new customers of Cummings & Chute! New Shell Fuel Oil now contains a unique ingredient FOA-5X developed to KEEP FILTER SCREENS CLEAN during the entire heating season. If you are not using Shell Fuel Oil, be sure to get the entire story before arranging for next season's fuel oil supply.

FOA-5X KEEPS FILTER SCREENS CLEANED. Clogged filter screens have long been recognized as a major cause of oil burner service calls. Because of the anti-clogging property of FOA-5X, Shell Fuel Oil for home heating CLEANS AS IT HEATS. IT IS THE MOST IMPORTANT FUEL OIL DEVELOPMENT IN 15 YEARS.

SHELL SCIENTISTS WORKED FOR 15 YEARS. Twelve years of Shell research have gone into the development of FOA-5X, and three additional years were spent testing it in thousands of homes with burner units of all types and with only normal summer maintenance. In every test the result was the same: NOT A SINGLE CASE OF BURNER FAILURE DUE TO A CLOGGED FILTER SCREEN WAS REPORTED!

FOA-5X HELPS KEEP YOUR FUEL TANK FROM RUSTING. More news too: new Shell Fuel Oil with FOA-5X has a powerful anti-rust action - - retards the formation of rust and scale inside your storage tank.

Mrs. Donald F. Conners, chairman and all the En Ka members are very busy these days making final preparations for the 14th Annual Street Fair, "En Ka Cavalcade", which will be held on the Town Hall Grounds a week from tomorrow, Saturday, May 20. This year the Mayday will be in full swing the night before, on Friday, May 19, from 6 to 10 p. m. Added attractions on Friday night will be the "Meaty Go-Round", Ferris Wheel and, so that nobody will go hungry, hot dogs, hot coffee and tonics will be for sale.

On Saturday morning, May 20, at 10 o'clock the Town Hall Grounds will be the gayest spot in town for at that hour the En Ka Cavalcade will formally open, promising loads of fun and excitement and a good time for everybody until 12 midnight when the 1950 Street Fair will close.

There will be plenty of delicious home cooked food at the Bakery Booth or Dutch Oven. Mrs. Harold N. Stevens and her committee are making sure that all the En Ka members will show what good food they can turn out. Also, Miss Elvonne Dow, Chairman of the Candy Booth, and her committee will show what delicious candy they can turn out. And while we are speaking of food we mustn't forget the delectable supper being served by Mrs. Walter Keyes and her committee. There will be baked beans, ham, cole slaw, Johnny cake, coffee or milk and meringues with ice-cream and chocolate sauce for 99 cents.

Mrs. Roland E. Carter, Chairman of the Garden Booth and her committee are planning a delightful array of cut flowers, plants, etc., for your selection.

Mrs. Philip H. Bartlett and her committee have a collection of unique articles in their Attie Booth which you won't want to miss.

The donation books for the $500 trip, the Television Set and the Matched Linenage will be on sale at Filene's on Friday, May 12, from 7 to 9 p. m. and on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, May 17, 18 and 19 from 1 to 4:30 p. m. FORUM ATTENDS PILGRIM FELLOWSHIP RALLY

On Sunday, May 7, at 3:00 p. m., 45 Forum members and officers met at the church and proceeded to the Rally of the Woburn Association of the Pilgrim Fellowship at the First Congregational Church of Reading.

The Rally began with a registration and a sing. Then the group went upstairs to the sanctuary for a short worship and the business of the day. Forum had the largest group attending with 15 present. The group divided up into seminar groups to discuss Boy and Girl Relations in an hour of very valuable talk.

Next came a get-acquainted period directed by Mrs. Tarr and then the group dispersed for a chicken pie dinner and a song fest. Last the went upstairs for worship and installation of officers for the coming year. Two Forum members were elected to their positions. Forum is very proud of having Nancy Kittell, a co-chair man of the Social Committee in Forum, elected as President of the Woburn Association Pilgrim Fellowship. This is the second time in three years that the President has come from Forum. Ruthie Morse having been President two years ago when she was Vice-President of Forum. Don Cameron was elected as Recreation Chairman.

The service closed with a talk by Rev. John Robertson, who was assistant minister in Winchester a few years ago.

MADELINE M. DYSON IS CLASS OFFICER

Miss Madeline M. Dyson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Dyson of 320 Washington street, was recently elected Treasurer of her class at the Academie Moderne in Boston. She is also a member of the dance committee at the school.

President Roosevelt's Board said— President Truman's Board said— Still the leaders of the Railroad Firemen's "STRIKE!" Union say—

This ridiculous strike is an affront to every citizen of the nation. It's not for more money. It's not because of hours. It's only for soft feather-bedding spots for additional unnecessary firemen to go along in diesel locomotives just for the ride. A leading liberal newspaper calls the demands of the union leaders "horse-feathers"!

• The reckless leaders of the firemen's union want to force down the throats of the railroads and the public a ridiculous "make-work" proposal which has been twice ruled out by Presidential Fact Finding Boards duly appointed under the provisions of the Railway Labor Act.

This demand of union leaders for additional and unnecessary firemen to ride in diesel locomotives was rejected —after months of hearings—by a Board appointed by President Roosevelt in 1943.

It was again rejected in 1949 by a Board appointed by President Truman. Recent meetings with the National Mediation Board have brought no change in the attitude of the union dictators.

Union Leaders Defy Intent of Law

The union leaders helped write the Railway Labor Act. Yet in an attempt to jam through this scheme of pure

This strike is one of the silliest strikes in history!

What are these reckless union leaders trying to do? They seek to cause thousands of their members to strike, and throw hundreds of thousands of other employees on and off the railroads out of employment, with loss of pay to them and their families, plus a severe blow to industry and the citizens of the nation.

What's the strike all about? If the union has its way—what happens? The present members of the union won't get one cent more pay. They will merely have been assessed for a costly and indefensible drive in an attempt to provide more dues-paying members for the union by creating "feather-bedding" jobs for additional and unnecessary firemen.

This is certainly one of the silliest strikes in history!

nation for their own selfish purposes.

There is no other possible answer to such a demand but "No!"

The railroads in making such a reply believe they have the whole-hearted support of the people in whose interest they are willing to fight this out, despite the loss and inconvenience that all will suffer.

It is time to put an end to such un-American demands.

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk to you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

SQUANTUM NAVAL AIR BASE SUMMER PROGRAM

Editor of the Star:
Complying with many requests, the Winchester Military Manpower Committee presents in this issue of "The Star" a picture of the front row of the reviewing stand on 29th of April.

Answering many questions in re the summer program at the Squantum Naval Air Base, the writer is now able to state that this program starts approximately 26th of June and will be of eight weeks duration. Recruiting is now under way and those interested should see the Recruiting Officer, Squantum Naval Air Base on Saturdays and Sundays.

We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the Winchester Star on the excellent reporting job done in connection with the Anniversary parade. We feel sure "Jim" Pennington spent long and late hours getting all the details. The Star has again travelled far and wide enjoining the story of the military participation to the various HQS. An interesting result of this has been that when officers are transferred to Boston they call up to see if there is anywhere to live in Winchester.

Very truly yours,
Gladys N. Toye, Chairman
Winchester Military Manpower Committee

Crawford Memorial Methodist Church last Monday, under the auspices of the Sherman M. Dodge-Mer's Club, was made particularly interesting by the fact that one of the members of the church, Nelson K. Brown, told of the experience of his father-in-law, Benjamin M. Russell, who originated the idea which is now nationwide.

The book, "Twenty-five Years of Organized Boys Work in Massachusetts and Rhode Island," by H. W. Gibson, relates the first Father and Son Banquet of authentic record as being held in Providence, Rhode Island, Boys Dept., May 26, 1909. Mr. Russell was then Boys' Work Secretary and thought that it could be an excellent way of getting the fathers and sons better acquainted with their activities. He also understood the drawing power of a supper for boys, with their fathers on hand.

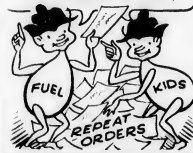

Perhaps many of the townspeople in Winchester will remember Mr. Russell in later years as head of the Winchester Junior Rifles Corps.

The excellent supper prepared by the Center Group of the W. S. C. S. along with the interesting experiences of Mr. Russell as related by Nelson Brown, plus some "top-notch" sports movies, provided an ideal evening for sons and fathers alike.

IN ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Editor of the Star:
As Superintendent of Schools, I feel that there is a matter to which I should give public recognition, and express also, my sincere appreciation and thanks for the splendid help that has been given our Music Department during the last few years.

I am referring to the financial aid that has been given Mr. Felmet in the purchasing of musical instruments by the En Ka Society. In the last few years, this organization has made outright gifts of several hundred dollars to be used by the public schools for the purchase of instruments. But for their fine help, Mr. Felmet would have been unable to carry on some of the instrumental work that he and Miss Goodwin have been doing.

I would like the citizens of the community to know of the very splendid help which En Ka has been doing for the Music Department in our schools. I want to thank En Ka publicly for this wonderful service.

Very sincerely yours,
Forbes H. Norris
Superintendent of Schools

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The Women's Republican Club of Winchester wishes to express publicly its thanks to the many generous friends who, through their contributions and tireless efforts, made it possible to have the original elephant float which was featured in the Centennial Parade.

Representing the Republican Town Committee were Mr. William J. Sheers, Jr., Mrs. Theodore El. Eliot, Vice Chairman, and Mr. Ralph Bonnell. Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes, President of the Republican Club, and her entire Board participated. Mr. W. Allan Wilde, Jr., President of the Twenty-one Club, with his complete Board had charge of the small elephant used in the parade which was symbolic of their Junior Club.

Gratefully,
Muriel S. Barnes, Pres.

DR. NORRIS FAVORS SCOUTING

That the Superintendent of the Winchester Schools, Dr. Forbes H. Norris is in favor of the scouting program and what it does for a boy is a foregone conclusion from the following statement made by him recently:

"Scouting is really a part of a community's educational program. It gives the boy the chance to do and learn things that the school and even the parent cannot give him. Becoming a good scout is a big step toward becoming a good American."

Forbes H. Norris,
Supt. of Schools

CHIEF BARROLD ENDORSES SCOUTING

That Chief Charles J. Barrold, a former scout himself, approves of the aims of scouting is revealed in the following statement made by him recently:

"In my opinion, Scouting is of great value in that it not only teaches the boys self-reliance, but of even greater importance, it teaches them good citizenship, love of country and respect for law and order."

The ground work for a future worth while citizen?

DEAN OF GIRLS AT WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Gretta L. Rowe, currently teaching at Castleton Teachers' College, Castleton, Vermont, has recently been elected Dean of Girls and Assistant Director of Guidance for Winchester High School.

Following her graduation from the University of Vermont in 1938, Miss Rowe taught at Orleans High School in Vermont until she went overseas as Club Activities Director for the American Red Cross during the war.

On her return from Europe, Miss Rowe studied sociology at Simmons College for one year, later attending the Harvard Graduate School of Education where she received a Master's Degree in Education.

Miss Rowe comes to Winchester next September highly recommended. She has had a variety of experience and training which show her well qualified for the important position. She has taught biology and social studies, has been supervisor of music in elementary schools, and at Teachers' College she has been teaching psychology and method of instruction.

Miss Dorothea MacKenzie of Washington street was a member of the luncheon committee for the Boston Chapter, American Institute of Banking luncheon held recently at the Copley Plaza.

What would YOU do?

Your police officers receive $61.31 for a 36 hour week . . . $3,188 per year . . . two weeks paid vacation . . . no allowance for uniforms.

Your firemen receive $60.12 for a 48 hour week . . . $3,132 per year . . . two weeks paid vacation . . . no allowance for uniforms.

(Police officers and firemen in general do not receive overtime pay for additional time worked, court appearances, etc., nor do they receive extra pay for holiday work . . . and they are subject to recall for emergency duty on day-off without additional compensation.)

Under their present contract, your bus operators receive $61.88 for a 40-hour week . . . or $1.50 per hour (plus 15 minutes daily allowance for "make-up" and "pullout" time) . . . plus time and one-half to time and seven-eighths for overtime . . . two weeks paid vacation (three weeks after 15 years service) . . . four paid holidays (at time and one-half if working) . . . pensions, sick benefits, hospitalization, etc., paid for by the company . . . allowances up to $25 per year for uniforms . . . and many other benefits.

The highest paid operator in the Melrose Division received $3,355.18 in 1949; highest paid mechanic received $3,625.85.

In current wage negotiations, the Union is asking a 23c per hour increase (to $1.73 per hour) and other concessions which originally would have cost the company $3,500,000 annually. They have tentatively withdrawn $1,900,000 of these demands, which would still mean an annual increase of $1,600,000, or almost three times the company's net earnings in 1949.

Meeting these demands would threaten the very existence of your transit company as a private enterprise. It would force it further along the road to municipal or state ownership, where operating deficits are paid by the taxpayers.

Your transit company's net income for 1949 was the lowest since 1941. 1949 net income was nearly 40% less than 1948. Over 58c of every revenue dollar went for wages and employee benefits.

HOW WOULD A WAGE INCREASE AFFECT YOU?

There could be just one result! Our entire operating income is derived from the fares you pay us as bus passengers. Riding on transit lines countrywide is declining sharply . . . expenses continue to increase. With the added burden of a wage increase, no matter how small, this company would be regrettably compelled to seek additional revenue through an increase in fares!

That's the situation in brief. If you were in our position,

What would YOU do?

Winchester BOY SCOUT News

WINCHESTER BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Cavalcade Approaches

Saturday, May 20th will be here before we know it. With the ENKA Fair on the same day, Winchester residents, parents, friends, scouts, etc. all will have much to occupy their attention. Let's find time to take both events in. Scouting benefits from both the Cavalcade and the ENKA. The latter proving time and time again their generosity to the scouting program.

Things to Remember!

There will be indoor and outdoor booths but units will have to bring their own tables and chairs. The outdoor booths will come down before the evening show begins. There will be points awarded for the best booths and these points will cover many items such as what is being exemplified, activity in the booths, etc. etc.

Boys, 8 years of age to 10 in class will compete in Cub events. Boys, 11 to 17 will compete in Scout events. Boys, 14 years old and up will compete in the Senior events.

There will be a big parade starting at 12:30 at Central Square about a mile from Wolcott Square on May 20th just before the Cavalcade is due to open at Wolcott High School. The Winchester contingent is due to meet at Hart Place. Cubs will head the parade after the Colors. Unit flags will be within the unit with the American flags all massed up front. Scouts will follow the Cub Scouts, units bringing up the rear.

Eagle awards will undoubtedly be awarded in the evening and units are to check their logs, advancements to ascertain whether or not any of their scouts will be eligible.

There will be hundreds of pounds of "hot-dogs" and much tonic, candy, sandwiches, etc. for the parents and scouts alike.

Two medals awarded to the sellers of the highest number of tickets in each community. 35 tickets sold, at least for 1st prize and 25 minimum for 2nd prize. Don't aim for the 35 quota, however, sell as many as you possibly can, scouts, to avoid having some enterprising scout far surpass you.

Troop 12 (St. Mary's church) News: A very pleasant and active month of April was enjoyed by Troop 12 of St. Mary's Church. Eighteen of the boys spent four days at Camp Franklin under the able supervision of Assistant Scoutmaster Robert Foss. The boys were kept warm at night, burning the wood they chopped during the day, which gave them quite an appetite too, eating by the food table.

Coleman Foley, Jr. and Alan McDougall were guests of the troop during their stay at camp. Cubmaster Coleman Foley did K. P. one night and all the scouts agreed that he could wield a "mean" can opener! Hearty thanks go to Scoutmaster Norman Douette, Mr. Joseph Russo and Mr. Charles Washburn for furnishing transportation.

Most of the troop turned out for the Centennial Parade after which refreshments were served at the home of Committee Chairman Albert T. McDougall.

The sparkling, clean flags carried in the parade were due to the expert cleaning-courtesy again of Mr. Joseph Russo.

Dougall and Mr. Bob Fiore took fourteen members of the troop to the Charlestown Boys' Club, where they became full fledged members and then went in for a swim. All look forward to the next plunge on Tuesday, May 16th.

Advancement results are as follows since the last report: Tenderfoot: Owen Beardon - Peter Cullen. One Year Service Bar: Thomas Gallagher - Ralph Kennehan.

Merit Badges: Laurence Erhard: Firemanship, Home Repairs, Reading, Pathfinder.
Robert Thorne: First Aid and is now an Explorer Scout.

Winchester Cub Scouts Pack 6: Last Friday night the Pack followed the Winchester Explorer Scout unit in a social evening. Following baseball games the cubs were treated to hot dogs, tuna fish, punch and ice cream. At the meeting held outdoors the following awards were made:

Wolf Silver: Richard Sears, Bear: Richard Niles, Daniel Adams.

Beaver Gold: Stevenson Davies, Daniel Adams.
Bear Silver: Daniel Adams, John Forward.

Lion: John Nichols, Allen Barnes.
Lion Gold: Kenneth Brown, John Foster.

The Cubs from Den 6, of which Mrs. Forward is Den Mother, made a trip to the Navy Yard. Arrangements were made by Commander deRiviera and all but one boy were able to go. The feature of the trip was the visit to the rope walk.

The last Court of Honor will be held on Wednesday, May 31. On Friday, June 2 there will be a Father-Son night at the Unitarian Church at 6:00 p. m.

The Cubs are to bring lunches and ice cream and punch will be served. Games and races will provide the fun. The Committee for next year will be:

FORMER WINCHESTER GIRL MASSACHUSETTS MOTHER

Announcement was made last Wednesday of the selection of Mrs. Fairfax Wallace Proctor as Massachusetts Mother for 1950. The selection was made by the American Mothers' Committee after her endorsement by the State Federation of Women's Clubs peace service committee, which she has headed for the past four years.

As Fairfax Wallace she resided in Winchester for many years and graduated from the Winchester High School. She married George Proctor, a well known Winchester boy. Both are known and remembered by many former schoolmates and friends. They make their home at 80 Crest Avenue, Winthrop.

Mrs. Proctor, although 55 years of age now, has had an active career since her marriage, and is the third Winchester woman to be chosen as an ideal mother. The former Joan Newell of Shelton, Conn., was honored some years ago as the ideal American mother and the former Mrs. Abbott was chosen two years ago as Mrs. Proctor's predecessor.

Mrs. Proctor, the mother of six children, stated last week that although always interested in child work, she "didn't do a thing when the children were little." But as soon as they were old enough to share the family burdens, she joined the Winthrop Women's Club.

"I felt that women should be able to do things better than men," she recalls. "Men talk endlessly and move so slowly. And the only way to get things done is for women to get together."

In keeping with her theory, she soon became president of the local club. And she began branching out. Teaching Sunday school at the Episcopal church, taking part in Women's Guild activities, joining the Highland School PTA and later becoming its president.

She is especially interested in her work as chairman of the Federation of Women's Clubs' peace service division. Her 28-woman committee meets once monthly and has worked so hard for aid to families overseas that its work has been recognized by the General Federation as among the best in the country. It has raised $30,000 under her leadership.

Mrs. Proctor's six children are: Mrs. Virginia Adams of Reading; 35; George, Jr., shipping superintendent in Ancon, Canal Zone, 34; Mrs. Fairfax Phillips of Westbury, 32; William, salesman in Los Angeles, 30; Davis of Winthrop, employed by the Edison Company, 25; and Herbert Proctor, student at Tufts College school of engineering, 20. She has 10 grandchildren.

She expects to receive her award from Gov. Dyer on Mothers Day.

Just Imagine It's Yours!

You say you have never driven a Cadillac?

Well, it's a lovely day—and there are beautiful roads to travel down and interesting places to visit—and a little dreaming never hurt a soul . . . so just slide over behind the wheel. It's your day!

First, you'll just want to sit for awhile—here where royalty has sat, and the great of industry, and of all the learned professions. Yes, the driver's seat in a Cadillac is meeting place for the world's distinguished people.

And sitting here—with your hand on the slender, oiled cut wheel—you get a close-up view of the ingrained goodness that makes this car . . . the Standard of the World.

The gorgeous upholstery fabrics are tailored in the richest fashion. The exquisite hardware is wrought with a jeweler's care. The lovely instrument panel is a feast for the eyes. All about you is proof of quality.

And then you turn the key, touch the soft-throated engine into action—and you're away, away, away!

The steering wheel all but reads your mind! The brakes are as soft as velvet, and come, date in their response! The road has become a boulevard—and the turns and lights seem so very close together!

And the soft, easy quietness of it all! You just sit and relax—in complete contentment—and the miles go by—and the miles go by . . .

... "Oh, how I wish this car were mine!"

Well, it's time, we think, to stop dreaming—and lend an ear to this . . .

... the lower-priced cars in the Cadillac line cost less to buy than the highest-priced models of numerous other cars!

... Cadillac economy is so outstanding that a single filling of gasoline will usually suffice for a full day's drive!

COLLEGE CLUB ANNUAL MEETING

Miss Nigborg von Richthafen of Germany, Mr. Walter Beveraggi of Argentina, and Mr. Edward Rosek of Poland, all students at Harvard University, spoke to the Winchester College Club at its annual meeting held May 4 at the home of Mrs. William Davis on Central Green. All three speaking on the subject "Bridges of Understanding" proved again the truism that the firmest planks in those bridges are fashioned from first hand knowledge and personal contacts.

Miss von Richthafen, one of a large group sent to this country for a year by A. M. G., a high school teacher in Heidelberg, stressed the need of accepting the likenesses instead of the differences between nationalities. "When I see a baby here I always expect him to speak German," was her vivid way of putting it. She called attention to the difficulties the Germans are experiencing in adapting themselves to democratic practices after centuries of undemocratic rule.

Mr. Beveraggi, who has endured jail sentences for his political beliefs and is a political refugee, is Vice President of the Labor Party in Argentina. The aims of that Labor Party, he explained, would in this country be considered "moderately conservative." He strongly urged that the United States exercise the moral leadership needed in the world.

Mrs. Rosek also emphasized the need for the moral regeneration of the individual as the only means to achieve peace. His exceptional military record in Poland, France, and with the Soviet Army fighting to free Europe has made him think about and feel all the more strongly the folly of war.

Previous to these exceptional, interesting and charming talks, Mrs. Norman Padelford, acting President of the College Club, presided at a regular business meeting. Reports were made by the Daytime Study Groups, Mrs. Gerald Barrett, chairman. Mrs. John Edmonson spoke for the Art Group whose splendid work has been reported from time to time in The Star and Miss James Wilkins for the History Group which has been considering with enthusiasm and individuality "Highlights of American History 1865-1945."

New officers of the Club whom the members greet with pleasure and anticipation are, President,

WINCHESTER PEOPLE ON COMMITTEE

Parents, boys, and faculty of the Browne and Nichols School are working in an all-out effort on the Third Annual Spring Festival for the benefit of the Gymnasium Fund, Friday, May 19, from 2:30 p. m. at Gerry's Landing, Cambridge. Climax of the affair will be an evening auction at 7:30. Several local families are active on committees.

Mrs. Frank N. Cardullo, 101 High street, is a member of a committee to operate a hand-made food and candy shop.

Mrs. Richard D. Kirkpatrick, 7 Valcott road, will sell books for children ages 6-16.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. MacDonald, 5 Cambridge street, are active. Mrs. MacDonald is assistant to the general chairman of the Upper School. Mr. MacDonald is serving on the Auction Committee.

Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl, 30 Mystic Valley Parkway, is a member of the gift-shop committee.

Mrs. Arthur L. Watkins, 47 Swan road, is on a committee arranging for children's games — a Lower School Midway activity.

Mrs. Clarence H. Zarse, 8 Felsdale close, served on the mailing committee, and will also lend her services for the large family supper to be served at 6:00 o'clock.

WINCHESTER MEN ON COMMITTEE

Several Winchester residents were included in the annual elections of the year-old United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston, combining the former Greater Boston Community Fund and Community Council, May 9, at U.S. headquarters, Mason Memorial Building, Boston.

Representing Red Feather services are Robert M. Mulford, executive of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, who was elected secretary, and John M. Kingman, executive secretary of Hale and Lincoln Houses of Boston, named to the board of directors for three years. James Nowell, former president of Winchester Community Chest, and Mrs. W. E. Schraft were elected individual members of U.C.S.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

The recent meeting of the Massachusetts Association of Medical Technologists at the Hotel Kenmore was attended by Miss Anne Dove, head technician of the Winchester Hospital laboratory. The welcome of the delegates was given by Dr. Donald Nickerson of the Salem Hospital, Regional Councilor for the American Society of Clinical Pathologists, who was Pathologist at Winchester Hospital from 1912 to 1949. Doctors from laboratories in Greater Boston and other New England cities read papers and led discussions on several topics of special interest, including the biological effect and clinical uses of An in designing and some common intestinal parasites in this area, and the serology of syphilis. Motion pictures in the field of hematology were shown and reports on recent advances in blood collection, preservation and fractions included anti-coagulation by rosins. Equipment for photography in a small laboratory was demonstrated. The meetings were held on Saturday and Sunday, and the large attendance was proof of the value of the organization to the member technologists. In June, 1951, the National Association of Medical Technologists will meet in the Ocean House, Swampscott.

ROTARY NEWS

Last week the Rotary was again entertained by the High School Orchestra under the competent and inspiring leadership of Fred Felmet. It is always a pleasure to hear young people play but the skill and competence with which this Winchester High School group played in concert is a real treat. Here is, indeed, a great advance over former days when groups merely played at their various instruments. Many of these young people who were featured in various numbers that were played could very well play in a professional orchestra. Mr. Felmet has done a remarkable job in bringing this organization up to its present perfection. It is a skill that will remain for years as a source of entertainment and pleasure for those who have been privileged to play under Mr. Felmet's leadership.

Mr. Roy Horn announced the plans for the forthcoming Ladies Night for the Rotary Club. This is to be a grand affair and one that every Rotarian will wish to attend with their friends. It is to be held at the Music Hall on Friday, May 26. The social hour is to start at 6:45 and the dinner at 7:45 p. m. The committee have gone to great lengths to make this a successful and entertaining evening. They have obtained some professional entertainers that will make the evening of dancing following the dinner all the more enjoyable. Tickets may be obtained from Roy Horn or any of his committee during the next week.

"CALLIOPE TO BE AT MUSIC HALL"

On the evening of May 25 when the Winchester Unitarian Choir holds its "Maytime Musicale" at the Music Hall it is possible that once during the evening the surrounding neighborhood will think that The Boston and Maine has drawn up a large collection of locomotives and that the engineers are busy playing tunes on their diversely pitched steam whistles. It will no doubt be marvelled by those who hear how well they play and how familiar they are with the score of "South Pacific". The reason for all this is that one of the features of this gay evening of familiar music will be the performance of Mr. George McFadden, the well-known artist of 20 Ardley road, who will play his unique home made calliope in introductory music to the series of "South Pacific" numbers to be done by members of the Choir. And although, contrary to the grand old saw, the trail instruments which are its ancestors, Mr. McFadden's calliope is small, delicate, and it is due to this that it has a definite relation to that of the lusty fire-fied steam powered music wagons of circus parade days gone by. It was the features of all of its circuits and to an unmatched ingenuity and creative ability that he cut, plugged, and pitched some ordinary brass tubing into the proper pipe lengths, powered them with an old vacuum cleaner motor, and housed the whole in a case so attractive that the instrument sits decorative.

ly in the corner of his very lovely living room. Solos for the South Pacific numbers introduced in this way will be sung by James Joslin, Paul Gullivan, and Sherman Russell.

Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham is planning and directing this evening to benefit the Unitarian Church, and she is happy to have so much talent to offer the audience. Miss Grace Norian, a pupil of Levi Litvin and the accompanist of the Junior Choir at the Church and of the Mary Witham singers, will play from the works of Chopin, Rachmaninov, and Debussy, and the distinguished local singers Dorothy Perkins, soprano, Muriel Thorley, contralto, and John Ffestyn Jenkins, baritone, will be heard in solos.

Another feature, of particular interest to the many young people who are planning to attend the evening, will be a number of time-ly Winchester interest, "I Love a Parade," in which Sandy Burkank of the Winchester High School Band will do a drum routine. Sandy is the brother of Barbara, who made such a hit with her original piano compositions at the recent Boy Scout benefit.

Ever Been in a Spot Like This?

YOU CAN SEE how an extension telephone would help in this kitchen! Convenient, too, in bedroom, den, upstairs hall, or in the basement.

If yours is a rambling ranch house, large apartment, or two-story home, you'll find that an extension telephone is a great step-saver day in, day out. Enjoy this extra convenience for only pennies a day — generally less than your daily newspaper. Call your telephone business office for details.

Putting in extensions does not delay service for people waiting for telephones, nor does it delay filling requests for changes in existing service. An extension involves only an instrument while in other cases central office equipment or cable may be required.

GIVE HIM TIME TO ANSWER YOUR CALL

Allow about a minute. Your friend may be in the backyard, or in a distant room. You may save disappointment and extra calls by letting him up to you soon.

LEWIS PARKHURST SCHOOL

ANNUAL MEETING

On Wednesday, May 10th the Annual Meeting of the Lewis Parkhurst School Mothers' Association was held in the Auditorium. Delicacies and coffee were served by Mrs. William F. Morton and her committee.

Mrs. Fred M. Felmet, Jr., led the school band in several numbers which were duly appreciated by the mothers present. It is hoped that another year more students will participate in the musical projects, not only as a build-up for when in High School, but for their own enjoyment. Douglas Barnard, accompanied by Miss Carlissa Purinton, played a solo on his clarinet. It must be quite gratifying to Mr. Felmet to see how the youngsters "come along" from year to year under his guidance.

Mrs. Paul E. Nason, President of the Mothers' Association opened the meeting with a welcome to all. A few annual reports were read, followed by the election of the following officers for the year 1950-51.

It was interesting to many to know of all the things done on earnings and dues of the year. A recorder with an amplifying system was purchased for the auditorium; radios for the 5th and 6th grades; record players for the kindergarten and the lobby; curtains for the teachers room; lunchroom for the teachers; money to the 6th grade to purchase a gift for the school at graduation time; picnic at graduation time for the 6th grade; and soon to the Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, Chairman of the Secondary Schools Building Committee, gave a short report of the accomplishments and suggestions of her committee. It is most apparent that consideration of this is the next "must" for the town. Lewis Parkhurst School is considered by the parents as just the perfect place for the child. A few annual reports were read, followed by the election of the following officers for the year 1950-51.

Mrs. Sydney Stuart, Chairman of Programs, next introduced Mr. Russell C. Curry, instructor to the various public school dancing classes in Winchester. Mr. Curry, with Mrs. Grace C. Curry demonstrated several "dos and don'ts" of dancing. This was very informative and enjoyable to watch. It was apparent that the fathers would have appreciated this also. An extremely amusing part of the demonstration was how to and how not to sit in a chair — how and when, to and not to apply various cosmetics, and several other illustrations all indicating that Mr. Curry not only has rhythm in his bones, but also humor to wit.

FORUM SUNDAY AT CHURCH

Sunday morning at 10:45 will be the last Forum Sunday at church for this season, and the young people will be present in the balcony for this Baccalaureate. Dr. Chidley will preach a youth sermon, "Your House of Life." Each Senior will be honored with a flower. Leon Fernandez, president of the Forum, will be the chaplain. Boys to receive the offering are: Robert Burnham, Gordon Bird, Jr., David Archibald, Herbert Clark, Donald Cameron, and Douglas Hawkins. Ushers will be: Boudin Burbank, Frederick Eves, Jr., John Atkinson, Carl Zimmerman, and John Richmond.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB CONCERT

The Mystic Glee Club's tenth anniversary concert Saturday, May 6, received thunderous applause from a packed auditorium of sponsoring members, friends and many former singing members who made special trips to Winchester for this milestone in the club's history. Although the club has had numerous audiences at all of their concerts for several years, the ringing ovation of the crowded auditorium breathed even more confidence into the singers. Comments on every side indicated that this latest spring concert was the finest ever presented by the Mystic Glee Club.

The appearance of Kenneth Moffatt, well known to Winchester residents in the role of organist at the Boston Conservatory, was reported for the occasion, added greatly to the pleasure of the evening with two solo selections and a duet with Mrs. May Louise Middleton at the piano. And when the Glee Club's original male quartet, The Mystic Four, walked on the stage, enthusiasm was kindled as this foursome, with its clever arrangements and sophisticated harmony is a great favorite with the audience. The members of the quartet are Erskine H. White, Jr., 1st tenor; William M. Hopkins, 2nd tenor; Thomas Warthen, bass; and Albert H. Swett, Jr., bass.

The complete program was as follows: Logan, "Lift Thine Eyes"; Finnish song, "Evening Reveries"; Rogers, "The Star"; Richter's "The Creation"; Negro folk songs, "Scandalize My Name," and "Set Down Servant"; Davies, "I See Your Face"; Ringwald, "Barth Hymn of the Republic"; "Brothers, Sing On"; Protheroe, "Shadow, March"; College songs, "Cavalcade," "Water," "Lord Jeffrey," and "The Whiffenpoof Song"; Maunders, "Border Ballad"; Charles, "My Lady Walks in Loveliness"; Heene Taylor, "Water Ripples and Blow"; and Sullivan, "The Lost Chord."

The Glee Club again sang under the direction of Keith Snyder who displayed unusual ability and enthusiasm throughout the entire program. His conducting of the fifty-eight men who filled the stands on the stage was a marked improvement over the December concert. This, no doubt, can be attributed to the arrangement in which the club sang standing and the familiarity with the music and probably most important, the mutual understanding prevalent between the two groups. Mr. Snyder obviously knew what he wanted and he obtained for the most part the effects he desired. Another important improvement was the balance of parts, with no single voices detracting from any of their renditions.

Commencing with the rousing "Lift Thine Eyes" and the stirring "Border Ballad" and ending with the rousing "The Star" was a polished number with mood and diction excellent and in direct contrast, and set the pattern for the rest of the evening. "The Star" possibly lacked in diction and shading, but the good full tones and the quality of the tenor voices made good listening. Probably no song in the club's repertoire has more completely thrilled the audience than did "The Creation." They captured fully the dramatic spirit of the composition with excellent shading, beautiful dynamics and a forceful ending, indeed the highlight of the entire program. The delicate encore "Spin Spin" conveyed the proper feeling of pathos with beautiful tone blending.

Mr. Moffatt chose two delightful contrasting selections for the organ. "Now Thank We All Our God," and the tranquil "Kamenno Ostrvo" by Rubinstein. He is to be congratulated for his excellent performance on an instrument which is somewhat limited in comparison to a real pipe organ.

The introduction of the club's accompanist, Mary Louise Middleton, as soloist was a rare treat, as such as many in the audience had witnessed her unusually fine piano interpretations in conjunction with the Glee Club. The combination of Ken Moffatt and Mrs. Middleton produced a well synchronized organ and piano duet in the beautifully played "Sleep May Safely Graze" by Bach. The pianissimo passages of the piano were delicate and lovely.

The reappearance of the glee club in the two folk songs, "Scandalize My Name" and "Set Down Servant," and the encore "The Animals" were in good contrast to the previous selections. These humorous spirituals are always enjoyable and popular with the audience. They could have been sung with a little more zest. The beautiful composition of Harvey Davies of Stockton, "I See Your Face" was sung with much expression, but for the first time during the concert, the tenors predominated slightly more than necessary for good balance. "The Barth Hymn of the Republic," a Fred Waring arrangement, was very impressive and majestic. The four heads of the piano, Leo Gilbert assisting Mrs. Middleton, and Kenneth Moffatt's first appearance on the organ with the club. The last note made by Richard Jackson was an effective addition to the program.

Immediately following introduction, Mr. Snyder in a few well chosen words introduced all former conductors and accompanists in the audience. A group of old favorites, especially chosen for their appeal to both singing and sponsoring members, was warmly received. Good attacks and releases with distinct articulation were heard in "Brothers, Sing On," "The Shadow March," which have shown a little more childish terror in the first two stanzas from the passages beginning with "The shadow of the lamp," was exceptionally well done.

The club's last song, "The Whiffenpoof Song," was sung with much expression, but for the first time during the concert, the tenors predominated slightly more than necessary for good balance. "The Barth Hymn of the Republic," a Fred Waring arrangement, was very impressive and majestic. The four heads of the piano, Leo Gilbert assisting Mrs. Middleton, and Kenneth Moffatt's first appearance on the organ with the club. The last note made by Richard Jackson was an effective addition to the program.

The variations of the much heralded Mystic Four were modestly received, although somewhat informal, and amused the audience to set the mood for the male quartet which followed.

The concluding group of numbers, the Glee Club lead off with the stirring "Border Ballad" and "The Animals" numbers. "The Animals" and the Waring arrangement of "Dry Bones" were added attractions. The sound effects could have been a bit more precise. The most effective humming was noted in "My Lady Walks in Loveliness." A well expressed tribute to a most capable and talented accompanist, "Water Ripples and Flow" contributed much to the enjoyment of the evening. James Develley did an exceptionally good job in his tenor solo, as did George Niles in his baritone solo with the effective chord background. Orchestral for the artistic and outstanding piano accompaniment.

On the invitation of Mr. Snyder, all former singing members and conductors were invited to join the Glee Club in the singing of its final number, "The Lost Chord." With about eighty men on the platform combining with the organ and piano the group concluded the concert in a most fitting climax.

The Mystic Glee Club rendered a program high in quality, excellent musicianship on the part of conductor, glee club and accompanists. Singing many numbers without the aid of music, added a new touch to the evening. The special tenth anniversary concert program, and management technique all contributed to a most inspiring and stimulating concert. E. A.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB'S OPENING PARTY SET FOR FRIDAY, MAY 26TH

You are headed for an evening of music and music if you want your way down to the Winchester Boat Club next Friday evening at 8:00 p. m. Entertainment committee chairman, Bart Sullivan, has announced a pretty ambitious program with the feature attraction a spectacular young magician. In addition to the feats of legerdemain there will be community singing, some solos by a talented young tenor and refreshments for all.

The party is free to Boat Club Members so that you won't have to reserve any tickets, but plan to get down to the Club early because of the limitations of the hall.

Simmons Wins Moller Mug

Dick Simmons and his super snipe "Simba" started in their left off last fall by scoring two spectacular victories over the rest of the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet this past week-end.

Mai Moller had bought a very handsome trophy to give to the victor of four time-up races which were to be sailed previous to the start of the official series. The first two races of the series had to be canceled because not enough of the competitors had launched their boats.

Last Saturday there were four boats in the race and on Sunday there were five.

Jim Newman was second in both races and Dan Blumie was third each day.

The Fleet really swings into action this Saturday when the first official point score race will be sailed.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL

On May 8, the Freshman squad met Stoneham at Stoneham, Winchester rumped from the beginning scoring nine runs in the second inning.

Stoneham used 4 pitchers but to no avail, as they couldn't stop the Fresh nine. The final score was 17-1 in favor of the Warriors.

WINCHESTER 4 WOMEN 1

Spurred by the fine twirling performance of Stowell Symmes, Winchester High outdistanced and outscored a veteran Woburn nine to take a 4 to 1 decision at Leonard Field last Saturday afternoon. The locals played steady ball in the field to help Symmes over his few rough spots while Woburn made six costly mistakes and was guilty of gambling base running which cut down their scoring opportunities. Tansey, Curuso, and Power all came up with sparkling defensive plays as Tansey safely handled nine out of ten chances for a busy afternoon.

Winchester scored a pair of runs in the second and the fourth innings to take a 4 to 1 lead. Dee opened the second with a single to left field. Symmes' twisting looper was booted by Dekow and both runners were safe. Curuso laid down a nice bunt and all runners were safe when the throw to first was made. Crowley made a nice bid for a hit but Dekow was able to throw out Tansey on a bunt.

The fourth inning Curuso reached safely as the lead off batter with his grounder. Curuso advanced to second on Crowley's strong out. He moved to third and Symmes' grounder on Symmes' ground ball.

Curuso stole second and Amico again delivered in the pinch by singing sharply to center to score Curuso and Symmes. Amico then hit a single to drive in three of Winchester's four runs.

This was the third victory of the season for Symmes and the second for Winchester. He permitted this ever-dangerous Woburn nine only three hits and was in control all the way in spite of being a bit liberal with bases on balls. He finished strongly as he collected four of six strike outs in the last two innings after Woburn put the lead off batter on first and was trying desperately to rally.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

With an interesting report on a quiet April last busy May for the nursing staff at the Winchester District Nursing Association, by Miss Alice Peterson of the staff, a review of the previous year's activities was presented at the May 11th Annual meeting which Mrs. Vaughn Harmon attended, and an outline of the Federal Policy meeting by Mr. J. C. Green.

The Association held its May meeting last Friday in the General Conference room of Town Hall, with Mrs. Henry E. Moore presiding.

The June meeting will be an all-day session on June 9, starting at 11 o'clock with morning business, luncheon and dessert, and an afternoon session at which Dr. Alexander Atkin will speak on his work at the Rehabilitation Center.

The meeting will be held at the Arlington street home of Mrs. Harry Damon, and Mrs. James Coon will be chairman of the dessert.

Nursing Report

The nursing report for April, presented by Miss Peterson to the board on Friday, showed 358 visits to patients for the month, a record for the month, and the staff experienced this same time last year.

May, however, is proving to be a busy month, with an unusual number of office visits.

Compulsory Medicine Report

The timely topic of compulsory medicine was the key speech of the Brookline Friendly Aid Society's annual meeting in Brookline recently, and Mrs. Vaughn Harmon attended the meeting on her own.

The speaker was Dr. Leland S. McKittick of the Palmer Memorial Hospital, who stressed the importance of compulsory medicine in a physician, that it will destroy the personal touch which is the heart of a patient and that we have now.

He stressed the present scope of Blue Cross, which serves a many doctors, they must work to get the facilities that will attract good doctors to their area.

Cerebral Palsy Report

Mrs. Charles Greene was one of the members of the Association to attend the Cerebral Palsy meeting at Mrs. Samoiloff's recently, and her report to the Friday meeting was a stimulating one. She told of the speaker, a charming young woman who had been a victim of cerebral palsy and who had been treated until she became a useful member of society, a lawyer, and a speaker, was working now to help other victims of the disease.

Cerebral palsy is not a new disease, but little has been done about it in the past. It is a baffling condition that only about 75 doctors know how to treat. The damage it inflicts on the brain will affect the patient's speech and his motion, even though he is a very intelligent person. Today there are some 500,000 cases in the country.

Mrs. Greene explained that it may be caused by a prenatal injury, but not all victims are born that way. Some are the result of injuries, a stroke, or other diseases. Three out of every four of these cerebral palsy children can be helped, for they are not hopeless, and not feeble-minded. But the great need, in the care, is for trained workers, for facilities to carry on the work.

Today, this country has facilities for caring only for 2500 cerebral palsy patients, out of the total 500,000 cases.

W. H. S. 20 REINION AT PARKER HOUSE

The 30th Reunion of the High School Class of 1920 will be held at the Parker House School and Tremont streets, Boston, on Saturday, June 3, 1950 at 6:30 p. m. Wives or husbands of class members who would like to be present on this occasion will be very welcome. The Committee composed of Stuart Eldridge, 56 Concord avenue, Cambridge; Ruth S. Johnson, 20 Sheridan Circle, Winchester; Mrs. C. S. Donaghy (Lillian Gray) 11 Glenwood avenue, Winchester; Ned Macken, 100 Washington street, Winchester; and Frank Holland will be heard from all class members, who are urged to certify their intention to attend. Any or all of pre-paid reservations, which may be made on the occasion at the Parker House School, will be appreciated. The Committee is anxious to make this a gala affair and urge all members to communicate with a member of the committee.

Thomas J. Fallon, Jr. of 50 Van Norden road, Reading passed away at his home on May 5, aged 50 years. He was born in Stoneham, Mass. on May 4, 1899, and was the son of Thomas J. and Catherine O'Connor. He attended the Stoneham public school and finished his schooling in Winchester.

For twenty-five years he was employed by the Winchester Water Department. Later, after moving to Reading, he was employed by the Reading Water Department for ten years.

He was a volunteer in World War I and served in the Navy for two years.

Mr. Fallon is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret Donaghy Fallon, and by a son, Thomas J. Jr., and a daughter, Kathleen Fallon. He is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Christian W. Thompson, Mrs. John Richardson, and Mrs. John Harmon, all of Winchester.

The funeral was held on the morning of May 10, at 10 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. C. W. Thompson at 26 Highland avenue, Winchester, and was officiated by Rev. John J. McLaughlin, pastor of the Holy Trinity church at 81 Adams street in Reading. Interment was in Calvary cemetery in Woburn.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank C. DeBour, head of the Winchester Hospital Volunteer Service group, more than 140 women met in the Nurses' Home on May 12th, National Hospital Day. There were women from Reading, North Reading, Wilmington, Wakefield, and Stoneham, as well as Winchester. They were welcomed by the chairman, Mrs. J. C. Green, who presented a large number of deep interest in the Hospital and a desire to be of help in the various ways possible way. Cards of appreciation for membership in a hospital auxiliary were signed by 146 women, and they expressed preference for some one specific type of volunteer work, — fifteen different choices being recorded.

After a review of the background discussions held during the past two years by the women members of the Board of Directors, Mrs. J. C. Green, who presided, outlined the value of such an organization in understanding the functions and needs of an area hospital, and emphasized the importance of a study of the hospital's equipment and personnel as a preliminary to useful service by volunteers in the hospital.

Dr. Forbes Norris, Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Wade L. Grindle, Principal of Winchester High School, and Mr. Raymond Dickman, Principal of Winchester Junior High School were guests at a luncheon for supervisors and administrators.

Mrs. Helen Goodwin, Assistant Supervisor of Music in the schools; Mr. Norton Demsey, Guidance Director; and Mr. Everett Bolster and Mr. Jacob Mosher, of the Junior High School Faculty assisted with arrangements.

Transportation for the band and orchestra was provided by a group of interested parents.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Secretary's Annual Report for 1949-1950 (condensed)

Our year began auspiciously with the opening tea held on October 5 at the home of Mrs. Howard Chidley. More than eighty members were present. A reading of the Declaration of Human Rights, in recognition of the coming United Nations Week, in which fifteen members took part, was most impressive. The speaker of the day, Judge Golda E. Walters of Brookline, speaking on "Laws Every Woman Should Know", found her audience most attentive to her explanation of common legal problems in the field of Probate law, Property law and Domestic Relations.

The International Relations Committee, with Mrs. Underwood Edgar as chairman, went into action early in October with the celebration of United Nations Week. Acting jointly with the Fortnightly, they did a truly splendid job of making the town U. N. conscious. The effective window displays in Myron Berlov's and the Winchester Drug Company showing the accomplishments of the United Nations, together with the symbolic display in Filene's window of the purpose of the U. N., were the ingenious work of the Committee. The Library, ever co-operative, had a display and pamphlets on the U. N. Leaflets were placed in all the banks. A movie, "The People's Charter", was shown with great success at the Junior High School, and at the Senior High School there was a talk by the President of the U. N. League at Harvard.

The International Relations Committee also arranged for our February general meeting on the International Trade Organization, which was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Hennessey. We are greatly indebted to Dr. John B. Rae, Assistant Professor M. I. T., for his clear and comprehensive analysis of the advantages to be gained if the ideal of freer world trade could be realized. The I. T. O., organized under the U. N., in this has so far been ratified by only the small nations.

Following the precedent of having our evening money-raising project early in the fall, our Finance Committee, under the competent chairmanship of Mrs. Bowen Tufts, with Mrs. George Bragley and Mrs. Philip Johnson as co-chairmen, secured Bruce Hopper, head of the Department of Government at Harvard, as our speaker on the evening of November 18. Prof. Hopper's long experience as political observer in Europe made his analysis of European political tension a particularly competent one.

Miss Grace Wills, chairman, and Mrs. Gerald Bart, co-chairman, of the Social Welfare Committee, were in charge of the December general meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry K. Sawyer. The League felt most fortunate to have as speaker Miss Elizabeth Bodi, Superintendent of the Lancaster Industrial School for Girls, which is under the supervision of the Youth Service Board. Miss Bodi was formerly a staff worker under Dr. Van Waters. We were all most impressed by her insight and insight which she brings to her difficult job. Miss Wills reports that the Framingham bill H2404, such as a not altogether satisfactory combination of the previous two bills having to do with "day care" and "conditional placement" is being supported by the League.

On the local level, during the past summer, when most of us were trying to keep cool, Mrs. Bart carried out our interest in education by visiting, with other League members, all of Winchester's playgrounds, as well as some outstanding ones. Certain satisfactory conditions found on our playgrounds were discussed with the Director of Playgrounds and the Park Commissioners. At present, responsibility for public recreation is divided among three departments, with a resulting lack of unified planning. Our committee recommends a study of both public and private recreation resources in Winchester, and that the role of recreation education be brought before the public.

On January 1, at the home of Mrs. Henry E. Worcester, the program was in the capable hands of Mrs. Henry Dellicker and her committee on Structure and Administration of Government. In view of the fact that a Town committee is studying the Town Manager form of government, it was a real service to have secured Mr. Edward Monahan, Town Manager of Norwood for the last three years, as our speaker. Norwood has had a Town Manager since 1915 and Mr. Monahan feels that it has proved its value for them. In a year when most tax rates are up, Norwood has reduced its rates 20 cents.

Mrs. Dellicker's committee also conducted a series of three study group meetings on the Town Manager Form of Government at the Library. At the first meeting, February 16, Mrs. Henry Long explained the present Town set-up by means of a chart. Following this, Mr. Edmund C. Sanderson, a member of the Ward and Sever Board for 34 years, gave a history of this department and then discussed the Public Works Council. At the second meeting, Mrs. Dellicker spoke on the various forms of the Town Manager system. (Some are "weaker" than others.) She then introduced Mr. Arthur Hewis, Jr., who had filed a petition in the General Court for permissive legislation to allow the voters of Winchester to vote on a Town Manager plan.

Mrs. Horace Abbott presided over the four study group meetings at the Federal Budget, held at the Library between January 12 and February 9. Using the League Memo, "You Pay the Taxes, You All the Time", the major items in the 1950 Federal Budget were analyzed by members of the Committee. At one meeting, we had the privilege of hearing Prof. Carlo Zimmerman of Harvard speak on "Our Federal Agrarian Policy". Thoughout the meetings, the recommendations of the Hoover Report were carefully considered.

The Education Committee feels that their job this year was very largely one of serving by our standing and waiting. No action can be taken on the local level until the School Building Committee and the Planning Board offer recommendations. However, Mrs. Robert Drake, chairman of Education, is anxious that the League seize the opportunity to arouse public interest in the dire need for new school facilities. It is her excellent suggestion that people visit a really good new high school to compare with ours. In the General Court, State Aid to Education is still in Committee. Certification of Teachers has not yet come before the House (as of May 3). The bill prohibiting the discharge of married teachers (League support) was defeated.

For the League, spring is ushered in, not ahead of the first snow, by the Legislative Luncheon, held on March 1 at the Church of the Epiphany. Our capable Legislative chairman, Mrs. Rodney Long, had a large and hardworking group to help her with arrangements. Mrs. Maxwell McCreary's committee served a delicious lunch to 125 members and guests.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Edwin B. Newman, President of the Cambridge League. Speaking with clarity, skill and a particularly charming ease she discussed the League stand on civil liberties. Following her talk Mrs. Long gave an apothymic rally on bills before the General Court. Mrs. Long's year has been a busy one, including attendance at hearings, conferences with our Representative and Senator, and the Executive Board of the League informed as legislative matters.

The Proposed Local Program has been the outgrowth of discussion at the study group meetings. On April 3, when Mrs. Hoyt C. Horne was our hostess. The high point of the morning, devoted to local items, was the talk by Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, chairman of the School Building Committee, outlining the various proposals which have been considered. After we had our own picnic luncheon, with coffee and ice cream served by the Hospitality Committee, we took up the discussion of proposed National and State Programs. At the State Convention on May 9 and 10 our delegates will approve the adoption of the State Platform, and current Agenda as read, a study of our Massachusetts state government. However, it was hoped that our legislative interest during the two years of such a broad study.

Last spring Miss A. Natalie Jewett, chairman of Town Affairs, committee had their share in opposing the Through Way which was planned to cut across the center of Winchester. The committee met with the Selectmen and later with the Planning Board, Selectmen and State Representatives and at this meeting assurance was given that the road would not be built if the Town objected. Miss Jewett was also responsible for the League's share in the Centennial parade. You probably recognized our Suffragette stamp but undaunted, adorned with dusters and veils.

The aspect of League work which reaches the public most directly is the Voter Service Committee. This year, under the capable guidance of Mrs. Richard Wyman, their main activity was the preparation and distribution of the questionnaires sent to all candidates for Town office where a contest occurred, and the subsequent printing of the answers in the Star. This year answers were received from all candidates.

The Membership Committee has added 37 new names to the list to bring our total to 290. A special award of merit is due Mrs. Carlo Zimmerman and her committee for an enormously successful year. On November 1 they sponsored an orientation meeting for new members, at which the purpose of the League was explained by various members of the Board.

We must not fail to speak with the greatest appreciation of the Hospitality Committee headed by Mrs. Frank Hawkins. The delightful ones which they served added immensely to the pleasure of the meetings. At the five general meetings held in private homes between November and May, they served 251 members and guests. The active membership of the League would wish to send with them in a special word of appreciation to the hostesses, who graciously opened their homes to us during the year and to our Annual Meeting hostesses, Mrs. Leonard Newman, whose beautiful and acceptable home we bring to a close our year of non-partisan effort in behalf of good government in the public interest.

WILL MAKE HOME IN ROSHINDALE

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Higgins-Dempsey, who were married April 15th at Saint Andrew's Church, Forest Hills, will make their future home in Roshindale. Both are well known to a host of friends, both in Winchester and Forest Hills.

The bride, who was the former Virginia Mary Doran, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Doran of 28 Walk Hill street, Forest Hills. Mr. Dempsey is the son of Mr. Patrick Dempsey of 307 Main street, this town.

The morning ceremony on April 15th at Saint Andrew's was largely attended and was followed by a reception at Blue Hills Hall, Milton. Miss Margarette A. Sloan of this town was the bridesmaid in the ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Henry J. Dempsey of this town. The bride was in a large gown, the bride's sister, Mrs. Joan Doran, attendant. The bride, Mrs. Higgins-Dempsey, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Doran of 28 Walk Hill street, Forest Hills. WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL BAND AN OUTSTANDING UNIT

Playing a two-hour concert in Parkman Bandstand on Boston Common last Sunday afternoon, the Winchester High School Band furnished its own evidence that it has developed remarkably in its brief five-year existence.

Formed in the fall of 1945, the band made its first outdoor appearance at football games at the direction of Miss Anna Stoddard. At that time they were able to play three or four marches, but began there and then to show by their interest that better days were ahead.

Under the direction of Mr. Fred Felmet from 1946 to the present, the band's repertoire has been extended to include classical and semi-classical music, as well as marches and novelty numbers.

Encouraged by the active leadership of Mrs. William Cusack, an ardent supporter of the band, the mothers provided a banner for the Boston appearance so that identification of the unit would be unmistakable.

Before the young bandmen turn in their uniforms at the end of the school year they will have made twenty or more public appearances. They played at all Winchester High School football games, at home and away, as well as taking a prominent part at the Boston University rally at the Arena prior to the West Virginia-Boston University game. They have taken part in the Annual Spring Concert at the High School, the Winchester Centennial parade, and the Northeastern Massachusetts Music Festival at Melrose during Melrose's Centennial Week. During the remaining week the band will play at the Fair Ka Street Fair, will be prominent in the Memorial Day parade, and will play a short concert as a prelude to the outdoor graduation of the class of 1950 and will provide music for the procession and the program.

WINCHESTER MORNINGS

The sale of tickets for the 1950 Winchester Mornings has begun and is going very well according to reports received from Mrs. Lindsay H. Caldwell, who heads the Ticket Committee. Members of Mrs. Caldwell's committee, who have been busy at their telephones this week, are Mrs. Parker Heath, Mrs. Mary Bojce, Mrs. Ralph T. Jones, Mrs. Richard O. Jordan, Mrs. William B. Lunsford, Mrs. Arthur T. Rogde, and Mrs. Charles M. Sweetser.

The Winchester Mornings are sponsored by the Winchester Wellesley Club and will be held at the Music Hall on three Friday mornings next fall. Members of the Wellesley Club will serve as hostesses at the pleasant and relaxing coffee period at 10 o'clock preceding the program at 10:30. On October 6th John Coolidge, Director of the Harvard University Art Museum (Forger, German, and Scimitar) will present an interesting program. Rudolph E. Eise, Jr., Music Critic and columnist for the Boston Herald-Tribune, will speak on October 27th. Mr. Eise is at present cruising the Mediterranean on a Navy ship and will doubtless have some new anecdotes to add to his already abundant supply. On November 17th, Saville Davis, American News Editor of the Christian Science Monitor, will discuss where we stand on war and peace. He is planning a European trip this summer and will be able to give us a penetrating glimpse behind the Iron Curtain.

Among the early subscribers to the 1950 series are Mrs. Alexander F. MacDonald, Mrs. George A. Marks, Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood, Mrs. E. H. Peterson, Mrs. E. E. Grosvenor, Mrs. Frederick S. Hatch, Mrs. John L. Graves, Mrs. Charles T. Main, II, Miss Minnie Belle Joy, Mrs. Albert P. Souzay, Mrs. Harvey L. Macauley, Miss Alice A. Main, Mrs. Royce H. Randlett, Mrs. J. Waldo Bond, Mrs. Howard J. Chidley, Mrs. Edward Anderson, Mrs. Reginald Bradlee, Mrs. J. W. Butler, Mrs. Robert Abbott, and Mrs. Quimby P. Emery.

Miss Barbara Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Schwartz, Blueberry Hill Farm, Lyndeboro, N. H., is serving as chairman of the music committee as well as being a model in the fashion show at Centenary Junior College this Friday evening. Miss Taylor is a senior at Centenary and is a former resident of Winchester.

CHARLES W. BUTLER
BUTLER HEADS WINCHESTER CAMPAIGN

Charles W. Butler of the Winchester Trust Company will head the Winchester campaign organization in the fall drive for Red Feather service. Mrs. William A. Kugler, president of Winchester Community Chest, announced today.

He is one of 47 community chairmen now being enrolled in this once-a-year appeal toward 1951 Red Feather health and social service agencies serving the people of Metropolitan Boston. The campaign will be administered for the second year by United Community Services combining the former Greater Boston Community Fund and Community Council.

As treasurer of Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America, which includes Winchester, Mr. Butler is closely associated with Red Feather service. Other local agencies benefiting from the drive are the District Nursing Association.

For their years of long and faithful service retiring treasurer, Roland R. Carter, and Mrs. George Nardin, Chairman of Production, were given a rising vote of thanks.

Reverend John Snook of the Crawford Memorial Church gave the Benediction and the annual meeting of the Winchester Chapter was brought to a close with the serving of refreshments by the ever faithful Canton workers.

The following officers were elected to serve for 1950:

Chairman — Mr. Lewis K. Moore
Vice-Chair — Mr. Ernest R. Dade Sec. — Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin
Treas. — Mr. Lawrence Pexton

Directors

Rev. Dwight W. Hadley
Mr. John Volpe
Mr. Charles B. Watson

tion, Girl Scouts, Home for Aged People, Immaculate Conception and St. Mary's Conferences, St. Vincent de Paul, and Winchester Hospital.

Speaking as treasurer of Fellsland Council, Mr. Butler stresses the need of an efficient, united drive for funds in order that the Boy Scouts and the other agencies may continue to serve the old and underprivileged as they have done so well in the past. "I know that I can depend upon our citizens to put Winchester over the top in its share of the 1951 goal."

He has taken an active part in social and community fund campaigns, serving last year as residential chairman. A graduate of Providence College and Boston University Business School, he served three years in France and England as sergeant, first class, with the U. S. Army Finance Department.

The Butlers whose home is at 29 Glen Green have two children, Thomas, 4, and Anne, now going on two.

Mr. Ralph E. Muehlbig of Highland Avenue was reported to be the driver of one of two cars which collided on the Worcester turnpike last Saturday. Betty A. Swensen of Auburndale was the driver of the second car, which reportedly overturned after the crash. She and her passenger, Gil Elberington of the Back Bay were taken to the Newton Hospital. Mr. Muehlbig was reported uninjured.

EN KA NEWS

On Wednesday, May the seventeenth Mrs. Thomas M. Righter, Jr., the President of En Ka Society entertained the executive board of 1949-1950 at her delightful home at Fernway.

It was an all day meeting and was made doubly pleasant by an informal hour at noon when a delectable luncheon was served.

Tuesday, June the sixth was decided upon for the annual meeting and the Society was most happy to accept the cordial invitation of the Girl Scouts to be the first guests at their new cabin on Border road. As it is to be a picnic, Mrs. Vera McKenzie and her committee urge all to be dressed "pour le sport" so luncheon can be carried out and enjoyed under the pines. So come prepared for a day in the woods and when you get to Border road watch for the flag flying gaily from the cabin to welcome us warmly to their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Sanborn left this week for their summer home in No. Sandwich, N. H.

KENNETH WILSON MacARTHUR
Kenneth Wilson MacArthur, who died suddenly on Wednesday at his home, 60 Canal street, was a native of East Boston and a resident of Winchester for the past ten years. He was 48 years old, and was the son of Alfred and Viola Goodwin MacArthur. For 26 years he had been associated with the Boston Edison Company. He was a member of the Massachusetts Order of Workmen.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Rosa (Foley) MacArthur, he leaves three sons, Alfred, Ronald and Neil; his mother, Mrs. Viola Watson of Waltham; two brothers, Earle MacArthur of California and Wilbur MacArthur of Boston, and three sisters, Mrs. Martha Woodbury of Waltham, Mrs. John Duran of Waltham and Mrs. James Mooney of Woburn.

Funeral services will be held at the home, 60 Canal street, at 9:15 A. M. Rev. John P. O'Riordan, officiating. The interment will be in Calvary Cemetery, Woburn.

MRS. WHITNEY RECEIVES $2,559
The House passed favorably today and sent to the Senate the bill introduced by Congressman Edward N. Rogers providing payment of $2,559.20 to Mrs. Elizabeth H. Whitney of 2 Palmer street, Winchester. Her husband, Lieut. Charles A. Whitney, Jr., U. S. N. R., died on February 3, 1947. The money is due the widow for six months death gratuity, for the difference between active duty pay and retired pay for the date of his separation from the service to the date of his death.

Mrs. Whitney, widely known among Winchester's young people, recently purchased a trailer and moved to California with her family.

HOME FROM KOREA AND JAPAN

Miss Meredith Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Wagner of 21 Crescent road, has just returned from Japan and Korea, on home leave after 40 months service with the Red Cross and army overseas.

Miss Wagner was assigned to Red Cross recreational service in Asan City, Korea. She also served in the Army Hostess program and as a guide of tours and radio announcer.

Upon completing her assignment in Korea, Miss Wagner rejoined the American Red Cross as a hospital recreation worker, being assigned to the Army's 11th Station Hospital at Fukuoka on Kyushu Island, Japan.

While in Seoul, Korea, Miss Wagner met a Winchester classmate, 1st Lt. Allen H. Wood, 3d formerly lived on the Parkway. Now assigned to Fort Bragg, N. C., Lt. Wood wishes to be remembered to all his Winchester friends.

In Japan, Miss Wagner had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Roger L. Pedgo (Marjorie Fingers), formerly of this town, then residing in Kufu, Japan, and Red Cross secretary to the FETO Theatre.

WILLING ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT

James B. Willing of 16 Ledyard road, was elected vice president of the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants, Inc., at the annual business meeting of the Society held at the Parker House Monday evening, May 22, 1950.

Mr. Willing is a partner in the firm of Patterson, Teale and Dennis, Accountants, Boston, and has been active for many years in the affairs of the Society. He is also a member of the American Institute of Accountants and is chairman of the Registration Committee for that body's annual convention which will be held in Boston in October, 1950.

DR. WAGER TALKS TO W. H. S. MUSIC CLUB

The Winchester High School Music Club presented an interesting and worthwhile talk on music of Beethoven and Schubert by Dr. Willis Wager, members and guests on May 19, 1950, at the home of Dr. Jost Michelson, Winchester.

Dr. Wager, who is Professor of Humanities at Boston University and who gives a program on classical music each Wednesday evening at WJEX, was enthusiastically received by the young people, as he gave his informal talk, supplemented by his piano playing and the playing of records.

The talk mainly concerned Beethoven's development of the symphonic form and Schubert's contributions. While the former began with a tragic theme and finally burst forth in jubilation, the latter branched out and went in pursuit of pure melody.

Following the talk, refreshments were served and individuals discussed other musical topics with Dr. Wager, a cordial and professor.

CENTRAL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING

On Wednesday, June 7, the Central Mothers' Association will hold its Annual Meeting in the High School Gymnasium and Auditorium. From 2:15 p. m. to 2:45 p. m. will be a social hour in the gymnasium with refreshments served by Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth and her committee.

Mrs. George A. Marks, president of the Association, has announced the program for that day. Mr. Fred M. Felmet, Jr., will conduct the High School Orchestra in several selections and Mrs. Ray V. Hayward will sponsor four of the best acts from this year's Vaudeville Show. These costumed numbers comprise group singing, two modern dance numbers, and the pony chorus.

This entertainment will be followed by a short business meeting, after which Dr. Forbes H. Norris will speak. Dr. Norris previously has defined the purpose of a Mothers' Association as building and maintaining an active public interest in the schools. At this meeting he will elaborate and explain "How a Mothers' Association Can Best Serve the Schools."

WELLESLEY CAMPUS TOUR

Winchester alumnae of Wellesley College had the privilege of spending a day seeing "Wellesley at Work" on Wednesday, May 17. Combining a tour of the campus under the direction of a student guide, an informal luncheon at the "Well," and an opportunity to visit two afternoon classes, the program was a full and stimulating one.

Miss Margaret Clark, newly inaugurated president of Wellesley, joined the group for morning coffee in the Faculty Common Room and several other prominent members of the Administration served as hostesses during the coffee hour. Among the places visited on the tour were the fully equipped modern infirmary, the greenhouses and vivarium at Sage Hall, the East Rock Room of the new Recreation Building with its swimming pool, squash courts and other facilities, courses in Biblical History, Europe in the Twentieth Century, French Conversation, and Oral Interpretation of Shakespeare were visited during the afternoon.

Included in the group from Winchester were Mrs. Robert M. Stone, Mrs. Richard W. Wyman, Mrs. Parker Heath, Mrs. John L. Graves, Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, Mrs. Charles T. Main, 2nd, Mrs. Blanche S. Barnard, Mrs. Albert D. Sweeney, and Mrs. William B. Lunsford. Mrs. Arthur T. Rudge and Mrs. Charles T. Main, 2nd, were in charge of arrangements for the tour.

CONFINED WITH FRACTURED FOOT

Mrs. Winifred Sargent, wife of Edward C. Sargent of 342 Washington street is confined to her home with a fractured foot and is obliged to use crutches to get around.

Mrs. Sargent fell at home while making preparations for a birthday party for her mother, Mrs. Mary Mallette whose home is in West Medford but is temporarily residing here with her daughter, Mrs. Mallette, who was 85 on May 12, is the mother of former Middlesex County Commissioner Thomas B. Brennan and is well known among some of the older residents of Winchester.

Storrow Troop 1 felt very honored at being the only girls invited to the annual Woodsmen's Weekend at Bartmouth in which, besides the D. O. C. outing club from McGill, Middlebury, University of Maine, and Kimball Union Academy participated.

We pitched our tents, with help from the D. O. C. boys, on Oak Hill by Storrow Pond Friday afternoon. After supper some of the adventurous girls proceeded to climb steep Oak Hill. It was an uncomfortable and inspiring experience, looking down at the campsite all the while, the foot of the hill, and hearing the mixed voices rising with songs from around the glowing campfire below.

Saturday we were a little late to witness the first events because our seldom practiced out-door cooking slowed us up.

All day long we enjoyed the different woodsmen's events such as: Felling and Twisting, Cross-cut Sawing, Pole Throwing, Bucking, Splitting and Chopping, Fire-Building, Pickboard Races, Portage Races, and Canoe Races. It became cold and rainy in the afternoon so we had to cook our supper out in the rain as best we could. That evening, because of rain, we shared a campfire with the K. U. A. boys in the D. O. C. Cabin. We had such a good time singing we hated to leave when bedtime drew near.

That night we froze. Even our sleeping bags weren't too much protection from the cold damp ground. I guess we grumbled then but it sure seems like loads of fun now. When we awoke Sunday morning we found ice instead of bedding underfoot. That's how cold it was!

That morning we watched the Fly Casting and Bait Casting. A few of our girls followed example, using their own lines and doing their own casting with very good results.

After lunch we packed up, along with the other groups, and said goodbye to our friends before leaving for Winchester and home. That was one weekend Storrow Troop 1 will never forget.

We wish to thank Mrs. W. B. Hersey, our leader, and her husband who transported us and made the trip possible for our troop. We girls who were lucky enough to go are:

Joan Bodman, Virginia Bullard, Anne Farquhar, Bette Fitz, Barbara Macaulay, Cynthia Morse, Betty Ann Parker, Dorcas Stone, Mildred True.

PARSONAGE DRIVE

The Second Congregational Church parsonage drive is receiving popular support from its members and friends. The grant thermometer located in front of Second Church indicates that $1500 has already been pledged. It is hoped that Winchester people will all share the pride of driving the thermometer mercury higher with their contributions. The men of the church report that they are ready to take over the work of building as soon as the success of the financial drive is assured. Howard Wallace, a member of the church, has run a survey and marked out the lot on the church property. J. Stewart Chaffee, a member of the firm of Builders, Speciality and Hardware Corporation, Somerville, has generously indicated their willingness to help the church by contributing substantially toward the materials to be used in the building.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL ASSEMBLIES

That elementary school assemblies are more than entertainment was again demonstrated by the fourth grade class of Miss Elizabeth McPartlin at the Lincoln school on May 18.

The entire class participated in a program of featured social studies, music, and speech. First came a review of the year's work, made more colorful by the rise of slides showing occupations, transportation, housing, and food of Iceland, the Congo, China, the Sahara, Mexico, and Switzerland.

As in preparation of all assemblies, the importance of good speaking voices was stressed. The class, having been divided into three groups, reported respectively on the lives of composers Haydn, Mozart, and Beethoven and sang a song by each.

NEW HONOR FOR NORMA FARRAR

Miss Norma Farrar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Farrar of Myrtle street, was recently tapped for membership in the National Honorary Society, Mortar-Board at the University of Hampshire where she is an outstanding member of the Junior Class.

Nine members are tapped yearly at the University of Hampshire where the members of Mortar-Board assist handicapped girls scholastically in other ways.

Miss Farrar has made an outstanding record at University of New Hampshire, despite her own handicap of blindness. Recently elected president of girls' student government, she has been president of the glee club and on the Dean's List. In a recent horse show at the University she won two ribbons for horsemanship.

ARLINGTON GAS LIGHT CO. TO SUPPLY NATURAL GAS

Customers of Arlington Gas Light Company will have a ready supply of natural gas from the initial lines piped into New England. It was announced today by Everett C. Bryant, the Company's Vice President.

Mr. Bryant stated that his company had completed arrangements with Northeastern Gas Transmission Company to supply it with natural gas. The Arlington Company will purchase natural gas from Northeastern and distribute it locally to its 25,000 customers in Arlington, Belmont, Lexington, Winchester and Woburn. Mr. Bryant said that he was hopeful natural gas would be piped into the New England area by 1951.

AT JUBILEE SQUARE DANCE

Ken Pratt, custodian of the Mystic School and square dance addict for these many years, was one of the Boston Jubilee square dance participants at the big "hoedown" last Saturday evening at the Boston Garden. Before the dance by way of warming up a bit, "Weenie" hooped it up town for a peek at the bean-eaters on the common. According to Ken this round was a real sight, and he was equally complimentary of the dance at the garden, though some of the callers, in his expert opinion, were not "so hot".

PATENT GRANTED RINI

On May 9, 1950, the United States Patent Office granted patent number 2,507,184 on "Alkali-Refining of Fatty Glycerides in the Presence of an Inorganic Phosphate Compound" to S. Jack Rini, 84 Walnut street, Winchester.

Notwithstanding its technical nature, this invention pertains to an improved process for refining or purifying soybean oils and the like. Soybean oil, as is generally known, is obtained from the seeds of the soya plant which is grown to a considerable extent in certain sections of the United States. Although consisting of the purest oil, it is used also with paints and varnishes.

Generally speaking, the so-called "alkali-refining" of these oils involves the creation of two phases, one consisting of the pyrophosphates, and the other of the pyrophosphates. It is claimed that his method's of the greatest commercial significance and that products obtained thereby are of satisfactory quality and may be employed to prepare food shortenings. This patent has been assigned to Lever Brothers Company.

However, the loss of desirable oil has heretofore been a serious factor in large scale refining operations, particularly of the kettle type; and it is therefore the object of Mr. Rini's invention to provide a method of substantially overcoming this limitation. Thus, he has discovered, may be accomplished by the simple expedient of adding a small amount of the chemical "tetrasodium pyrophosphate" to the oil undergoing treatment.

In his patent specifications, Mr. Rini cites seventeen examples of the practice of his process; and as typical of his procedure, one of them showed a refining loss of only .71% which is in marked contrast to the loss of more than 2% that occurs under similar conditions without the use of the pyrophosphates. It is claimed that his method's of the greatest commercial significance and that products obtained thereby are of satisfactory quality and may be employed to prepare food shortenings. This patent has been assigned to Lever Brothers Company.

EN ROUTE TO THE PACIFIC

Edward H. Ayers, seaman, USN, of 74 Sylvester avenue, is serving aboard the submarine USS Remora, en route to the Western Pacific to join the 7th Fleet whose mission is to support American foreign policy in the Far East.

The Remora is one of three submarines which will be part of a task group that will relieve ships now on duty in Asiatic waters. En route to the Philippines, where the 7th Fleet is based, she will stop at Honolulu and Guam, later visiting ports in China and Japan.

Seaman Ayers, who attended Winchester High School, joined the Navy in 1945.

Sunday Suppers Super!

Steward Maxwell's grand idea of serving Buffet Suppers at the Winchester Boat Club on Sunday evenings got off to a wonderful start last Sunday. Almost 40 club members and friends enjoyed a feast of cold cuts, relishes, salads and desserts fit for a king. The table was groaning with tempting tidbits and there was more than enough for everyone. The initial affair was so successful, Steward Maxwell is staging another next Sunday, June 4th. Better get your reservation in early—the price is perfect, too, only 95 cents per person.

WARRIORS WON SEASON'S OPENER

Lew Wasky and his Winchester Warriors got off on the right foot last Sunday afternoon as they opened their Paul Revere League season on Leonard Field with an 11-7 victory over Sudbury.

A nine-run second inning really decided the ball game, enabling the Warriors' pitchers, Bobby Farrell and Woburn Freddy Hill, to ease up over the last seven. Even so their performance was impressive, each fanning six and walking only one batter.

In the second Provinzano's double, hits by Plummer, Donaghey, Bellino, Farrell and Provinzano, a triple by Paul Roche and Al Plummer's home run, made his second time at bat in the inning, accounted for the locals nine runs, aided by a walk to Modomo.

Solid hitting got Sudbury two back in the third, but the visitors' two runs in the fourth were waved in on errors by Bellino and Tibaud.

Freddy Hill, working the last five frames, was also victimized by a two-run error in the 6th; Balfour's homer in the 7th being the only run earned off his delivery.

The fielding gem of the game was turned in by Timmy Connors when he took Phelps grand lid for extra bases off the fence in deep left center.

Nice Pitching Effort by Murphy Wasted

It was just a case of too much Bob Donahue as Belmont High took a 4 to 0 victory from Winchester High at Leonard Field on Tuesday afternoon. The lucky southpaw had the local batters completely at his mercy as he compiled 15 strikeouts while granting only two hits. Because he was a bit wild, issuing eight bases on balls, the local had enough scoring opportunities to win through with a hit in the fifth as they left eleven runners stranded.

Another good pitching effort by Charlie Murphy was wasted as his teammates failed to get him any runs. Murphy allowed Belmont only five singles as he struck out eight while issuing four bases on balls. Belmont failed to get a hit in six of the nine innings off the hurling of Murphy but scored single runs in the second and the sixth and a pair of runs in the ninth. The two Winchester hits were collected by Amico in the third and Keyes in the seventh.

NEW SPORTS FEATURE BY CHITEL

Commencing in this week's issue of the Star Jack Chitel of Chitel's will be another column featuring a series of advertisements featuring items of interest in the field of sports.

Sports have a universal appeal, making the Chitel series generally intriguing as well as being of special interest to athletes and sportsmen. The ads will appear on Page 3 of the Star. Watch for them.

Kenneth M. Dickson, electronics technician, third class, USN, of 9 Wilson street, was scheduled to arrive in Newport, R. I., May 23, after a four-month cruise in the Mediterranean as a member of the destroyer USS G. K. Mackenzie.

CALLING ALL MEMBERS OF W. H. S. CLASSES OF '24 AND '25

Plans are progressing for an unforgettable reunion. 'Al' Horne famous on the old ivories, showed up last Monday night. Sure, we know we're 25 and 26 years young but that doesn't mean we can't 'trip the light fantastic!'

If you haven't heard from us, forgive us, and make a reservation with Elizabeth Jacobs (church) Winchester 6-0851-R by June 1st. No doubt your letter is wandering around in some foreign country. We've made some queer mistakes on addresses. Sorry but we're not infallible!

Let's hear from Winchester folks this week. Maybe you know you're coming but the committee doesn't and the caterer must know by June 1st. Some of us are coming singly so come alone if you better half refuses. Enthusiastic replies have come from Baltimore, Pittsburgh, New Hampshire and Washington. D. C. Malcolm Stewart, our weather expert, wants to know if "Les" Stewart and "Pog" Madlocks are to be there. Are you?

Remember a reunion in the High School Gymnasium, June 17th, at 6:30 p. m., turkey dinner and all the fixings. Former teachers, former classmates, a bit of talk and music—a grand evening is in store for us youngsters!

We're still hunting for the following:

Class of 1924
Helen Byrne
Ruth Burns
Winthrop Nolan
Charlotte Healey
Charlotte Lemp
Pauline Mansfield
Cam's
Dorothy Wyman

Class of 1925
Barbara Begien
Miriam Emery
Laura Tirrell

Monday evening, June 5, at 7:30 p. m., will be another committee meeting to make final plans at the home of Olive Seller Wilkins, 8 Clematis street. If you're interested, call Chitel's. We welcome suggestions. Call Winchester 6-0526-J or Winchester 6-0851-R.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Two Winchester men, Charles Eaton of Myopia Hill and former Seletman Morris Kerr of Lewis road, were active in ensuring the success of the Boston Jubilee celebration. A former Winchester man, Lee W. Court, now director of display for Filene's, was also active in furthering the Jubilee and Mrs. William A. Durant of Medford, the former Ann McKenzie of this town, served as secretary of the Jubilee committee at its Headquarters on Federal street as well as being coordinator for the Mayor of Boston, England, and the Mayors during their stay in the Hub.

Officer John McHugh has drawn the first of the Police Department's summer vacations, commencing his two weeks leave on June 5. Mrs. Esther Clark, who has been at the Winchester Hospital recovering from an operation, returned to her home Wednesday.

Mrs. John Hamilton Clarke of Highland avenue has returned from New York where her daughter, Dorothy, sailed on Tuesday on the Corona. Miss Clark, who will travel with her aunt, Miss Dorothy Larned of Framingham, will be away until late July.

Mrs. James Seiden, who makes her home on Canterbury road with her daughter, Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes, was removed to the Winchester Hospital after suffering a heart attack last Sunday.

Officer Winthrop L. Palmer of the Police Department is returning to duty June 4 after being on leave of absence since March 12 because of disability.

No games will be played on next Monday or Tuesday evenings because of the holiday on Tuesday. The schedule will be resumed as usual on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

The Town Softball League is off to an excellent start with interest running high as the teams appear to be very evenly matched. Prospects look bright for an exciting league race right down to the final week. The Sons of Italy appear to be strong again as they have raced away to four straight victories. The Atomies and Gullotti's Esso Station have shown enough to indicate that they will be in the contention all the way.

The V. F. W. has demonstrated that they still have the most power of any team in the circuit and will be very troublesome with tighter pitching.

Bergees and Cobb has defeated the Young Un's and the Atomies and look greatly improved over last year. The Young Un's have given the opposition a tough time in their four games and will improve as the season progresses. Charlie A. Murphy's Texaco Station team, the Cam's, look good and are definitely capable of beating any team in the league. The White Shirts, although beaten three straight, have lost three games by no more than two runs and are ready to break into the win column. All in all, it looks like the competition will be stiff all the way and the spectators will see many exciting moments this summer.

No games will be played on next Monday or Tuesday evenings because of the holiday on Tuesday. The schedule will be resumed as usual on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

CHANGES IN PROPERTY VALUATIONS

An Open Letter From Winchester's Assessors

Tax Payers: Last year the Town appointed a Committee to look into the advisability of a complete survey of the property in the Town of Winchester. Their report to the Town's people this Spring was very gratifying to the present Board of Assessors.

This Committee gave much praise to the work and methods of the Assessors now in office, and suggested that in their opinion Assessors themselves could do the job. In other words, the Assessors have been passed the ball and it's up to them.

First, let me say, to be a real Assessor is at times a very difficult and unpleasant job. You are sometimes called upon, in all fairness, to raise the taxes of some of your best friends, some of the Town's leading citizens, and some of the people least able to pay. But as Marshall Phil has said, and I quote: "Let's be fair to the Tax Payer, and at the same time fair to the Town of Winchester."

Just a few words about Marshall Phil our Chairman last year, and Ernest Dado our new member. Marshall is a square shooter. A man with a world of Real Estate knowledge, a man with wonderful counsel, in short, a swell person. As to Ernie, he is also working out good. He is a smart business man, willing to give generously of his time, and is very cooperative and agreeable. So much for personalities, let's go back to your tax bill.

Many of you Tax Payers will find that your valuation has been raised a small amount, and many will find that your valuation has been lowered. To those who have been lowered, this is not a Christmas present, but to your neighbors this has to be done. To those who have been raised, we also felt that this was a must. If your valuation has been changed, it is because there has been a change in ownership of some piece of property in your neighborhood. When this occurs, the Board of Assessors drive up and view the property in question, and they not only pass on the fair and equitable value of that particular piece of property, but also take into consideration the surrounding properties in an attempt to make the whole neighborhood fair.

If you do not agree with the Board of Assessors in what they have done, please don't tell your neighbors or friends, but come down and tell us at the Town Hall. We have no iron curtain down here. We have three agreeable girls who will make an appointment for you and we will gladly discuss your taxes with you on a friendly even basis.

It's your Town and we are serving you.

Alfred D. Elliott
 Chairman of the Board of Assessors

WINCHESTER PARENTS AND TEACHERS AT FRIENDLY FROLIC

Meeting under strictly social conditions, over four hundred Winchester parents and teachers enjoyed themselves last Wednesday evening at the homes of the hosts and hostesses and at the "Friendly Frolic" held in the Town Hall.

Unity of interest merged with friendly sociability as the parents who were able to take part in the evening ally represented the mothers and fathers of the town in show to the evening fashion and they love their children and hope by their cooperative efforts to show interest in teachers as members of the community.

Credit for the success of the evening is jointly shared by Miss Lydia Whittemore, President of the Teachers' Club, and George Marks, President of the Central Board of Mothers' Clubs, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Chairman of the Friendly Frolic Committee and a host of other mothers by whose efforts the affair was made a success.

Dr. Norris, as Master of Ceremonies, first turned the meeting over to Mr. Fred Felmet, Supervisor of Music, who led the song-fest with Miss Leonor Rich at the piano.

He then introduced those seated at the head table: Dr. George Marks, Mrs. Edward B. Orr, Mrs. Nicholas Fitzgerald, Mr. Charles Wilson, Mrs. Norris, Professor Howard Bartlett, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Miss Lydia Whittemore, Miss Gertrude Howard, Mr. Ralph Fitzgerald, Mrs. Howard Bartlett, Mrs. George Marks, and the speaker of the evening, Mr. Edward B. Orr.

Others singled out for special mention were Mrs. Richard Bolster, Mrs. Alexander Clark, Mrs. John D. McLean, Mrs. Paul E. Nason, Mrs. Henry Belliker, Mrs. Ralph Jope, and Miss Elizabeth MacPartlin—all of whom gave unstinting efforts of their time to insure the party's success.

Flowers at the head table were a gift from the Winchester Conservatory.

Introduced as a one-man quiz program, Mr. Edward B. Orr, a member of the editorial board of The Christian Science Monitor, and for many years a college professor and administrator, humorously answered questions of local interest and then launched into a three-point answer to the question: "Is War Inevitable?"

LEGHORN — HOLTZMAN

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Rochester, N. Y., on Friday evening, May 19, when Miss Catherine Holtzman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Holtzman, Jr., and Mrs. Arthur M. Holtzman, Jr., became the bride of Kenneth Joseph Leghorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Leghorn of Wedgewood Avenue, Rev. George L. Cadigan, rector of the church, read the marriage service which was followed by a reception at the Oak Hill Country Club.

Miss Holtzman had for her honor attendant Mrs. John R. Reed of Rochester and the bridesmaids, also residing in Rochester, were Mrs. Arthur M. Holtzman, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride; and Miss Diane Curtis.

Kenneth M. Leghorn of Berkeley Heights, N. J., was best man for his brother, and the usher corps comprised Wayne Norton, Arthur M. Holtzman, Jr., brother of the bride, Frederick Welsh and Anthony Frothingham, all of Rochester.

Mr. Leghorn and his bride sailed Tuesday on the SS Corona of the Cunard Line on a wedding journey to England and the Continent, a business trip which Mr. Leghorn is taking for Eastman Kodak with which firm he is associated.

The bride is a graduate of University of Colorado where she was a member of Phi Beta Phi and of the honorary scholastic fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa.

Mr. Leghorn graduated from Winchester High School and from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the class of 1939. He is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity and of the University and Country Clubs of Rochester.

During World War II he served with the Army Air Forces in the ETO with the rank of Lieutenant colonel. During the atomic bomb attack on Hiroshima he was deputy commander of the Army Photographic Unit on duty there.

While the girls continued with descriptive music, Bird Songs, Ballades, Songs Without Words, Minuets and Waltzes by Schubert, Schumann, Brahms, Paderewski, and Chopin.

Those participating were: George Wynum, Peter Brannhall, Harry Lewis Preble, Donald Reed, Roger Gullotti, Langley Keyes, Ann Buros, Norma Crockett, Jill McIntyre, Gay Vanner, Lynn Dawson, Stephanie Hershey, Lydia Wyman, Judy Camilleri, Pamela Miller, Althea Hersey.

INFANTSTINGS

To Mr. and Mrs. Rowland A. Beers of Stoneham, a son, Daniel Cole Beers, May 24th at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents' honors are shared by Mr. and Mrs. Rowland T. Beers of Arlington and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Cole of Winchester.

CONNOR — MORGAN

At St. Joseph's Church in East Woburn on Saturday, May 13, Miss Jean Arlene Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Morgan of 71 Washington street, East Woburn, became the bride of Kenneth Joseph Connor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Connor of 374 Cross street, Rev. Edwin P. Walsh performed the marriage ceremony at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Miss Marion Mulvan played the bridal music and the soloist was Walter Doherty, who sang among other selections, the "Ave Maria" and "Mother at Thy Feet is Kneeling."

Miss Morgan was given in marriage by her father. She had for her honor attendant Miss Patricia Connor of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Carroll Ann Yurek, small niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white satin and Val lace with a fitted bodice and full skirt. Her fingertip-length veil was caught to a coronet of seed pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a white missal with white and lavender orchids and shower of stephanotis.

The honor attendant wore a Nile green flowered marquisette dress with a large matching horsehair hat and carried a bouquet of red carnations with white starlets. The bridesmaids wore pale yellow flowered marquisette dresses with large yellow horsehair hats and carried yellow carnations combined with showers of lavender-blue statice.

The flower girl wore a princess style frock of Nile green flowered marquisette with matching bonnet and carried a coral bouquet.

Charles Grappe of Pinehurst was best man and the ushers were two brothers of the bride, Richard and George Morgan, and Edward Yurek, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

After the marriage a reception was held at the Woburn Country Club with the mother of the bride and the parents of the bridegroom assisting in receiving.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Montreal, Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Connor will make their home in Woburn.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS WHIST

On Friday June 9, 1950, the Winchester Council No. 210 Knights of Columbus will conduct a whist party at the Noonan School hall. All the proceeds of the party will be given to the Trappist Monks of Cumberland, R. I. These monks were victims of a recent fire that left them homeless. Loss of the fire was estimated at $2,000,000.00. Not only were they burned out of their home, but their large library which they had amassed over 50 years, their entire kitchen, shoe making department (including machinery), their infirmary and hospital, all their office equipment including valuable records were completely lost. Even their Brevaries which they need to say their daily office are gone. Their entire food supply was wiped out, making it necessary for the Red Cross to feed them. They are now living in an old abandoned C. C. C. camp in Rhode Island with no conveniences and many of the older monks are ill and need hospitalization. They need financial help desperately. Due to their order they cannot seek any help for themselves, for this reason the Winchester Knights of Columbus are running this whist party to aid these poor monks in their hour of need. Any Brother Knight or anyone wishing to donate to this Trappist Monks Charity Party may do so by contacting Chairman Al Barnard at Winchester 6-089-1. So all are reminded to keep the date of the Whist Party (June 9th) open and help make this Charity Whist Party a financial success by your attendance.

WINCHESTER MOTORISTS INVITED IN WOBURN CRASH

Robert Beranger, 22, of 6 Chesterton road, and Fred W. Reading, 22, of 91 Pond street, were taken to the Winchester Hospital Tuesday night after the automobile in which they were riding got out of control on the Woburn Parkway and crashed into a tree near the Pond street end of the road.

Both young men were taken to the Winchester Hospital, Reading sustaining lacerations of the face and head and Beranger a fracture of the right elbow as well as cuts and bruises. Reading was discharged after a night in the hospital but it is reported that Beranger will be held at the hospital for several weeks.

AUSTIN FRANKLIN HITCHCOCK

B. & M. Crossing Tender Well Known Here

Austin Franklin Hitchcock of 97 Franklin street, Melrose, widely known in Winchester through his service as morning crossing tender at the Boston & Maine Railroad crossing in the center, died Thursday morning, May 25, at his home following several months illness, during which he had been for a time a patient at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Born in Charlestown 69 years ago Mr. Hitchcock lived as a young man in Andover. He had been with the Boston and Maine for some years, first as a salesman and later as a crossing tender. He was a member of Melrose Lodge of Elks and of St. Matthew's Lodge of Masons in Andover. His wife, Nina, is his only survivor.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Edgerley and Besom Funeral Home in Reading. Interment will be in Spring Grove Cemetery, Andover.

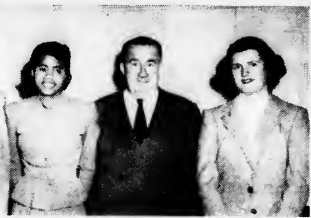

MISS HICKEY CONTEST WINNER

Miss Dorothy Hickey, daughter of Mrs. Madeline M. Hickey of 40 Salem street won the final competition Wednesday evening in the seven-weeks amateur contest at the Strand Theatre in Woburn, jointly sponsored by the theatre and by Gorin's Department Store. As a prize she will receive a three day trip to New York with all expenses paid for her and her mother and with the opportunity to appear on Ted Mack's original Amateur Hour TV Show, sponsored by Old Gold Cigarettes.

Miss Hickey, a graduate of Winchester High School in the class of 1947, is widely known as a soprano soloist, singing with all expenses paid for her and her mother and with the opportunity to appear on Ted Mack's original Amateur Hour TV Show, sponsored by Old Gold Cigarettes.

She was selected several weeks ago as one of the finalists in the Amateur contest at the Strand and Wednesday evening was one of six to appear before the theatre audience, whose applause determined the winner.

Miss Hickey sang the popular "My Hero" from the "Chocolate Soldier," as she had

SEMI-FINALISTS IN FORUM FOR LIVING SCHOLARSHIP CONTEST

Mildred F. True, 17 year-old Winchester High School senior (right) shown with other semi-finalists in the Forum for Living College Scholarship competition, sponsored by Casualty Insurance Companies serving Massachusetts and held on several Sundays this spring over Station WEEI. With Miss True are (left to right) Frank Mazzio of Belmont, Boston Latin School senior; Elinor Smith of Boston Girls Latin School; and Guest Moderator Frederick J. Gillis, assistant superintendent of Boston schools. Frank, Elinor and Mildred tied in one of two quarter-final competitions which were held May 7 and 14, the photo being taken at that time. Semi-finals were held Sunday, May 21, at which time Miss True was eliminated. The Winchester Girl, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. True of 83 Walnut street, won a $25 Government Bond for her second-round win in the contest and a $50 Bond for making the semi-finals.

COMMITTEE OF SAFETY
CHAPTER D. A. R.

The Annual Meeting of the Committee of Safety Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Twombly, 16 Landon road, with Dessert served at 1:30 p. m. by the Hostess assisted by Mrs. Curtis Nash, Mrs. Donald Lewis, Mrs. Thomas Downes, Mrs. G. Russell Mann, Mrs. Charles Nichols, Mrs. John Downes, Mrs. Everett Kiddier, Mrs. Raymond Terhune, Miss Oliver Chandler Hill, Miss Emma Louise Boardman, Mrs. Robert Seddon, and Mrs. Charles Vanner.

Mrs. Earle E. Andrews, Regent presided at the business meeting and the opening exercises were conducted by the Chaplain, Miss Grace Pound, and the Chairman Correct Use of the Flag, Mrs. John B. Willis.

The President General's April Message was read by Mrs. Paul Stoneman. The Report of the Annual March State Conference held at the Copley Plaza Hotel Boston, was given by Mrs. Andrews, and the Report of the 50th Continental Congress held in Washington, D. C., was given by Mrs. Joseph Ryan and Mrs. Nathaniel M. Nichols, Delegates.

Mrs. Raymond Strawbridge, Treasurer and National Building Fund Chairman, reported that over the two year period given over to the Building Fund, the Chapter had raised through Voluntary Contributions, Chapter Projects and Private Parties about $435.00 for the National Building Fund.

Food Sales and Parties were under the capable Chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Vanner of Ways and Means, and the successful Candy Selling Project and Rummage Sale conducted by Mrs. Paul Stoneman, and Mrs. Andrews.

It was announced by the Regent that this was the first time in 20 years that the National Society had come to the members for a contribution for a Washington project. Mrs. Andrews commended the Executive Board and Committee Chairmen and Members for their cooperation during her term as Regent, and stated that the past year had been year of Progress for Committee of Safety Chapter, a year of real accomplishment as other contributions had been made to H. A. R. Projects and to the Winchester Chapter American Red Cross. A membership had been presented to Barbara Wayne Collins in memory of her mother, Mrs. Robert Collins, and the Chapter had purchased a gift for the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution Library in Washington, D. C. through the State Librarian, Mrs. George C. Proctor, the book "The Commission of a Privileged Captain in the Revolutionary War and the Salem Branch of the Crowell Family," in memory of Mrs. Charles Burnham, and Mrs. Frederick P. Young.

The Chapter sponsored a Girl Pilgrim for the Annual State Conference held in Boston on March 20th, Elnora Ann Baldacci who had been selected from the Senior Class of the Winchester High School by members of her class and the Faculty, as the student who possessed the four qualities of character to an outstanding degree: Dependability, Service, Leadership and Patriotism.

Mrs. William Goodhue, Vice Regent presented an unusually entertaining program of Flower Arrangements. In her informal talk she called attention to the many types of shrubs and flowers used in the beautiful arrangements on exhibition.

Annual Reports were given by Mrs. Francis P. Carlson, Registrar, Mrs. Edward Nowell, Recording Secretary, Mrs. Raymond Strawbridge, Treasurer, Mrs. Charles Vanner, Ways and Means and Mrs. Fred Seales, Librarian.

Mrs. William Purdy, Chairman of the Nominating Committee presented the Slate of Officers for 1950-1951 which were elected as follows:

Regent, Mrs. William Goodhue; Vice Regent, Mrs. Raymond Strawbridge; Chaplain, Mrs. Paul Stoneman; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Francis P. Carlson; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Earle E. Andrews; Treasurer, Mrs. Harold Twombly; Registrar, Mrs. Howard H. P. Wright; Historian, Mrs. George Peckham; Librarian, Mrs. John B. Willis; Directors, Mrs. Charles Nichols, Miss Grace Pound, Mrs. William Purdy, Mrs. Fred Seales and Mrs. Marshall Symmes.

State meeting were: Mrs. Raymond Strawbridge, Mrs. Paul Stoneman and Mrs. Earle E. Andrews. Alternates, Mrs. Nathaniel M. Nichols, Mrs. George Peckham, Mrs. Francis P. Carlson, Mrs. Raymond Terhune, Mrs. Everett Kiddier, Miss Clara Russell, Mrs. Marshall Symmes and Mrs. Clifton Hall.

Mrs. Andrews presented the Chapter pin and Gavel to Mrs. Goodhue, who in turn presented Mrs. Andrews with an Ex-Regent Pin and Official Insignia the latter a gift from the Executive Board and Committee Chairmen. Mrs. Goodhue commended Mrs. Andrews for her splendid accomplishments and hearty cooperation as Regent, returning to her the Gavel for the adjournment of the meeting. Mrs. Andrews welcomed the incoming Regent and Officers and expressed her thanks to all.

Among officers recently elected at Colgate University for the Boston Club for the coming year is Mrs. Edmund C. Filler of 9 Madison avenue west.

WAKENED BY INTRUDER

Shortly after midnight Saturday morning Police Headquarters received a call for assistance from a woman living in the Plains section.

Set, Edward F. Bowler and Officer John H. Boyle went to investigate and were told by the woman that she was in bed asleep when she was awakened by some one moving about the room.

In response to her question, a man's voice spoke the name of her husband but immediately thereafter took to his heels running out the front door of the house. The woman's husband was not at home at the time.

The Police found that a screen had been removed from a window of the woman's bedroom and was lying on the ground under the window. A man's footprints were found in the soft soil of the yard, but the police believe he did not enter the house by way of the window as the front door was found open. No suspicious characters were found in the neighborhood.

WATER-GUNS AT THE STREET FAIR

Last Saturday evening at the En Ka Street Fair youngsters were having all sorts of fun squirting frequenters of the grounds with water-pistols. There were two ways in which the water-guns got soaked, either through design by youngsters hidden between or behind booths, or they inadvertently got too close to private gang-fights in which water-guns were the principal weapons. In either case the results were unpleasant and the wettings continued until the Police took a hand in the game, taking guns from many of the youngsters. A drawer partially full of confiscated water-pistols was on display at Police Headquarters Monday.

PENNY SALE

A monster penny sale, for the benefit of the Don Orione Home for Aged Italians, will be held Friday night, May 26, at the Christopher Columbus Hall at eight p. m. There will be over one hundred and twenty-five gifts to be given away. Come and have an enjoyable evening and at the same time help in this great charitable cause.

CONCORD QUADRANGULAR MEET WINNER

Concord High School's well balanced track team beat Winchester, Melrose and Woburn in the third annual Quadrangular Track and Field Meet last Saturday afternoon on Manchester Field. It was the first defeat for Winchester since the games were inaugurated two years ago.

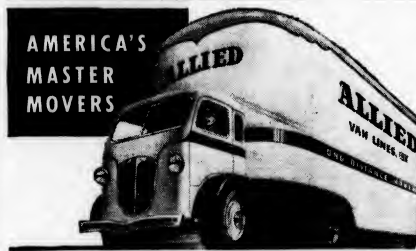

Concord's winning total was 36 1/2 points. Winchester was second with 30 1/2, Melrose third with 23 1/2 and Woburn, minus several of its team members, was last with 8. Winchester competed without Peter Gilberto, sprinter and broad-jumper; Tom Wilder, also a dash man and jumper; and Bob Welsh, high-jumper. Both Wilder and Gilberto have broken 18 feet in the broad jump this spring and either or both would probably have picked up points in this event, as well as boosting Winchester's relay stock. Coach Knowlton was counting on Welsh for a first or second in the high jump. With this trio in action it is very probable Winchester would have won.

Going into the last event, the relay, Concord was leading by two-thirds of a point. That's how close the competition was to there. With neither Wilder nor Gilberto available for relay duty, the locals could place no better than third in this event and the five first-place points garnered by Concord turned out to be the visitors' winning margin.

Concord outscored Winchester in first places, five to two, and got its fair share of seconds and thirds to bolster its team's chances. It was tough that Elliot Hersey's broad jump of better than 18 feet, which would have won this event for Winchester, was nullified by his failure to fall forward instead of backward in the pit. As it was Gene Rotundi's fourth was Winchester's only point in this event.

The locals scored in every event while Concord was shut out in the 880, Concord's first and second in the shotput and its five first places.

WORLD'S LARGEST LONG DISTANCE MOVERS

however, proved enough to ensure its victory.

There were some good performances. Ryan, Concord sophomore, looked good winning the 100 in 10.7s, beating Zeke Hicks of Winchester by about 4 yards. Winchester's Bob O'Brien had to fight all the way to win by a long stride from Riley of Woburn in the 400. Rose, crack Melrose quarter-mile, had a comfortable margin in the 440 on Winchester's Antipapas, who barely saved second place from Moreau of Concord. The time in this event, 54.1s, was good, and Antipapas must have done 55 himself.

The half was a dog fight all the way between Winchester's Fisher Wolfe and Copson of Melrose, with the Winchester boy leading until the next to the last turn.

There as Wolfe swung away from the pole, Copson cut inside him and took over. Wolfe fought back, but the two yards Copson picked up as he cut inside Fisher proved enough to win at the finish. Had Wolfe pulled in as the Melrose boy tried to get inside him, Copson would have been run off the track and out of the race.

In the mile Winchester's Kenny Blake led until the final 220 when Hammond of Concord, who had been running right on Blake's shoulder, brushed by him. Ken failed to run his opponent wide, and though he fought hard to stay with the Concord boy, he couldn't do it, finishing five yards back in 4m 52s, an effort which he might easily to equal or eclipse.

The time in the half-mile, 2m 6.5s, was faster, but Wolfe should have won that one, good as the figures were. That old pole is pretty important on the last two corners and well worth guarding. Samoiloff's 5 ft. 3 in. was goodish going in the high jump.

In appraising Winchester's effort, it should be remembered that the local boys were not in too good condition, being short of work, due to their lack of a home track this spring. A good sized crowd saw the meet and witnessed some good competition, which is after all what counts. The summary:

He Doesn't Care Who Passes Him!

ONE of the rarest satisfactions a 1950 Cadillac brings to its owner is serenity.

Watch him briefly in the stream of traffic—and, if he is a normal Cadillac driver, you will quickly sense what we mean. He drives as he feels his mood and his requirements, and is quite content to let others do the same.

Unless he happens to be in a hurry, it is all right with him if another driver wants the honors when the light turns green. He knows that the surplus power in that eager, dynamic engine was put there for his safety and driving ease—and not for dramatic display on the get-away.

And so on the open road. If you wish to pass him—just let him know. He understands that his last two inches of throttle were not put there for the ungracious purpose of dominating the highway. They are there for an emergency—and for that lovely, cruising ride which only a great reserve of power can provide.

So roll along, if you're in a hurry—and the top of the mornin' to you!

It's a wonderful thing, this feeling of calm confidence in your motor car. It lessens the strain, and increases the pleasure, of every mile you drive.

And we wonder if you realize how easily and practically it can be yours. Listen . . .

. . . the lower-priced models in the Cadillac line cost less to buy than the highest-priced models of numerous other cars!

. . . Cadillac's great high-compression engine is so efficient that a single tankful of gas-line will usually suffice for a normal full day's drive!

. . . and as to endurance, the Cadillac record stands by itself. The lifespan of a Cadillac car has never been fully measured!

Surely, these are such practical facts that they should point your way to the joys of a Cadillac. And the car itself can quickly reveal how great these joys can be. Why not come in today?

McGRATH BUSY WITH U. S. JUNIOR GOLF

Harry A. McGrath of 16 Range-Ridge, prominent in state golfing circles as tournament chairman of the Massachusetts Golf Association, has been appointed a member of the United States Golf Association's committee for the national junior championship which will be held at Denver, Colo., July 19 - 22.

Local golfers are delighted to see this well merited honor come Mr. McGrath's way for no one hereabouts has been more active than he in promoting golfing interest in the younger generation. Even before his appointment to the U. S. Association's committee, Harry had started a campaign among member clubs of the Massachusetts Association to accelerate their work in behalf of the national tourney as well as the annual state junior championship to be played at Wollaston August 8 - 11. The sectional qualifying round for the national junior event will be held on July 11 at Charles River, this time as a separate event and not tied in as last year with the State Junior tourney.

Mr. McGrath is currently busy promoting the Francis Oulmet caddy scholarship fund which already has sent 13 caddies to New England colleges. Earlier in the season 13 clubs of the M. G. A. signified their intention of contributing to the Oulmet Caddy Fund by holding tournaments for their own members with the proceeds going to the fund.

Knowing Harry's enthusiasm and energy, many more clubs will be in line before the season is too much further along.

"IMMAC" WON DRUM AND BUGLE COMPETITION

The Immaculate Conception Drum and Bugle Corps won first prize last Saturday in the big drum and bugle corps competition, participated in by organizations throughout the Catholic Archdiocese of Greater Boston and held at Halls Memorial Stadium in Braintree. The immaculate first girls drill team also participated in the competition for the first time.

Charles Duran was drum major of the bugle and drum corps, and Betty Ann McHugh was sword bearer.

After the competition an exhibition was held and the boys' colors and color-guards took part. About 5,000 persons witnessed the competition and drill.

V. F. W. KIDNIE PROGRAM HUGE SUCCESS

For the past three months the Veterans of Foreign Wars have been conducting a program for young children at their quarters on White street.

This program consists of movies, entertainment and refreshments and from observation, it has created quite a sensation amongst the children who attend. We would like to take this opportunity to invite all the youngsters of Winchester to visit our quarters every other Saturday to participate in this affair. Our next program shall be held on Saturday, June 3rd.

BANE FOULED OUT OF NEW ENGLANDS

Big Tom Bane of Glengarry, Taft, hammer-thrower who was the favorite to win this event at the New England Intercollegiate Track and Field Championships at Bowdoin College last Saturday, failed to qualify for the finals in the trials last Friday.

Saturday's winning throw at Bowdoin was around 105 feet, well back of Bane's 173 and 174 - foot efforts his last two times out. Tom, himself, four times got the 14 pound hammer out better than 150 feet in the trials but fouled each time.

Tufts has him entered in the big I. C. I. A Championships at Randall's Island, N. Y., this week-end when it is hoped he will meet with better luck.

KIRWAN SECOND IN "RED" MILE

Winchester's Tom Kirwan, former State school half-mile champion, now running for University of Pennsylvania, placed second to George Wade of Yale last Saturday in the Henington track and field championships of the Ivy League colleges at New Haven.

Yale won the team prize and its quarter with Tommy hanging on grimly through the back stretch and final turn. These Wade took over to win by slightly less than ten yards. The pair will meet again in the I.C.A. meet this week-end.

MYERS WON PREP 100

Harry "Lally" Myers, former Winchester High football and track star, now at Hebrew Academy, won the 100 yard dash of the New England Preparatory School Track and Field Meet last Saturday at Andover Academy.

Myers turned the fast time of 10.28 for the century, which was better than some of the college sprinters turned in. He had to run all the way to edge Reggie Alley of Huntington School in a real photo finish.

David Shiverick of Winchester High School placed second in the Class A open competition of the semi-annual Junior Marksmanship Contest, sponsored by the Massachusetts Department of the American Legion and held last Saturday at the Navy Building in South Boston. Malden High won the team competition.

FAMILY SOCIETY AT WINCHESTER LIBRARY

"Preparation for marriage and parenthood through family life education and personal counseling are the best antidotes for divorce and family breakdown," declared Dr. Herbert D. Lamson of Boston University at a panel discussion recently sponsored by the Fellowship of the Family Society of Greater Boston at the Winchester Public Library. Speaking on the subject "A Public Health Nurse Looks at Family Life," Hilda G. Hope of the Winchester Board of Health stressed the nurse's role in preventing family tensions by early referrals to family counseling agencies.

Mrs. George A. Marks, President of the Winchester Central Mother's Association, presented the mother's view on child-rearing with three thoughtful suggestions. Enjoy your children by doing things together as a family unit, don't try to build your family by rule or by book, and when in doubt do nothing but stop and think.

Corinne Mead, Winchester representative on the Fellowship District Conference, was hostess for the meeting which was aimed at promoting better family life through informal discussion. Family Society's confidential counseling and family life education programs were discussed as Red Feather services available to individuals and groups in the Fellowship area.

Also participating in the discussion were Mrs. Anne Foster, Dean of Girls at Melrose High School and Mr. Stanley Kruszynski, Director of Guidance in the Melford Public Schools.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT TIME IS HERE AGAIN

W. Langdon Powers, Chairman, Art Hills, Winchester 6-1547-M.
Al Burros, Winchester 6-3276-W.

ESCAPED INJURY AT BACON BRIDGE

Mrs. John J. O'Connell of Middle street (Martha Salice), a member of the Winchester Co-operative Bank staff, narrowly escaped serious injury last Friday evening when her car skidded on the east side of the Bacon street railway bridge and went out of control. Her car struck a light pole at the side of the road, which prevented it from going down over the steep bank at that place.

Mrs. O'Connell was taken to the Winchester Hospital where X-rays were taken to determine the extent of injuries to her hip, but fortunately beyond a bad bruise and the shock of the accident she was uninjured.

Following the accident a car trailing Mrs. O'Connell's machine stopped to render assistance and another car crashed into it, making a three car pile up. The O'Connell car was badly wrecked.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following list of Contagious Diseases was reported to the Board of Health for week ending, Thursday, May 25:

Chicken Pox	3 cases
Dog Bite	5 cases
Measles	1 case
Scarlet Fever	1 case

SATIN-LUX

FOR LUXURIOUS WALLS AND WOODWORK.

RESTFUL... Non-gloss satin finish that gives an attractive charm to walls, ceilings and woodwork.

- It brushes on easily.
- Dries quickly.
- Covers plaster, wood and wall board.
- Produces that wonderful hand-rubbed finish effect on furniture.
- Many beautiful pastel colors.
- The hard semi-gloss, non-porous finish retards dust, dirt and grease. This means it can be easily washed.

MASSACHUSETTS SECOND IN HIGHWAY SAFETY

His Excellency, Paul A. Dever, Governor of the Commonwealth, and Registrar Rudolph F. King, Massachusetts Co-ordinator for the National Traffic Safety Contest, have received telegrams from the National Safety Council, stating that Massachusetts has been awarded Second Place in the 1949 National Highway Safety Contest and also seven (7) special citations for "Outstanding Achievement in the Safety Field." Among these is a First Place Award tie with Connecticut for "Outstanding Achievement in Traffic Engineering" in Group I.

Thirty-two Massachusetts communities will receive citations. Swampscott will be honored for its record of seven (7) years without a fatality. Belmont will receive a special citation for Third Place in the Nation in its group and also a special citation for more than three (3) years without a fatality.

The following communities with a population of over 10,000 will receive plaques honoring them for their outstanding traffic safety record: Adams, Amesbury, Braintree, Clinton, Fairhaven, Fall River, Grotonville, Lanesboro, Marlborough, Norwood, Reading, Southborough, Woburn, Winchester, Winthrop and Woburn.

The awards will be presented at the Fourth Governor A. Highway Safety Conference to be held in June.

In commenting on the results attained for the year 1949, Governor Dever and Registrar King expressed grateful appreciation to all who cooperated in the Commonwealth's official statewide highway safety program which made the state awards possible, and offered their sincere congratulations to the citizens of the communities mentioned for their outstanding achievements in the safety fields, May 10, 1950.

RAIN MARRED OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY

Rain marred Winchester's observance of Memorial Day on Tuesday, so that the thousands who braved the elements during the morning and holding attendance to a minimum. In view of conditions it was remarkable that there were any to march or watch the parades, especially since it was so short a time since every one got through participating in the Centennial Celebration Parade.

It was raining hard shortly before 9 o'clock, the hour set for the parade to Calvary Cemetery, and those in charge of arrangements waited for half an hour to see if conditions would improve. As 9:30 approached the rain let up appreciably and the marchers got into line at the town hall. As the line of march left the hall, however, a Police detail and the town's band of Boston, the rain commenced to increase and continued to do just that until by the time the marchers reached Calvary Cemetery there was a steady and drenching downpour that held the exercises there to a minimum.

The roster for the Calvary Parade included the Police Detail, Sgt. Edward F. Bowler commanding; Chief Marshall Mark A. Kelley, commander of Abington Post, 3719, Veterans of the Foreign Wars, Post 40, Homer Davidson; Commander Robert F. Murphy of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, and his aide, Ralph Scott; V. F. W. Colors and Colorguards; Winchester High School Band, Fred Felmet director; 182nd Infantry, Sgt. Dodge commanding; V. F. W. Detachment, Post Command; John Horn and Thomas Macario commanding; V. F. W. Auxiliary, Mrs. Gene A. Macario commanding; Winchester High School, Cheerleaders and banner, Winchester High School Band, Fred Felmet director; 182nd Infantry, Sgt. Dodge commanding; V. F. W. Detachment, Post Command; Capt. J. Edward Noonan commanding; Legion Colors and Colorguards; 182nd Infantry, Sgt. Dodge commanding; Joseph McKee and Lester Gustin commanding; Board of Selectmen and automobiles carrying veterans invited to march.

At the cemetery exercises were held at the War Memorial and were conducted by the newly arrived cadets at St. Mary's Church, Rev. Charles A. Scott, pastor, former G. I. With the rain pelting down, Father Anadone made his address very brief, calling attention to the duty to honor our service dead and warning his listeners to live for their individual and collective lives that the dead we honor shall not have died in vain.

After his remarks and the concluding prayers, three volleys were fired by the firing squad and taps were blown by David Shiverick, trumpet in the front of the band. The high school band, soaking wet, fell out when they reached Calvary and the members were sent home in automobiles by Director Fred Felmet. The Fire Department, without raincoats, dropped out after the return march to the town hall and did not participate in the second parade.

At Calvary trucks picked up members of the 182nd Infantry Combat Detachment who had marched to the cemetery with Winchester for the parade to Wildwood.

This line of march, without the high school band and Fire Department detachment, but with the addition of the 182nd Infantry Combat Detachment, Civilian Air Patrol, Boy Scouts and the Immaculate Conception Brims and Bugle Corps got under way about eleven o'clock and proceeded to Wildwood by the usual route. A stop was made at the War Memorial on the high school band while wreaths were placed on the foot of the statue and taps were blown by Trumpeter Shiverick.

Exercises at Wildwood were held at the Soldiers Monument and were conducted by Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The rain ceased as the marchers assembled at the monument.

Mr. Bailey first read George Washington's prayer for the United States and then after the rain ceased, he addressed the assembly saying "This is a Day of Mourning" and basing his remarks on the Biblical words of Joshua who said: "I have fought the battles of the Lord and I have brought you to this day." After leading the Children of Israel out of bondage and across the River Jordan had the leader of each of the twelve tribes to stand together on the banks, saying that future generations, wondering about the war, would ask "What Meant These Stones?"

PRE-MEMORIAL DAY BANQUET HELD

Congressman Kennedy Urged Legionnaires to Combat Communism

Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, held its annual Pre-Memorial Day Banquet at the Post Headquarters last Saturday evening with a large attendance of members and their ladies and guests.

Commander Robert F. Murphy presided and among those who responded to toasts were Rep. Harry Chandler, Major Francis H. Murray, Jr., of Woburn, a member of the Post, and L. J. of that city; Rev. Walter Lee Bailey of the First Baptist Church and Capt. Walter J. Burns, USA, former Commander of Winchester Post. Capt. Burns has been transferred from Georgia to Japan and was at home on leave over Memorial Day.

Seated at the head table were Commander Murphy and the invited guests, including the guest speaker, Congressman John Kennedy, who was in Winchester for the first time. Also present were Lester C. Gustin, Jr., Junior Vice Commander and Mrs. Joseph T. McKee, Mrs. McKee being president of the Post.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with Rev. John Williams, Chaplain, officiating. The deceased was Mr. John Williams, Chaplain, of the Second Connecticut Cavalry, who died in action in World War I.

Congressman Kennedy presided over the exercises. He warned of the danger of communism and its aggressive action in every corner of the globe.

The United States, he said, is trying to prevent native communists from seizing power by armed revolt through granting to resisting nations economic assistance, arms aid and technical advice. The Truman Doctrine in Greece and Turkey, the Marshall Plan, the Atomic Age have all been calculated to combat the 16 Western European countries into a buffer against Soviet advance.

While the communists, who two years ago were regarded as a minor threat, have been rolled back, there are, the speaker said, serious weaknesses in the United States Plan it would be foolish to overlook. Many in Europe believe that unless some terrifying weapon is devised, the Soviet Union can overrun Europe swiftly within the limits of their transportation and communication system.

He said that while we have been engaged with the European situation we have lost China to the communists and communist pressure is swiftly moving toward east Asia. Indo China was placed by the Congress as the new frontier for the cold war against communism.

Congressman Kennedy said the stakes for which we are fighting are great; not merely the fate of the whole South and East, but in some measure the fate of the United States.

DRY SPRING KEEP RESERVOIRS LOW

Winchester's reservoirs have not filled up as much as usual during this spring due to a rainfall far below normal.

Because of the dry weather the demand for water has been high, with many commencing regular watering of lawns and gardens much earlier than usual.

Chairman Edmund S. Sanderson of the Water and Sewer Board told the Star that the Board is now meeting the extra demand for water. The water supply is being taken from the Metropolitan Supply.

Carefully kept records have shown the Water and Sewer Board to plan for the future and provide water adequate to the town's needs, many saving the community much expense by avoiding a severe shortage when citizens want water most.

MORE TAX MONEY RETURNED

During 1949, according to a statement sent the Star by State Rep. Michael F. Seery of Medford, more than $29 million dollars of extra income and corporate taxes in excess of the 1948 distribution were returned to the cities and towns of the Commonwealth to help lower the local tax burden and ease the burden on local taxpayers. The amount returned to Winchester was $345,190.85, an increase over 1948 of $103,635.45.

CHARLES EDWARD BONNELL

Charles Edward Bonnell of 19 Chisholm road, Littleton, known through his association with Bonnell Motors, and father of Ralph H. Bonnell, former Selectman and present member of the Planning Board, died Saturday afternoon, May 27, at the Winchester Hospital of a heart ailment. He underwent a heart operation in April, but had recovered sufficiently to return to his business before he was stricken with a heart attack last night.

Mr. Bonnell was born in Truro, N. S., August 1, 1875. He came to Boston as a boy and later lived in Littleton, operating a small farm there and being associated with the former Avery Chemical Company, then located in Littleton. For the past 10 years he had lived in Winchester and for 25 years he had been associated with his son's business, Bonnell Motors, Winchester, local distributors at 666 Main street.

On July 7, 1898, Mr. Bonnell married Hettie C. Whall of Woburn. They had four children: two sons, one, grandchild and a sister, Miss Oceana Bonnell of Littleton.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with Rev. John Williams, Chaplain, officiating. The deceased was Mr. John Williams, Chaplain, of the Second Connecticut Cavalry, who died in action in World War I.

MISS AGNES MARGARET KEENAN

Miss Agnes Margaret Keenan of Amherst, N. H., formerly of Winchester, died Saturday afternoon, May 27, at the age of 29, after a long illness. She was the daughter of Mrs. Etta Keenan of Amherst, N. H., and of the late Frank Keenan, both formerly for many years residents of this town.

Miss Keenan was born in Cambridge 29 years ago, but grew up in Winchester, attending the Winchester schools and graduating from Winchester High School in the class of 1938. She then graduated from the Fisher Business College in Somerville and for several years, until poor health forced her retirement, was in the employ of the Macdonald Marine Service, Inc. of Boston. Until she left town she was a member of St. Mary's Sodality. The Keenans' last home in Winchester was on Brookside avenue.

Besides her mother, Miss Keenan leaves a sister, Mrs. Kenneth Goodwin of Amherst, N. H., and two brothers, Mr. and Mrs. John Keenan of Amherst, N. H., and Francis Keenan of this town.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. Peter's Church in Milford, N. H. Interment was in Amherst, N. H.

TO BE ORDAINED

On Sunday evening, June 4, John Cummins, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Cummins of 1 Yale street, will be ordained to the Christian Ministry at the First Universalist Church in Boston.

MEMORIAL DAY RELIGIOUS SERVICE

The annual Memorial Day religious service of the town was held at the First Baptist Church on Sunday, May 28, with detachments of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion; Winchester Post, 3719, Veterans of the Foreign Wars, attending with their colors and colorguards. The veterans marched into church, their colors being trimmed at the front of the auditorium.

The pastor, Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, conducted the services and preached the memorial sermon. Music was by the town choir under the direction of Raymond Sheppard Pugh, who also contributed organ selections. The choir sang "Immortal, Invisible," by Thimian, and "Mildred, Abrahamson, soprano, sang 'From Thy Love as a Father' by Thomas.

Mr. Bailey took his text the words from 1st Corinthians, 12-27: "Whether One Member Suffereth, All Members Suffer with it, as the body, wherein all members are affected by the suffering of any one of its parts."

Continuing Mr. Bailey drew a Memorial Day message from the familiar book title, "For Whom the Bell Tolls," explaining that these words were written by an old English poet who told how when a death occurred in the community the people all came running to find out for whom the bell was rung.

VALENTINO — CAPUTO

In a setting of spring flowers at St. Mary's Church on Saturday evening, May 27, Miss Mary Grace Caputo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Caputo of 82 Swan street, became the bride of Attilio Peter Valentino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Valantino of 240 Fulton street, Medford.

The bride and groom were given in marriage by her father, Mr. Caputo. The bride was a member of St. Mary's Sodality. The groom was a member of the same sodality.

WINCHESTER'S TAX RATE

— $36.00 —

Chairman Alfred D. Elliott of the Board of Assessors announced yesterday afternoon that Winchester's tax rate for the current year will be $36.00, the same as it was last year.

This year's rate is based on a total valuation of $38,498,050.00, of which $31,017,075.00 is in personal property and $3,506,975.00 is in real estate. Last year's total valuation was $37,702,225.00, this year's higher figure resulting from increases of $43,000.00 in personal property and $947,525.00 in real estate.

Town appropriations for this year total $1,743,041.00, exclusive of transfers, an increase of $111,442.26 over the 1949 total of $1,631,598.74. This increase in appropriations added nearly $3.00 to the 1950 tax rate.

Winchester tax-payers will be pleased to learn that the Assessors have been able to avoid a "rate hike" in the rate this year. Since 1946 the tax rate has gone up $6 here.

WIS GRADUATION NEWS

Graduation exercises of the Class of 1950 at Winchester High School will begin at six-thirty, Sunday evening, June 11, on Manchester Field.

AFRAID TO GIVE BLOOD?

To allay the prevalent fear in many minds still, that it is harmful or painful to donate a pint of blood, the Winchester Red Cross will hold an open meeting at the Gallery of the Winchester Public Library, Monday evening, June 5, at 7:15 p. m. A most cordial and urgent invitation to all men and women to attend this informal and enlightening get-together is extended by the chairman, Mrs. James C. Condon. The information given out at this session should allay all fears about giving blood to the vital blood banks.

Mr. J. A. McCarthy, Field Representative of the Blood Program will speak for fifteen minutes, and will hold a question period for frank and pertinent material. Dr. Gustav Kaufmann will speak on the medical aspect of blood donation, and Dr. George Marks will discuss the role of blood in surgical operations.

The film "A Life in Your Hands," taking ten minutes, will be shown to the audience, and at its close there will be a question period. Present chairman who have done so much this year to bring their residents into the mobile unit during its visits to Winchester will be present, and will share in the program. The exercises will be presided over by the chairman, Mr. J. A. McCarthy.

Set aside the date — Monday, June 5, and plan to come to this important community meeting.

L. Conrad Larson of this town, operations officer of the Southwest Naval Air Station, directed from a helicopter the rescue of two fishermen whose small boat was blown over as they tried to land at the station last Saturday.

Winchester Boy Scout News

Scout Cavalcade and En Ka Society Fair Both Successful!

According to last week's Star both of these affairs were highly successful which must be very gratifying to the hard working committees of each. The weather joined the side of good for a change with "Old Cape Fluvius" taking a back seat.

Scouts Assisted Enka

Scouting assisted the En Ka in the persons of several scouts who worked in relays helping take tickets at the amusements, and doing other needed chores.

Troop 12 News (St. Mary's Church)

A picked group of scouts chosen on the basis of their work in the troop journeyed to Mt. Monadnock, N. H., on Saturday morning May 27th in charge of Scoutmaster Norm Donette. Piling into the latter's car, the group sped off in high spirits, returning at evening time. Those in the party besides Scoutmaster Donette were Robert Thorne, Dennis Donette, Laurence Ehard, Timothy Sullivan, Henry Quill, and Thomas Grace.

According to reports the scouts had a wonderful time with the weather 100% perfect. Arriving at the foot of the mountain, the boys loaded their packs on their backs and set off on White Dot Trail, stopping later on for some time mountain spring water, with which the boys filled their canteens. Climbing the mountain proved arduous after a while with the rocks and boulders met on the way no little hazard. The Rangers' cabins along the way interested the scouts and they looked at them and the life they represent with longing eyes.

With the trip finally reached the boys had lunch and explored the terrain. Scouts Donny Donette, Scoutmaster Donette, and Laurence Ehard, Timothy Sullivan, Henry Quill, and Thomas Grace.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Building Progress — At the foundation level carpenters are putting up the wooden forms in preparation for pouring concrete of the main columns of the new wing. Wall forms for the southern wall of the basement story are also being placed in place for the pouring of concrete. This ground floor of the new unit will contain kitchens, dining rooms and storage units for the entire hospital.

For the X-ray department the contract has been signed for the new unit General Electric unit at a cost of nearly $17,000. Delivery will be made in about a month.

Employee Staff Conferences under the leadership of Mr. Paine are being held weekly for presentation of matters of importance and general interest. Informal discussion at these conferences is bringing out points on which more complete information and understanding will result in better cooperation between departments and consequent better service to doctors and patients, particularly with a view to the future operation of the enlarged hospital. All department heads are in attendance, including engineering, housekeeping, laundry, dietary, laboratory, and ambulance departments.

A wedding of interest was that of Miss Ella Bailey and Mr. John Mattison in St. Catherine's Church, Norwood, on Saturday, May 27. Miss Bailey, a graduate of Symmes Arlington School of Nursing, is a member of the Winchester Hospital Nursing Staff, serving as Supervisor of the Accident Room and Pharmacy. She will return to duty for the summer months.

OFFERS HINTS FOR GARDENERS

In his annual appeal to all gardeners, Dr. Eric H. Hansen, President of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, 181 Longwood Avenue, Boston, yesterday urged them to give careful consideration to the animal problem.

"However," said Dr. Hansen, "that gardeners' complaint about the damage caused by animals, for it is annoying to discover that dogs or cats have dug in the beds, trampling down the tiny seedlings, or that rabbits or other creatures have nibbled the garden to nibble at the tender greens."

"However," continued Dr. Hansen, "it is not up to the person himself to protect his garden from such invaders, but to the community. We occasionally find a person who, instead of using his ingenuity to refrain from mistreating his own animals, for even the dogs usually serve only to bring about the death of seedlings, does not seem to affect the cost of his garden."

Dr. Hansen further urged that all gardeners of all sizes, plots with a simple fence, chicken wire, or other material, which should solve the problem and thereby eliminate the unnecessary suffering to helpless animals.

MATINEE MUSICAL

The Music Hall echoed happily to the Ritz tunes of "South Pacific" and other older favorites last Thursday night when an overflowing crowd was notably entertained by the Winchester Unitarian Choir in their Matinee Musical, third annual evening of familiar music to benefit the Church. Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham, the Choir's director, was responsible not only for the excellent style and spirit with which the choirs performed, but also for a well-balanced program which kept the guests constantly anticipating what was to come.

The Junior Choir led off the evening with two numbers which they did with sweetest and precision, after which the Choir took over and sang a group, the first of which was "It's a Grand Night for Singing," into which they put a good deal of heart. The soloists Dorothy Perkins, Joan Fiestyn Jenkins, and Mabel Theoley then each had two works which they entertained and show their fine voices. Piano interludes during the first part of the program were done with much accompaniment by Miss Grace Norian; and other highlights were Sandy Burbank's rendition of an original and effective piano accompaniment to the "Chorus" "I Love a Parade," Joan Wolsey's solo for "Swinging on a Star," and Joist Michelson and others in a brief but energetic sailor's hornpipe.

George McFadden introduced his small home-constructed callopie by saying it was suffering from inferiority complex brought on by the overpowering presence of the Music Hall's organ pipes, but his subsequent playing of some catchy airs disproved him and the delighted audience did not want him to stop. There were some unique arrangements of the Rodgers and Hammerstein music, the "Ball Hail" being done with Linda Witham doing a fine rhythmic accompaniment with a maracas.

"This Nightly Was Mine," excellently sung by Sherman Russell, having a humming background done by the three Norian sisters. Bob Horne and the girls did fine justice to their number, and no sooner had the girls altogether perched the guests to "Wash Than Man Right Outta Their Hair" than the men singers with James Joslin in the lead retorted with a lusty "There's Nothing Like a Dame."

Paul Gallivan used the regrets of those of the audience who will never hear Ezio Pinza sing "Some Enchanted Evening," and the whole group ended the evening by putting all they had into "A Wonderful Guy."

Half way through the program Dunbar Shanklin, chairman of the Unitarian Church's Standing Committee, expressed the appreciation of everyone present by presenting Mrs. Witham with some beautiful red roses; and the evening was brought to a most successful informal finish when performers and audience joined together for delicious refreshments.

Ushering and acting as hosts were Richard Barnard, Harold F. M. Meyer, Dunbar Shanklin, and Paul W. Walton.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. John B. Wills opened her charming home for the annual meeting of the Winchester Garden Club on Thursday, May 25. With the assistance of Mrs. Robert Whitten as Co-Hostess, Mrs. Wills served a delicious buffet luncheon to 27 members and 1 guest.

During the business meeting, presided over by the President, Mrs. William Goodhue, the annual reports were given and the following officers elected for 1950-51: Pres. Mrs. William Goodhue, Vice-Pres. Mrs. Donald G. Crowell, Sec. Mrs. Arthur Pittman, Treas. Mrs. Willard Hudson.

As this meeting also marked the 20th anniversary of the Winchester Garden Club, the first President, Mrs. Herbert T. West, reminisced about the early days of the Club, giving many amusing incidents and Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini exhibited a clever symbolic arrangement of the birth of the Club. Mrs. West then presented an entertaining program, Escapades of 1930, in which the following Club members took part: Mrs. Frederick A. Russell, Mrs. Warren Whitman, Mrs. James H. O'Connor, Mrs. Roger C. Hadley, Mrs. William H. Gilpatrick, Mrs. Wills and Mrs. West.

The beauty of the grounds with the lovely wisteria, magnificent glazes of countless variety and exquisite azaleas added greatly to the pleasure of the day.

MANHATTANVILLE GRADUATE

Miss Margaret Daley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Daley, Jr., of this town, was graduated from Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart on Memorial Day with the degree of B. A. His eminence, Cardinal Spellman, President of the Board of Catholic Education, conferred the degrees. Miss Daley was Chair President her senior year as well as Recreational Chairman of the Club. She was a member of the Glee Club and of both her class hockey and basketball teams.

WINCHESTER TWELFTH IN STATE MEET

Winchester finished twelfth in the Class D division of the Annual State Track and Field Meet, last Saturday at the White Stadium in Boston. Fisher Wolfe's second in the half-mile and Elliott Hersey's fourth in the high hurdles accounted for the local's four points.

Brandois Vocational was the Class D winner with 19 points, Belmont won in Class C with 23 1/2 points. Watertown led the Class B teams with 28 points and Boston English had 30 1/3 points to head the teams in Class A.

Wolfe ran the fastest half mile of his career, turning in a fine 2m 6.3s performance, faster than several of the place winners in the upper classes and better than the winning time in Class B.

Unfortunately for Fisher he was pitted against Jim Cameron of Plymouth, who smashed the D half-mile record, turning in 2m 1.6s, the best time recorded during the day in any class. John Foley, who also competed in the 800, failed to place but ran the fastest race of his career, doing 2m 10.4s.

Hersey did 18.2s in the 120 high hurdles, won by March of Milton in 17.8s. Aside from this performance, and Wolfe's second in the half-mile, the local boys could show nothing, although it is likely they would have tallied more had it not been for the fact that two of their competitors missed the events in which they were supposed to compete.

Andy Antipapas, after being clocked in 54.1s in his heat of the 410 failed to report to the proper place for the final and did not get to run. George Crane of Rockland won the final in 53.2s, but behind this boy Antipapas could well have finished second or third.

Again Dud Samoiloff might well have placed in the low hurdles, as he is a strong runner, but while fooling around trying to get entered in the high jump, he missed the last call for the hurdles and didn't run. Coach Knowlton was far from happy over the loss of these possible points.

Kenny Blake placed fifth in his heat of the mile, running in the fastest time he has yet turned in, 4m 48.8s. "Buzzie" Bird had a 4m 49s mile, also his fastest, but not good enough to get in the money. Blake might have done better had he not started too slowly, being eighth at the first turn. Passing the hunched runners to get back into a favorable position through the middle of the race proved too big a handicap and left the husky Winchester boy nothing to finish up with.

Hicks and Gilberto drew fast heats in the 100 and were shut out of the final, though they might have drawn the slower races. Their times were better than a couple of the finalists. Bob O'Brien failed to qualify by a stride in the 220, finishing third.

Dave Shiverick ran a creditable quarter, even though he failed to place, and the same was true of Tom Wilder in the low hurdles. Cortell and Samoiloff competed in the high jump, but he was eliminated in the early heights. Antipapas, Gilberto, Shiverick and O'Brien comprised the Winchester relay team.

WINS NEW ROLLINS HONOR

Miss Marjorie Norris, daughter of Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Forbes H. Norris of Church street, was one of the Rollins College students recently announced as elected to Phi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society.

"Marnee", who is expected home tonight after competing in the junior year at Rollins, has been on the college honor roll for both the fall and winter terms.

MEMBER OF V. A. FISHING CLUB

Charles Hart, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Hart, 3 Felsdale Close, is a member of the Fishing Club at Vermont Academy, Suttons River, Vermont. The Fishing Club at Vermont Academy is a unique undergraduate organization; for Vermont Academy is probably one of the few, if not the only, preparatory school in the country with a trout pond located right on their own campus. Several years ago a Fishing Club was organized at the Academy as a branch of the Vermont Academy Fishing Club, the oldest organization of its kind in the country. Each year the Club stocks Bowles Pond, located nearby on the school property, with the members of the Club taking care of the stocking and posting. Fishing is for members only, and only flies are allowed, although worms can be used for the mile of brook above the pond. All boys in school are eligible for membership, provided of course they are disciples of Isaac Walton, provide themselves with a Vermont fishing license, and pay their dues. The dues in turn pay for the cost of stocking.

TO GRADUATE FROM SYRACUSE

Two Winchester students are among the 3400 making up the largest graduating class in the history of Syracuse University who are to receive their degrees today in the 93rd commencement of the university to be held in Archbold Stadium.

James R. Livingstone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy P. Livingstone of 12 Chestnut street, will receive his bachelor's degree from the College of Business Administration where he has been majoring in marketing. He graduated in 1948 from the New Hampton Preparatory School.

Miss Margaret S. Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle D. Owen of 32 Woodside road, will receive a baccalaureate degree from the College of Liberal Arts. A graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1945, she has majored in English, is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and has been active in Hendricks Chapel affairs.

Some time during Saturday night all the lanterns were extinguished and a large pipe was rolled into a ditch at the water construction job being done on Ridge street. The Police were notified.

11 - 3 Victory Gave Winners Middlesex League Title

Stoneham High became the Middlesex League champions for this season by defeating Winchester High by a score of 11 to 3 at Stoneham on Friday afternoon. This was Stoneham's tenth straight league victory and assured Coach Tony DeTesa's charges of the league title regardless of what they do in their final two games.

After Winchester went about 3 to 0 with a single run in the first inning and a pair on a Williams triple in the third, the locals banded Stoneham four runs on only one single in the bottom of the third. After the first two batters reached on a hit and an error, Stowell Summers retired the next batter but then put his control completely, putting the next batter and, assuming three successive bases on balls before being relieved by Charlie Murphy. With the bases full and only one out Murphy did well to permit only one run as he retired the next two batters.

Paul Norden took charge from that point as he blanketed the locals the rest of the way, being in trouble only in the sixth when Winchester left the bases loaded. Murphy was not too effective as he was kept in constant trouble by a porous infield that committed eight errors, seven of them bunched in the last four innings to enable Stoneham to pull away to an easy victory.

The summary:

	Stoneham High	Winchester High
Runs	11	3
Hits	10	5
Errors	8	0

CENTRAL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING

The Winchester Mothers' Association is having its Annual Meeting on Wednesday, June 7th at 2:15 p. m. This association is commonly called the Central Mothers' Association, but actually the latter is but the Executive Board of the Winchester Mothers' Association, which has a chapter in each school. Thus, this Annual Meeting of the so-called Central Mothers' Association is a meeting to which every parent in any and all schools is cordially invited as a member.

The program is particularly varied and interesting. From 2:15 to 2:45 p. m. a social hour will be held in the High School gymnasium with refreshments served by Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth and her committee. This will be followed by selections played by the High School Orchestra conducted by Mr. Fred M. Felmet, Jr.

Mr. Ray V. Hayward will sponsor four acts from this year's vaudeville. These will be in costume and are group singing, two modern dance numbers, and the pony chorus.

Mrs. George A. Marks, President of the Winchester Mothers' Association will then conduct a short business meeting.

Dr. Forbes H. Norris will conclude the program with a talk on "How a Mothers' Association Can Best Serve the Schools."

WILL RECEIVE BUCKNELL DEGREE

Sara L. Kerner, 329 Main street, Winchester, Massachusetts, will be a candidate for the degree of bachelor of Arts at Tufts University's 10th annual Commencement exercises at Lewisburg, Pa., Sunday, June 11.

Miss Kerner, who is a graduate of Winchester High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Kerner.

While a student at Bucknell, she has been elected for scholastic achievement and has actively taken part in the University's Christian Association. She has also served in the House of Representatives which is a part of Bucknell's Women's Student Government Association. Miss Kerner, a member of Delta Delta Delta social society, was a member of the Lambda staff, the women's glee club, the mixed chorus, and the Ski Club; and has also taken part in the May Day ceremonies for three years.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS SERVICE CLUB

The May meeting of the Past Noble Grand Service Club of Victoria Rebekah Lodge No. 178 was held on Wednesday evening, May 24, 1950, at the home of Mrs. Alfred Dorley, Maxwell road, Winchester.

The business meeting was presided over by Miss Olive Stevens, the President of the Club. Following the meeting all present enjoyed a delicious refreshment served by the hostess.

On June 2nd, 1950, we will take the boat trip to Nantasket Beach for a picnic and entertainment.

WINCHESTER, 12; WESTON, 10

Winchester Warriors won a Paul Revere League game from the Weston Town Team at Leonard Field Sunday afternoon, 12-10, in the 11th inning, with a four-run 6th inning.

Two walks, a single to right and Colpitts' home run over the left field fence gave Weston a four-run lead in the 1st, but Winchester bounced back to tie it up in their half when Bellino was hit. Tommy Connors tripled. Al Plummer doubled and Kenny Donaghey hit a long home run that landed between the two houses beyond the fence.

Washington, who replaced Hill, walked a batter and gave up a single before throwing a home-run ball to Palmer in the 8th, three tallies putting the visitors in front 9-8.

Connors walked in Winchester's half and was advanced to second by Provinzano's sacrifice. Plummer reached on an error and Roche's clean hit to right put over the tying run.

Donaghey was hit by a pitched ball and Van Heath relieved Larson for Weston. He couldn't find the plate, walking three men and forcing in three runs, to put Winchester in the lead 12-9.

Weston had scored a run in the 9th and had the tying runs aboard when "Al" Plummer grabbed a hard smash down the third base line to retire the side.

It is term begins the week of June 13, and offers many varied courses including Mrs. Art. Spence's language, French, Spanish, Crafts, Discussion Groups, and many others. It is open to all at moderate fees, with each group limited in number to insure individual attention.

WARRIORS TRIPPED MOHAWKS IN THRILLER

The Winchester Warriors won a thriller in the Paul Revere League last week Thursday evening, edging the Lincoln Mohawks at Lincoln, 5-4, in a game that wasn't decided until the final frame.

The Mohawks had a 2-2 lead at the end of four, due to some weird baseball on the part of a non-totipot warrior lineup. In the 5th inning, the Warriors doubled and were forced at second on Pete Provinzano's infield grounder.

Pete hustled all the way to beat the relay throw to first and his hustle paid off for Sam Bellino, tripped off on an outside pitch and belted a long home run to far right field, tying up the ballgame.

Al Plummer, who is red hot at all seasons, tripled with one away in the 6th. Thibault fanned, but roused himself and dropped his third strike and didn't throw with Plummer on third.

Manager Lew Warsky had a long rubarb with Plate Umpire Duff on the play, the arbiter calling Sammy out for some reason best known to himself. After a conference with Base Umpire Murphy Duff kept Manager Warsky's blood pressure within sight of land by reversing himself, after which Kenny Donaghey singled in Plummer with a two-and-out pitch.

The veteran Pete Provinzano pitched for Winchester and though away short of work, turned in a creditable job. The feature of the game was great peg from Freddy Hill in right field nipping the speedy Wood of Lincoln trying to score from second on a single. Donaghey playing the ball well.

WINCHESTER BLANKED DANVERS

Winchester High shut out Danvers High by a score of 5 to 0 in a non-league game at Danvers on Monday afternoon. Stowell Symmes turned in his fifth victory of the season with an efficient pitching performance in which he gave up only five hits, struck out seven Danvers batters, and issued the same number of walks. He was in trouble in only the seventh and eighth innings in which Danvers left two runners stranded in each of those frames.

The locals provided Symmes with excellent support as they made only one unimportant error and pulled off two fast double plays. Lech Williams dragged down two long drives to left field that looked like sure hits. Tony Cirurso handled several nice plays as he turned in four chances safely, and Tom Doe threw out three of the four runners that attempted to steal second.

The game was close all the way for the Red and Black was not hitting the ball hard and had no real cushion to work on until the ninth when they scored twice off Karolides who entered the game in that inning. Winchester scored an unearned run in the second and more in the third when Paul Amico belted a two-run homer down the left field foul line. Amico drove in another run in the ninth to receive credit for driving in three of Winchester's five runs.

RETURNING FROM JAPAN

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Murphy of 24 Mystic avenue received a telephone call on Memorial Day from their son-in-law and daughter, Major and Mrs. Robert L. Lowe (Kathryn Murphy), who had just landed in Seattle, Wash., with their son, "Butch," and daughter, Martha, after a two-year tour of duty in Korea and Japan.

The Lowes returned to Seattle from Yokohama on the Luxury Liner, General O'Hara, after a ten-day trip. Mr. and Mrs. Lowe of 25 Crescent road returned from the Orient on a previous trip of the same boat.

After several months in Korea, the Lowes were stationed at Camp Youngchang on the Japanese Island of Honshu, and more recently far to the north at Camp Chitose on the Island of Hokkaido.

Before coming to Winchester for a visit they will drive to Fort Sill, Oklahoma, to locate living quarters which they will occupy when they return to Fort Sill where Major Lowe will take a course at Advanced Field Artillery Officers Training School.

TELEPHONE AND EDISON POLES SMASHED BY CARS

A Telephone Company pole on Cambridge street and an Edison Light pole on Church street were smashed by automobiles last Sunday, the first of two accidents taking place at 3:45 in front of the home of Mr. Harold Bergquist, 154 Cambridge street.

According to the Police a Pontiac coupe, driven north on Cambridge street, by Gerald D. Hulet of Boston road, Pinchurst, swerved to the left of the street and struck a telephone pole, moving the pole two feet in the ground and breaking it in the middle, the top of the pole landing in the middle of the road and tearing the light service from the Bergquist home.

The Pontiac was disabled and towed to Haggerty's Garage. Hulet sustained injuries to his nose and left knee but refused medical attention.

The second accident occurred at 2 p. m., when a Chevrolet sedan, being driven west on Church street by Edwin M. Lovejoy of 11 Round way road, Malden, struck and knocked off an Edison Light pole in front of the Crawford Memorial Church, moving the pole three feet.

Neither the driver, his wife or two passengers in the car was hurt, but the car was disabled and had to be towed to the Winchester Garage. Lovejoy told the police his car cut out of control when he had his wife hold the wheel while he blew his nose.

MARCLIFF ACADEMY WINCHESTER

His Excellency Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing will award the diplomas and give the address to the graduates at the Commencement Exercises of Marcliff Academy, Winchester, which are to be held on Friday, June 9, at three o'clock.

The members of the graduating class are: Anna May Avramando, Arlington; Claire Baker, Somerville; Joan Barry, Dorchester; Clare Bennett, Somerville; Jeanne Driscoll, Belmont; Margaret Fitzgerald, Concord; Jane Haleot, New York; Mary Ann Melick, Lexington; Phyllis Montminy, Arlington; Helen Nicoli, Somerville; Helen Louise Row, Newton; Louise Sexton, Lexington; Priscilla Smith, Somerville; and Marie Hele, Mexico.

Helen Nicoli is the salutatorian and Jeanne Driscoll is the valedictorian of the Class of 1950. Jeanne Driscoll has also merited the Prize for Excellency in English Composition offered each year by the Marcliff Guild.

To close the Graduation Exercises Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be given by His Excellency at the shrine of the Sacred Heart erected on the grounds of the academy. Assisting the Archbishop will be Reverend Thomas C. Garrahan, Chaplain of Marcliff, and Reverend John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Winchester.

CAR HIT TREE AFTER COLLISION

A Packard sedan was badly damaged last Friday afternoon at 3:30 when it first figured in a collision with a Dodge sedan at the intersection of the Parkway and Main street and then ran into a tree on the southeast side of the Parkway.

According to the Police the Packard was being driven east on the Parkway by the owner, Almon E. Whittemore of 55 Orlando avenue, Winthrop, and was crossing Main street when the Dodge, owned by Maude A. Cappucco of 5 East Nichols street, North Woburn, and being driven north on Main street by Richard S. Cappucco of the same address, was in collision with its right rear fender.

After the collision the Packard got out of control and swung around, striking a tree at the side of the road and stripping the bark from a good sized section.

The Packard was so badly damaged it had to be towed away. The driver and his wife were assisted from the car by Officer James E. Farrell, Mrs. Whittemore being apparently suffering from shock. She and her husband were taken to headquarters where they remained until they had recovered sufficiently from the effects of the accident to go home.

The Dodge was also damaged but was able to leave under its own power. Cappucco did not complain of injuries.

CHASED MOTORIST AFTER COLLISION

Giustino R. Baldacci of 28 Harvard street reported to the Police that at 6:30 Saturday evening his father's Ford benchwagon, parked on Main street facing south in front of the residence of Mr. Henry W. Hildreth at 248 Main street, was struck on the front left fender by an automobile, driven by a woman, who failed to stop after the collision.

Former Selectman Marshall W. Symmes, at whose home Mr. Baldacci was at work, saw the accident and notified Mr. Baldacci of the collision. The two gave chase in the benchwagon and overtook the other car at Oak Grove Cemetery.

According to Mr. Baldacci, the woman driving the car denied striking his benchwagon. The car involved was found to be registered to a Charlestown woman, with whom Lt. Edward W. O'Connell of the Police Department got into communication. She stated that her husband would see Mr. Baldacci and straighten things out.

Evening division officers were awarded to three Winchester residents, David Edward Cleary of 8 Winthrop street in structural design, Robert Joseph Barstow, 20 Pond street in heating, ventilating and air conditioning, and Joseph Emilio Capone, 67 Irving street in electric wiring, at the 12th certification ceremonies of the Franklin Technical Institute on Thursday evening, June 1.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION - JUNE EXHIBIT

Stanley Woodward and Richard Briggs unite in giving Winchester one of the outstanding exhibits of oil paintings hanging in this vicinity for some time. The exhibit will be on view at the art gallery of the Winchester Public Library during June. In the paintings by Mr. Woodward one is seeing the work of an artist ranking among the six best marine painters in the United States. This artist makes his home in Rockport, but traces from South America to the Canadian Rockies to search out the subjects for his work. Mr. Briggs is known to the Art Association group having been spoken before that body. He is a younger man than the artist first mentioned but nevertheless a painter whose work is much sought after thus placing this man in the front ranks of American artists.

Winchester is fortunate in having the pictures of Mr. Woodward view at this time. He recently was taken to a hospital for a major operation out through the efforts of G. Russell Mann, a local artist and past president of the Winchester Art Association, the townspeople are able to view the work of this great artist.

In being able to place the exhibits of these two artists before the people of Winchester the Art Association feels that it is putting on a show comparable in interest to the centennial week exhibit at the Public Library art gallery when nearly 500 people signed the visitors' registration book.

Miss Jean Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Brown of Arlington street will be graduated from Emma Willard School in Troy, N. Y., next week. She has won a scholarship based on her academic work and has also received the first vote for good citizenship awarded to a senior. She is an active member of the Glee Club and Chapel Choir, and the Water Ballet and on the staff of the school paper. She will enter Scripps College, Pomona, California, in the fall.

TERRETT'S TO SPEAK

Birdie Terrett will be the speaker at the Ladies' Night of the Harvard Club of Eastern Middlesex, which will be held at the Bear Hill Country Club Tuesday evening, June 6.

The speaker is the well-known catcher of the Boston Red Sox who achieved additional distinction during the past year by contributing an essay to the Atlantic Monthly.

In addition to being a first-class athlete and a rather exceptional writer, Birdie has achieved a great deal of fame as a dinner speaker and is very much in demand.

The Ladies' Night will conclude the four meetings held by the club during the past year. A year ago Ladies' Night was tried as an innovation, with so much success that it was decided to repeat it.

Miss Ella May Emerson has returned from St. Petersburg, Florida but is in the Winchester Hospital for a few weeks.

FOR SALE by Stacy

Listen, BRIDES-to-be! Of course your man must appear well, know the right thing to do, and earn plenty. Most of his real faults you will remedy soon enough without his knowing much about it. The main thing is — has he the home ownership urge? That's the true test of a satisfactory husband-to-be. If also he thinks it will be fun to raise potatoes and will think his own backyard potatoes taste better than Idaho's, chances are he will do all right.

Yes — my dear, that HOME OWNERSHIP urge is your true test, and the one that makes sense of the whole marriage business. And here is your chance to put him to the test. Just bring him around to take a look at this gem of a Cape Cod type 3 room house — a pre-war house, built right and also a first floor lavatory, beautiful hardwood floors and all that; exactly the sort of home one would design for your happiness.

It has a lovely 24 ft. living-room with pine paneled fireplace, electric kitchen and a Bendix standing ready to use, a charming breakfast nook, dining-room opening upon a roomy porch built over the garage, two large bedrooms with exceptionally spacious closets, a big bath with tub, shower, and also a first floor lavatory. H. W. oil heat. Now you can't make a mistake to urge him to buy a house like that — a home designed for happiness — with a lovely large lot in a wooded section of Winchester yet scarce a two minute walk from the bus stop. But let me show it to you. Price today $14,800.

FRUIT AND FLOWER MISSION

Tuesday, June 13, 1950
8:30 A. M.
There isn't one of us who wouldn't help another human being to be happy, and if all it cost was a few flowers, a little candy, or a little help, I am sure we would all help. June 13th, Mrs. Donald Wilkins, of Central street will be at the B. & M. station to receive contributions for the Flower Mission. The flowers are sent into Boston to cheer those who are shut-in or confined to a room or institution. If you have flowers and can not come to the station Tuesday at 8:30 a. m. call Mrs. Wilkins and she will see that your contribution is called in. It costs so little to help so much!

HEATH — KING

There is Winchester interest in the marriage that took place at the First Congregational Church in Wellesley on Saturday afternoon, June 3, when Miss Carolyn King, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Merrill L. King of Cypress road, Wellesley Hills, became the bride of Dr. Parker Heath, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Parker Heath of Fenway, Dr. Harold L. Olenka of the Park Street Church, Boston, and the minister of the First Church, Dr. J. Burford Parry, performed the ceremony at 1:30 o'clock, a reception following at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white tulle with organza applique, the skirt having a six-foot train. Her fingertip-length veil of illusion was caught to an ornate appliqued cap and she carried a white orchid, lilies-of-the-valley and iris.

Miss Jane Powell of Atlanta, Ga., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Molly Ann Heath of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. John Thorpe of Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Patricia Cummings of North Attleboro; Miss Marian Rich of Wellesley Hills and Miss Jean Swenson of Wellesley Farms. All the bridal attendants wore dresses of white organza over pale blue tulle. The honor maid carried a bouquet of coral tritris with blue delphinium and the bridesmaids bouquets were of blue delphinium and coral tritris. Wymond D. Barrett of Grosset Point, Farms, Mich., was Dr. Heath's best man and the usher corps comprised Merrill J. King, Jr., of Wellesley Hills, brother of the bride; Thomas E. Ward of South Orange, N. J.; Thomas C. Barnum of Syracuse, N. Y.; William Partridge of Brockton and Henry O. White of West Orange, N. J.

After a wedding journey Dr. and Mrs. Heath will make their home in the River Terrace Apartments at 7220 Jefferson avenue, Detroit, Mich. The bride attended Walnut Hill School and was graduated from Bryn Mawr College in the class of 1948, doing graduate work at the University of Oslo. Dr. Heath prepared at the Putney School and was graduated from the University of Chicago and from the University of Michigan Medical School in the class of 1948. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi medical fraternity. Dr. Heath served his internship at Union Memorial Hospital in Baltimore, Md. He has been resident physician at the Wisconsin General University Hospital in Detroit to continue his medical residency at the Receiving Hospital in Detroit.

SCHNEIDER — SCANNELL

Miss Ann Scannell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scannell of Wilmington, Delaware, became the bride of Mr. David Taylor Schneider of 211 Washington street, last Saturday afternoon, June 3, at St. Patrick's church in Wilmington. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white marquisette with a portrait neckline, a full skirt and a train, with a fingertip veil, carried a colonial bouquet of white orchids with trailing stephanotis.

Mrs. W. Randolph Clark of Rehoboth Beach, Delaware, was matron of honor. She wore a foam green organza with matching bonnet and a purple sash. She carried purple iris. The bridesmaids were similar gowns and also carried iris. They were Miss Nancy McQuaid and Miss Henrietta Miller, both of Wilmington. The flower girls were Judy and Kathy Scannell, nieces of the bride. Mr. Ben Ross Schneider was best man for his son and the ushers included Mr. Joseph J. Scannell and Mr. Leonard Scannell, brothers of the bride, both of Wilmington; Mr. Edward L. French of Weston, and Mr. David J. Evans of Kansas City. The groom's brother, Mr. Ben Schneider, Jr., who has been studying this year in Cambridge, England, was unable to return in time for the wedding.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Gold Ball Room of the Hotel Dupont, where the bride and bridegroom were assisted in receiving by Mr. Scannell and Mrs. Schneider, the former wearing an anna gown with a brown orchid corsage and the latter in rose crepe with a corsage of gardenias.

Mr. Schneider graduated from the University of Delaware and studied further at Ohio State University. Mr. Schneider is a graduate of Yale University. He is now a United States Foreign Service Officer. After a honeymoon in Hampstead, New Hampshire, Mr. and Mrs. Schneider will make their home temporarily in Washington, D. C. until Mr. Schneider is sent on foreign service duty.

EDWARD G. STACY

Mr. Edward G. Stacy, highly respected citizen of Winchester, passed away suddenly Tuesday afternoon, June 6, at his home, 1 Wildwood Terrace. Mr. Stacy was born in Oakland, Maine in 1887; the son of Everett M. and Ella J. Stacy. He attended Colburn Classical Institute and was graduated from Colby College in 1911, taking his Master's Degree at the Harvard Graduate Business School. In 1911, he married Ella M. MacBarnie. For several years he was Executive of the Massachusetts State Chamber of Commerce and later resigned to become Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts Division of the New England Council. After identifying himself actively with the real estate business in Boston and Cambridge for several years he accepted the position as Head of the Real Estate Division of the Maine Publicity Bureau in Portland. He opened a real estate office in Winchester in January 1949.

Mr. Stacy was a mason and an active worker in the Winchester Unitarian Church. While serving in the Men's Club he did much to promote friendly cooperation between all religious groups. A man of sterling character and high ideals himself, he never spoke ill of anyone. The sorrow caused by the news of his sudden passing testifies to the high esteem in which he was held by his many friends.

He is survived by his wife and a sister, Miss Zulema F. Stacy of Columbus, Ohio. Funeral services were held in the Meyer Chapel, Unitarian Church in Winchester at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

GENTILE — DeLUCA

The wedding of Miss Jean DeLuca of Scanton street, daughter of Mrs. Peter Gallo and Mr. Joseph DeLuca, and Mr. Albert Frank Gentile, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gentile of Boreville, Pittsburg, took place on the afternoon of Sunday, May 21, at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Fr. Charles Andore officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Anthony DeLuca.

The bride wore a dress of ivory satin, princess style, with very long train and off the shoulder yoke of chantilly lace. Her long sleeves were painted over hand and her long veil fell from a beaded royal crown. She carried a long spray of stephanotis and white prayer book with two orchids. Her attendant wore a gown of white tulle with net skirt of faille, luster lace and matching mitts and hat. She carried a fan of yellow sand dunes and a bouquet of white flowers.

A reception followed the ceremony at Hunt Room of the Town Line, the couple being assisted in receiving by their mothers, Mrs. DeLuca and Mrs. Gentile. Devotions were read at the reception were spring flowers.

Following a wedding trip to Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Gentile will make their home in Pittsburg.

PRIME — PINKHAM

Only members of the immediate families attended the marriage of Helen Louise Pinkham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pinkham, of Mr. Floyd E. Striker of Whittier road, Reading, and the late Mr. Striker of Ludington, Mich., to Miss Selwyn F. Prime of 1111 Main street, which took place on Saturday evening, June 3 at the Methodist parsonage in Reading. The Rev. William M. Gunter performed the simple 7 o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. Ray Kievit of Dorry, N. H., attended her sister, and Mr. Kievit, the groom's best man. After a wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Prime will make their home in Reading.

FLAG DAY SERVICES

The Winchester Lodge of Elks will hold a Flag Day Service, Sunday, June 11 at 3 o'clock. Veterans and Fraternal Organizations and Boy and Girl Scouts have been invited to join the Elks.

Assembling in the rear of the Town Hall at 2:45 o'clock, and escorted by the Winchester Legion Drum and Bugle Corps and Drill Team, they will march to the Common where the exercises will be held.

The speaker on the Common will be Dr. Forbes Norris, Superintendent of Schools of Winchester. His interesting one as it traces the history of our flag from the first flag flown in this country until the present stars and stripes; in all 9 different flags are used.

The Elks extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend this service and learn about the history of our flag.

DRESS OPTIONAL

Tickets — $1.50 tax included per couple from the Committee or at McCormacks 9:00 p. m. — Illuminated Boat Parade - In Front of Club House.

Sunday, June 18th
10:00 a. m. — 3rd Snipe Race.
12:00-1:30 p. m. — Lunch - Provided by Steward.
2:30 p. m. — Final Snipe Race.
3:00-5:00 p. m. — Band Concert - Splash Regatta - Canoe Races.
6:00-7:00 p. m. — Supper.
7:00-9:00 p. m. — Presentation of Prizes - Grand Reunion - Entertainment.

The Snipe Races are part of a Regatta which will be staged every year until some Club wins the handsome new Winchester Boat Club Trophy (bought especially for this Regatta) three times.

There are marvelous prizes for all the events listed above. They're on display at the Club House. Better go down and see which ones you'll try to win.

The Lobster Dinner will be a fine flick's catered event, and reservations must be made before Friday, June 16th.

Better take it easy this week so you'll be able to enjoy every exciting moment of the Club's momentous week-end wing ding.

Fleet Facts
Mal Muller remained undefeated for the 1950 Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet season, by scoring two more fancy firsts last week-end. Mal just jolts his JAM II to the front right at the start, and stays there all the way. Dick Simonds was second to Mal both days and "Woot" Frizing and Jim Newnam scored thirds. Steward Maxwell's second Sunday Buffet Dinner was a sell out and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. There'll be more, later.

Ladies Bridge Parties
Start Thursday, June 15th
The first of the popular afternoon Bridge Parties will be held at the Club next Thursday at 2:00 p. m. As in the past, the parties are free to Club members and a modest charge of 50 cents will be made for guests. Mrs. Louise Elliott, chairman of these affairs informs us that there will be table prizes as usual, but in addition to these lovely awards, a wonderful prize will be awarded at the end of the season to the contestant who compiles the highest score for the season.

This handsome trophy is on display at the Club. One look at it, and we're sure you'll call "Birtie" Newman, chairman of the opening party Thursday, and make your reservations. Please call Birtie no later than Tuesday so she can plan refreshments.

NEW GOLF COURSE OPENS IN SAUGUS

The first night-and-day golf course in this section will be opened to the public on next Friday, when the Idle-Hour Course turns on its lights in Saugus, on Route No. 1.

Hammie Moore, popular Boston Bruin Trainer, has been named manager of the new nine-hole layout.

Every club in the bag from Driver to Putter, can be called in to action for both practice and play. After-hours enthusiasts may sharpen their woods and irons on the practice area before stepping up to the first tee.

The course is laid out with nine different tees and nine approach mounds. An adjacent section of the course chipping tees and nine putting greens are arranged so that all hazards of golf are present. All the clubs are supplied by the management, but a player may use his own clubs if he so desires.

While the new course will be a boon to after-hour golfers, the Idle-Hour will enter to the daylight variety, too.

WARRIORS EDGED

ARLINGTON, 2-1

Bobbie Farrell pitched Winchester to a 2-1 victory over the Arlington Hoboes Monday evening at Leonard Field, holding the visitors to five hits with his fast ball.

Al Plummer hit a triple to right in the 4th, scoring the first run of the game when the throw-in got away from the Arlington catcher. It was "Al's" seventh extra base hit in six games and his 13th safety in 22 times at bat.

Triples by Latsey and Swanson tied the count in the Arlington 7th with two away. Farrell threw down hard and fanned Cumint.

Sam Tibauds doubled in Winchester's 7th and advanced as Cumint's batted safe down the third base line. Bellino walked to fill the bases.

In an attempt to pick Cumint off second Kennedy threw into the dirt and Tibauds lost the return throw to the plate, the second peg being also off center.

TEELE PAPER TRADE WINNER
Royal P. Teele of Woburn, president of the Palmer Beach Horsehoe Association, and defender of the championship of the Boston Paper Trade, was "award" first prize in this year at the conclusion of the annual Paper Trade contest at the Charles River Country Club.

The quotes around the word "award" are intended to indicate that the first prize was given to Roy and his partner and not actually won upon the field of battle. Second prize was won by the Teele team, but because the Teele team that defeated them in the finals had previously won the bowling trophy they were not permitted to take away the horseshoe prize, but Mr. Teele and his partner collected. It has long been a favorite expression of Mr. Arthur B. Butters, who is sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, that he would rather have Mr. Teele's luck than be good at the game of horseshoes. On Monday, June 5, Teele's good fortune paid off with a handsome silver plate, of which Roy is very proud.

The Teele team, who are a few who can cope with the President of the Palmer Beach group in a single game set with no conversational restrictions. With a partner, however, competition becomes another matter, and although Roy and his sidekick survived every round but the final they went to the well one too often and lost in the championship bracket.

Mr. Teele, with a random that he would have admitted that he blew wide open in the penultimate round, but against this mediocrity he sets a previous game in which he and his partner were handily 20-12 and three successive rounds from the staunch Teele family carried the day for justice, national restrictions. W. H. S. CLASS OF 1920 30TH REUNION
The Class of 1920 of W. H. S. held a most successful 30th Reunion at the Parker House in Boston, last Saturday evening, June 3rd.

Twenty-six members sat down to a most delicious dinner, which was served at 7:30 p. m. There was never a dull moment from the time John Sullivan, the Chairman of the Reunion, took over as the presiding "Master of Ceremonies" with his witty remarks and keen sense of humor.

Stuart Eldridge, the Class President, welcomed his classmates to this 30th Reunion, saying how pleased the Committee was to have such a gratifying turnout. A number of letters were read from members who were unable to attend. Harrison Chadwick was called on to give a short talk on his work as a Representative in the State House, which proved most interesting. During the evening an accordion player rendered a number of popular tunes to harmonize, John Puffer attempting to hum along at the piano.

A rising vote of thanks was given to Ruth Nelson for the very attractive program she made up for each member present.

At the end of the evening dancing was indulged in. Another Reunion will be held in five years and Stuart Eldridge appointed E. Macdonald, chairman of the committee. Everybody agreed it was a wonderful reunion and are planning to return for the 35th Reunion.

JUNIOR LEGION BASEBALL
The local Junior Legionnaires will play their first game at Everett on Monday night and it is expected that Stowell Symmes will be the mound for Winchester. On Wednesday evening the locals will be at home to the Maine Junior Legion with Charlie Murphy on the mound for Winchester. Another home game is booked for Friday night when the Lovell Junior Legion will be the attraction. Coach Bartlett can use Charlie DeFilippo for this one or come back with Symmes if necessary. All home games will be played at Leonard Field this year which should meet with the approval of the large number of fans in that vicinity.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE HONORS MISS GERTRUDE HOWARD

Miss Gertrude Howard in whose honor Monday, June 5, was designated "Miss Howard Day," received the compliments of the School Committee and representatives of the Teachers' Club at a social hour preceding the regular meeting at the Administration Building, Monday evening.

Acting for Chairman Howard Bartlett, who was absent because of illness, Mr. William Speers voiced the sentiments of the Committee and presented a gift to Miss Howard in recognition of her forty-five years as a Winchester teacher. Mr. Speers also read a letter from Miss Elizabeth Howard, former Wynham School principal, which effectively states the general esteem in which Miss Howard is held by her colleagues.

Miss Spencer wrote: "In the days of the old Wynham School, Gertrude Howard came to teach with me and from that time she has been a teacher in the highest and most highly esteemed and beloved member of the Wynham teaching force."

"Her faithfulness — her ability and energy with which she discharged the duties assigned to her — endeared her to teachers and pupils alike."

Her scholarship during the years is lovingly cherished by me and she has my best wishes for a pleasant and happy retirement."

Elizabeth Spencer, former Principal of Wynham School, was graduated from State Normal School in Lowell in 1901. For three years thereafter she was a teacher in Reading, coming to Winchester in 1905.

Miss Howard came first to the Gifford School where she taught the second grade. Later she joined the Wynham School staff and when Miss Hopkins resigned as fourth grade teacher, she was a teacher in the fourth grade and has continued with that grade down the years.

Miss Mabel Lowry, Principal of the Wynham School, has said of Miss Howard that she has always been a lovable person and as a teacher she has remained modern in her outlook, always having been able to adapt her teaching to what seemed best for the school.

Introducing Miss Howard to the School Committee, Dr. Norris praised her teaching and her ability to approach her work with a youthful spirit.

PROGRESSING ON PARSONAGE

The people of Second Congregational Church are now working at the actual construction of their parsonage. The men have cleared the lot, the cellar excavating is nearly completed and the foundation will be laid next week.

This church feels the need of having the parson in the parish. The handicap has been in not having a place for him to live in Winchester. With the parsonage next to the church, the parish can have the benefit of all his services.

The drive for funds is being conducted throughout the entire Highland area and also among friends in other sections of town. The stores and other business concerns, which have been contacted have made generous contributions. Special thanks this week goes to Father O'Riordan, not only for his unsolicited donation but also for his good wishes.

JOINT REUNION PLANS WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL CLASSES OF '24 AND '25

We're having wonderful returns! Over a hundred and many from out of town as well as out of state. Of course, you remember Rufus Bond? He'll be there!

Get out that informal summer attire right now and join us! Al Horne has rounded up a Collegiate Band for our entertainment. It sure sounds good, Al!

After that big turkey dinner we'll need to step around a bit. Do you suppose you dance as well now as you did in '24 or '25? Perhaps in any way. Please come! We're not just talk? You can do that too!

Some of the folks who went to prep school or left our ranks to enter the business world are joining us. We're truly anxious to see everyone who is affiliated with us in any way. Please come!

That old deadline is creeping up on us. We'll take any reservation dated June 10th. If you can't get your $2.50 to us we'll come to you! Just contact any of the undersigned to pick up your reservation. What could be easier?

Final plans for decorations, name tags, and program will be made Monday, June 12th at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Cole, 80 Walnut street. We're still interested in all suggestions.

Don't forget to make those checks payable to Elizabeth Jacobs Churchill, 24 Fletcher street. Elizabeth is making a grand reunion treasurer. We all appreciate the work she's doing.

May we all be in the High School Gym on June 17th at 6:30 p.m. Your self-appointed Committee, Helen McNulty Bellis, Dorothy Nutter Cole, Marjorie Davidson Dyer, John Flaherty, Norman Harold, Albert Horn, Anna Oliver Mawn, Priscilla Lamway Morse, Dorothy Aseltine Wadsworth, Olive Sells Wilkins

Police Headquarters was notified Monday that sometime during the night previous, two bicycle racks, one ten and one eight feet long, were taken from the rear of the Bike Shop at 612 Main street. Patrolman James E. Farrell discovered that the racks had been taken for lumber by a man employed near the Bike Shop. They were reserved for the owner and the man responsible was ordered to report at Headquarters to straighten things out with Chief Harold.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION C. Y. O.

On Sunday, June 4th, the Immaculate Conception Girls Drill Team won 1st prize in the division competition held at Boston College Field. The event was sponsored by the Catholic Youth Organization and marked the 19th Annual Music Festival.

The Boys Bugle and Drum Corps lost first place by a very close margin. Both these units have brought a great many honors to the parish by their splendid drilling and music.

The Girls Drill Team recently formed an organization of a Social Club made up of the members of the Drill Team. The following were elected its officers:

President - Eileen Welch
Vice-President - Marie Frosten
Secretary - Ruth Foley
Treasurer - Adeline Ferreira
Historian - Maryrose Malanson
Spiritual Adviser - Rev. Herbert K. A. Driscoll

The purpose of the club is to further the advancement of the Team, as well as to form closer ties among its members and also to interest the girls in civic affairs. The complete history of the Drill Team from its conception will be compiled by the club historian. The Club will meet the first Monday of each month.

Mr. Bertram Albro, of South Royalton, Vt., formerly of Francis Circuit and until his retirement for many years a teacher of Latin at Winchester High School, was one of the 50 year class at Boston University attending the traditional Baccalaureate Dinner given Sunday, June 4, by President and Mrs. Daniel L. Marsh at their home, 225 Bay State road. Mr. Albro represented the College of Liberal Arts at the dinner.

PLAYING CARDS AT GRANDMOTHER'S

At 4:45 Saturday morning Officers A. T. O'Connell and William T. Haggerty picked up two Burlington brothers at the junction of Main and Vine streets. They had sustained slight injuries and told the Police they had fallen from their bicycle while riding down Vine street. In response to questioning, they said they had been playing cards at their grandmother's home in Medford until 3 o'clock. They were taken to Headquarters and given first aid, after which they were questioned by Lt. Joseph Deiro. They were then turned over to the Woburn Police at the town line with the Woburn Police to deliver them to the Burlington authorities. The hike was held at local Headquarters and a later report was to the effect that it had been stolen in Arlington. The matter was reported to the authorities there. The older of the two boys was 16.

METHODIST LAYLEADER TO SPEAK

This coming Sunday will be an important day at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, when Bruce W. Tallman, Charge Lay leader, and experienced young people's counselor, will bring the message entitled, "Guiding Youth's Choices." The most important factors concerning the future of young people, namely, religion, marriage and vocation.

Mr. Tallman has had wide experience in young people's work and at present, is working in the office of Director of Admissions at Boston University.

If parents want some excellent all-round advice in helping their children and if both young people and parents are seeking inspiration in the challenge being set for our youth, we extend a cordial invitation to you to be with us this coming Sunday morning.

Young people of the church will have complete charge of the worship part of the service and the High School graduates will be recognized.

MEMBER OF HISTORY-MAKING SENIOR CLASS

NEW PROGRAMMING ANNOUNCED BY STATION WHDH

As of Monday, June 12th, three big program changes on Station WHDH will add zest to the phase, Summer time and the living is easy.

On deck to greet listeners week-days from 6:35-9:00 a. m., will be the station's famous pair, Bob Elliott and Ray Goulding. The new morning stint will feature brief skits, irrelevant conversation, time checks and non-violent music — with the usual times out for news and weather. Bob and Ray will then nap until taking over their regular "Matinee" slot at 1:00 p. m.

With the early morning shift, Ken and Bill's organ and piano concert of the easiest listening music this side of anywhere will now be heard starting at 9:00 p. m. On non-baseball week nights from 8:00-10:00 p. m., WHDH listeners will hear Norm Prescott presenting "Music in the Air". Light classics, show tunes and popular ballads will be featured with one motive in mind — relaxation.

Of special interest classical music lovers are plans for the new Sunday night programming over WHDH. In an effort to broaden the diet of serious music being offered by radio today, a full two-and-a-half hours from 8:35-11:00 p. m. will be devoted to the classics. The concert will be interrupted only by the regularly scheduled newscasts at 9:30 and 10:30 p. m.

THE FORTNIGHTLY Committee Activities

The second Board meeting of the season was held on May 22, at the Winchester Public Library with the new President, Mrs. Kenneth B. Hiseo, officiating. Chairman reports were read and suggestions and plans were discussed for the welfare of the Club. One of the outstanding reports was made by Chairman of Art, Mrs. Lester P. Leathers, who had on display the picture which had been awarded to her as 2nd prize in the "Penny Art Fund Contest" held by the Federation of Women's Clubs. Members may recall that Mrs. Leathers entered this National Quiz Contest last January, a Quiz which involved a great deal of research even to the extent of contacting the National Gallery of London, England. Fortnightly members were most gratified and happily excited to learn that their Art chairman had honored the Club by taking 2nd prize in this highly competitive contest. It was also interesting to learn that from a choice of several pictures Mrs. Leathers chose an oil painting done by Mrs. Elizabeth M. Lohmeyer of Manchester road, Winchester, a member of the Winchester Art Association. The picture, entitled "Toward Pigeon Cove" depicts a lovely scene at a Rockport to Pigeon Cove and will be retained as Fortnightly property to some day grace our own Fortnightly Art Gallery.

The club extends many thanks to Mrs. Leathers for a job superbly done!

State Federation News.
The annual meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs was well represented by The Fortnightly. Several delegates and other members report a very busy but happy time during the sessions held at the State Federation's favorite rendezvous, the New Ocean House at Swampscott, Mass. Delegates and Committee members attending were as follows:

Radio News.
Mrs. Harold H. Given newly selected Director of the 8th District Presidents' Club was selected recently by the sponsors of the radio program "The Voice of America" to feature a half hour broadcast direct to Norway, her native land. In commemoration of the 900th anniversary of Oslo the capital of Norway, Mrs. Given extended a personal greeting to the Woman's Club of Oslo, "Bokkelagets Himmelforsening" where she gave a lecture in 1947. Her broadcast also included a message of good cheer from all club women in America to all club women in Norway. Good work, Mrs. Given! Our club needs this allied contribution to aid in the building of good international relationship.

RECEIVED DEGREES FROM GARLAND SCHOOL

Two Winchester young women were among the 57 Garland School students receiving degrees or certificates in art or homemaking on Thursday, June 1, at the 7th commencement of the junior college. Sally Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. Vincent, 3 Manchester road, received the degree of associate in science in the two-year art course and Elsie Jane Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Murray, 9 Everett avenue, received a certificate in the one-year homemaking course.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Wadsworth Hight opened their summer home at North Sandwich, N. H., this week.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS UNDERWAY FOR SPRING DANCE

Plans are rapidly nearing completion for the Spring Dance slated for the evening of June 16th which falls on a Friday with dancing scheduled from 9:00 p.m. until 1:00 a.m. Music for the occasion if you haven't heard about it yet will be furnished by Ken Reeves and his 5 piece orchestra.

There have been several meetings held by the coordinating committee headed by Chairman Bob Fiore and a pleasant evening is in store for all who attend. The Woburn Country Club is the site for the gala dance with favors, balloons and gay decorations all arranged for. Tickets will admit a gentleman and lady with ice cream and cookies to be served gratis to the assembly.

Coleman Foley and Bill Duley will be in charge of entertainment and report that Ted and Phil O'Rourke will oblige in several of their patented numbers while other acts some new to Winchester. Folks will be presented also in the persons of several young lady soloists. There will be a few impromptu acts garnered from members of the Knights of Columbus during intermission time, while during the dancing we understand there will be a monster dance number which will be put on to get everyone acquainted with everyone dancing in a huge circle around the floor. A sort of community dance instead of a community sing!

The committee announces that ladies are requested to come formal if they desire but any manner of attire is acceptable while the men are expected to come informal.

The entire membership will be notified by mail of this affair but all are welcome, members and their wives or sweethearts or friends and those who are not members of the Winchester Council No. 210 K. of C. are also heartily welcome to come and have a good time.

The complete committee is as follows: Robert Fiore is general chairman assisted by Coleman Foley, Secretary and Entertainment Committee; William Dailey, Treasurer; Richard Madden, Tickets; and Vincent Erhard, Publicity.

The Time: Friday Evening, June 16, 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m.
The Place: Woburn Country Club, Woburn, Mass.

The Occasion: Knights of Columbus Gala Spring Dance Festival. Everyone Welcome, Members or not!

"I Do"

IT MAY HAVE BEEN but a decade ago, or it may have been far back in the "Twenties" . . . but sometime, somewhere, a young man stood in the soft light of a Junetime morning and repeated the words—"I do."

Since that time, he has fought—with-out interruption—for the place in the world he wants his family to occupy.

And it will may be that, out of the struggle, he has lost just a bit of the sentiment that used to abide in his heart —for success is a jealous master and exacts great servitude.

But not when the Junetime comes—and, with it, that anniversary of another June!

Then the work-a-day world, with its many tasks, is cast abruptly aside; and sentiment—pure and simple—rules in his heart once more.

And, because there are so many thousands of him, doorbells are ringing this June throughout America . . . and smiling boys in uniform stand, bare in hand, to deliver the proofs of romance. And along with the beautiful flowers, and the boxes of candy, and the countless other gifts, some of those brides of other Junes will receive the titles to new Cadillacs.

And, for them, there will be no other June like this—save one alone.

As your Cadillac dealer in this community—we've had long practice in the art of keeping secrets. Why not tell us today? You can trust us not to tell

Juries are SO Expensive

When it comes to spending YOUR money it is hard to find anyone more liberal than the twelve folks who will make up the jury selected to hear your defense in a damage suit. And the basis for that suit may be just about anything under the sun. We write the broadest forms of liability insurance and can fit that protection to your specific needs.

Talking it over puts you under no obligation.

FOR SALE by Stacy

Listen, BRIDES-to-be! Of course your man must appear well, know the right thing to do, and earn plenty. Most of his real faults you will remedy soon enough without his knowing much about it. The main thing is — has he the home ownership urge? That's the true test of a satisfactory husband-to-be. If also he thinks it will be fun to pursue petunias and will think his own backyard potatoes taste better than Idaho's, chances are he will do all right.

Yes — my dear, that HOME OWNERSHIP urge is your true test, and the one that makes sense of the whole marriage business. And here is your chance to put him to the test. Just bring him around to take a look at this gem of a Cape Cod type 5 room house — a pre-war house, built right and in perfect condition, beautiful hardwood floors and all that; exactly the sort of house one would design for his happiness.

It has a lovely 24 ft. living-room with pine paneled fireplace, electric kitchen and a Bendix standing ready to use, a charming breakfast nook, dining-room opening upon a roomy porch built over the garage, two large bedrooms with exceptionally spacious closets, a big bath with tub and shower, and also a first floor lavatory. H. W. oil heat. Now you can make a mistake — be urged him to buy a house like that — a home designed for happiness — with a lovely large lot in a wooded section of Winchester yet scarce a two minute walk from the bus stop. But let me show it to you. Price today $14,800.

WEBBER — BERRY

Palms and vases of white flowers decorated the First Baptist Church on Saturday evening, June 10, for the marriage of Miss Phyllis Evans Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Edmund Conrad of 216 Highland avenue, to Albert Franklin Webber of Lewiston, Me., son of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Webber of Portland, Me. Dr. Howard J. Chidley, minister of the church, officiated at the ceremony, which took place at 8 o'clock and was followed by a reception at the Music Hall on Bacon street.

Miss Berry was given in marriage by her stepfather, Mr. Philip Edmund Conrad. She wore a high satin dress and bonnet with a matching nylon tulle veil and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo with a light pink carnation.

Mrs. Peter Coffin of Billerica was matron of honor, wearing an orchid marquisette with a headpiece of mixed flowers. Instead of a bouquet she carried a basket of mixed flowers matching those of her headpiece.

Bridesmaids were two sisters of the bride, Mrs. Elmer B. Lincoln of Reading and Mrs. Frank A. Oxnard of Medford, Mrs. Thomas E. Clague of Greenfield, the bride's sister, and Mrs. William C. Webber, Jr., of Portland, Me., sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bridesmaids wore marquisette dresses in shades of peach, aqua, yellow and mint green. They also carried baskets of mixed flowers and were matching flowers in their hair.

Millard C. Webber, Jr., of Portland, Me., was best man for his brother and the groom's best man. He is a graduate of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Mr. Webber, who is an assistant cotton classer for the Bates Manufacturing Company, attended Kimball Union College, Maine Maritime Academy and Tufts College.

After a wedding journey to Cape Cod and Connecticut, Mr. and Mrs. Webber will live in Lewiston, Me. The bride is a graduate of the Hill Junior College and of Boston University where she received the degree of Bachelor of Science and was a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Mr. Webber, who is an assistant cotton classer for the Bates Manufacturing Company, attended Kimball Union College, Maine Maritime Academy and Tufts College.

STEPHEN CUTLER GREENE
ORDAINED TO THE CHRISTIAN MINISTRY

An Ecclesiastical Council of the Woburn Association of Congregational Christian Churches and Ministers convened at 230 clock last Sunday afternoon, June 11th, in the First Congregational Church, for the purpose of examining Stephen Cutler Greene and to listen to a specially prepared statement by him setting forth his religious beliefs and convictions, before proceeding to ordain him to the Christian ministry. Mr. Greene made a very favorable impression on the Council delegates and ministers, answering their questions concisely and convincingly, and the Council voted unanimously to proceed with the Service of Ordination.

An hour of fellowship followed, during which a delicious buffet supper was served under the direction of Mrs. James O. Murray and her committee. Friends of Mr. Greene, all Winchester young men, served as efficient corps of waiters for the occasion. They were Gordon and Robert Munroe, William W. Thompson, and a brother of the candidate, Charles Greene. The parish hall was arranged for the occasion, and the service was conducted by Mrs. Henry R. Spencer and Mrs. Wayne B. Thompson.

The Service of Ordination followed at 7:45 o'clock in the church auditorium. Rev. Clarence W. Fuller, moderator of Woburn Association, read the Scripture. Professor B. Davis Super, Ph. D., of Yale University School of Divinity, preached an inspiring sermon. The Charge to the Candidate was given by Rev. Howard J. Chidley, D. D., of the Woburn Association.

The candidate had joined the church and had been active in Sunday School and Forum activities until he left to take up his studies at Yale University. Rev. Albert Buckner Coe, D. D., President of the Massachusetts Congregational Conference and Moderator of the Society, offered the Prayer of Ordination, during which the impressive ceremony of the laying-on of hands took place. Rev. Stephen Cutler Greene pronounced the benediction.

REV. SNOOK RE-APPOINTED

At the New England Annual Conference of the Methodist Church held recently, Rev. John Snook, Jr., was appointed to serve the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church for another year.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. K. William Bartlett celebrated their 25th Silver Wedding Anniversary with an Open House at their home, 400 Forest street, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Nearly sixty-five guests dropped in during the afternoon and evening to wish them health and happiness for another twenty-five years.

An honored guest present was Mrs. Cox's mother, Mrs. Maxine M. Closson, visiting here from Maine who observed her 88th birthday the same day to make it a double celebration with a birthday wedding cake and a birthday cake for the centerpiece on the buffet table under a "Silver Money Tree" that was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Cox as a complete surprise by friends and neighbors. They received many other lovely gifts as well.

To make it an event to be long remembered they were able to get their former pastor and friend, Rev. Archiver J. Strait, who married them in the Calvary Methodist Church in Arlington, 25 years ago, and Mrs. Strait, to come and give a brief service under the rose arbor in the garden which will be long remembered by all the couples present.

HARRY CHEFALO

CHEFALO BANQUET
BIG SUCCESS

The Testimonial Banquet in honor of Selectman Harry Chefalo was held last Thursday, June 8 at Columbus Club Hall. Dinner was scheduled for 7 o'clock but as the winds were held up temporarily en route, the speaking program began earlier than it normally would have. Master of ceremonies Dr. Angelo Malletta opened the program with an explanation of the purpose of the Banquet. "It had," Dr. Malletta, "a two-fold purpose: first, to bring together and give recognition to all the friends of Harry Chefalo who supported his campaign; also, to honor 'Mr. Chefalo's election to the office of Selectman, not only as an individual achievement but as the culmination of the citizenship of the Italian-American community in Winchester as well."

Rev. John P. O'Riordan made the Invocation. He was followed by County Commissioner James A. Cullen who extended the best wishes of the County of Middlesex to the selectman. Several other speakers in order of their appearance were Nicholas Fitzgerald, Selectman and Harrison Chadwick.

Miss Dorothy Hickey then sang three numbers: "My Hero," "Some Day," and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. William McGinn. Following Miss Hickey's appearance, a most enjoyable chicken dinner was served to the hungry aggregation. After dinner speakers were Mr. John Volpe, and Dr. Angelo Malletta who presented two very appropriate gifts: a matched two-piece luggage set and an aluminum golf caddy to Mr. Chefalo.

The affair ended after a short address by Selectman Chefalo thanking everyone for their strong support and kind help.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING
JUNE 29

Addition Funds for Water and Sewer Extensions

The Board of Selectmen have called a special session of the Representative Town Meeting for Thursday evening, June 29, in the town hall for the purpose of appropriating additional funds for the extension of the water and sewerage system into Johnson road, and vicinity. Johnson road runs from Westland avenue to the street in the west side hill district.

The meeting is being called at the request of the Water and Sewer Board and is being held at the earliest possible date to ensure the necessary quorum before the general exodus of summer vacationists.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Farley of Rangleys, who have been spending a year in Winchester during Mr. Farley's term as M. L. T., a member of the Sloan Fellowship group, left Monday evening for a ten-day motor trip to Quebec and the Thousand Islands. Upon their return they will leave with their family for their home in Richmond, Va.

STAR CLOSED SATURDAYS

The Star office commenced its usual summer Saturday closing schedule last Saturday, June 10, and will continue to be closed Saturdays until fall. We had to leave matter out of the paper last week and our closing notices were not wished. Our apologies to those who may have made a trip down town to the office and especially to "Mack" who waited around in the sun half an hour for our usual weekly gabfest.

"NEED TAKES NO HOLIDAY"

With school almost over and vacations approaching, most people are looking forward to a happy, restful summer. Your Winchester Chapter of the Red Cross is also hard at work to insure you healthily and enjoyable summer with plans for a good Water Safety Program and a Blood Donor Day on June 27.

With the Fourth of July coming soon, it is imperative that the Red Cross re-double its efforts to secure an adequate supply of blood in anticipation of the holiday which always brings an increase in accidents.

Sickness and emergencies don't take holidays and this was brought forcibly to our attention at the middle of the recent holiday. One of our Winchester residents, who had been a first time donor at the previous donor day, was called to the middle of the night to a nearby hospital where her brother had been taken after a serious accident. The next morning when she called the Red Cross for blood for her brother her first words were "Of course, when I gave a pint of blood the other day I didn't know it was going to be used to need me; I didn't know it was going to be in an accident." And that is just the point. No one of us knows we are going to be in an accident, no one of us knows when a member of our family will need blood. To have given before the need arises, gives one a very secure feeling in times of emergency.

The Mobile Unit will be at the Congregational Church on Tuesday, June 27, from 1:00-7:00 p.m.
 Red Cross solicitors are telephoning in each precinct to recruit donors. They may call you. You can make an appointment to suit your convenience.

The Regional Blood Center was faced with a terrific emergency during the Memorial Day 1949 when the Memorial Day parade with the Fourth of July on a Tuesday, making a long week end for many people, it is to be hoped that Winchester will go over the top on its needed quota of 100 pints of whole blood. If for any reason you cannot make a definite appointment, come down to the Mobile
 Unit the day it is in Winchester.
 It is not only interesting but inspiring to see the number of people who are donating a pint of blood so that some one else may live.

FRUIT AND FLOWER MISSION

The response last week at the B & M station (Tuesday, 8:30 a.m.) was heartwarming and encouraging. If your flowers are "going by" or not quite fresh, you can bring a bit of fruit or jelly to the B & M station next Tuesday,
 June 20 at 8:30 a.m. Mrs. Frank R. Evans of 10 Woodside road, will be there from St. Mary's Church to receive any contributions and if you cannot be there with something yourself call Mrs. Evans Winchester 6-4143, and she will be delighted to call on or arrange to pick up your contribution.

Remember it costs little to give much happiness.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. McDonald of Hill street, for many years director of the Americanization classes in the Stoneham schools, spoke on education at last week's meeting of the Stoneham Grange.

MISS HOWARD FETED BY WYMAN TEACHERS

Miss Gertrude B. Howard, retiring member of the teaching staff at the Wyman School, was pleasantly surprised last Saturday morning when she was given a tea by her teaching associates and former teachers of the school.

The affair was held at the home of a former Wyman teacher, Mrs.
 Raymond Matson, 1 Sedgewick Park, Woburn, with a member of the present teaching staff, Mrs.
 Janet Greeno, as co-hostess. Miss Howard arrived at the Matson home under the impression that she was to attend a house-warming, finding in one of the rooms as she was shown about the house, a corsage and a written note informing her that she was the guest-of-honor of those present.

On behalf of the gathering Miss Mahel Lowery, principal of the Wyman School, presented Miss Howard with a handsome handbag, reading during the presentation a poem which she had written for the occasion. Delicious refreshments were most attractively served by the co-hostesses and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Among the Wyman teachers at the party were: Mildred Abrahamsson, Mrs. Mary Butler, Miss Ann Dolan, Mrs. Myrtle Dodge,
 Mrs. Gertrude McPeake, Miss Betty Hatchell, Miss Louise Murray and Mrs. Mary DeSalvo.

Former Wyman teachers included
 Miss Irene Mitchell, Mrs. Misjorie Butterfield, Mrs. Arnold
 Black, Miss Martha Cunningham, new principal of the Lewis Park School, Miss Nancy Carroll and Miss Constance Savard.

Other guests were Mrs. Lawrence
 Kean, wife of the Wyman customer; Miss Marion Phillips, retiring supervisor; Mrs. Ethel Savage, school nurse; Miss Virginia French, art supervisor in the elementary schools; and Miss Helen Nieldinghaus, elementary schools supervisor of Physical Education.

DEACONESS HELEN PHILLIPS LANE

Deaconess Helen Phillips Lane,
 84, a former widely known resident of Winchester and for many years associated with the Church of the Epiphany, died Wednesday, June 14, in Milton, where she had been living since 1934.

Deaconess Lane was the daughter of Albert G. and Ellen L.
 (Rice) Lane. A native of Winchester, she was a direct descendant of the Phillips family, the great churchman. She taught for several years at the old Wyman
 School and was for many years, until her retirement, active in the women's work of the Parish of the Epiphany, serving, among other capacities, as superintendent of the kindergarten in the church school.

Deaconess Lane was a sister of the late Charles A. Lane, formerly a member of the Park Board and firm of Parker & Lane, coal dealers. She leaves a niece, Miss Constance Lane of this town and three nephews, Roland A. Lane, Franklinc, E. J. and J. J. Lane and E.
 Phillips Walker, both of Winchester.

The funeral will be held on this Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the Church of the Epiphany with the rector, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, officiating. Interment will be in Willowdale Cemetery.

EVA BARONE MARRIED IN LONDON

Announcements have been received for the marriage of Miss Eva Frances Barone of this town to Lt. Col. John Belmont O'Connell of

MRS. MARY L. DEMORRIS

Mrs. Mary L. DeMorris, of 426
 Main street, widow of Archie De-
 Morris, late of Winchester, died Tuesday afternoon, June 13, at the Winchester Hospital. She had been ill for six weeks, but was out on the day before her death, being removed to the hospital after a heart attack Tuesday morning. A second heart attack proved fatal at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Mrs. DeMorris was the daughter of Peter and Angel (LaFort) Cloutier.
 She was born in Winchester July 8, 1865, and lived her entire life in the town attending the Winchester schools and Winchester High School.

She married Gaudios Mottet of Three Rivers, Canada, who died as the result of an accident at Beggs & Cobb's tannery in 1925. The late
 Mr. Mottet was for 25 years employed at Beggs & Cobb. In 1910
 Mrs. Mottet married Mr. DeMorris, who died in 1925.

Mrs. DeMorris was a member of Winchester Chapter, Guild of the Infant Saviour; a life member of the Auxiliary, Harold Post, of the American Legion, which she served as chaplain for more than 25 years;
 a member of St. Mary's Sodality and a former member of the Winchester Emblem Club and of Court Santa Maria, Catholic Daughters of America.

Surviving are three daughters,
 Mrs. Harry F. Nealey, Mrs. Lawrence Machette, both of Winchester, and Mrs. Doris Fitzgerald of Vista, Cal.; two sons, Martin G.
 Mottet of Winchester and Howard Mottet of Warwick, R. I.; eight grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held this Friday morning from the home of her son, Martin G. Mottet, 177 Washington street, with solemn requi-am mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 9:30.

Deacons were Clarence E. Dungeon, George F. Lebluc, William H. McHulley, Harold J. O'Leary,
 Martin J. Foley and James J. Fitzgerald. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

O'Rourke's TO TOUR WITH SHOW

Phil, and his brother, Teddy,
 "The Great" O'Rourke of Symmes road have been signed by Collegiate Varieties and will go on tour for two weeks this summer, starting all college show, reputed to be one of the best of its kind. The Varieties opens in Boston June 21 and 22 with the O'Rourkes in the cast at that time.

All Winchester knows the entertaining ability of these personable brothers. Graduates of High School, they starred yearly in the school Vaudeville Shows, their rendition of "McNamara's Band" being among the all time highlights of these popular entertainments.

Both boys went to Holy Cross and continued their entertaining success at Mt. St. James. Teddy, graduated last year, was a "nuke" with his songs at all football and pep rallies at "The Cross" during his four years there, while Brother Phil, who got his sheepskin Wednesday, has been a soloist this year with the Holy Cross Glee Club.

Winchester fans wanting reservations for Collegiate Varieties should communicate with John Hancock Hall. If Teddy and Phil are going to do "McNamara's Band," it could be "May" and your reporter will be among those present.

MISS MORRILL AT BRATTLE HALL THEATRE

Priscilla Morrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Morrill of 1 Priscilla Lane, is to play this summer with the Brattle Hall Theatre in Cambridge. She will also appear at the summer theatre in Cohasset, the Brattle Hall Theatre having taken over the playhouse there.

Miss Morrill, who is a graduate of Winchester High School and Carnegie Tech, has played in several off Broadway shows in New York this past season and has also appeared at the City Center in New York.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

For the second time in eight months, the magazine "The Modern Hospital" has taken notice of Winchester Hospital, the more recent article in the June number being one written by Harlan L. Faine, Jr., Administrator, on "Sleep Is So Healing: Why Don't We Try It On The Patient?" Watch the Star for a reprint of this article.

At the organization meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary on Thursday, June 15, the following slate of officers was presented by the Nominating Committee, and was elected. Plans for program and activities will be announced later. President, Mrs. Gustav G. Kaufmann of Winchester; Vice President, Miss Ruby Willis of Reading; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Robert E. Fowle of Reading; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Joseph T. McGuire of Winchester; Treasurer, Mrs. Henry T. Bonzani of Wakefield. Directors: for three years, Mrs. Erskine N. White of Winchester; for two years, Mrs. Frank C. DeBusch of Winchester; for one year, Mrs. George E. Milner of Reading.

A visitor to the Hospital this week who received a very warm welcome was Mrs. Burns Alexander Cameron of Halifax, Nova Scotia, who as Miss Ella Delaney was Winchester Hospital Dietitian from 1933 through 1942.

At the June meeting of the Eastern Massachusetts Association of Medical Record Librarians, Winchester Hospital was represented by Mrs. Mabel L. Bayers and Mrs. Joy Woolley. The meeting was addressed by Dr. Sydney S. Gellis on Endocrinology with special reference to the Adrena-Genital Syndrome and Addison's Disease. Mrs. Bayers and Mrs. Woolley have also recently completed a review course held at the Cambridge City Hospital on six Saturdays under the auspices of the Massachusetts Association of Medical Record Librarians. With a staff of instructors including authorities in several fields, the subjects reviewed were: Anatomy and Physiology, Medico-Legal Problems, Statistics, Standard Nomenclature, Medical Record Science, and Medical Terminology.

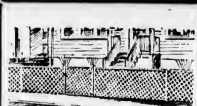

RAINBOW MOTHERS

The Rainbow Mothers Club held its regular meeting and a dinner party at Chickland in Saugus on June 7. A short meeting was held and a report of the installation supper was read by the chairman, Mrs. Robinson.

After the meeting dancing was enjoyed, included a specialty number by Mrs. Lundskog and Mrs. Farnham.

The next meeting will be held in the fall at the home of Mrs. Foster in Wakefield.

THE AMERICAN NATIONAL RED CROSS

Can Your Child Swim?

Summer — The time for swimming! Youngsters and adults are donning swim trunks to give the old swimming hole a new workout.

A "Learn to Swim" program for children and adults is being planned by the Winchester Chapter of the Red Cross. Water Safety instruction is valuable to persons of all ages who intend to visit beaches or pools this summer, but it is imperative for youngsters particularly.

Plans call for courses to be offered which will include all levels of swimming ranging from the non-swimmer through Junior and Senior Life Saving.

The following is the schedule for the Red Cross classes to be held at both beaches this summer:

Summer Swimming Schedule
At Palmer Beach every morning of the week beginning Tuesday, June 27.

Palmer:
Tuesday — Thursday — Friday
Beginners 10:00 a. m.
Intermediates 10:30 a. m.
Swimmers 11:00 a. m.
Junior Life Saving 11:30 a. m.

Palmer:
Monday — Wednesday — Friday
Beginners 10:00 a. m.
Advanced Beginners 10:30 a. m.
Intermediates 11:00 a. m.

The Girl Scouts will meet at Palmer Beach on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday mornings at 9:00 a. m.

At Leonard Beach Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings beginning on Wednesday, June 28.

Leonard:
Monday — Wednesday — Friday
Beginners 9:30 a. m.
Advanced Beginners 10:00 a. m.
Intermediates 10:30 a. m.
Swimmers 11:00 a. m.
Junior Life Saving 11:30 a. m.

On Monday, June 26 Registration will take place at both beaches from 9:00 to 12:00 noon.

Mr. Richmond Keeney of Chesterford road, who is now attending Aquatic School, will be the Water Safety Instructor.

Mrs. R. Harry Jenny is in Winchester visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Parker of Wilson street, coming on from her home in Rome, N. Y., to attend the high school graduation of the Parkers' daughter, Betty Ann Parker.

PARKHURST FIELD TRIP

Fourth and fifth grade children recently traveled for their Social Studies lesson to the campus of Babson Institute in Wellesley, where the Giant Relief Map of the United States is housed. Under construction since 1923 the map is now equipped with automatic slide projectors visualizing economic resources, transportation systems, industries, and production centers of the United States.

This type of map demonstrates the importance of geography in the history of our country. The children were able to trace the course of westward expansion as dictated by geography — the growth of cities, the need for canals, the fight for water and trade routes, etc.

Assisting Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Miss Cunningham were Mrs. John Zinkel, Mrs. Thomas Downes, Mrs. Robert Reynolds, Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mrs. Harry Mueller, and Mr. Joseph Ferrina.

RETURNS FROM CRUISE

Peter S. Quinn of 52 Dunster Lane, returned this week from a 14-days Naval Reserve training cruise in Bermuda waters.

A chief quartermaster in Ordnance Surface Division 1-5 of the Naval Reserve in Boston, Quinn sailed aboard the PCF 900, a Boston-based patrol vessel. He reported an enjoyable liberty in Hamilton, Bermuda, the capital city of the island colony. The ship also engaged in exercises in surrounding waters.

The Winchester man is one of the leading petty officers of his Reserve division. In civilian life he is employed by the John Hancock Insurance Company.

Mr. Lee W. Ralph of Forest street, popular manager of the meat department at the Economy Market, is expecting to return to his duties on Monday after several weeks absence, due to illness.

..on a Sunday afternoon

Sunday, Monday — almost anytime — Pa and Ma could chug along Main Street in their merry Oldsmobile, and at ten miles an hour make better time than motorists today — inching high-powered pleasure cars into congested areas!

"Those days are gone forever!" Today, crowded city streets are no longer driving lanes for private cars — THEY ARE THE COMMUNITY'S ESSENTIAL TRADE ROUTES.

That's why more and more civic-minded as well as economy-minded folks are using public transportation for everyday travel — keeping pleasure cars for pleasure.

ENJOYED VISIT TO FIRE STATION

The Lincoln School Kindergarten, on Friday, June 2, enjoyed a visit to the Winchester Fire Station. The trip came as a climax to a unit on the Community Helpers which includes a study of the fire department. Of special interest was the fact that fathers of two children, Rosalind, Annie, and Helena Flaherty, are firemen and were there when the children visited. The children toured the building, were shown just what happens when the fire alarm rings, and were very much impressed by a demonstration showing how the brass pole is used. An added attraction was the racing of the aerial ladder at the rear of the station.

The Lincoln School Kindergarten, on Wednesday, June 7, 1950, went on a special bus to the Stoneham Zoo. The children spent the morning visiting the animals and were fortunate in seeing present just as the lions and leopard received their mid-morning meal. Other favorite animals were the bears, seal, wolves, and the peacocks. The children had their morning lunch and rest while there and were back at school in time for dismissal after a very successful trip.

SURPRISE SUPPER

On Monday, June 12, a surprise buffet supper party was given for Miss Barbara Harding, in honor of her birthday. The party began with outdoor cooking and badminton, and ended with dancing. Among the guests were: Betty Hospei, Betty Ann Carlisle, Miriam Parker, Jackson Fritsch, Ben Snyder, Richard J. Smith, Peter Miller, Nick Moore, Herb Seely, and Bob Murphy. The entire group had a most enjoyable night's time in the Winchester High.

WELLESLEY COLLEGE CLUB

The Winchester Wellesley Club held its Annual Luncheon and Meeting at the Fieldstones in Andover on Thursday, June 8. A delicious buffet lunch preceded the meeting which was presided over by Mrs. Albert D. Swazey, president of the club. Mrs. Peter Laban, acquaintanceship chairman, Mrs. Roy W. Wilson, social chairman, and Mrs. Paul B. Leverette, chairman of a committee to revise the Club by-laws, reported on the work of their committees during the year. Mrs. Charles T. Main, 2nd spouse of the excellent progress of the Wellesley 75th Anniversary Fund and indicated how near Winchester is to meeting its quota.

Mrs. H. Gardner Bradley, chairman of the 1950 Winchester Morning to be held next fall at the Music Hall, announced the membership of the committee and said that nearly all the tickets for this popular series of morning lectures have already been sold. Other club projects for next year were discussed by the members present.

GRADUATED FROM UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Winchester was represented in the Class of 1950 at the University of Pennsylvania by Edward J. McDevitt 3rd of Madison avenue west who on Wednesday received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Economics upon completion of studies in the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce.

Mr. McDevitt entered the University of Pennsylvania campus in 1947 after three years of service in the country and the Far East in the United States Naval Reserve. He is now in the ranks of the U.S. Navy. After a short vacation in the U.S. Navy, he will be back in the U.S. Navy.

WINCHESTER BOY SCOUTS

Troop 12 (St. Mary's Church)
Holds Parents' Night

For their last meeting of the current season, Troop 12 of St. Mary's Church held a Parents' Night on Thursday evening, June 8, at St. Mary's School, with the parents of all the scouts invited to the affair. Field Executive Francis McFeeley of Fellsland Council showed a fine color film pertaining entirely to Camp Fellsland and kept up an explanatory commentary throughout the showing of the film. With some of Troop 12 scouts in the scenes, the film was doubly interesting to the parents and scouts and certainly must have put to rest any misgivings that any of the parents might have had concerning the safety of their boys. This film was a fine piece of advertising of the camp that one would want to see, and there are many boys from Troop 12 signed up to attend the summer for two weeks at a time.

The meeting opened with the troop presentation of the salute to the flag, followed by Inspection, conducted by Scoutmaster Norm Doucette, after which was made the presentation of awards in the heart-warming court of honor ceremony in candlelight with candles blown out in an attractive white birch bough setting.

Tenderfoot badges were awarded to Scouts Peter Cullen and Bobby Winn with miniatures of this award made to the mothers of the scouts. Thomas Gallagher received a Service award and his Explorer Rating with Scoutmaster Doucette announcing that Tom has been accepted to be on the Counseling Staff at Camp Fellsland for the summer. This scout is a popular student at Winchester High.

Scout Laurence Erhard received four merit badge awards earned over the past few months and the Star Scout award. Bob Thorne received a merit award also.

On the individual point contest started in the early fall, with a week at Camp Fellsland as first prize and other awards from a day in to the week award, scout Tom Gallagher had the highest number of points but due to his being appointed as counselor, the next in line received the free week award and the rest moving up a notch.

Thus the results are as follows: Laurence Erhard received the free week at Fellsland, Tom Sullivan was second, David Flaherty, third; Tom Morrissey, fourth; and Denny Doucette, fifth.

Scoutmaster Doucette praised the boys for their fine showing and hoped that next season would find more boys tackling the job with intense interest. Concerning the recent trip to Mt. Monadnock he announced that there would probably be another trip there before Fall. Committee Chairman Albert McDougall announced that the scouts had been tendered an invitation by the Winchester Elks to participate in the Flag Day exercises at Winchester Common.

Eagle Scout Bill Sullivan, one of Staff Rogers boys, was presented to the gathering and it was announced by Scoutmaster Doucette that Bill will be Assistant Scoutmaster of the troop. Bill received his Eagle award recently at the Cavalcade of Scouting and as was announced, had his scouting interrupted by service with Uncle Sam, coming back to finish the job of getting his Eagle award. This ought to serve to inspire all of the scouts on their advancement.

Rev. Frank O'Neil, Troop Chaplain, complimented the boys on having a fine year and urged more striving for awards among those scouts who were not recipients so that they would get the most out of scouting. He praised the film of Fellsland and expressed his gratitude to the committee, Scoutmaster Doucette admonished the scouts to live up to the scout oath and laws during the summer months and to study their scout assignments frequently so that they would be prepared to advance in the Fall.

Refreshments of ice cream, cakes and cookies were served by the troop to all.

RECEIVED COLBY COLLEGE DEGREES

Miss Elizabeth Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Jennings of 127 Church street, Miss Patricia Root, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldene E. Root of 27 Mt. Pleasant street; and George C. Wiswell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Wiswell of 70 Fletcher street; were among those who received bachelor of arts degrees at the 122nd Commencement of Colby College at Waterville, Me., on Monday, June 12.

Miss Jennings was active at Colby in the Women's Student Government, Student Council and Women's Athletic Association. A member of the Sigma Kappa sorority, she was a member of Cap and Gown, which is considered the highest non-scholastic honor which can come to an undergraduate in the women's division.

Miss Root was president of the Sigma Kappa sorority and secretary of the Outing Club Council as well as subscription manager and property manager of "Felo", the Colby variety show. She was also active in the Women's A. A. Wiswell, a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, was active in the Ski Slope Development Council and a member of the Colby Yacht Club.

AMHERST GRADUATES

Two Winchester boys were graduated from Amherst College at the annual commencement held Sunday, June 11.

Theodore M. Atkinson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore M. Atkinson of 8 Chestnut street, and David Whorf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Whorf of 2 Central Green, were awarded bachelor of arts degrees.

Atkinson, a member of the Phi Alpha Psi fraternity, was on the college tennis team for three years and played soccer as a sophomore. He was a member of the Amherst Outing Club during his first three years.

Whorf, a member of the Chi Phi fraternity, won numerals and a letter in swimming, and sang with the Glee Club for four years. He also worked with the "Masques", college dramatic society, during his junior and senior years and was a member of the college choir during the same time.

HEADS AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY N. E. SECTION

Dr. John T. Blake of this town, director of research at Simplex Wire and Cable Company in Cambridge, was recently elected chairman of the Northeastern Section of the American Chemical Society for 1950-51. He will assume office July 27.

Dr. Blake attended the Boston public schools, is a graduate of Tufts College, and obtained his Ph. D. from M. I. T. in 1924. He has since then been engaged in research on the chemistry and technology of rubber at Simplex Wire and Cable Co.

Dr. Blake has published a large number of papers on the various phases of rubber chemistry and is co-author of the widely known book, "The Chemistry and Technology of Rubber". During the war he served on technical committees for the Navy, Corps of Engineers, Ordnance Department, Signal Corps, and Submarine Mine Depot.

Dr. Blake is a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Institute of Chemists, and the Institution of the Rubber Industry of England. He is also a member of many scientific organizations including the New York Academy of Sciences, Boston Research Directors Club, and the Society of Chemistry (England).

COUNTRY CLUB TO HOLD MEMBER—GIEST TOWN

The Club will hold its 48th Anniversary Member-Guest tournament June 23, 24 and 25, with the qualifying round on June 23 and all teams qualifying on a gross basis. Participation is necessarily limited to 64 teams with the low 16 teams comprising the championship division. The remaining teams will be divided into six flights of eight teams each, with first and second round matches played on Saturday and semi-finals and finals Sunday. Teams below the championship division will play on round only, except for finalists, who will play two rounds Sunday.

The tournament dinner will be held Friday night, June 23, and there will be a buffet luncheon Saturday for the participating members and their guests. Prizes will be awarded Sunday afternoon, June 25.

LOCAL BANKER ENTERS THREE-YEAR COURSE AT THE GRADUATE SCHOOL OF BANKING

Adolph F. Forsberg, Cashier of the Winchester National Bank is a member of the class of bank officers which will enter The Graduate School of Banking at its annual session this year. The session will be held at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey, from June 19 through July 1.

Mr. Forsberg is one of 1,000 men who will attend the two-week session of the School, which is sponsored by the American Bankers Association. This student body from forty-one states, the District of Columbia, and Cuba represents a completely outstanding group.

The Graduate School, which is open only to bankers of officer rank, was founded by the A. B. A. in 1915 to provide an opportunity for advanced study for experienced bankers. The faculty for the 1950 session numbers forty-three, plus twenty-three special lecturers. It consists of outstanding bankers, lawyers, economists, bank supervisors, and government officials, who, during the session, will cover all phases of banking, economics, law, government, and related subjects.

In addition to attending the summer session, plus similar sessions in 1951 and 1952, Mr. Forsberg must complete two years of extension study at home and write a thesis based upon original research in some phase of finance, to be eligible for graduation.

WINCHESTER EXPERIMENTER

John Holdsworth of Lawson road, having completed his sophomore year at Amherst, will sail from Quebec on June 29 for a summer in France. He travels as a member of the Experiment in International Living, Inc., which sends nearly 500 young men and women in small groups to some 15 foreign countries.

The Experiment, a non-profit organization formed in 1928, aims to promote friendly international relationships through arrangements whereby each young person spends the first month of the visit living in the country of his choosing with a family which includes a son or daughter of comparable age and interests. Holdsworth will be with one of the Mountain Groups visiting France. His group will devote the second month to mountain climbing in the French Alps and bicycling through other parts of France, accompanied by French young people with whom they have been living during the previous month.

WOODWARD - BRIGGS EXHIBIT PUBLIC LIBRARY ART GALLERY

You can feel the life about that schooner. The fore and aft rig, with the sails filled with the wind coming in over the taffrail; the lone figure in the bow, Stanley Woodward in this picture, probably the best he has done for some time - a viewer remarked - caught the calm assurance of the fisherman running before the wind. This picture is well worth your going to the Public Library to see if you love boats and the sound of water as it swells from the bow.

Then again meet Captain Zebulon Tilton, under his corn colored hair, his yellow coat, his weathered face as wrinkled as his hair and coat. What a dreamy eye! Yet you feel that this man, "Cap'n Zeb", can meet an emergency with vigor, straighten the course and then relax behind that dreamy eye. Richard Briggs has brought to the drawing room with his brushes and paint a real character of action. On the opposite wall and by the same artist using blues and flesh is a portrait of Benjamin Hafford. The flesh color of this old gentleman's head stands out like a well earned trophy is nothing to detract from the portraiture of an easier life than that of the dreamy eyed "Cap'n Zeb". They are indeed on opposite walls. Plainly their differing tones are heralded by the choice of numerals, Captain Zebulon Tilton, MCMLX and Benjamin Hafford - 1911.

Moor'd to the dry land and resting at the edge of the oblong tide in the light of a fading day is a boat, a dory, while in the cleft of the rough rocks shrouded from a possible storm is the glow of a camp fire and to the left of the fire a lone figure, scarcely distinguishable in pale blue - a man gathering more driftwood for his fire. To the right a calm stretch of water, serene, the scene. The quietness and stillness beckons you. Here Mr. Woodward unfolds in paint the solitude and peace of man free from gasoline and traffic. In the corner of the Public Library Art Gallery is a picture of a viking maid with stern face and critical gaze. Behind her, yet barely noticeable is a shore line of the sea and on the shore evergreens, while in the distance a gray mountain. Whether or not he intended to picture the viking Mr. Briggs succeeded, at least to one admirer of his handiwork.

The gold of the sun lights, the waters of the ocean while the swirl of an angry storm pursues the light. In this light the soaring gulls, bespeak the hopes of man and ever pressing for more light. Mr. Woodward has pictured the current world outlook. It is one of promise for you know the storm will pass. You feel it as you look at his picture.

Yes there are more pictures, flowers, portraits and a distant light, white mountain shrouded above the timber line and again the inevitable ocean and rocky shore from the Woodward Briggs

This treat of human life sketched in colored oils was brought to Winchester by the local Art Association. These scenes will leave you in a week or ten days.

DR. CHIDLEY CONDUCTING PRACTICING DISSEM. AT OTIS AIR FORCE BASE FALMOUTH, MASS.

At the request of Charles A. Carpenter, Chaplain (Major-General) USAF, Dr. Chidley is conducting a practicing mission at the Headquarters of the 23rd Fighter B. Wing at the Otis Air Force Base, Falmouth, Mass., during this week.

Dr. Chidley left Monday for his series of addresses at the air field, and has also been asked to hold consultation hours from 9 to 11 a. m. each day.

There are over a thousand men in training at the Base, and Dr. Chidley will give an address each evening in the Base Chapel.

Rev. Donald B. Tarr, Assistant Pastor, will occupy the pulpit at the next Sunday and will preach on "Love Never Disappears."

Dr. Chidley will be in his pulpit again on June 25th.

Miss Adeline Hinton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael H. Hinton of 115 Church street, was graduated from the Boston College School of Social Work, receiving the degree of master of science in social work.

At press time complete information was not available from the college regarding students who were graduated with honors.

EXCAVATING COMPLETED ON THE PARSONAGE

The excavating has been completed on the parsonage for the Second Congregational Church and the men of the parish expect to have the foundations in by the end of the week.

The Fund Raising Committee has had a most enthusiastic response to their drive and the thermometer in front of the church is rising steadily.

The Bethany Society is sponsoring a lawn party and tea for the benefit of the Parsonage Fund on Mrs. Abrahamson's lawn Friday, June 16, at 2:30. In case of rain it will be held in the church vestry instead. All are cordially invited to attend.

JAPANESE FESTIVAL AT THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The Junior High Department of the First Congregational Church finished its year with a Japanese Feast and Festival Sunday, June 4 at 5 o'clock. It was a fitting climax to a very active and profitable year for the boys and girls of the 7th and 8th grades, and culminated 5 weeks of study, research, discussion, and projects on the problems and Christian opportunity in Japan.

At 5 o'clock the boys and girls assembled in the Social Hall for reports of the various committees which have been working for the past 5 weeks. — Fact Finders, Tale Tellers, Interesting Item Investigators, Service Seekers, Worship Planners, Decorators, Music and Poetry, Poster Makers, and American Kanishibai. The program was ably directed by Mrs. Norman J. Fudelford who was assisted by her corps of teachers, Mr. Andrew J. Millican, Mr. George Traut, Mr. Otis Jason, Miss Janet Copland, Mr. L. W. Hayes, and Mr. Charles Fish, and committee chairman, Bill Kelly, Sally Cunningham, Judy Higgins, Brad Johnson, John Becker, May Lou Armstrong, Sandra Wittot, Marjorie Cameron, Barbara Seaver, Bill Ross, and David Pratt.

The front of the hall contained an exhibit table on which were played many beautiful articles of Japanese life. Mrs. H. R. Kumpner was present to explain these articles and display a beautiful Japanese wedding kimono, and tell the audience many interesting facts about Japanese customs.

At 6 o'clock, the entire department sat down to enjoy a Japanese Sukiyaki Feast which had been prepared by Mrs. Henry Bainbridge, Mrs. George Trinit, Mrs. Carl Morse, Mrs. Arthur Cameron, Mrs. Arthur Pratt, and Mrs. F. B. Withington. Forks were present for the families, but most of the diners made an attempt to eat the dinner with the chopsticks.

At 7 o'clock, the department assembled in the Chapel where they were joined by their parents who had been invited for the promotion exercises and candlelight service. Carolyn Fudelford officiated at the organ, a message was brought to the graduates by Rev. Donald B. Tarr, and a message of welcome to the Senior Forum by the new President, David Archibald.

Certificates of promotion were presented by Mr. Benjamin Gowling, the Church School Superintendent to the 39 young people being promoted into 8th grade and to 36 being promoted into the Senior Forum.

Promotion with honor awards were presented by Mrs. N. J. Paddford to Sandra Chapman, Nancy Donahuey, David Goodwin, Bradford Johnson, Arthur Makechin, Ann Peter, Judith Roberts, William Ross, Betsy Sargent, Ann Titill, of the 7th grade, and Mary Lou Armstrong, John Becker, Marjorie Cameron, Robert Crockett, Sally Cunningham, William Kelly, David McKinley, Nancy Morse, Barbara Seaver, Gail Stratton, and

HARRY BOYLE
NEW GRAND KNIGHT OF WINCHESTER COUNCIL
NO. 210

Winchester Council, No. 210, Knights of Columbus, have elected the following officers for July 1950 to July 1951:

Election of Officers
Grand Knight - Harry Boyle
Deputy Grand Knight - Charles Craven
Chancellor - Everett Kimball
Warden - James Hanson
Treasurer - Francis Donovan
Advocate - William Walden
Inside Guard - Raymond Gagan
Outside Guard - William O'Leary
Trustee - George Young
Delegate to State Convention - Walter Prue
Alternate Delegates - Frank Rogers, George Young Delegate to Boston Chapter - five years - Coleman Foley Charity Fund Committee - three years - Frank Novell two years - Charles Haggerty
one year - Luke Glendon
Outgoing: Grand Knight Walter Prue thanked the members for their loyalty and cooperation during this past year, stressing particularly to the various members of committees that they had been given him in the affairs of the Council. Grand Knight Elect Harry Boyle pledged his best efforts to making Winchester Council No. 210 one of the best active Councils and asked the support of all members.

Grand Knight Boyle also added that he has appointed Brother "Mitch" Mawn as Chairman of the "Mittie" Committee and Brother Coleman Foley as Lecturer. The latter will have charge of programming affairs of the Council.

The Council News Staff came in for their share of praise, both from Past Grand Knight Prue and Grand Knight Boyle, who asked for the continuation of their work in getting out the monthly mimeographed letter to members. It was announced that both the recent Mittie Party in aid of the Trappist Monks and the Ladies Night Dance were successes.

CHOSEN FOR HIGH-SCHOOL FASHION BOARD AT FLEXES

Carolyn Oxford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Oxford, of Winchester, was chosen to be a member of Flexes' High-School Fashion Board at the finals of the annual contest held last Saturday in Paris.

Thirteen teen-agers were selected for the Board on the basis of their fashion ideas and originality with poise and personality rated high in the final selections by the judges.

Those chosen for the Board model in Flexes' teen-age shows, act as advisors to other teen-agers who come into Flexes' Hi-School Shop and counsel the buyer in her selection of popular teen merchandise. Members of the Board have an opportunity to see fashion behind-the-scenes and two of them have been chosen to represent Flexes' Hi-School Shop, one flying to Paris and one to California.

Miss Oxford has just completed an sophomore year at Winchester High School. At last Saturday's finals she wore a gray-blue suit with a black hat trimmed with bright flowers. She carried a black bag and wore white gloves and black shoes. This year was the first time she has entered a contest of this kind.

GAGE - ALLEN

White peonies, stock and delphinium, with tall white candles, decorated Riple's chapel of the First Congregational Church on Saturday afternoon, June 17, when Miss Elizabeth Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sidney Allen, of 323 Highland avenue, became the bride of Bradley Ewing Gage, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Gage of Amesbury. Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony at 4 o'clock and the bridal music was played by J. Albert Wilson, church organist and choir-master.

Miss Allen was given in marriage by her father and had for her honor maid her sister, Miss Ruth Bradford Allen of Winchester. Also the bride's party as bridesmaids were Miss Emily Hanson and Miss Joan McFarth of Winchester; Miss Mildred Holbrook of Sharon and Mrs. Rowe M. Metcalf of Providence, R. I.

The bride wore a white pique gown with a long train and finger tip veil arranged with a pique headpiece. Her flowers were white iris and white carnations. All the bride attendants wore off-the-shoulder, a knee-length dresses of pique, the honor maid wearing pale blue, the bridesmaids, green. All carried arm bouquets of iris and the honor maid was matching flowers in her hair.

Edward Kelley, Jr., of New Bedford, was best man for Mr. Gage, and the ushers were Henry Hill Skilling of Amesbury, grandson of Deacon D. N. Skilling of Winchester; John R. Moses of Salem; Clark Rainey of New York City and Robert Tranchesi of New Orleans, La. A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church parish house which was decorated with garden flowers. Assisting in receiving were the parents of the bride and bridegroom and the members of the bridal party.

After a honeymoon spent at Nantucket Mr. and Mrs. Gage will make their home at South Bend, Indiana.

The bride graduated from Winchester High School and from Westbrook Junior College, where she is associated with the Studentebaker Company, was graduated from Amesbury College in 1948 and from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in 1950.

JOHNSTON - BARCLAY

A marriage of Winchester interest took place at the First Baptist Church in Medford on Saturday evening, June 17, when Miss Doris Elizabeth Barclay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Barclay, of 283 Broadway avenue, Medford, became the bride of David Brodie Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Johnston, of 283 Broadway avenue. The Rev. Alexander Henderson performed the candle-light ceremony at 8:30 o'clock and the altar was decorated with carnations, gladioli, snapdragons and ferns. Edgar Isherwood, tenor, sang "Dedication" by Robert Franz and "Jesus Christ, the Son of God" by Miss Barclay was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white shadow lace gown with a small train and a sweetheart neckline. Her finger-ring-length veil of tulle fell from a fluted tulle headpiece and she carried a bouquet of orchids combined with gladioli.

Miss Arlene Woodside of Medford was maid of honor and Miss Barbara Jane Perkins of Augusta, Me., small niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Bridesmaids were Phyllis Lattime, Miss Irene Wilkinson, Miss Janet Purnell and Miss Evelyn Wilkinson, all of Medford.

The honor maid wore a shadow lace gown with a coronet of white daisies and carried a basket of yellow iris and gladioli. The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of yellow shadow lace and carried baskets of salmon pink gladioli and yellow carnations, wore coronets of yellow flowers. The flower girl wore an ankle-length dress of white organdy trimmed with ruffles and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

H. Porter Perkins of Augusta, Me., a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. and Mrs. H. Porter Perkins, who took the bride to the bridegroom's mother, she being unable to be present.

Following a honeymoon in Maine and Mrs. Johnston will live at the bridegroom's home where she is a graduate of Tufts College.

MOORE - NEWTON

At a candlelight ceremony, in the Church of the Epiphany, Miss Cynthia Stewart Newton, daughter of Mr. Phineas Stewart Newton, of 6 Prospect street, and the late Mr. Newton, was married on Saturday afternoon, June 17, to Donald Stewart Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Webster Moore, of 40 Windsor road, Waban. The pastor, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, read the 4 o'clock service in an attractive setting of white stock and a reception followed at the Music Hall on Bacon street where the decorations were laurel, rhododendrons and peonies.

DECEASED ARLINGTON MAN WELL KNOWN HERE

Philip A. Hendrick of Arlington who died June 17 in the Synchro-Arington Hospital, was widely known in Winchester through his connection with the Winchester Country Club where he was for many years a regular competitor in the club tournaments and a frequent winner. He was a former vice president of the club. Mr. Hendrick was a native and lifelong resident of Arlington, Mass., where he was a selectman and town clerk as well as being on the Arlington Drift Board during World War I. A Boston attorney, he was counsel for the Federal Home Loan Bank, was on the board of directors and was a member of the American, Massachusetts, Middlebury and Boston Bar Associations. He was a trustee and former president of the Arlington Country Club. Mr. Hendrick leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary (Lehan) Hendrick; three daughters, Mrs. Miriam Winkler of Arlington, Mrs. Ruth Nelson of Lenore, and Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson of Lynn; eight grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Christine Nelson of Lenore. His home was at 12 Draper avenue in Arlington.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Agnes Church, Arlington, with the Rev. Fr. James O'Doherty officiating.

HEADS DISTRICT NURSING HERE

Mrs. Doris L. Wiklund has been named Executive Director of the Nursing District Nursing Association, and has already taken over her official duties at the nursing headquarters, 540 Main street.

Mrs. Wiklund is well qualified for the post and for the many duties of the district nurse. Trained at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, she has since then worked in the University of Connecticut, the public health work on the staff of the Quincy and Brookline Visiting Nurse Societies. Her special interest is in the nursing of the aged and at one time she was nurse superintendent of one of the largest nursing homes in the country. During the war, she placed the public health nurse in service.

Born in Providence, R. I., married to Walter G. Wiklund, she and her husband live at 185 Cambridge street, and have three children, Janet, 18, and Robert, 16, and a daughter, Elizabeth, 14.

In selecting Mrs. Wiklund for the Executive Director, the Board of the Association feels that it has an unusual and capable person, one who has splendid nursing background and knowledge, with personal contacts that will make additional friends for the Association.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION MUSICIANS SECOND AT LYNN

The Immaculate Conception Drum and Bugle Corps and Girls Drill Team won second place in the competition last week Wednesday held in Framingham by the Lynn Centennial celebration.

A large delegation from Winchester accompanied the youngsters to Lynn and they did a fine appearance in the local corps. They were especially pleased to finish ahead of the Most Precious Blood corps group in the recent competition at Boston College and the pair are great favorites.

The Immaculate Conception musicians and drill team paraded in Boston on Bunker Hill Day and participated in a competition held there in connection with Framingham's 250th anniversary.

The girls failed to win any prizes at Framingham, but the supporters who followed them to the show town were delighted with their showing, every one agreeing that the local youngsters gave their best performance to date.

Following from Rhode Island and a coronet from Framingham, the girls were crowned as winners of the prize winning at Framingham and the judges seemed to favor the style of these girls.

CHARLES LAUGHTON COMES TO WINCHESTER

Mothers' Association to Present Famous International Stage and Screen Star in November

An event of outstanding importance to Winchester will occur on Sunday evening, November 19, 1950, in the High School Auditorium, when the Winchester Mothers' Association will present "An Evening with Charles Laughton" for the benefit of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

The world renowned star of the theater and movies, known for his great portrayals in the memorable productions, among which "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "Ruggles of Red Gap" are notable, will present original music sketches in melodrama from the Holy Bible, Shakespeare, Dickens, Maupassant, Thackeray and others.

The plans are going forward for the presentation, for the first time to a Winchester audience, of Mr. Laughton's unusual voice and personality, and the Mothers' Association will make further announcements as to the details of arrangements at a later date. It is anticipated that Winchester residents will look forward to the coming of this outstanding event.

KENNY - NASH

Gladioli and peonies decorated the altar of St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, June 17, for the marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan J. Nash of Nelson street, and Mr. Joseph Paulus Kenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Florence Kenny of Providence, R. I. Rev. David Kenny, O. P., of Providence, R. I., brother of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony, and Rev. John Kenny, O. P., of Washington, D. C., an uncle of the bridegroom, presented the bride with a gift of a silver chalice.

Miss Nash was given in marriage by her father, and had for her honor maid her sister, Miss Alice F. Nash of Winchester. The bridesmaids were Miss Marion L. Sullivan of Winchester, Miss Elizabeth MacFarlin, also of Winchester, and Miss Mary E. Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Nash, of Winchester, brother of the bride, and Thomas Casarely of Providence.

The bride wore a gown of "chambray" over white satin with long sleeves and a long train. Her finger-ring-length veil of nylon tulle fell from a satin cap trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a cascade of white gladioli and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

The honor maid wore a coral choker and a full length picture veil. Her cascade bouquet combined sweethearts roses with belladonna and gladioli. She wore a cascade of fresh flowers.

The bridesmaids, in line of dress, also wore corals of fresh flowers and carried bouquets like that of the honor maid.

Howard Kenny of Providence, R. I., was best man for his brother, Mr. Joseph Paulus Kenny, and Mr. E. Nash of Winchester, brother of the bride, and Thomas Casarely of Providence.

The reception was held after the ceremony at the Medford Women's Club with the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in the reception. The bride wore a white gown with a long train and a coronet of white daisies and carried a basket of yellow iris and gladioli. The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of yellow shadow lace and carried baskets of salmon pink gladioli and yellow carnations, wore coronets of yellow flowers. The flower girl wore an ankle-length dress of white organdy trimmed with ruffles and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

H. Porter Perkins of Augusta, Me., a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. and Mrs. H. Porter Perkins, who took the bride to the bridegroom's mother, she being unable to be present.

Following a honeymoon in Maine and Mrs. Nash will live at the bridegroom's home where she is a graduate of Tufts College.

WATERWAYS COMMITTEE NAMED

The committee authorized at the March town meeting to study the town's waterways with a view to their improvement has been announced as follows:

Appointed by the Moderator are James F. Daniels, Jr., Richard Fardick, Lowell R. Smith and Chandler W. Symonds. Kenneth F. Caldwell is also a member of the committee, chosen by the Park Committee from their membership.

GRACE E. BATH

Miss Grace E. Bath, daughter of the late Edward O. and Harriet S. Bath and a former Winchelsea resident, died at the St. Joseph's Hospital, Jamaica Plain, on Wednesday following an operation.

WINCHESTER'S POPULATION IS 15,567

A preliminary announcement from Arthur F. McCabe, district supervisor of the 15th Decennial Census, gives the population of Winchester as 15,567.

This figure is believed to be substantially correct but is subject to revision after returns for non-resident population are received. The census is being taken by the Census Bureau, U. S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C.

The official announcement of the population will be made at a later date by the Director, Bureau of Census, Washington, D. C.

WINCHESTER GRAD. AWARDED DOCTORS DEGREE

ARLINGTON EDGED WARRIORS AGAIN

Fredde Hill's five hits wasn't good enough to win Sunday afternoon as the Warriors lost their second Paul Revere League game of the week to the Arlington Town team at Spy Pond Field, Arlington, again by a single run, 2-1.

Winchester outlasted Arlington, 6-5, but couldn't find Murphy with men on bases, leaving men on in the sixth of the nine frames. The big break of the game came in the 4th when, with a man aboard, Paul Revere hit a long drive over the right field fence that barely curved foul in the wind.

Donaghy opened the ninth with a single and moved up on McDermott's sacrifice, but the tying run languished on base.

FATHERS' GOLF HONORS TO WILCOXES

D. A. Wilcox and his son, J. B., won low net honors in the 5th annual Fathers' Day golf tournament at the Winchester Country Club concluded last Sunday. This is strictly a member affair and should not be confused with the Joe Fath-Son open tournament held at the club later in the summer.

This year's event attracted forty teams and was very successful, particularly in the closeness of the competition.

Dave and J. B. Wilcox won net honors and had their names inscribed on the famous "Red Apple" which represents at the 19th hole of the club, and they also were awarded suitable prizes for their victory. Luck, however, hovered over the Wilcoxes to ensure their victory for when the smoke of actual competition had cleared away, Dave and his son were tied for net honors with E. H. and John Kenerson, each team having a 67. The Wilcoxes won the toss for the championship and actually had the better card, posting a 70-9-67 as against the Kenersons' 80-19-67. The losers in the toss of course won second prize.

Third low net went to R. A. and R. G. Smith, whose card was 89-19-70. F. A. Flanders and son, Steve, won the prize for high net with a 98.

The Wilcoxes, Dave and "Tyke" this time, did all right in the tossing for wins, taking low gross honors in Class A from Joutney W. Monahan and Joe, Jr., on a flip of the coin, both teams having 70's. Of course the Wilcoxes would not have gotten to tie all the time if they hadn't played some pretty fair golf along the way. It wasn't all luck!

In Class B where dads played with sons 15 and under there was another tie with Elmer Zirkel and son, Johnny, exactly matching the 100-30-70 turned in by Dan and Doug Barnard. The Zirkels won the toss for top honors.

One of the big features of this Fathers' Day tournament is the contest which follows the competition on the links. Twenty-four contestants performed before an admiring gallery of mothers and sisters with top honors in Class A going to R. M. and Doug Wilde who distanced the field with a 34.

In Class B Jack Page and son, Johnny, tied with E. C. and Johnny Zirkel, each team having a 39. The Zirkels' luck deserted them this time, the Pages winning the toss for the prize.

In Class C with fathers and sons under 10 competing, D. W. and David Shan had a 44 for the best score. A noteworthy performance was that of F. O. Adams and his godson, Andy, aged 4, who posted a 52. Needless to state little Andy was the darling of the gallery and did quite a job of putting for one of his tender years and inches. Orange punch, cheese and crackers were served at the putting green.

The Father's Day tournament is the brain child of and especially darling of Fritz Traven, who again served as chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. It's a red letter event on the club calendar and much of its success and popularity is due to Fritz's untiring efforts.

MR. LEARY AIDS ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

Athletic Director Henry Knowlton reports that all of the new handouts for the track team were made by Mr. Otis Leary of the Industrial department and boys in his classes.

Last fall Mr. Leary took charge of construction of the high standard stands at last year's Winchester-Woburn games.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Andrew Perkins, Jr. left this week to spend the summer at Pocasset.

KIRWAN MADE GREAT TRACK RECORD AT PENN.

Tom Kirwan of Glen road, and the University of Pennsylvania, wound up a brilliant college track career last Saturday at Minneapolis where he placed second in the mile event of the National Collegiate AA meet. Gehrmann is the first man to win this race for three consecutive years and is considered one of the leading milers in the country.

Tom has made an outstanding record in track while at the University of Pennsylvania. As captain of the Cross Country team he created several long distance records, and as co-captain of this year's track team he succeeded in lowering the all-time mile record of the University to 4:14 which is 2 1/2 of a second under the record made by the great Gene Venske in 1936. He also holds the indoor 1000-yd. record at 2:12.9. In addition he anchored the record breaking distance medley, and 5 mile relay teams at the recent Penn regatta. The latter race was won in 17:22 which is the second fastest time for this distance in this country. Other record making teams of the University of which he was a member were the outdoor 2-mile relay team and the indoor 2-mile relay team which won the National Championship in 1949.

Kirwan's record at Penn is the more remarkable because the stiff requirements of the architectural course left him little time for practice. He has another year at Penn, but will be ineligible for further collegiate competition.

Tom started his running career at Winchester High School under the tutelage of Henry Knowlton. While at Winchester High he won the State half-mile and cross-country championships.

THOREN - KNOWLES GOLF WINNERS HERE

John Thoren, Myopia professional, and Bob Knowles of the Country Club shot an 8-under-par 136 to win the New England PGA amateur golf tournament at the Winchester Country Club Monday. Nick Gianferante and Art Weston of South Shore carded a 137 for second place with Thoren and Frank Richard of Winchester posting 138 for third.

Among the pros Thoren edged Gianferante for best gross with Paul Kirby and George Morrison tied for third. Knowles, Weston and Richard were one-two-three for gross honors among the simon-pure.

John Kent of Wellesley won the spot-of-the-day award, deicing the 335-yard first hole, using a No. 7 iron.

Kent also got a reduced score of 155 with his partner Tom Varney to tie for low net with Don Nelson and Bernie Doherty.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB Stages Snipe Celebration

Since we're fresh out of superlatives, having used them all up in celebrating the drama in the building of the Winchester Boat Club's Fiftieth Anniversary celebration, all we can report now is that the affair, from opening gun to final adieu, was one of the most well-planned, well-attended, well-executed and well-received wing-ding ever held in the city.

For a couple of hours on Saturday morning it looked as though Chairman Jim Newman and his able assistant, Ted Burleigh, would be black-balled from the Club forever and tarred and feathered to boot for ordering the wrong kind of weather, but from the moment the sun shone down on the thoroughly drenched Snipe Fleet at exactly 10:31 Saturday a. m. until the last Fish Chowder fancier hit the highways for home Sunday evening, it was a wonderful week-end in every way.

Saturday's activities included a sleek Snipe Fleet Race in the morning (won by Ted Burleigh, Jr.) and the first of the three official Regatta Races in the afternoon. There was a fishing contest for boys and girls under 14 years of age and the champion Isaac Walton proved to be Joe Koelsch — the champion Isaac Waltoness, Anne Rafferty, Ping Pong and Shuffle Board contests raged through Saturday and Sunday with Roger Swanson proving tops at Table Tennis and Dick McIntyre the slickest Shuffle Board shuffler.

Following the afternoon Snipe race an Outboard Boat Race was held. It was packed with thrills — plenty of crashes and near upsets — with Mr. Winslow winning out by a eyelash over Mr. Dinnell.

More than two-hundred club members and their guests attended the Lobster Dinner and Clam Bake, sang loudly and lustily to Sid Burr's scintillating piano accompaniment, and Square Danced on the black top until the wee small hours of the morning — and without a serious casualty. During the square dancing the lights were put out and five of the Fleet's Snipes were towed in from the outer lake, spectacularly lighted. This wonderful display brought more "oohs" and "aahs" from the onlookers than you'd hear at a fine array of fire-works. The judges decided that Dawson Blamire's boat was the masterpiece of the group, but so good were the other four, that each skipper received a prize.

Sunday brought two more Snipe Fleet races, a two hour hand concert by the St. Joseph's of Medford Band and a very fine Splash Regatta staged by canoeists from the Samoset, Quennebec, Dedham, Riverside and Medford B. C. Clubs. These capable contestants staged Tandem Single Blade, Tail End, Jumping Gunwale and Bucket Races as well as Harry Sour and Tilting Contests and an excellent Canoe Safety demonstration. Everyone at the Club on Sunday afternoon, and there were upwards of 500, thoroughly enjoyed these thrilling canoe antics.

One of the Club's famous Fish Chowder parties was put on in the evening and Commodore Redding presented the prizes to the many skillful winners.

Although the Snipe Fleet Regatta drew only one outside boat, because of competing Regattas at other clubs, it was a tremendous success in every way. There was plenty of wind too much for some of every race and the Racing Committee — Ann Blamire, Parker Blanchard and Harold Payne did a brilliant job of running the races.

As you already know, Fleet Champion Kenneth Cook and his fleet "Phantasy" scored two firsts and a second to win the Regatta. For served notice that he's a serious threat this year by scoring third in "Too-Bees".

The sole invader to challenge for the Cup was Miss Jean Blanchard one of the grandest competitors and swiftest sports we've ever seen on the Mystic. Jean brought her sleek Snipe "Gala" up from City Island, New York and scored two fourths in the first two races in spite of being upset in the second race. Going into the final race she was second to Ken Cook and needed only to play safe to finish in the money. She pulled a daring split tack maneuver that didn't quite pay off and wound up fourth in the final standing. Because of her fine sportsmanship and steady sailing, the trophy Committee presented her with a nice prize anyway. We certainly hope Jean will challenge for the Cup next year.

Mal Moller was the hard luck skipper of the Series. Mal won the final race and scored a third in the second, but neither did him any good because he'd gone bottom up on Saturday afternoon while he was leading the Fleet and failed to finish.

The Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration of the Winchester Boat Club was so successful that we're sure it will be remembered for many years to come. Better get your reservation in early — it ought to be a hoot.

For the fourth consecutive year the month of July has been designated as "Adult Driver Education Month." As in previous years the Driver Educational Clinic will visit different communities in the State where automobile drivers will be afforded an opportunity to obtain without a check-up of their reaction time, coordination, complex vigilance and sensitivity to glare and vision. This check-up is completely without cost. The signed apparatus by trained technicians.

These tests are purely educational and will in no way affect a person's driving license. The clinic, it is announced, will be held here in Winchester on the afternoon of July 24. Announcement of the time and place will be made later.

SPORT HIGHLIGHTS BY JACK CHITEL

WARRIORS, 7; LEXINGTON, 2

Hitting hard behind the three-hit pitching of "Robbie" Farrell, the Winchester Warriors won their Paul Levere League game from Lexington, 7-2, Tuesday evening at Lexington.

Extra base hits by Bellino, Donaghy and Plummer counted heavily in the Winchester scoring. "Billy" Burke, a Stoneham boy caught his first game for the Warriors, handling Farrell's slants well and showing plenty of nerve in blocking the plate when Lexington scored their first run on a low throw in the 1st.

THE REASON FOR THE TOWN MEETING

Editor of the Star:

The Water and Sewer Board has had many requests for water and sewer on the West Side hills. A joint meeting was held by the Finance Committee, Board of Selectmen, Planning Board, Board of Assessors and the Water and Sewer Board. The Water and Sewer Board submitted a report.

After careful consideration of this report it was unanimously voted to recommend to the Town immediate action on the request for the appropriation.

The following is a copy of the report submitted to this joint conference.

"There is being considered a number of real estate developments on the West Side hills. It is very important to the Town how these developments are carried out.

"The policy of the Water and Sewer Department has been not to request any appropriations from the Town for water and sewer extensions in private developments.
 We believe that a developer who does not have enough money to install water and sewer when he grades the streets will not have a development that will be an asset to the Town. This policy has worked out very successfully for the Town over the last 10 years. We have had over $150,000 of water and sewer installations by developers. We furnish plans, specifications, inspection and hydrants for this work.
 After it has been accepted the Town takes it over and operates it.
 The developer has no other expense or assessments.

"This year we have six developments going on at an estimated cost of $50,000.00. The Town will have to contribute about $30,000 for hydrants, inspection etc.

"A great many towns have not required this construction and poor developments have resulted.
 "We are having many applications for water and sewer in the extreme west side of the Town.

 This part of Town has lain dormant for many years and has been used as a farming district. There are now only two farms left. There are about 750 acres that are now ready for developing. The Town must be in a position to make water and sewer available for the developers.

There is now one development leading off of Ridge street which will have six houses and one development on the Cox Farm which will have twelve houses. In order to have these developments install water and sewer at the developers expense it will be necessary for the Town to provide a way of disposing of sewage. There is also a plan for the development of the lot on High street Extension.

"Unless the Town provides a way for the disposal of sewage from these houses septic tanks will be installed which means that at a later date the roads built by the owners, or the Town, will have to be dug up and sewers installed at the Town's expense for which the Town will receive a sewer assessment amounting to an average of 50% of the cost.

"We have made careful plans for the development of this whole district. The backbone of this plan is the building of water and sewer in Johnson road and the installation of an automatic pump on the Cox land. The cost of installing the water and sewer and pump house will be in the neighborhood of $75,000.00 and the land on Johnson road will bear a sewer assessment. This is the first project to be considered in the sewerage of the district and it should be done as soon as possible. We are advised that it is not necessary to build Johnson road in order to put in the water and sewer. As soon as this road is built a good development will start.

"The second project is the building of water and sewer in the new High street straightening. This will cost $25,000.00. After these projects are completed we will be able to easily handle the sewer situation in this whole district and complete the sewer development of the Town. We believe that by putting in these trunk sewers we will be able to insist that the developers do all the water and sewer work at their own expense in all the developments, thus saving the Town a big investment.

"The sewer assessments from the Johnson road job will amount to approximately $25,000.00 and the High street straightening job $8,- 000.00.

"The estimates for these jobs are based on our experience in installing water and sewer pipes during the last few years. Very little hand labor will be required as a large part of the work will be done by mechanical equipment.

"We would request that $75,- 000.00 be provided for the Johnson road work as soon as possible this year as we must be in a position to tell the developers what to do. If this is not immediately decided the whole scheme will be upset and will cost the Town a great deal more money in the long run. High street straightening need not be done until 1951."

ST. MARY'S GRADUATION

On Sunday, June 18, at the 10:00 o'clock Mass the Graduation Class of St. Mary's School received their diplomas. The class assembled in the school and proceeded to the church, accompanied by the "Hymn
 To The Pope," played by the organist, Miss Mary Callahan. The girls were beautifully attired in white with light-blue capes and yellow sashes. The boys, too, were appropriately dressed for the occasion.

Reverend John F. O'Riordan gave an inspiring talk, followed by a special sermon by Reverend Joseph Ryan, a Paulist Father. His commencement address was interesting as well as stirring. Father
 O'Riordan introduced Mr. John A.
 Volpe who presented the long awaited diplomas.

After Mass the children gathered on the rectory lawn for the Class Picture, followed by the class hymn, "Sweet Savior Bless Us Ere We Go." At last the final goodbyes were said to the faculty and the children left the grounds with a sorrow for the future.

The graduates were:

TREATED: Beautiful turf because SCUTL stopped the Crabgrass.

UNTREATED: Demon Crabgrass smothering the desirable grasses.

SCOTT DEALER ANNOUNCES EASY CRABGRASS CONTROL

Availability of a new and revolutionary dry-applied powder which kills crabgrass but does not harm desirable lawn grasses was announced today by Winton's for Hardware dealers for O. M. Scott & Sons Co., lawn specialists.

Developed by Scott's Lawn Research, the new method eliminates spraying, hand-pulling and other bothersome methods used in the past to combat this hard-to-eradicate lawn enemy. The new material, called SCUTL, is simply scattered over the infested area by hand or with a two-wheeled spreader. The particles of powder fasten themselves tightly to the broad crabgrass leaves which absorb the chemicals. The plants wither and die.

SCUTL is a green-colored, lightweight material, easy to handle and almost dustless. It does not harm pets or birds in normal usage and will not damage lawns or shrubs unless almost deliberately administered.

From experiments conducted by leading agronomists, as well as private lawn owners in the past several years, the producers of SCUTL have learned that it is best applied when crabgrass is flourishing, usually in July and August. The treatments should be made before the crabgrass has an opportunity to drop the seeds that will live to plague the lawn in future years.

ARCHBISHOP CUSHING PRESIDES AT MARYCLIFF GRADUATION

Marycliff Academy in Winchester graduated its thirty-seventh class this June. Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston addressed the fourteen graduates. He strongly recommended the "gospel of work," using one's hands and one's heart in the service of God and neighbors. He warned the girls against superficial judgments based on prejudice or emotionalism. His Excellency highly praised the Religious of Christian Education who conduct Marycliff Academy. Reverend William Walsh, Senior

NEW MEDICAL SCHOLARSHIP EXPLAINED

At the graduation exercises of the Winchester High School held last Sunday representatives of the Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society were especially interested in the award of their first annual $250 dollar nursing scholarship. As reported in the Star, this went to Louise Castonguay.

It has been suggested that the society report a little of the background of this scholarship. It is for a girl's first year in training, covering the tuition for that year with any balance going directly to the girl, half when she enters her training and half at the beginning of the second half of her first year. The scholarship is available to any girl in the Middlesex East District who has the acceptable scholastic standing generally approved by nursing schools. This district is made up of nine cities and towns: Burlington, Melrose, North Reading, Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Wilmington, Winchester and Woburn.

The Winchester Scholarship Foundation is indirectly responsible for this new scholarship's being set up, for it was through several members of the Auxiliary who have worked with and for the Winchester Foundation that the idea was evolved and carried out. The organization of the scholarship was handled through representatives of five of the communities two of whom were principals of High Schools. The Scholarship Committee who chose the recipient was of course made up of only members of the Auxiliary. There were this year fifteen candidates for the scholarship, one of whom later withdrew. The other fourteen represented eight of the nine communities in the district and both public and parochial schools. We feel that it is an honor for Winchester that this first year the scholarship has been won by a graduate of Winchester High School and Miss Castonguay, the winner, can be very sure that there is a large group of doctors' wives who will follow her nursing career with the keenest of interest.

POITIER RECEIVES COMMISSION

Francis L. Poitier of Mt. Pleasant street has just been notified by the War Department that effective May 31, 1950 he was commissioned a 2nd Lt., Infantry, U. S. A. R. Lt. Poitier is a member of Heavy Tank Company, 301st Inf., which is commanded by Capt. George A. Blair, Jr. of Lloyd street, 1st Lt. Charles W. Blanchard of Brantwood road is also a member of this company.

THE SECOND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The Second Congregational Church Parsonage Fund drive reaches the $4,000 mark. Chairman Austin Nanny announced that many pledges have not yet been received and many more friends and business firms remain to be contacted. This week a $200 pledge was received from the Ladies' Bethany Society of Second Church. The object of the fund raising campaign is to completely pay for the materials which the men of the parish will need in the construction of the parsonage. They are determined to push on until this goal is realized. The Committee is wholeheartedly grateful for the way Winchester business firms and people have cooperated in the community project which will make not only a stronger church but will result in another resident minister in our town to work for the betterment of the entire community.

The foundation of the parsonage was put in last week under the direction of Ralph Perkins. This week Deacon John Robinson and his volunteer workmen take over to start the framing of the new building.

FOURTH GRADE GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL VISITS THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Mrs. Mathews, always popular with her fourth grade, was even more so last Thursday, June 15th, when she chartered a Holland bus and took her pupils to the Children's Museum in Jamaica Plain. Carrying their lunch pails, and full of energy, naturally, the class being three-fourths boys, they set out at 10 in the morning and arrived back at the close of the school day.

To behold an owl face to face and to look a skunk in the eye and learn the marvels of a chimney sweep sticking her nest to the chimney, was the fourth grade's idea of a perfect day well spent. They arrived home feeling very much travelled, and very much satisfied with life in general and, they feel so much wiser.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

The home and garden of Mrs. Sidney A. Barr made a beautiful setting for the Annual meeting of the Winchester Home and Garden Club on Wednesday, June 14. Miss Helen Monroe and the Social Committee served delicious dessert and coffee outdoors.

On the sun-porch were the flower arrangements by the members of the club under the direction of Mrs. Norman Mitchell; all of which were judged and given constructive criticism. Inside were lovely and fitting flower arrangements by the experienced members.

The regular meeting was held in the garden where Mrs. Frank J. Robinson greeted the members, and guests, who were officers in the Federation. They, with the President and Secretary were entertained at luncheon by Mrs. A. P. Atkin.

Then Mrs. E. Carlisle Baker, President, gave a short talk on the work of the Federation, stressing soil, water, minerals and wild life. She also told of the School of Applied Gardening under the direction of Mrs. Lucius Taylor, to be held in the fall at "Buttonball Farm" in Sherborn.

Other officers present were Mrs. Frederick N. Blodgett, Vice-president, and Mrs. Austin H. Bunker of Winchester, the treasurer, who acknowledged their introductions; and the Regional Eastern Middlesex Chairman, Mrs. Norman J. Griffin, who was so enthusiastic about the luncheon and tour of 8 gardens in Concord on June 21 that all the tickets allotted to our club were soon sold.

Mrs. Norman Mitchell gave a most interesting account of the Horticultural meeting held at the home of Mr. Bent in Framingham on the 9th, when he gave a talk on the selection and care of iris, which was a hobby of his and a main feature, as well as roses, in his garden. The Annual Reports were read and the Treasurer's report showed that over $100 was made at the White Elephant Auction.

The President urged all members to support the Flower Mission by taking or sending flowers to the Winchester Station on Tuesday mornings in time for the 9 o'clock train, where the baggage-master has charge of the hamper. Each club and church has a date and the special one for the Winchester Home and Garden Club in August.

The following officers were elected: President — Mrs. Frank J. Robinson; Vice-president — Mrs. J. Stewart Chaffee; 2nd Vice-president — Mrs. Sidney Burr; Recording Secretary — Mrs. E. J. McLevitt; Correspondence Secretary — Mrs. R. C. Strawbridge; Treasurer — Mrs. Robert S. Baylies. The chairman of the various committees are: Horticultural — Mrs. Norman Mitchell; Nominating — Mrs. Everett Gray; Membership — Mrs.

Edwin Chesterman; Press — Louise Bancroft; Social — Mrs. R. H. B. Smith; Garden Service — Mrs. John B. Willis; Exhibit — Mrs. George E. Connor; and Auditor — Mrs. Clifton Hall.

WYMAN SCHOOL NEWS

The second grade pupils of Miss Patricia Doherty's class at the Wyman School presented "Peter and the Wolf" for an assembly program on June 9.
This well-known children's story by Serge Prokofiev was introduced by Teddy Marks as narrator. The choral-speaking group who told the story were Marilee Rayner, Paula Collins, Karen Kolligan, Susan Lewis, Sue Ellen Chase, Carol Larson, and Carole Snow.
Singers who sang about Peter's bravery were Libby Costello, Vera Carlson, Jean Bodman, Allen Larabee, David Shean, Teddy Nieto, Robert Puzo, and Philip Colby.
The dramatization of the story included Brian Collier as Grand papa; Freddy Ashenden as Peter; Sasha, the bird by Susan Goodale; Ivan, the cat, by Barbara Jellison; Sonja, the duck, by Jane Snook; and the Wolf by John Hosmer. The three Hunters were Jay Messier, Paul Hopkins and John Baldwin.

ON WEST COAST TOUR

Miss Harriette Smith of 3 Wyman Court left Friday with a party of friends by automobile for a trip to California and up the west coast to Vancouver, B. C., visiting national parks and other places of interest.
Miss Smith expects to be gone about eight weeks and will return on the Canadian Pacific through the Canadian Northwest with visits to Lakes Banff, Louise and as well as to the Great Lakes.

SIX GRADUATE FROM BOWDOIN

Six Bowdoin College seniors from Winchester were among approximately 260 to receive Bachelor of Arts degrees from Bowdoin at the 145th Commencement exercises held Saturday morning, June 17. They were: Richard F. Brackett, Charles W. Lovejoy, Jr., Laurence D. Norton, Conrad Rosander, William T. Sheenaker and Philip S. Sheen.
Brackett, son of Mrs. M. Richard Brackett of 153 Cambridge street, prepared for college at Winchester High School. He is an Economics major and has been a member of the Glee Club, Growler staff, and Delta Upsilon fraternity.
Lovejoy, President of Bowdoin's Class of 1950, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lovejoy of 40 Foxcroft road, and a graduate of Winchester High School. He is an Economics major and has been prominent in football and active in the Glee Club, Classical Club and Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity.
Norton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Norton of 51 Washington street, prepared for Bowdoin at Winchester High School and Kings College School. He has been majoring in History and Economics and has been a Cheerleader, a member of the hockey team, Orient staff, and Delta Upsilon fraternity.
Rosander, an Economics major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Rosander of 7 Meadowcroft road, and a graduate of Winchester High School. He has been active in tennis, intercollegiate athletics and Delta Upsilon fraternity.
Sheenaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Sheenaker of 1 Wildwood street, is also a Winchester High School graduate and an Economics major. He has served on the Bowdoin Social Committee and has been active in intercollegiate athletics and the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.
Sheen, son of Mrs. Wayne R. Sheen of 3 Crescent road, and a graduate of Winchester High School and Taylor Academy. He majors in English and has been President of the Delta Upsilon fraternity, news and feature editor of the Orient, and a member of the Student Council, Masque and Gown, Ski team, and Wrestling team.

GRADUATED FROM LASELL

Janet Foley and Ann Mathewson were graduated from Lasell Junior College in Auburndale on Monday, June 12.
Miss Foley, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick T. Foley of 26 Mount Pleasant street, received the degree of Associate in Science in the Secretarial Curriculum. At Lasell, she was a member of the Glee Club, French Club and Ophion Club.
Miss Mathewson, who received the degree of Associate in Science in the Retailing Curriculum, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Mathewson of 18 Glen road. At Lasell, she was President of the Athletic Association, and a member of the cheer, Modern Dance Club, soccer team, Hockey team, basketball team, Social Activities Committee and Executive Council.

PUPILS OF MISS KENNELLY PRESENT FINE PROGRAM

Laetia G. Kennelly presented pupils in two piano recitals at Music Hall Winchester, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, June 19th and 20th.
On Tuesday evening the hall was filled with enthusiastic friends and relatives of Miss Kennelly's junior pupils. Solo, group and two piano numbers were enjoyed by all.
These children with all their joy and enthusiasm of sharing, were indeed an inspiration to all.
Many of the children performing in the first quarter of the program were under eight years of age. Among these were six year old Martha Wood, who opened the program with a delightful interpretation of "It's Spring Again" followed by six year old Joan Gharadin, in "Waltz of the Toys." Barbara Wemyss also age six played "The Elf and the Fairy" and proved what could be accomplished in a year's study, for she started when but five years old. Roberta Malfoia, age seven, loved playing "The Cotton-Tails" and everybody loved Roberta.
The many beautiful ensemble numbers, interspersing the solos, gave color and contrast to the long but unusual program. Outstanding in these numbers were the trio, "The Three Little Pigs" performed by Joann, John and Judith Gharadin. The artistic interpretation of "Tulip Time" by Sandra and Gretchen Macdonald, and "Silver Bells" by Martha and Mary Ellen McEvoy. The two piano pieces of Richard and Patty Searns showed skill and poise.
Ada Silvagnie of Belmont, age twelve, gave a most moving rendition of the first movement of Beethoven's Sonata op. 13. Her decided artistic talent was appreciated by everyone.
The opening and concluding numbers were supplied by Debbie French and Shirley Kiney, who for several years have attracted much attention by their positive finished artistry. The two piano work is indeed outstanding.
The following pupils contributing solo numbers, completed the well balanced program:
Linda Maroney
Edward Gaffey
Gail Lever
Jeanne Buffon
Bonnie Burke
Lewie Lewis
Marjorie DeVenetios
Douglas Scott
James Udal
William Shibley
Pauline Monier
Paul Peabody
Bonnie Campbell
Peggy Ann Burke

ACTIVE AT SIGMA KAPPA CONVENTION

Several Winchester members of the Sigma Kappa sorority are on the entertainment committee for the international convention of the sorority to be held next week at the New Ocean House in Swampscott from June 25 - 30. The convention is being held on the sorority's 75th anniversary.
Boston alumnae chapter and Portland alumnae chapter are co-hostesses for the first banquet of the convention to be held Sunday, June 25. It is hoped that Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, who is a member of Sigma Kappa, will be able to attend this banquet.
Janet Pride of this town is heading the convention entertainment committee as chairman and the other members include Irene M. Hall, Mary Ellen Wagner, Marion G. Woodward, Gloria Strickland, Betty Torrey and Barbara Trask.

It Says the Nicest Things About You!

There are few stronger urges in the human breast than that which grows out of the desire to stand well among our fellow beings.

And around this great basic emotion lies much of the appeal of a Cadillac car.

Alight from your Cadillac anywhere you will, in the presence of people, and certain splendid deductions are immediately made about you.

It could not be otherwise—for the wonderful people who own this car have made it so. In every community in America, a preponderant proportion of the leading citizens have long since turned to Cadillac.

Out of this close association, the car has paraded of the character of its owners until it has now become their symbol. It is recognized throughout the world as the all but automatic companion to outstanding personal success.

The genesis of all this, of course, is quality. For almost fifty years, Cadillac cars have been built to the highest standards it is practical to enforce in the production of a motor car. And people of achievement and discernment have sought them out as water seeks its level.

Today, Cadillac stands uniquely alone in the things it reflects upon its owner. It all but writes his biography!

Have you thought of a Cadillac car for yourself? If so, why not come in some day, quite soon, and talk it over?

We think you'd be surprised and delighted at how easy and practical it has now become to join the wonderful people who own and drive this wonderful car.

1950 MIDCENTURY WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE

The Midcentury White House Conference on Children and Youth is a citizens' movement backed by agencies, both public and private, representing all fields of work for children and youth.

Its purpose is simple, but profoundly important: "to further the development in children of the mental, emotional, physical, and spiritual qualities necessary for personal happiness and good citizenship." Also, to find out why some children grow up to be good citizens and others do not.

It plans to accomplish this by bringing together and studying all available data on childhood, suggesting ways of improving influences on children and youth up to age 25, and following through in an effort to have its proposals put into action during the next ten years.

Here in Winchester arrangements are being made for a public meeting to be held in the fall to further the conference and to cooperate with its aims and activity at the local level. William P. Sullivan, agent of the Board of Public Welfare and a member of the State Executive Committee of the Conference is in charge of arrangements.

Non Partisan Movement
The movement is nonpartisan, nonpolitical, and nonsectarian. Its leaders are parents, businessmen, educators, psychologists, clergymen, doctors, child leaders, youth representatives, social workers, scientists, labor and farm leaders, and young people themselves.

The Conference Movement Is Not New!
The first such conference was held in 1909 under the auspices of then-president Theodore Roosevelt. A president's conference on child welfare has been called every ten years since — by presidents Wilson, Hoover, Roosevelt and Truman.

In calling the conference for December, 1950, in Washington, all state governments have been asked to participate, along with hundreds of public and private child-care, child-guidance, civic and fraternal organizations. In general, the solution of problems and attainment of objectives will be left to the individual states and appropriate agencies.

Two Winchester men, Prof. John J. Mahoney of 8 Everett street and Robert M. Mulford of 29 Pierrepont road, are members of the General White House Committee of the Conference and sub-committee heads for the conference in Massachusetts.

Dr. Mahoney, professor emeritus of the Boston University School of Education and presently director of the Civic Education Project, will serve as chairman of the State subcommittee on Education.

Mr. Mulford, general secretary of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, is heading the sub-committee on Children's Services.

Massachusetts Committee
Governor Dever has appointed a committee of over 100 citizens representing all faiths, races and groups concerned and interested in child-care, in all geographical areas of the state. In addition, persons representing psychologists, physicians, educators, recreation specialists, judges, clergymen, and others, who are close to the daily lives of children in their home communities, have been or will be appointed as technical consultants to the citizens' committee in an advisory capacity. Dr. Mahoney and Messrs. Mulford and Sullivan will be actively identified with the work of the State committee.

State-wide organizations with members residing in every corner of the state have been invited to participate and have expressed their willingness to assist in furthering a program for children and youth in Massachusetts.

The assigned task of the Massachusetts Committee is identical with that of the national committee to assemble knowledge and experience on the problems of childhood and suggest solutions for them. It is in effect an inventory, a re-appraisal, and a re-assessment of our gains, our short-comings, and the newer needs of our most precious human resource — the children and youth of this state and nation.

Group Conferences
Findings of the Massachusetts Committee will grow out of group conferences and an analysis of local programs and unmet needs in various local communities and regions in the state.

Conclusions and recommendations of local groups will be passed on to the State Committee. The State Committee will select and coordinate concepts for incorporation in Massachusetts' final report to the national conference at the White House in December, 1950.

Eventually, some of the content of these unified Massachusetts reports will be the basis of proposals for possible state legislation and local action directed toward achieving goals agreed upon as desirable and necessary by the various communities and regions.

Environmental Factors
Specific subjects to be studied include the effect on children's personalities of various environmental factors and institutions which will be studied by six subcommittees. These are:

1. Family Life in the Home
2. Education and the Schools
3. Programs under Religious Auspices
4. Health Services
5. Recreation Programs and Facilities
6. Protective and Correctional Agencies and Programs

The twelve major questions posed by the conference are:

1. How may the newer needs of all children be met through a satisfactory program of education?
2. What values and qualities do adults see as being necessary for sound family life?
3. What values and qualities do children see as being necessary for sound family life?
4. What happens to children in their appearance before the Court; what changes in practices are indicated and how can these changes be brought about?
5. What is being done and what can be done to promote better understanding about racial, religious and socio-economic differences?
6. What is being done to develop healthy personality through programs under religious auspices and what changes are indicated?
7. What are the newer needs and resources for children whose care involves adoption, foster home placement or placement in institutions?
8. What are the newer needs and resources for children as far as health services are concerned?

VETS ANNOUNCE JULY FOURTH PROGRAM

Immaculate Corps to Feature Events at Loring Avenue

Past Commander John T. Horne, Meridona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has announced that this year's Fourth of July celebration will be held for the first time at the Loring Avenue playground. For many years the celebrations were held at Leonard Field with a show for kiddies in the morning at the Town hall and a picnic in the evening, which was

This year's program, under the direction of the Vets, will start at 8:30 at Sheridan Circle South where the Immuculate Conception and Bugle Corps and Girl Scout Troop 100 will perform. The Troop 100 will form to parade to the playground by way of Main street, Swanton street, White street, Arthur street, Loring avenue and Wendell street. Commencing at 2 o'clock the popular "Immucs" musicians and all team will give an exhibition for the first time on a drill field at their own home town. The high school will exhibit their ceived his early education in the Chester schools and attended Union Academy, graduating in 1898. He entered Dartmouth College and following his graduation there took a year at the Tuck School. He left Dartmouth in 1903 and went with the Pennsylvania road as engineer of construction and maintenance. Following this he went with the Cumberland Valley Railroad, a Pennsylvania subsidiary, as chief engineer of construction and maintenance of its work consisting largely of large construction. He held many important positions and previous to the first World War was engineer for the State of Florida, during which time he built the first Tamiami Trail connecting the east and west seaboard.

He had been semi-retired for a number of years, but was in charge of the two million dollar addition being built to the Chambersburg hospital at the time of his death. At the opening of World War I he married Miss Mabel Boniten of Amesbury, who survives, together with one sister, Mrs. Daniel House of St. Paul, Minn., a brother, Robert, of New York.

Mrs. House was in Winchester at the time of his death, being guest of Miss Helen Hall and dining the 50th anniversary of celebrating the 50th reunion of her Winchester High School class.

Funeral services which were

WINCHESTER TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

The Winchester Toastmistress Club met at the home of Mrs. Edward A. Bowler, 80 Tremont, Medford, Tuesday evening, June 27.

Mrs. Eva Harrison, of Medford, was toastmistress for the evening. Miss Ann Moutz, of Newton, spoke on "Ankara," and Mrs. Katherine Ford, of Medford, spoke about "Chum." Alternate speaker was Mrs. Frances Ewing of Swampscott.

The hostess, Mrs. Edward Bowler, served as topic mistress for the evening. Miss Ann Moutz of Newton was general evaluator, and was assisted by two critics, Miss Edna Brownell, of Belmont, and Miss Mae MacDonough, of Dorchester.

Miss Hilda Hope, President of the Winchester Toastmistress Club, has written the International Toastmistress Club, applying for the formation of a council, comprised of the three Toastmistress Clubs on the East Coast, Wellesley, Quincy and Winchester. When this Council is established, it will be known as Council No. 5. Another Club which will be formed in the Fall will also be eligible to join this Council.

Miss Rose Sardi, of Waltham, who is associated with Broadcasting Station WCRB (1330 on your dial) attended the last meeting of the Winchester Toastmistress Club to observe its functions, and is most enthusiastic about Toastmistress and what it offers to its members. Miss Sardi plans to spend the summer in Europe, and upon her return in September will organize the Waltham Toastmistress Club.

Mrs. M. Loretta Cox of 9 Francis Circuit has taken a temporary position with the Winchester National Bank for the summer months.

SIXTH GRADE OF GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL GUESTS AT DANCING PARTY

On Friday evening, June 16, from 7:30 - 10:30 the Sixth Grade, graduating class of the George Washington School, was entertained at a very gay party given by Mr. and Mrs. John Wakefield of Century Acres, Forest street, whose daughter Ann is one of the graduates.

Dr. Forbes Norris and Mrs. Norris as well as all the teachers of the Washington School, along with the parents of the sixth grade pupils, were honored guests.

As the pupils arrived at the dance which was held in the Assembly Hall of the George Washington School, they were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield. Each boy was presented with a red carnation, and each girl with an old-fashioned flower corsage.

Across the front of the hall stretched a huge table gaily decorated with candles and flowers, and centered with a beautifully decorated cake which was cut by Mr. Wakefield, at refreshment time. The platform above was a banner of red and white dotted geraniums. At one end a photograph held sway, and at the other, an orchestra played dance music varied and exciting enough to keep even the most active feet busy. The dance program included everything from the Virginia Reel to the popular Kiss Waltz (Candy Kisses).

The Assembly Hall had been beautifully decorated the evening before. Cascades of colorful streamers fell from overhead lights, and from the center of the ceiling a huge gaily covered carton was suspended by strings, which, at the end of the evening, showered of multi-colored balloons down on the dancers. There was a motherhood dance, a father-daughter dance, and many others. Mrs. Ruth Graham, popular sixth grade teacher, assisted by her husband, guided the pupils through the energetic Virginia Reel.

The last dance a confetti dance, will truly be memorable for the boys and girls long after grown-up dances have been forgotten. They danced paper hats on their heads — some even trying to hold their three-foot animal balloons as prizes as they danced. Colorful streamers and confetti fell about them and flash bulbs blinked from the platform.

All present voted it one of the most beautiful dances they had ever attended and very sincere were the "Good-Night" thanks tendered Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield. They were thanked not only for their generous and thoughtful gesture to the whole sixth grade but also for their ever ready co-operation in all the grades during all the year.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL, CLASS OF 1900, REUNION

Seventeen members of the class of 1900, out of a class of twenty-nine graduates, attended a very successful and enjoyable reunion at the Shaker Glen House last Saturday. After a short reception in the garden, where iced tea was served, we adjourned to one of the private dining rooms, where we enjoyed a very fine dinner.

We had all looked forward to seeing our most illustrious member, Thurston Hall, who has been in Hollywood for a number of years with Columbia Pictures, but were sorry to learn that he was unable to be present. However he sent letters to two of the class, which were read, and a poem. Letters of regret were also sent by Herbert Gotterson, our class president at the time of our graduation, who lives in Washington; Walter Adams who lives in California; and Henry Ramsey of Wellesley who had to be in Chicago at the time.

One of the highlights of this reunion was to have Mrs. Atwood, Ina's mother, with us, for she entertained the class many times during our high school days at her home on Stratford road, and her last meeting was held at her house.

Many pictures of us in our school days were shown, including Miss Noves' French class taken outdoors on the old high school lot, and our individual class photographs. Also the program of our class night before graduation, when the class gave "She Stoops to Conquer" the Town Hall followed by a dance, and the program of our graduation exercises in the Town Hall Tuesday, June 25, 9:30 a. m. when we received our diplomas.

There were many pleasant reminiscences of the days with our Principal, Mr. Loverson, always affectionately spoken of by the whole school as "The Gent," also with Miss Palmer, Miss Young and Miss Noves, to mention a few of our teachers.

Those attending this reunion were Guy Palmer from Chicago, Mrs. Marie Taylor from St. Paul, Minnesota, Maynard Holcombe from Washington, Ina Atwood and her mother from Wilton, Connecticut, Mrs. Adelaide Pratt Synnones from Marblehead, Beatie Berry from Malden, Walter Fisher from Newton, and the following from Winchester: Elise Belcher, Alice Crawford, Helen Doherty, Helen Hall, Jean MacLellan, Clara Russell, Frank Rogers, Helen Redford, Katherine Sullivan and Jack Willis.

It was a great pleasure to greet our old classmates after so many years, several of whom we had not seen since graduation, and it was hard to realize that so many years had gone by. We hope we may have another such a pleasant reunion in a few more years.

WINCHESTER GRADUATE AT CARNEY HOSPITAL

Miss Dorothy Catherine O'Connell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. O'Connell of 9 M. Pleasant street graduated recently from the Carney Hospital School of Nursing at exercises held at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston. Archbishop Richard J. Cushing presented diplomas to Miss O'Connell and thirty-eight of her classmates who represented two New England states, New York state, and twenty-two cities and towns in Massachusetts.

Miss O'Connell attended Winchester High School before entering nursing training. At the hospital she was elected Vice President of the Senior Class, Secretary of the Student Council, Chairman of the Senior Prom, and a member of the Longis Medical Society. At the Senior Banquet held before graduation, Miss O'Connell was awarded the Sisters of Charity Prize by the Sisters of Nursing faculty for excellence in surgical and medical nursing. Miss O'Connell plans to study in the field of anesthesiology at the Carney Hospital.

CALLING ALL MOTHERS!

Make a ring around Tuesday, September 5 on your calendar before you become completely vacation-conscious.

Yes, that is the date — the day before the children start school — of the tea sponsored by the Winchester Mothers' Association to welcome the teachers at the beginning of the school year.

Ten time and the address of the hostess will be announced later in this newspaper, so watch for the first social event of the fall.

Bring some other Mothers with you. They are welcome and will enjoy the opportunity to greet their vacation-tanned friends, as well as the faculty.

MISS CULLEN ENTERS CELTIC FEIS

Miss Maureen Cullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cullen of 284 Cross street, is one of the local colts who has applied to enter the Greater Boston Feis which will be held at the Malden Municipal Stadium Sunday, July 30th. Miss Cullen, who is sixteen, has sung on many Irish radio programs and is much in demand for her talents, one of which she recently did in New York City. Applications for her brother and sister have also been requested.

The Feis which is the first ever held on such a scale in New England will embrace 72 competitive events having to do with the culture of the Celtic peoples, and already more than a hundred applications have been received from the six New England states and New York state.

Mrs. William L. Palmer with her niece, Miss Helen Neidringhaus, will spend the summer at Bay View, Michigan.

WARRIORS TIED SUDBURY

In a Paul Revere League game at Wayland Thursday evening, June 22, the Winchester Warriors and Sudbury Town Team battled to a 3-3 tie.

With a two-run lead in the eighth and three-two count on the batter, Paul Roche made one hit too good, and O'Brien singled in the tying run. The game was called on account of darkness at the end of eight.

LOWELL BLANKED JUNIORS

The Winchester Junior Legion was handed a 9 to 0 setback by the Lowell Junior Legion at Lowell last Sunday afternoon. It was a game in which the locals could seem to do nothing right and the break went against them all afternoon.

Lowell made only one more hit than Winchester but they were more opportune as Deedles was hit to prevent Winchester from hitting with runners in scoring position.

BOAT CLUB

FOURTH WEEKEND TO FEATURE BUFFET SUPPER

Instead of the usual Cham Bala and Lobster Dinner, the Winchester Boat Club will stage a Buffet Supper, followed by suitable entertainment.

The reason for this festivity plans is due to the fact that the June 17th Lobster Party was held only a couple of weeks ago. The entertainment committee is in hopes that part of the entertainment will include the full color movie taken of the gala Fifth Anniversary Weekend. If these "shots" don't show up in time, there'll be plenty of fun anyway. The whole evening will cost only 35 cents per person. Make your reservations early.

Moller and Cook Match Victories.

Mal Moller won another Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet victory, to remain undefeated this season in official point score racing.

Ned Morse, who threatened to abandon the Fleet Flounders, finished second and Roger Swanson, sailing his former boat Swanson second.

Sunday morning Ken Cook outdistanced Bill Casnak, Carl Frey and Roger Swanson, to win a thrilling match by a 10 to boat lengths. Bill Casnak beat Frey by an eyelash to score a well-deserved second.

WHAT'S RIGHT WITH OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS?

Occasionally, It Is A Good Thing To Assess The Present Strengths Of Our Democratic Institutions, Not With Smugness, But With A Justifiable Pride In Achievement.

DAVID H. RUSSELL

Criticism of our public schools raises its voice easily: High school graduates can't spell. The school doesn't teach enough phonics or grammar or bookkeeping. Delinquency is the result of the failure of our public schools.

These criticisms are, sometimes, just that—criticisms. Sometimes they are studied carefully by school people. However, in all fairness, we must not overlook the great strengths of the public schools. The following facts on the credit side of the ledger are given in the spirit of Dr. Benjamin Franklin, in his perspective, looking at the American character, says: "The American school is undertaking to do more than it can (which is very American) and doing it better than it seems to do (which is also very American)."

The public school is the greatest agency for citizenship we now have. In most communities, the public high school is the only place where all the children of all the people participate in common activities. The school is doing much more than instructing these youth. It is letting them learn one another in how to live. The public school is the most potent weapon that we have for developing the social habits and attitudes that make up good citizenship.

The public schools contribute to the moral and spiritual growth of youth.

Our public schools have always had a worthy character as one of their principal aims. They lead to the home and the church certain phases of religious education and ample time in which to do it. But they work for moral and spiritual values "inextricably associated with human interests, growth, and mental hygiene, and the development of the total personality."

Through such procedures as co-operative planning, community participation, student government, camping, and other recreational activities, and the use of stories and biographies illustrating high ethical values, the modern public school takes its place as one of the great forces in developing character in a democracy.

The public schools have given the people of this country a very high reading rate. The record is still not good enough, but it is startlingly good. Never before has such a large percentage of our population been able to read. Much of the credit for our steady advance of literacy must be given to the public schools.

There are over 50 million copies of newspapers published daily with an average of two or three readers of each copy. Book sales have declined in three years, but still run far ahead of even a decade ago.

Research suggests that the average reading level of adults in this country has risen appreciably in the last 30 years. Once again, the credit for this rise in general reading ability must go to the public schools. And because people can read better things they are beginning to do so.

The public schools tend to raise standards of living throughout the communities of the United States. Schools affect more than individuals. They not only make Susan a better reader or Bill a better basketball player, but they affect the living of groups of people. The higher the educational standards of a community, the higher are the productive and consuming capacities of the people of the community. Better education is positively associated with such things as income earned, amounts of rent paid, retail sales, and magazine circulation.

The public schools have helped to improve the physical wellbeing and health and safety habits of the nation.

Without detracting from the discoveries of the medical profession, the nutritionists, or the research chemists, I suggest that these groups alone do not build health habits.

Most habits have to be taught, and the schools have been doing a large part of the job. As a result of finding that about one-fourth of the young men drafted in the first World War were physically unfit for service, the schools in 1918 included health as one of their seven cardinal objectives.

Periodic physical examinations and safety education are parts of the regular curriculum, especially in urban areas. Health, hygiene, and safety are now an integral part of our daily living, and to the public schools, teaching belongs much of the credit.

The public schools teach more efficiently now than ever before.

Anyone who has consistently visited a modern school knows the miracles accomplished by a skilled primary teacher in reading or a competent seventh-grade teacher in social studies or language or art.

A visit to a good classroom will impress any parent with what children know. And if they have had a chance for varied experiences, they really know; they don't just repeat the words in a book.

The commonest complaint about the modern school is that it is not as good as it was a generation ago when I went to school. Such complaints must not be exaggerated even in light of the selective nature of memory.

Actually, most school systems of a couple of generations ago did not have much to commend them. As John A. Sexson has pointed out, we can hardly call them efficient when they failed 30% of the enrollment, sent on only 5% of their pupils to high school and 2% to college. Nowadays, it is common to have about 80% of the youth in 18 years enrolled in high schools.

In the United States, high school enrollments increased 50% in the 10 years 1939-1949, when the increase for the general population in this age group was only 7%.

Comparisons of graduates now and then should take account of the restricted versus total populations of teenagers. This tremendous growth of the school population is one reason the businessman can always find a high school graduate who can't spell or add a column of figures correctly.

The next time a parent feels like criticizing the teacher of his child, he should recall that in one class of 35 the teacher may have one exceptional or bright child, one or two who are just average, and the rest represent every degree of capacity, achievement, and interest between these two extremes.

In speaking of the accomplishments of the public school, it is unwise to generalize on the basis of one son or daughter, or a younger acquaintance. What are the results of public schooling for public-school pupils in general?

Another thing that is right about public education is the willingness of people in it to consider what is wrong with public education. Public education wouldn't be so right if people in it didn't know they were wrong occasionally.

The desire to improve public education is reflected in the large number of professional organizations with professional aims. Teachers and others support the NEA, for example, 450,000 strong!

It is also reflected in the fact that over 1000 research articles are published in the journals of this country every year, most of them aimed at the improvement of the educational practice. More can be done about informing parents about educational problems and much more needs to be done in drawing the community into evaluation and planning, but school people have shown themselves ready to improve their materials and methods of work.

These seven reasons for continuing and strengthening support of the public school would probably have appealed to Mark Twain. Before public schools were severely criticized, he wrote:

"I remember . . . when I was a boy on the Mississippi River. There was a proposition in a township there to discontinue public schools because they were too expensive. An old farmer spoke up and said if they stopped the schools they would not save anything, because every time a school was closed a jail had to be built . . . I believe it is better to support schools than jails."

Is your school trying to accomplish the aims which you cherish for it? It's doing more than you think. And if it isn't all parents, teachers, and citizens all partners in the job of creating better schools?

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

Camp Joy opened on Monday, with about 40 girls ready to enjoy sixteen days of outdoor activities. They were placed in nine units, as against the five required last year.

From nine a. m. to ten a. m. they enjoy swimming at Wedge Pond, after which they go by bus to the cabin, where they stay until three p. m. All kinds of crafts, painting, wood-burning, and such are included, depending on the ages of the girls.

The leaders are: Marie Ryan, Lois Morris, Mary Looney, Evelyn Sue DeAngelis, Olive Dyer McNally, Dorothy Cullen, Mary Russo, Anna Crockett, Ricky Blanchard, Carolyn Goodwin, Mary Lasky, Lou Finn, Virginia Parsons, Adelaide Dyer, and, last but not least, Barbara Vetteuf and Rachel Harding.

They are receiving very able assistance from the following aides, who are high school girls: Joyce Haggerty, Mary Robin, Natalie Anderson, Mary Lou Armstrong, Nancy Dowling, Eugenie Flaheety, Deborah Pierce, Barbara Harding, Sheila Scully, and Phyllis De Angelis, and Sandra Sherry.

Every day, at two-thirty, all the Brownies and Scouts gather in the pine grove for a ceremony known as "After Glow." During this time each unit entertains with a song, a short skit, or a game. At the close of the day's activities, the entire group joins in singing "The Golden Sun Sinks in the West," a well-known Scout song.

The girls who are bound for England spend two days and a night at the cabin last week, practicing square dances and rehearsing songs to be taught on their trip. They were given a course on bike mechanics by the Raleigh Company, makers of the bikes they will use in England.

The girls will return from the trip with slides of places they have seen, and these will be available to groups and organizations. The charge is ten dollars a showing, and if further information is desired, please call WI 6-0284, or Mrs. Edwin Hutchings will supply it.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following list of Contagious Diseases was reported to the Board of Health for week ending, Thursday, June 29:

- Dog Bite 1
- German Measles 1
- Measles 4
- Scarlet Fever 1

Beggs and Cobb	4	8
White Shirts	3	8

The action in the Town Softball League continued at a furious pace during the past week as the Sons of Italy and Gullotti's continued to battle for the league lead. Just as the Young Un's knocked off the Beggs a week ago, the Cam's upset the Sons of Italy this week to drop them back into a tie for first place. Meanwhile, the other six teams are battling for the other two playoff positions as only three games separate the third place team from the eighth place team.

Next week's schedule is limited to games on Wednesday and Thursday evenings only because of the holiday. A little between the first place teams takes place on Thursday evening when the Sons of Italy meets the Gullotti's at the West Side Field. Gullotti's won the first contest between these two teams last week, but it is their turn to win and a battle royal should result.

The largest crowd of the season should be at Leonard Field tonight when the Winchester Junior Legion crosses bats with the Woburn Junior Legion. In the past two years these rivals have split their annual two-game series and this year's contests promise to be just as close. Last year Winchester had to practically fight their way off the field after upstaging the Tanners at home in a bitterly contested game and Woburn will be thirsting for revenge tonight.

Winchester has only one other home game scheduled for next week and that comes on Wednesday evening when the Waltham Junior Legion will be the visitors. Little is known about the strength of the Waltham team but that is a good baseball town and they are bound to be represented by a strong Junior Legion nine. All home games are played at Leonard Field and the twilight games start promptly at 6:15 p. m.

Miss Annette McCormick, who has been in the West, flew back from Seattle last week. She covered the same route to be taken by the plane which crashed in Lake Michigan.

Dorothy Hickey, winner of the recent Amateur Contest at the Strand Theatre in Woburn, sponsored by the Theatre and Ginn's Department Store in that City, is shown receiving from Ginn's manager, Fred Irwin, transportation and hotel tickets for her trip to New York and her appearance on Ted Mack's Original Amateur Hour TV Show. Miss Hickey won her trip to New York and appearance on TV by defeating six finalists chosen from among the large number of entrants in the seven-week contest at the Strand Theatre. Her song was "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier." She and her mother, Mrs. Madeleine Hickey of 40 Salem street, leave tomorrow for New York with the popular Winchester soloist scheduled to appear with Ted Mack on Television on July 4 from 10 to 11 p. m. She was graduated from Winchester High in 1947, became one of the vocal stars of the school vaudeville shows during her undergraduate days.

WINCHESTER JEWELER GRABBED THIEF

Harold T. Partridge of 10 Orient street, 57-year-old grandfather, captured a thief who had stolen $4725 worth of rings from two jewelry stores in Boston last Friday afternoon.

Mr. Partridge is owner of the jewelry establishment of Trefry and Partridge at 22 Beacon street situated across from the State House. He said the thief came to his store at noon on Friday and picked out a $800 emerald and diamond cluster ring, asking Mr. Partridge to put it away for him until mid-afternoon when he would return with a $100 deposit to hold the ring until next week.

The thief returned and asked to see the ring again, also looking at a diamond cluster ring valued at $325. He then asked to see a third ring, and when Mr. Partridge turned to get it, the thief grabbed the two rings he had been looking at and fled, going down the hill on Park street toward Tremont street.

Mr. Partridge immediately called DuWars on traffic duty at Tremont and Bromfield streets. There he spotted Patricia Cullen, a DuWars on traffic duty at Tremont and Bromfield streets. There he spotted Patricia Cullen, a DuWars on traffic duty at Tremont and Bromfield streets.

In the policeman's presence Mr. Partridge threw his arms around the thief's neck and hung on until the policeman took over. In the thief's hand were the two rings taken from the Partridge store.

At the Milk Street Police Station it was learned that a man answering to the description of the captured thief had stolen a $3500 ring under similar circumstances at Homer's, 44 Winter street. Suddenly the thief popped something into his mouth.

Immediately Officer DuWars went into action, prying the man's jaws apart and inserting his hand in his mouth. When he withdrew his hand he had the ring missing from Homer's.

The thief was identified as William S. Halloran of the South End of Boston whom the Police charged with a criminal record and was one of two men who attempted to hold up a police sergeant in the Fenway in 1930. He has been wanted since April 30 in Providence for assault and battery with intent to kill.

APPOINTED GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT OF BOSTON AND MAINE

In announcing the retirement of Mr. Samuel F. Miller from the position of Assistant General Manager of the Boston and Maine Central Railroad, Vice-President F. W. Bourke states that Mr. Herbert E. Bixler has been appointed General Superintendent, Transportation, of both roads effective July 1.

Mr. Bixler is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and Amherst College, and also holds an M. S. degree from Yale University. He has had 14 years of railroad experience on the New Haven Railroad, starting with that road in 1936 as a car service inspector.

His record shows promotions through the positions of transportation inspector, merchandise supervisor, superintendent of freight transportation, and transportation assistant at New Haven, the position he held when he resigned to take over his new position as General Superintendent of Transportation of the Boston and Maine Railroad and the Maine Central Railroad.

He will make his residence in Winchester, having purchased the home of Mr. Lawrence Dain at 7 Rangleway.

MASSACHUSETTS TOWN AND CITY SEALS

The Star acknowledges with sincere thanks the receipt of a copy of town and city seals of Massachusetts published by the State Street Trust Company of Boston, the material being compiled and written by the company's president, Allan Forbes, and Ralph M. Eastman, vice president.

Together with a foreword, there are 49 seals shown with descriptions of the symbols and the origin of the seals and the significance of their form and symbols. There is also some little historical data concerning the communities of which seals are shown.

The brochure is handsomely printed on paper finished by a special process by one mill in the country to give the appearance of age and at the same time to have a lasting quality.

The paper is mottled in appearance to suggest age, an authentic standard for its appearance having been secured by photographing a sheet of parchment in a rare old volume by Martin Luther printed in the 16th century.

This was reproduced by lithography as were the seals, using a careful blending of ink to represent the Colonial colors of blue and buff. The U. S. Bureau of Standards estimates that the paper used in the brochure has a permanence of at least one hundred years.

The State Street Trust has a limited number of these interesting brochures for those interested who are not on their mailing list. The Company has made quite a number of brochures of historic interest, the current one being the thirty-fourth in the series.

SCOUTS HAD PRE-JAMBOREE DRILL

Scouts from Winchester, Woburn, Medford, Stoneham and Burlington, as well as from Boston and Dover, participated in the recent Pre-Jamboree drill at Camp Fellsland. After pitching tents and getting settled in their campsite which had to be dug to 75 ft. sq. ft. each, each boy was assigned a different job for each day.

Without detracting from the first night the Scouts erected their gateway, made of birch and decorated by their Jamboree Scout Master's son and son.

Sunday afternoon was visiting day, with the Scouts all slicked up and happy after a dinner of chicken and ice cream. Menus were uniformly good with the several leaders taking turns eating with the various patrols.

Monday the Scouts took up their gateway and prepared for ship, pin, cleaned camp, swim and had a short drill. All are looking forward to a great time at Valley Forge.

MONAHAN AND KIERCE
MEMBER — GUEST WINNERS

"Little Joe" Monahan, Jr., teamed with Joey Kierce of Concord to win the main flight of the Winchester Country Club's annual Member-Guest golf tournament last Sunday afternoon, defeating Joseph M. Batchelder of Salem and Dave Shean, Jr., of the home club in the championship bracket, 4 and 3.

"Little Joe" pulled his team into a commanding lead with birdies to win the 13th and 14th holes and a par to take the 15th where the match ended. Kierce and Monahan had a stroke on the Batchelder-Shean duo at the end of 12. Batchelder lost a chance to even the match while he missed a fairly long putt after a corkscrew shot from the grass trap at the 15th.

A big gallery followed the main flight finalists around and Hutchinson road was lined with cars, the drivers of which pulled into strategic spots to watch the contestants at that point. Applause greeted both victors and vanquished as they shook hands at the 15th. The club pro, Dave White, refereed the match.

Monahan and Kierce established themselves as real contenders when they eliminated the defending champions, Ernie Doherty of Woburn and Jim Harvey, in the quarter finals, after a tight match, 1 up. Doherty and Harvey had won the Member-Guest for the past three years and many favored them to repeat.

Kierce and "Little Joe" had to beat Joe's dad, "Big Joe," Judge Joseph W. Monahan, and Dave Sullivan of Charles River in the semi-finals, which they did without too much trouble, 3 and 2.

Second flight winners were Dana Boyer of Blue Hill and Stanley Neill, who defeated Bob Bennett of Commonwealth and Bob Roundley by the same figures as the championship competition, 4 and 3. Third flight winners were Earl Adams of Oakley and Ted Harahan, over George Brown of Dedham and Carl Baker, 3 and 2. Frankie Dolan of Woburn and S. Leonard Hylan of Chelsea won the fourth flight final, 1 up, over J. J. Fegan of Mendon Brook and Dr. I. R. Hakanson, after quite a tussle.

In the fifth flight Robert Catlin, Chief Country Club, and Frank Flanders had a rather easy time of it defeating Bob Gidwell of Weston and Dr. C. W. Lomander in the final bracket, 5 and 4. Sixth flight honors went to H. A. Dyor, unattached, and Russ Symmes, who had a 7 and 6 advantage over Phil Mahan of Oak Hill and Gene Dittus of Irving. Pitt came all the way from Westport, Conn., to pair with Ed Kuyper in the seventh flight competition, and there were not a few pulling hard for "Irv" and Ed to outlast the field, for the former used to live in Winchester and played his golf at the home club.

The pair made a valiant try for it, squeaking by James Roy of Weston and Howard Eteson in the semi-finals, 1 up, but failing to hold their form in the ultimate bracket where they were defeated by Dave Lucy of Salem and T. E. Garity, 5 and 1. "Irv" made a brief statement the day after the match in which he promised faithfully not to try again to crowd so much golf into so little time, at least not after riding from Westport, Conn., to Winchester.

Featuring the consolation was the battle for top honors in the third flight between the teams of Ralph Bonnell and Ed Devine of Oakley and Johnny Bushell and Gen. Ray Stueber, unattached. Darkness ended this match after 21 hectic holes with the combatants all even. Incidentally it was the second 21 hole that day for Ralph and his partner, who got themselves in quite a lot of golf.

Bob Zirkel and Jack O'Leary, unattached, were consolation winners in the championship division with first flight honors going to Clarence Cochran and C. F. Berthel of Belmont. Lloyd Williams and Harold Adams of Bear Hill were the second flight winners with John O'Donohue and James Mahoney of Oakley top men in the fourth.

Leo Purdie and R. Elliott, unattached won the fifth flight consolation and Gardner Brown and Arthur E. Mead, unattached, were the sixth flight winners.

The club's Member-Guest Banquet was held Friday night and there was a buffet at the club all day Saturday. Refreshments and presentation of prizes took place Sunday night with the various awards being made by Horace Ford, chairman of the Golf Committee.

Incidentally many long time members felt this particular tournament was the smoothest and best run the club has had in years, with much of the credit going to Mr. Ford. The course was in great shape and everything went off beautifully for competitors and spectators.

In the qualifying rounds played Friday, Ed Martin and Cal Geary of Concord tied with Judge Monahan and Dave Sullivan of Charles River for top honors, both teams shooting four-under-par 67's. Following are the qualifying scores:

JUNIOR WEIGHT TITLE TO BE RAN
Big Tom Bane of Glenbury and Tufts College won the National Junior A. A. U. 56 pound weightthrowing championship last Friday afternoon in the big Amateur Athletic Union track and field meet at College Park, Md., getting the big ball out 23 ft. 1 in.

In the senior competition Saturday, Bane won second to Frank Borst with a heave of 37 ft. 6 1/2 in. Borst throwing 28 ft. 10 1/2 in. Tom was entered in the hammer throw but did not place, despite the fact that he has done well enough in competition this past season to have won the junior and placed in the senior event.

The Winchester boy's old nemesis, fouling, prevented his good heaves from counting in both competitions, a concrete circle seeming to bother him considerably. Bob Kucharski, a team mate at Tufts, who has been successful during the college season, won the junior hammer title with a toss of 160 ft. 2 1/2 in. Tom has twice done better than 173 ft., once breaking 174 ft. Henry Dreyer of the New York A. C. was third in the senior competition at College Park with 172 ft.

Sam Felton, former Harvard star, won the event with a toss of 187 ft. 3 1/2 in, breaking the old mark set by Pat McDonald in 1914.

The committee, of which Alan F. Howard is chairman, comprises Ralph H. Bonnell, John P. Carr, Frank Creelman, Maurice T. Freeman and Herman F. Pike. They have asked club members to express their opinion of the project and to indicate to what extent they will agree to finance the construction of the pool and support it after its construction. Final opinion of the proposed construction by the Club Board of Directors will be reached on the basis of member reaction.

It is planned to locate the pool on the south side of the clubhouse or Arlington side, extending almost due east and west with the long way at right angles to Cambridge street. This committee believes to be an ideal spot for a pool from the exposure angle and with relation of the pool to the club buildings.

The pool is to be standard size, 75 x 35 feet, of either steel or concrete, ranging in depth from three to nine and one-half feet, and having a twenty foot promenade on each side. The pool is to be completely equipped with modern recirculating, filtering, chlorinating and vacuum cleaning equipment, said to make the water clearer and purer than standard drinking water.

Following is the varsity schedule:
September 16 - Milton
September 23 - Swampscott
September 30 - Watertown
October 7 - Wintrop
October 14 - Stonham
October 21 - Framingham
November 4 - Reading
November 11 - Wakefield
November 23 - Woburn

SMITH ELECTED TO HARVARD VARSITY CLUB

David Lyman Smith, Winchester High School Class of '47, was recently elected to membership in the Varsity Club of Harvard College, membership of which is limited to Harvard "letter men" in athletics.

He was also appointed a member of the Undergraduate Athletic Council at Harvard, composed of six members, including various team captains, who consider the qualifications of candidates for athletic team letters and otherwise work under the direction and leadership of Athletic Director Bingham.

Back in the '80's, when major transportation was carried on by horse or rail it was stylish and pleasant to ride, assuredly through picturesque shaded streets...

Today however with city streets the main arteries of local trade, a pleasure car in commercial areas is as out-of-place as the survey.

Today—decide to be community-minded, economy-minded. Ride the bus for workday, week day travel, and save your pleasure car for pleasure driving.

UNITARIAN CHURCH
ANNUAL BAZAAR

November 8

Just because summer is supposed to mean light reading in comfortable chairs longies it doesn't follow that the women of the Unitarian Church are indulging in laziness all summer long.

Already the lively co-chairmen Mrs. Henry Worcester and Mrs. William Davis have organized their committees, held meetings, and stimulated their table-chairmen to greater efforts.

Here is the official list of chairmen:

Treasurer: Mrs. Joseph Morton
Publicity: Mrs. Frederick Churchill
Auction: Mrs. Clark Collins, Mrs. John Wallace

Books and Records: Mrs. Theodore Godwin
Candy: Mrs. Russell Symmes
Decorations: Mrs. Frederick Norton

Children's Midway: Mrs. George Blair, Mrs. Francis Millett
Flowers: Mrs. C. E. Young
Food: Mrs. Hoyt Hottel, Mrs. Edward James

Gifts: Mrs. Raymond Terhune, Mrs. Everett Kidder
Household: Mrs. Reginald Bradlee
Luncheon: Mrs. Charles Weimer, Mrs. James Beale

Mystery Packages: Mrs. Charles Fortie
Supper: Mrs. Jost Nielsen
Tea: Mrs. Dermot Townley-Tilson
White Elephant: Mrs. Horace Ford, Mrs. Clifford Tomgren

With such a lineup of talent and energy it looks from this distance as though the Unitarians are going to have another interesting and successful bazaar on November 8.

RECEIVED DEGREE OF B. A.

Miss Marilyn Sue Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Campbell of Albany, New York, formerly of Winchester, was graduated from Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont, on June 12th. Miss Campbell is a member of the 150th class to graduate from Middlebury College, and received the degree of B. A., having majored in English and minored in history.

She was a member of the Winchester High School class of 1946, and received the Winchester Teachers Club Scholarship Award. While in college she was for three years an Assistant Editor of the school paper "The Campus," was a member of Phi Mu fraternity, Middlebury Mountain Club, Modern Dance Club, and Middlebury Women's Forum.

Miss Campbell will assume her duties as freshman and sophomore English instructor at Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass., this September.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL
NEWS

The En Ka Baby Photo Service of the Winchester Hospital has concluded its fourth month under the chairmanship of Mrs. George I. Connor, and is glad to report that the community has shown a real demand for the pictures of the new citizens born at the Hospital. From the laboratories of the Hospital Picture Service, which the photographs are processed, comes another good report, namely, that the quality of the negatives from Winchester Hospital is somewhat higher than those from any other hospital. This high standard is largely due to the interest shown by Miss Bagley and the other nurses who take the pictures.

The summer vacation committee in charge of the Service will consist of Mrs. Lyndon Burnham (chairman), Mrs. Francis G. Chase, Mrs. Virginia Dickey, Mrs. Edward E. Kuyper, Mrs. Charles C. Parkhurst, and Mrs. Herbert E. Ross.

From Mrs. Gustav G. Kaufmann, President of the Friends of Winchester Hospital, comes the announcement of Standing Committee Chairmen for the Hospital year 1950-51. The Membership Committee will have as its chairman Mrs. William Hickey, Jr.; Ways and Means Committee, Mrs. John W. Page; Hospitality, Mrs. John I. Donovan; Publicity, Mrs. George E. Connor; Volunteer Service, Mrs. Howard Morrison; and Nominating Committee, Mrs. Harlow Russell.

WINCHESTER MEN IN E. H. S.

Many in Winchester found the pictures of the recent 55th anniversary of the Boston English High School Class of 1895, published in the pictorial section of last Sunday's Boston Globe, of much interest. The class held a two-day reunion with a luncheon, dinner, and attendance at the Class of 1950's graduation and a baseball game at Fenway Park.

Winchester interest in the anniversary stems from the fact that Library Trustee Francis E. Smith is president of the '95 class, and Mr. Smith appeared prominently in several of the photographs, looking as happy in two of them as if he had just made a hole-in-one.

With him in another picture was a former widely known Winchester man, Stanley G. H. Fitch, who now makes his home in Cambridge and is also a member of the E. H. S. Class of '95.

GRADUATED CUM LAUDE

Victoria M. Cass, M. D., of 20 Ridgefield road, who for the past academic year has been on a fellowship grant from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Department of Public Health, was graduated cum laude from Harvard University this past year with the degree of Master of Public Health. Dr. Cass, vice president of her class at the Harvard School of Public Health, was also elected to Delta Omega (Harvard Chapter) — the National Public Health Honorary Society.

Dr. Cass, former New England Women's fencing champion is the wife of Dr. Lee J. Cass and the mother of two children. On resuming her duties with the State Department of Health, Dr. Cass will act as director of a Diabetic Survey to be conducted in Gloucester, Massachusetts. Mr. Tucker Vye, Administrator of the Addison-Gilbert Hospital, whom many Winchester residents will recall as Administrator of the Winchester Hospital, has been of considerable assistance to Dr. Cass in planning this study which is under the auspices of the staff physicians of the Addison-Gilbert Hospital.

COMPLETED SCHOOL YEARS

Miss Priscilla Sherman has just completed her first year at Boston Museum School of Fine Arts where she is majoring in painting and living at a student house on Commonwealth avenue. Harriet Sherman has just returned from Colby College where she is majoring in psychology. She is at present at the New Ocean House in Seabrook attending the National Convention of Sigma Kappa Sorority of which she is a model initiate. Harriet and Priscilla are the daughters of Mrs. Alden Sherman who has sold her house on Yale street and has taken an apartment in Cambridge.

Independence
IN THE LIGHT OF Today

To have liberty as a nation is not enough.

The individual must be free as well.

Man must be free to make his own choice . . .

follow his dream . . . work where he pleases . . . go into business for himself if he likes . . . enjoy the fruits of his enterprise . . . better himself as he wishes, in the true wide-open-opportunity way of America.

To that end, Government must be the servant of the people — not their master.

Individual freedom is destroyed when Government enters into competition with business-managed, tax-paying companies . . . or seizes control of the necessities of life or the ways to make a living.

CHOOSE THIS CO-OPERATIVE BANK for your HOME MORTGAGE

Terms to meet your exact needs. Moderate monthly repayments. Economical, sound financing.
The Ideal Plan

Co-operative Banks originated the type of home mortgage plan which makes possible complete ownership in a reasonable period of time. Each moderate monthly payment does three things — pays off part of the loan; pays the interest; pays one-twelfth of the yearly real estate tax. With this steady reduction of your loan, complete ownership is achieved.

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at the Star of the Sea Church in Marblehead on Friday afternoon, June 23, when Miss Patricia Estes Pinkham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Pinkham, Jr., of Marblehead, became the bride of Edward Paul Casey, son of Mrs. John T. Casey of Boston and Marblehead Neck, and of Mr. Edward J. Casey of West Haven, Conn. As Virginia Paul, the bridegroom's mother lived some years in Winchester on Wedgemere avenue and both she and her son are well known here.

Miss Wendy and Miss Sheila Pinkham were their sister's honor attendants and the bridesmaids were Miss Peggy Lane (Connolly of Marblehead, Miss Ann O'Day of Boston, Miss Eleanor Phillips of Mr. Kiro, N. Y., Miss Martha Jane Forey of Pittsfield, Miss Nancy Brown Harvey of Montclair, N. J., and Mrs. M. Blake Johnson, 2nd, New York.

The bride wore an original Maurer gown of tulle and Chantilly lace, fashioned with a lace train and an illusion neckline trimmed with seed pearls. A coronet of red pearls held in place her three-tiered illusion veil.

The bridesmaids wore white organza dresses and carried red roses. The bridesmaids wore white dotted net and carried blue delphinium.

Colia Casey of West Haven, Conn., three-year-old step-sister of the bridegroom, and Gail Cotter, Mrs. Kiro, N. Y., ten-year-old cousin of the bride were flower girls, and of the bride were flower girls, five-year-old Geoffrey Cotter of Exeter, who wore a white Eton suit and blue tie.

Bruce Hand of Marblehead Neck was Mr. Casey's best man. Ushers were Charles H. Pinkham, 3rd, Robert Millsburgh and Byron Wiswell, both of Boston, the latter a former Winchester boy; Howard M. Love of Pittsfield, Pa., Howard Fish of Erie, Pa., Richard Taylor of Toledo, O., and Warren White of Attleboro.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Pinkham was gown in tulle and Chantilly lace, and Mrs. Burke wore dusty-rose organza.
